Patent Leather Shoes

THIS will be the greatest Patent Leather shoe season this country ever knew.

Men, women and children are to wear Patent Leather Shoes—high and low cut, on all occasions
day and evening, except for the roughest of the wear.

Patent Leather has at last been made so as not to crack—known as Ideal Kid.
Other sorts are coming to perfection—have got part way now, but many risky
leathers are knowingly palmed off as "Ideal Kid."

We have Patent Calf
Shoes, also, and we guarantee them against any reasonable wear.

Our Patent Leather Shoe
stock is full of handsome styles.

Vanderbilt Friday. Athenaeum's Version

THE HARDEST GAME OF THE SEASON.

WILL DECIDE THE CHAMPION-SHIP OF THE SOUTH—TEXAS
MUST WIN.

The game next Friday between Vanderrill and Vanderbilt will be the greatest struggle ever seen in Austin. Both Texas and Vanderbilt realize that this game decides the championship of the South, and both teams will play accordingly. A unique feature of the contest is that the Western and Eastern systems of play will be put to the test, Vanderbilt having Henry of Chicago and Texas her old trusty Hutchinson of Princeton.

Vanderbilt is coming down to Austin with the fell purpose of avenging
the invasion of her fields by Texas
three years ago, when the Varsity mowing machine cleared off some twenty-two acres of Tennessee's most cherished possessions. The wearers of the gold and black vow that there will be a terrible famine in Texas next year—a result of what they are going to do, viz., a regular Shenandoah devastation act. Vanderbilt wants revenge and she wants it "turribly bad." Captain Kyle of that institution was seen by the Texan correspondent at Nashville and said,
among other things, that his "heart goes out in sympathy for Texas." And Vanderbilt's captain has some grounds for thinking his team will win. His team has won all its games by large scores, with the exception of the one with Cumberland, the first of the season, in which the latter won by a fluke touch-down. Since that time, however, Vanderbilt has had a string of Napoleonic victories, having defeated Alabama by a score of 30 to 0;
Tennessee, 40 to 0; Mississippi, 33
to 0, and Georgia, 33 to 0. A lovely string to break; but it will have to

The unfortunate wrangle in the Oratorical Association over allowing any former winner of the first prize
in debate to compete for the said prize again is still hanging fire. In order to make clear its position, the Athenaeum last Saturday night drew up and gave official sanction to a history of the controversy, which statement, in part, is as follows:

"The Athenaeum was invited to the Rusk Hall for a meeting of the Oratorical Association with the assurance from an official of the Rusk Society that the Athenaeum's right to a society vote would not be 'contested.'
This assurance, too, was given after an official of the Rusk had been frankly informed that the Athenaeum
had been unable to find the record book containing the constitution of the association, which book is supposed to be always available to either society in the Rusk Hall, but which had been designedly removed from its usual depository. He was also told that the members of the Athenaeum were not familiar with the time and manner of calling for a society vote, and that the Athenaeum would decline to have a meeting of the Oratorical Association until the constitution could be located and the Athenaeum's rights thereunder fully ascertained. At the meeting of the association the missing record book
had made its appearance and article IX, section 1, of the constitution provides: 'At the request of eight members this association shall vote by societies, and the opposition of one society shall be sufficient to defeat
a measure.' The chairman (a red-

JOINT MEETING.

Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock
there will be a joint meeting of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. associations in Room 74. The service will be largely one of song and prayer.

hot Rusk man, specially elected to preside at this meeting,) held that under this clause the society should call for a society vote before a vote was taken to ascertain whether or not it would be necessary for either society to call for a society vote on an issue that might be particularly hurtful to such protesting society.
After having ruled out of order an Athenaeum man who moved a substitute to a pending motion on the ground that there was no second for the substitute (when in fact there was one, but the chairman's hearing was bad,) the chairman failed to state
the pending motion, by which omission a number of the Athenaeum members—indeed, a majority of them—misunderstood the motion
made, and so a scheme was railroad-ed through that had required two weeks of sleepless nights (such we understand was the testimony in the Rusk after the Athenaeum retired from their inhospitable confines) and many days of deep cogitation to deny the Athenaeum the privilege of exercising an acknowledged constitutional right.

The Athenaeum had on two different occasions fully considered the matter from the standpoint solely of the society's interests. It so happened that the winner of the prize in debate
last session was the only Athenaeum
member of the Debating Council present and the only Athenaeum man who was thoroughly familiar with the facts leading up to this unfortunate issue. In this trying and embar-

DRAMATIC CLUB.

"The Rivals" Abandoned.

At the last meeting of the Dramatic Club it was found essential to abandon "The Rivals" in view of the fact that Joseph Jefferson Jr. is to present this play in Austin very soon. The club decided instead to adopt Pinero's "Dandy Dick" for its first play. The parts have been cast tentatively, but great opportunities are open to the understudied, and the real cast will not be known for some time. Operations are suspended at present, pending the arrival of the books which have been sent for; but when they come, a keen competition may be expected for the leading parts.

Besides this, Howells' "Mousetrap"
may be given on the same night as a curtain-raiser. The "Mousetrap" is especially well suited to this Dramatic Club by reason of its overwhelming majority of girls.

YELL, YELL, YELL!

Friday Texas plays the greatest football game it has played in three seasons. And Texas wants to win Friday's game worse than it has ever wanted to win before. The team knows this; the team knows that the championship of the South is at stake; and all that grit and speed and coaching can do to win, those boys in orange and white will do to humble proud Vanderbilt once more. There will be no slumping Friday. Every man on the team is going to do his "darndest."

But we are not going to let the boys fight Vanderbilt alone. The Engineers, the Laws and the Academics will be there with megaphones and lusty lungs. And when you notice that one particular section of the bleachers is cheering just a little longer, louder and more vigorously than the rest, you may know that yonder sit the redoubtable Freshmen, loyal-lunged, forever-yelling; you will notice also that these are the boys who root hardest when old Varsity is in a tight place. And what's the matter with the co-eds? Why, they are going to help the team, too. You may talk about their sweet, small voices and dulcet tones, but when they get started Friday, Barnum's callopie won't be heard if it happens to be around. So let everybody be there and yell and yell until he can't yell any longer, and then let him keep on yelling until the whistle ends the battle and Texas has won another great game. Let everybody come—bring lemons, lozenges, frog-in-your-throat, anything—but yell, yell, yell.

THE ZIG-ZAG BELONGS TO TEXAS.

Minnesota Daily: "The so-called zig-zag march is a peculiarly Minnesota institution, and in past years has done as much toward making our University noted as our far-famed rooting system."

Our Minnesota friends don't know what he is talking about when he says that the zig-zag is peculiarly Minnesota. Why, Texas was zig-zagging down Congress avenue long before anybody ever heard of a Minnesota football team. And the most glorious zig-zag that ever wound down Congress avenue was exactly three years ago when Varsity's "Irresistibles" of 1900 had laid low the proud gold and black of Vanderbilt in overwhelming defeat. But more glorious still will be the howling, dizzy zig-zag that is going to sweep its majestic way down Congress avenue Friday night in the blaze of another victory.

A WISE CHANGE.

The new schedule of class football games recommended by the joint committee from the various departments is the most important innovation of its kind that has been launched here in some time and must appeal to every one as the most sensible and practicable plan that could possibly have been devised. In the first place, the football management has not enough suits to supply seven or eight squads, as was necessary heretofore. In the second place, by reducing the number of teams, the standard of the class games are raised until there will be some honor in wearing the class numerals. In the third place, more good men will be brought out, because heretofore some of the smaller classes have not put out any teams at all. When it is remembered that these class games are largely instrumental in turning the lights on available material for succeeding years, the importance of getting out every promising man can be appreciated. And finally, the new plan lays the basis for a Varsity system of alumni coaching and a peculiarly Varsity system of play. By providing that the class teams should be coached by wearers of the T., the committee was looking into the future wisely. If a man has coaches in his class team in his freshman year, his sophomore year, his junior year and his senior year, not only will his own understanding of the game be broadened all the while, which will redound to the benefit of the Varsity, but, by the end of that time, he ought to be an excellent assistant coach for the Varsity itself, or his experience ought to help him get a profitable position as a coach somewhere else.

From the College Press

Kansas University recently played the Haskell Indians and were defeated 12 to 6. What Texas took to be luck in the Indians seems to have been something more commendable. On this point the Kansas University Weekly says: "The first touch-down was a piece of luck for the Indians, but also on account of their ability to watch the ball and keep after it."

Vanderbilt Hustler: "The matter of organizing a German club among the fraternities here is being agitated. A dramatic club has also been spoken of. Both would be valuable additions to the University."

There are some things other than football that Vanderbilt can learn from Texas.

"Of all idiotic yells, this is the worst," says an exchange. "Well man, sick man, dead man—stiff, dig 'em up, cut 'em up, what's the diff? Humorous, humorous, blood and gore; Syracuse Medicoes, 1904."

Woman's Gymnasium

NOTES FROM THE WOMAN'S GYMNASIUM BASKET BALL AND FIELD HOCKEY.

Miss Louise H. Wright, the new directress of the Woman's Gymnasium, has in press a measurement and prescription manual for the girls. It is based on a similar booklet for men prepared by Mr. Curtiss. In the meantime the physical examination of the Freshmen girls is proceeding, but has not yet been completed.

Basket ball teams are beginning to practice, but no regular games have yet been played. Arrangements are now being made to begin match games in a few weeks.

Advanced classes will be taught fencing, fancy dancing and swimming. At present the swimming pool can not be used on account of lack of water. When the heating plant is repaired and the standpipe erected, that difficulty will be entirely obviated.

The latest addition to outdoor sports for girls is field hockey. A hockey field has been staked off on the campus west of the Woman's Building and will soon be put in order for playing. The game is a new one; it is not regular hockey, but is an English importation. It was introduced in 1902 by M. K. Applebee, who taught it at the school where Miss Wright studied gymnastics. The field is of almost the same dimensions as a football gridiron. There are eleven players on a side, each one armed with a field hockey stick. The game is a very enjoyable one and affords excellent exercise.

"GEO." EXCURSIONS.

Last Saturday afternoon about sixty of Dr. Simond's earnest workers enjoyed a very profitable excursion. They took in the International and Great Northern railroad cut, together with its fault and syncline. Thence they rambled among the rock quarries on the Colorado, where they also studied anticlines. No one was killed.

The day before Prof. Simonds conducted a select party to Shoal Creek. The expedition was a great success in spite of the fact that one of the young ladies very nearly spoiled her afternoon's pleasure and her dress by an unexpected plunge into the creek.

THE TEXAN

Society Notes.

On the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 27, the Phi Phi Phi boys gave a bowling party, followed by a supper at the Driskill, and it was most thoroughly enjoyed by Misses Stedman, Annie Joe Gardner, Thurmond, Susie Shelton, Townes, Maverick, Proctor, Persinger of Gonzales and Mr. Curtiss.

Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. Sutton entertained in honor of the Arkansas football team. The Arkansas colors appeared in the decorations and in the refreshments and were the more clearly identified by the boutonniere which the team wore as souvenirs of their dinner at the Woman's Building. Some forty University and town people were invited to meet the visiting boys.

Beta Omicron of Beta Theta Pi was at home Friday afternoon in the Beta chapter house in honor of the girls of Pi Beta Phi and Kappa Kappa Gamma. The house was most artistically decorated, and the Beta pink and blue were everywhere evident. Mesdames Dial and Caldwell and Misses Nalle, Thornton, Orr, Bacon, Aline Harris, Garrison, Townes, Maverick, Bartholomew, Wynne, Hummel, Brenizer, Durst, McLendon, Barthold, Minnie and Loula Rose, Hudgins, Hill, Stedman, Rowe, Devine, Annie Joe and Carrie Gardner, Rice, Jarvis, Brackenridge, Morey and Malloy assisted in receiving. That night a very charming little dance was given to the Betas' special friends.

The Misses Prather entertained several of their Varsity and town friends at a Halloween party Saturday night, and most delightfully. The house was decorated with Jack-o'-lanterns and apples, and the weird effect was carried out even to the little brown-er, spirits-on-the-cake. Various methods of forecasting the future were tried, formality was entirely dispensed with, and jollity reigned. An original feature of the evening was a ghost cake walk, which wound in devious ways through house and yard (every one keeping perfect silence), and finally reached the fortune-cake, where a last glimpse at the future was sought.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

ATHENAEUM.

The Athenaeum meeting Saturday night was well attended. President W. S. Moore having left the University, C. T. Paul was chosen to fill the vacancy. O'Keefe was made vice president. Four new men applied for membership and were initiated into the society. A letter proposing a plan of settlement of the present unfortunate state of affairs in the Oratorical Association was read and adopted and dispatched to the Rusk. A letter was received from the president of the Alumni Association suggesting that the society have an abstract made of its past minutes, which suggestion was acted upon, a committee being appointed to look into the matter.

The program consisted of a declamation and a debate. The question of the debate was: "Resolved, That the United States should oppose the acquisition of South American territory by Old World powers." The judges decided in favor of the negative, and the house voted Hooper the best speaker of the evening.

An interesting program is arranged for next Saturday evening, and visitors are cordially invited to attend.

RUSK.

The Rusk Literary Society had a program Saturday night that was remarkable from the fact of its having three of the oldest members and three of the newest members upon it. Cox, as declaimer, and Curd and Hackett, as debaters, represented all that is most ancient in the membership of the Rusk. Wood, as a declaimer, and Templeton and Scott, as debaters, represent the very newest acquisitions, and give promise of being most valuable men.

The program was as follows: Declaimers—Cox and Wood. Debate—Affirmative, King, Templeton and Scott; negative, Hackett, Marrs and Curd. The affirmative side won.

Savage, author of the "Perigrinus," was present and delivered a pointed speech.

A letter from the Athenaeum was read and put off till next meeting for consideration.

Texas Wins Again.

ADDS ANOTHER VICTORY TO THE LIST IN A VERY LISTLESS GAME.

Varsity's Interference and Defense Not up to the Standard—Trimming for Vanderbilt.

In a very slow and loose exhibition of football Texas defeated Arkansas last Friday by a score of 15 to 0. Varsity played an extremely erratic game. At times the team work was superb and then Arkansas was perfectly helpless before the fierce, swift-charging warriors in orange and white. At other times the work was of a prep-school, slipshod variety that caused shudders of nausea to creep through the audience. The Arkansas boys played brilliant ball most of the time, but they, too, were afflicted with periodic slumps.

Notwithstanding the beautiful day, the attendance was very slim. It was especially noticeable that the attendance of students was the smallest of the season and that the rooting was sadly out of gear—except for a few Engineers. As for the Engineers, it must be said that they have outcheered all the other departments together this season. They deserve to be congratulated on their good work. The game certainly can not be called spectacular. It could almost be called uninteresting, unless perhaps it were for the fact that Texas was winning. After the first few minutes of play, big scores were prophesied on all sides, and a much larger score it could have been if Texas had kept up its snap throughout the game.

Four minutes after play started, Marshall was pushed over the line for the first touch-down. The second touch-down was made by Frazier about six minutes later. In the second half Texas scored only once, and that was when Householder was dragged over the line in the last three minutes of play.

Bloom of Arkansas was the star of the day. His work was brilliant throughout the game. The way he got into every play excelled anything done by any of the Texas men. Stanley, the big guard, also did some fine work. Frazier, Householder, Adams, Harrison, Robinson and Bowen did the best work for Texas. Adams opening some beautiful holes in the line. Druesdow showed up well when carrying the ball. Captain Watson was on the side line.

Slumps are common occurrences with many good teams, but the time for slumps has passed, said Coach Hutchinson, after the game, and accordingly he has been putting the men through some severe training for the great struggle Friday. Team work is what the coach is trying to get out of the men. It is going to take eleven men in every play both on the offense and defense and eleven men working together like a clock to win that Vanderbilt game. The coach is particularly disappointed with Varsity's interference and defense in the Arkansas game. Frequently the interference was imperfectly formed and did not hit hard enough. On the defense there was a tendency to loaf on the outside of the scrimmage instead of helping each other to stop the play. "But the time for slumps has passed," says Coach Hutchinson; "every man is going to fight with every ounce in him Friday from the blow of the whistle to the end of the game."

The line-up last Thursday was as follows:

Arkansas—Wilson, center; Stanley, right guard; Olney, left guard; Beard and Meyers, right tackle; Hill, left tackle; Smith, right end; Ragland (captain) and Watson, left end; Eason, quarter back; Bloom, right half; Watson, left half; Moore, full back; Arkansas subs—Meyers, Wood, Beard and Corothers.

Referee—Curtiss.
Umpire—Simpkins.
Linesman—Carrol.
Assistant Linesmen—Texas, Wilkerson; Arkansas, Watson.
Timekeepers—Briggs and Meyers.

Freshman Glee.

WILL BE HELD IN WOMAN'S BUILDING FRIDAY NIGHT.

FACULTY RULED THE DRISKILL OUT.

"Resolved, That the committee on student organizations deems it unwise, and therefore forbids, the holding of the Freshman reception at the Driskill hotel."

The above resolution was adopted by the Faculty committee on student organizations a few days ago, because the Freshmen are young and the environments at the Driskill are not the best. Immediately a howl went up from the ranks of the Freshmen. The fire-eaters of the clan clamored loudly for their rights, talked about injustice and the rights of freemen, and cried "sic semper tyrannis," but still the University moved along smoothly.

Finally, after prolonged conferences with the Faculty committee, the Freshmen decided to hold the long-expected reception in the Woman's Building. The first floor, instead of the gymnasium, will be used for dancing. And thus it happily comes to pass that the Freshmen reception, after so many doubts and vicissitudes, will, after all, be pulled off on schedule time Friday night.

ENGINEERING BANQUET.

The Mysterious Bridge Builders Refuse to Divulge Details of Their Annual Blow-out.

A committee composed of H. D. Mendenhall, chairman, W. O. Washington, Elam and M. E. Robertson was appointed last week to arrange a menu, toasts, etc., for the regular annual banquet of the Engineering Department.

When seen by a representative of the Texan concerning the said banquet, Chairman Mendenhall assumed a most Chinaman-like expression and refused to talk about the program further than to intimate that everybody would have a good time—a piece of news as old as the first Engineers' banquet.

Since all great innovations are always guarded with the greatest secrecy until fully matured, there is evidently something tremendous on foot, and there is much speculation in Varsity circles as to what ponderous revolution in University banquets is about to take place.

That there will be pratory can not for an instant be doubted, when it is known that two carloads of Chicago lake breezes will arrive over the I. & G. N. next Thursday morning for the use of the spell-binders who are to hold forth on that occasion. What else will occur at the annual nourisher of those gaunt, lanky, but patriotic Engineers may not be known; but of one thing is a certainty, viz., there will be great "gobs" of joy in the ladies' ordinary at the Driskill hotel tomorrow night.

McFadden will be glad to fill your prescriptions.

PROF. SHURTER'S NEW BOOK.

A Very Attractive and Instructive Volume.

Prof. Edwin Dubois Shurter has just gotten out a new text. It is in substantial binding, carefully edited and full of good matter. The title of the book is "Public Speaking; A Treatise on Delivery, With Selections for Declaiming."

The author states in the preface that similar works upon delivery are divided into two kinds: those full of generalizations, good in their way, but of no practical value, and those that are full of elocutionary directions and rules. The author's aim has been to be more specific than the one and less technical than the other.

Beginning with the voice, the author has analyzed public speaking in a most searching manner, yet in a brief space. Each chapter contains examples for illustration, and a summary of the chapter. The last half of the book contains selections for declamation, one of the best of which is Judge Yancey Lewis' Independence speech of last year.

The book is published by Allyn & Bacon.

F. E. Mistrot has employed A. M. Frazier, a student of the University, to work in their clothing department. He will deem it a favor for his friends to call on him there.

NO FURTHER NORTH THAN OKLAHOMA.

The football management has exhausted every resource in its effort to secure the usual long trip for the team, but has been unable to secure anything like reasonable guarantees. The best that can be done, therefore, is to play Oklahoma Friday, Nov. 13, and possibly play either Baylor or Trinity on the return. Coach Hutchinson believes it a good thing for the team that it will not go further north than Oklahoma. A long trip, he says, is very wearisome and enervating, and Texas can not afford to be stale on Thanksgiving.

THE TEXAN

ATHENAEUM'S VERSION.

ing that the opposition would seek to make capital out of the fact that he happened to be personally concerned, he, nevertheless, faithfully and manfully, though courteously withal, stood up for his society, for honesty and for fair play between the societies. Not willing to risk the chances of their favorites to win the debating prize this winter, in which contest ability, not intrigue and trickery, is the test, a few overly anxious Rusk men resorted in the recent meeting of the Oratorical Association to what the Athenaeum conceives to be questionable parliamentary tactics (not to use a harsher name) in order to lessen the Athenaeum's chances of winning honor in an open field.

In order to indicate its moderation and its willingness to meet the Rusk half way in adjusting the present strained relations between the two societies, the Athenaeum has submitted to the Rusk the following proposition, which will probably be acted upon by the latter at its next meeting:

To the Rusk Literary Society, the University of Texas:

Gentlemen: As you doubtless understand, the Athenaeum Literary Society is not willing to submit to what it conceives to be an unfair and illegal effort at an abridgement of its constitutional rights sought by your society to be imposed on the Athenaeum at the recent meeting of the Oratorical Association to which you invited us with the expressed assurance from an official of your society that our right to a society vote would not be "contested," and that, too, after the official of your society had been told frankly that the Athenaeum had been unable to find out the constitution of the association and was not familiar with its provisions or the exact manner in which it was the custom to call for a society vote.

Class Games.

SCHEDULE COMPLETELY REVOLUTIONIZED.

ONLY THREE GAMES WILL DECIDE THE UNIVERSITY CHAMPIONSHIP.

Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 26, ends the 'Varsity football season, but the interest in football does not end until a couple of weeks later, when the class or department football teams have fought it out for the University championship. Heretofore the games have been played between the different departments; that is, the different classes in each department have played against each other, and the winning class team has represented each department against the winning class teams of the other departments. This year, at a meeting held between representatives of the engineering, law and academic departments, it was deemed advisable that these games be made a permanent feature of University athletics so as to help bring out material for the 'Varsity team, since men will try for their class teams who will not go out for the 'Varsity, because, in a great many cases, they are backward and think they have no chance for the 'Varsity. In this way a great deal of good material will be found. Then again, such contests will arouse the interest and enthusiasm of the whole student body and will go far toward increasing the athletic spirit of the University. The committee talked of different ways of arranging the contests, with a view of finding the plan which would be of most benefit to the University. At present there is too much feeling between the different departments, which has a tendency to divide the University against itself, so that when a big 'Varsity game is on, the different departments are divided in their cheering. It would be much better to see all the departments get together

Everybody Cheer Texas to Victory

Entertaining these and other strong convictions in regard to this matter, the Athenaeum can not, consistently with its ideas of the proprieties which should govern these matters, enter into an inter-society debate this winter except the Rusk should be willing to conduct the same under the old rules and regulations or such new ones as may be constitutional and fairly adopted. We, therefore, submit that in the present unfortunate state of feeling between the societies that an inter-society debate be not held this year, but, instead thereof, that each society be allowed to select, under rules and regulations to be provided by each, two inter-collegiate debaters and one alternate, and that, with the consent of the donors, the 50 cash prize be divided between the two societies equally to be awarded to their best debaters in such contests.

We should be obliged by a reply not later than Nov. 7, 1903.

THE NEW RECORD.

No. 2, Vol. V of the Record is out of press. This number of the Record appears under the editorial supervision of Dr. Simonds, editor-in-chief, Battle being in Greece on a year's leave of absence.

Prominent among the contents are Bishop A. C. Garrett's baccalaureate sermon of last June, Hon. Edward F. Harris' address delivered in the University Auditorium last Commencement Day, Dr. William Keiller's commencement address at the Medical Department and a sketch of the life and services of Mirabeau B. Lamar by Eugene C. Barker of the School of History. The remainder of the Record is taken up with a detailed account of the 1903 commencement exercises, a review of the annual report of the Regents, a discussion of the 1902-1903 Catalogue, some general notes on various topics of interest, other matters of interest taken from the minutes of the Faculty, some good reviews of Dr. Garrison's "Texas" and Dr. Fay's new book, "T. Macci Plauti Mostellaria," and a report of the April meeting of the Texas Academy of Science.

This Record contains excellent reading matter from cover to cover, both in the more pretentious commencement address and in the more detailed and statistical parts in fine print.

The scheme which the committee thought would answer all the requirements is as follows:

As there are four classes in the University, there are to be four class teams: (1) Freshmen, which will be composed of all the Freshmen in all the different departments; (2) Sophomore, which will be composed of all the Sophomores in both the academic and engineering departments and the Junior Laws; (3) Juniors, which will be composed of all the Juniors in both the academic and engineering departments and the Middle Law class; (4) Seniors, which will be composed of all the Seniors of the different departments—academic, law and engineering, together with the Post Graduate students.

It was also deemed advisable that there should be an eligibility rule which would bar all students from competing in class teams who had won their 'Varsity T. in this line of sport.

Each team is to have a coach who would be appointed by the director of outdoor athletics and who would be a member of the class that he is to coach; also that he should be a 'Varsity man and have won his T., and that he would be assisted by the 'Varsity men of his class who had won their T. and were not eligible for the class team. The above plan has worked admirably at many of the large institutions in which it has been tried.

A thing that would greatly stimulate athletics here would be for the championship class to let its team men wear the class numerals on their jerseys or sweaters, just as a 'Varsity man wears his T. The time for the class games is rapidly approaching, and the Athletic Council should take action to place them on a firm basis as a regular part of the University athletics, because they can be of great value in bringing out men for the teams.

LAMDA DELTA RHO.

Lamda Delta Rho is the name of a new law fraternity which has already secured a charter and a chapter house and will soon make its formal debut among the University organizations. While Lamda Delta Rho is the youngest law fraternity in existence, it is already a very strong one, and the University is to be congratulated on its installation here. The personnel of the local chapter is withheld for a short time, as well as other details.

Woman's Building Rules

THE FACULTY AND BOARD OF REGENTS PASS SOME REGULATIONS OF INTEREST TO UNIVERSITY PEOPLE.

The following new rules were recently adopted by the Faculty and approved by the Board of Regents. These newly adopted rules are to be printed, together with those now in effect at the Woman's Building:

1. Each young lady will be required invariably to consult with the Lady Manager before making arrangements for going to entertainments. The University authorities reserve the right of selecting each and every young lady's escort.

2. Any young gentleman desiring to call at the Woman's Building must first present the proper credentials to the President. These credentials must be approved by the President and Lady Manager and Dean of Women and then submitted to the Faculty. If the Faculty reports favorably, the credentials are then to be passed to the Board of Regents; and to be valid, the signature of each regent must be affixed thereto, after which the young gentleman may be permitted to call.

3. Any young gentleman calling will be met at the door by the Lady Manager, to whom he must present his credentials. After the credentials have been examined and approved by the Lady Manager, and provided he gives his age, name, date of birth, pedigree, home and Austin address, and provided he states whether or not he is contributing to his support while at college, he will be permitted to enter the building. This will leave the young gentleman thirty minutes to call.

4. Any young lady desiring to have a guest to eat a meal with her must first deposit 35 cents with the Proctor to show good faith, after which she must have her petition approved and signed as provided for credentials in Rule No. 2.

5. Dignified, refined and lady-like conduct is expected everywhere and at all times. The object of a University course is to teach little girls and boys how to conduct themselves when away from home.
