BASKET BALL OUTLOOK SEEMS VERY HOPEFUL

BOTH OLD AND NEW MATERIAL IS PLENTIFUL—TEAM TO HAVE EXTENSIVE TRIP.

MGR. HARDIE PLEASED

In spite of the popularity of football and the cold weather the supporters of the game of basket ball have already begun practice for the coming season. In response to the call issued by Mgr. Thornton Hardie and Coach Metzenthin, a score of men have been busy on the courts on the athletic field, and every afternoon the football followers have added a sight of lively basket ball games. The management has decided that the team must avail itself of the several months before Xmas that have generally been wasted, and expects that the men as a result will be in good condition by the time that the regular season begins.

The interest in basket ball in University circles has steadily increased, and this year further interest is infused into the game by the announcement that the team is to play by the collegiate rules. As a result of the adoption of these northern rules the sport will be rated as a representative University game and recognized as such. Now that the team is to meet only those teams from other colleges the interest in it will be materially strengthened, and support of the student body will be more generously accorded than in the past.

Prospects for a good year are very pleasing, according to a canvass made of the men who are intending to compete for positions on the team. Of the veterans of last year the large majority are in school. Capt.-elect Massingill, Campbell, James, Garrett, Hardie, Schram, Schafer, Ring, and Rathell of the last year's team are in line for the honors this season. Besides these are Ross and Seale, the stars on the Allen Academy team of last year, when that team won the preparatory schools championship of the State. These men will strengthen the old material greatly. Scott, the captain of the San Antonio High School team is here, and so is Doc Jones of Swarthmore, Morgan Vining, the captain of the 1909 team is again in school and is getting in trim for the game by playing right end on the football team.

The coach, Mr. W. E. Metzenthin, has had varied experience in handling all kinds of teams, and last year produced a basket ball team that was very successful. This year he is to devote regular hours to the squad, and says that the outlook is very encouraging. The Athletic Council has promised its assistance and it will furnish equipment and direct the trips as heretofore. Mgr. Hardie has under contemplation two trips for the team to be pulled off about February next. The first includes Oklahoma University, Baylor and Southwestern. These are all our old enemies and are well known in basket ball circles. The other trip considered, is to Louisiana, where the teams of La. State University, Tulane, and the New Orleans Y. M. G. A. will be met. One of the trips is assured and it may be that both can be arranged.

WOMAN'S COUNCIL ADOPT BENEFICIAL RULES

CALLED MEETING OF COUNCIL CONSIDERS NEW PLANS—MISS LAVENDER MADE ADDRESS.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED

On Friday, Oct. 21, 1910, the Woman's Council had a called meeting. The purpose of this meeting was to elect some one to fill a vacancy on the executive board and to attend to other important business. Miss Julia Cooper was elected by acclamation to fill the vacancy. Miss Jarvis made a report on the fund concerning Mrs. Kirby's picture. Miss Lavender made a very helpful talk on the honor system.

It has always been the aim of the Woman's Council to aid the women of the incoming classes to develop and put to work new girls. To do this and to avoid over-working the better known girls, the following resolutions were drawn up and adopted:

1. That a list of the names of the officers in the various organizations of University women be typewritten and kept by the secretaries of all the organizations.
2. That a member of the Council be appointed to keep this list revised up to date, and to see that the different organizations be provided.
3. That new officers and new committees in all organizations be chosen as far as possible from girls whose names do not appear on this list.

After a thorough discussion two committees were appointed, one to make a list of those girls holding offices in the various organizations, and the other one to arrange the dates of the various University functions so that no two will come at the same time.

On Saturday, Oct. 22, 1910, the Advisory Board of the Woman's Council met. The officers were redistributed as follows:

President—Miss Sadie Richmond.
First Vice President—Miss Camille Williams.
Second Vice President—Miss Julia Cooper.
Secretary—Miss Louise Johnson.
Treasurer—Miss Jean John.

W. E. Long and Clyde Eagleton of Austin College, Sherman, are here to take the Rhodes' Scholarship examinations. Mr. Eagleton is a noted track man, having won the mile race in the State meet last year. Mr. Long is also a track man, but has won special honors in his college in literary society work. Both are graduate students in A. C. this year, and Mr. Eagleton is the Stephen F. Austin Fellow in History.

Eugene L. Harris and Frank Harmon have just returned from a trip to Dalals, where they took in the sights at the Dallas Fair. These two gentlemen represented the Hall, and accompanied one another on the trip.

LONGHORNS TRAMPLE ON LIGHT KENTUCKIANS

PLUCKY KENTUCKIANS UNABLE TO COPE WITH TEXANS—OUTWEIGHED AND OUTCLASSED.

TEXAS, 48: KENTUCKY, 0

In a game characterized by brilliant individual playing and rather poor team work on the part of Texas, and by hard, but useless fighting on the part of her opponents, Texas downed the eleven from Transylvania College on Clark Field last Saturday by a score of 48 to 0. Before the game some little anxiety was felt because of the fact that Capt. Kirkpatrick was out of the game with a sprained ankle. However, when the Kentucky team lined up on the field it was plain that they were greatly outweighed, and that we would have little or no trouble with them. During the first quarter, however, they surprised everyone by their fierce, aggressive work on the defense, and Capt. Francis showed up splendidly in his kicking. Massingill did the kicking for Texas, and his work at quarter was very commendable. His feat of kicking eight goals after touchdowns without a single failure, is one that is seldom accomplished, and deserving of more than mere mention. In his open field work he was again as good as usual, and he and Brown returned punts in fine form. Brown is showing up to splendid advantage this year and his work both on offense and defense is of the best quality. On end, big Joe Estill was easily a star. Time after time he broke up Kentucky's interference, and finally the boys in Maroon stopped sending plays his way and resorted to kicking. Estill was also excellent in getting down the field under punts. Several times he dumped his man in his tracks, and twice succeeded in recovering after fumbles. Estill is one of the hardest, most consistent players on the team, and tho he seldom has an opportunity to star, he is always there with the goods in getting into the interference, breaking it up, and getting his man.

In the first quarter Texas took the north end of the field and kicked to Transylvania's 5-yard line. Howard received the ball and carried it only about three yards. Transylvania started playing then with a vengeance, while Texas was somewhat slow. Howard hit the left side of the line for a seven yard gain, McCash went three through the opposite side, and McGee plunged thru the same place for five. At this point Texas was penalized for being off-side, and on the next play Oldem fumbled and Varsity recovered the ball on Kentucky's thirty-yard line. This all happened like a flash, and it looked as if Texas was going to make a touchdown in the first three minutes of play. Moore and Brown hit the line for twelve yards together, Transylvania was penalized five for off-side, and James hit the left side for five, and Spoonts the other side for four. At this point, when a touchdown seemed inevitable, Massingill fumbled and the ball went over to Kentucky on her ten-yard line. Francis punted 40 yards to Brown, who returned fifteen. Then, by a magnificent double pass, Massingill to Spoonts, and a forward pass, Spoonts to Hoover, Texas made twenty-eight yards, and Hoover was downed on the one-yard line by Oldem.

NECESSARY BLDG. FUND IS ALMOST ASSURED

STUDENTS RESPOND GENEROUSLY TO APPEAL FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS—GIRLS WERE LIBERAL.

CAMPAIGN NETS $10,000

The standing of the twelve Y. M. C. A. teams at the final report Monday night, was as follows:

1. Z. S. Armstrong	$1,012.00
2. G. O. Bateman	666.50
3. G. H. Brush	501.00
4. B. Crow	639.50
5. O. R. Grambling	1,013.00
6. E. L. Heinsohn	408.50
7. H. C. Pipkin	644.50
8. Banks McLaurin	410.50
	$5,295.50

A. Miss R. Bookwalter	$ 670.50
B. Miss Jean Figh	706.55
C. Miss Louise Johnson	872.50
D. Miss G. Maverick	517.75

$2,767.30

5,295.50

$8,062.80

Raised Monday Night	$ 249.50
Outside Contribution	1,549.00

Grand Total $9,861.30

A study of these figures will prove interesting, but will by no means tell the story of the faithful work and untiring efforts of the twelve leaders and their teams. The young ladies who have given themselves so unspairingly and with such real enthusiasm deserve unstinted praise and indeed may always rest assured of the Association's deepest gratitude. They have been leaders from the start and at the close of the campaign three of the five highest standing teams are ladies, viz: Miss Louise Johnson, Miss Jean Figh, and Miss Ramona Bookwalter. The hope is that the men of the University will be as loyal and hearty in their support as have been the young ladies when another University affair of this kind comes up.

The leading team of the twelve was Mr. A. R. Grambling's, with but one dollar ahead of Mr. Z. S. Armstrong. Both of them passed the $1,000 mark and with each team doing this, the $12,000 would have been realized. This is said in condemnation of no one, however, as all were faithful and deserve only praise for their untiring efforts and it speaks well for the spirit of the students that in only four days' work nearly $10,000 was given. In addition to the workers, givers and among the girls and boys both, there are many cases of real and unselfish sacrifice and generosity. We regret only that some missed the opportunity to help in forwarding a movement that so vitally concerns the whole student body and the University.

Efforts will be made by the board, under the leadership of Mr. Coulter, the State secretary, to secure the $10,000 yet needed to claim the $16,000 in gifts conditional on completing the fund by Dec. 1st.

FOOTBALL ENTHUSIASTS THROUGH AUDITORIUM

DR. BENEDICT MAKES HUMOROUS ADDRESS—VAUDEVILLE SKIT PROVES ENTERTAINING.

GEN'L. LIGHTFOOT SPOKE

Another very enthusiastic rally was held on last Friday night in the Auditorium, and a record-breaking crowd attended. It was plainly demonstrated that the spirit at the University at the present time is at a higher ebb than ever before. After responding heartily to several yells led by Harris and his band, the crowd was put into even a more jovial mood by Dr. Benedict, who, in a few, well-put remarks, further extended his ever increasing popularity with the students.

Then Mr. Lightfoot spoke of the necessity of college athletics, and urged the grinds and "gentlemen of leisure" to get out of their idea of All Work and No Play, to indulge in athletics to a larger extent. He further said that the support of the team should not come from the students alone, but from their friends and the people of Austin in general. "The University," said Mr. Lightfoot, "belongs as much to the people of Austin and the people of Texas as to any of you, and it is the duty of these people to support it in every way possible. And they will get their money's worth. Texas has the best team this year that she has had for some time; she has a splendid coach; she will win games if we, her supporters, are loyal." Mr. Lightfoot then gave his hopes and assurance that the Longhorns would be victorious on the following day, and was heartily applauded.

Then Harris and his opera troupe, consisting of Mons. P. Garrett, Dr. Josephus Erowne, Senor Alphueles Toombessee, and a score of other stars, presented the one act vaudeville skit, entitled, "The Faculty Banquet at Jacoby's." The Harris Company is now on its way from New York to the City of Mexico, where it will spend the winter. Owing to the enthusiastic appeals of the Varsity theatregoers, Signor Harris has telegraphed the authorities in Mexico that he will be a week late, and will be at the rally next Friday night with another skit that last winter set New York wild. He is besieged by reporters, but no inkling of the character of the production will be given.

The rally will begin next Friday night promptly at 7:30. The largest crowd in the history of the institution is looked for, as a uburn is one of the strongest elevents in the South this season, as she has been for the past four or five years and a victory over her will mean that Texas will be a strong bidder for Southern championship honors. Texas has her five hardest games yet before her; the few played have only been skirmishes. What she will do in these five games depends almost entirely on the support accorded the team by the student body, and the people of Austin. Auburn is being brought to Texas under a very heavy guarantee. Bring your girl to the rally, and drag out those "lady-like grinds."

DO YOUR PART!

With this issue of The Texan, the management and editorial staff, cooperating, are making an extra effort to improve the appearance of the publication. The extent of the improvement our efforts have accomplished you can best judge, and it must suffice that we have done our utmost. But then it occurs to you, does the Texan cover the whole scope and range of Varsity life in its news items? Here, right here is where each and every individual finds his share of responsibility!

When you, possessed with an ugly scowl and a feeling of utter disgust, tell your friends that The Texan has made no reference to some matter which should have been reported, does it not then strike you that a mere trifle of exertion on your part would have remedied the whole situation? You, who can discern the faults of the publication so readily, have ability enough to remedy the same, and you, who are aware of important news omitted are in a position to inform the editors. Who should shoulder the blame?

This appeal for an increased manifestation of interest in the paper has been made time and again, and the frequency of the appeal bespeaks its importance. If you wish to see your newspaper a record of items of real interest, then do not suppress your news until the paper is published, and then spread it broadcast, but take an active part in the up-building of the paper.

A petition is being circulated for the purpose of giving those who wish to see A. & M. defeated in Houston an opportunity to call the faculty's attention to the desirability of declaring Nov. 14 a holiday. No doubt each and every student now intends to witness the great victory, but you must insist on having your signature attached to the petition. Unless at least two-thirds of the student body join in this petition, the holiday will not be granted. Look well to your interests!

The strongest football team in the South will battle with the Longhorns Saturday. At the rally, Friday night, not only will the strength of Auburn be disclosed, but the very trick by which we shall win the championship of the South in defeating this team will be given out as a precious secret. Some well-known Varsity characters will whisper about the inside information, so be on the inner circle.

The athletic council of the University of Michigan is considering the advisability of numbering the football players, so as to enable the spectators to distinguish one from another. The spirit of the game is lost when the player's identity is submerged in a number, and the gridiron hero is thus at one fell swoop reduced to the station of a jockey in a horse race.

We noted a short time ago in the University of Michigan newspaper that the faculty was planning to give credit for work on student publications. In the course of a week, the various college papers made notable comment on the glad some news in a conspicuous part of their papers. Strange, was it not?

At Kansas University, all the organizations are required to submit their financial accounts twice a year to be studied by a faculty committee. If Varsity organizations were subjected to such close scrutiny, it would not be long before a course in High Finance would be added to the various and manifold degree requirements.

The University of Syracuse trustees have raised $50,000 for improving and beautifying the campus. When one looks at the desolate hill of rock and limestone on the east side of our campus, it at once impresses him with the fact that we have an admirable opportunity here for such improving and beautifying as the Syracuse trustees contemplate.

Iowa University has an honorary freshman society. Such a society at Texas would only cause widespread dissension in determining the qualifications for membership. Again would they revive that oft-mooted question—which offers the greatest claim to distinction, to make English I or the freshman dance?

The senior class at Illinois has initiated a movement looking to the abolishment of final exams in the second semester. We predict that when the movement shall be great, so shall its success be small.

POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC SCIENCE ASSOCIATION.

The Political and Economic Science Association held its first meeting of the year last Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The following officers for the coming year were elected:

President—J. D. Stinson.
 Vice President—H. B. Whaling.
 Secretary—Miss E. Henderson.
 Treasurer—C. R. Edwards.

Executive Committee—H. B. Whaling, Roy Pearson, and M. Quaid.

Dr. Keasby, who addressed the Association, stated that he was vitally interested in the work of the Association and suggested to the Association that it take up, for this year's work, the Industrial History of Texas, making an outline of the different periods and stages of its development from its earliest times. The executive committee, too, recommended that question, and the Association unanimously approved it.

The executive committee intends to divide the question into periods, form committees, and assign each committee a different period, beginning with the historical antecedents and taking it up to the present time. There seems to be abundant material on the question at the present time, but it is in such form that it cannot be readily made use of. The purpose of the Association is to study the different phases of the question thoroughly, collect the facts, and work them up into historical papers or reports, and at the end of the year, put them together and have them printed in permanent form for future use, making a complete history of the economic development of Texas from its earliest days to the present time.

BAYLOR IS TO BE CONSIDERED.

Baylor's decisive defeat of T. C. U. last Monday plainly showed that that team, under the tutelage of Ralph Glaze, is one of the strongest that Texas must meet this season. A. & M. played T. C. U. at College Station; Baylor played the same team on her home grounds at Waco, and met a stronger team than A. & M. did, but they defeated it by a larger score. Fifty-two to nothing doesn't sound well for Varsity, does it?

But that's off the subject. Texas plays Baylor on November 5, at Waco. Anyone that knows Baylor and her methods knows what it means to play her on her home grounds. They have a splendid team; they have a very efficient coach; they have an abundance of that necessary "college spirit."

What we ought to do is to give them what they expect to offer us. We ought to go up to the game in a body. Manager Stark is trying his best to get rates for the game, and he is practically assured that he will get them. It now only remains for us to have a holiday. Anyone looking at this game from an unprejudiced view, disregarding the sentiment connected with the Farmer game, will agree that this is more important than the Houston game. We get a holiday for the latter. Why not for the former, which is equally as important? A thousand students ought to see the Baylor game and cheer the team on to victory. We have a chance for a clean sweep this year—a splendid one. But we won't get it unless we go with the team on both these trips, and especially the Waco trip. Houston is strange to A. & M. Baylor is playing on her HOME grounds, supported by a student body that is ONE, that will use any means to WIN. We must have a holiday!

There are two points about Scarbrough & Hicks clothes which compel your attention every time you look at them. One's the unusualness of the fabric; the other the aristocratic "air." It is not our aim to disregard other features; in fact, we can't, because the designing, tailoring and poise make clever style possible, and naturally the fabric is foundation.

Longhorns Trample on the Light Kentuckians

At this juncture Transylvania made a wonderful display of strength, and held Texas for downs. First James was given the ball, and, tho he crossed the line, he was put back by the marvelous work of Francis and Thompson. Spoonts failed to gain, and Moore did likewise, the ball going over to Kentucky. Francis again kicked 30 yds. to Brown, who returned 10. Massingill went 5 yds. around left end, failed in a second attempt on the same side, and Moore, by a wonderful run, dragged the ball across the line with two or three men hanging on to him, for the first touchdown. Massingill kicked goal. Nothing further of interest happened in this quarter, which ended with Transylvania in possession of the ball,
on Texas' 45-yd. line.

Second Quarter.

At the beginning of the second quarter, McCash gained a yard thru right guard, and Francis kicked to Massingill. Then by a series of line bucks and end runs, especially one of the latter by Brown, which almost resulted in a touchdown, Texas carried the ball to Kentucky's 5-yd. line.
Massingill went around left end for two, Spoonts was thrown for a 2-yd.
loss, and then James was called back and sent over the second touchdown.
Massingill kicked out to Persons for a fair catch, and then kicked a beautiful goal from the 30-yd. line.

On the kick-off James received the ball and returned 15 yds. Kelleher replaced Moore. Kelleher hit right tackle for 20, Brown skirted right end for 32, and a forward pass, Spoonts to Ramsdell, netted 20. Brown hit right tackle for 10, Kelleher, the same place for 7, and Spoonts was sent across for the third touchdown. Massingill kicked goal. After this Kentucky kicked to Vining, who returned 20 yds. Massingill made a pretty run thru a broken field for 30 yds., and then Transylvania again held the Orange and White for downs. Francis punted 30 yds. to Kelleher. With the ball in the center of the field, Kelleher was sent around right end for 7 yds., and then McGee intercepted a forward pass by Massingill.
Francis again kicked to Brown, who returned 15 yds. The quarter ended here with Texas in possession of the ball on Kentucky's 45-yd. line.

Third Quarter.

At the opening of the third quarter, Ky. kicked to Massingill on the 5-yd. line, and Kingsley downed him on the 7-yd. line. Massingill kicked to Oldem, 30 yds. Ky. tried a forward pass, but Spoonts intercepted it, and ran 65 yds. for a touchdown, aided by James, who piled up three of the opposing side in a bunch, and by Vining, who ran splendid interference all down the field, putting two of the Kentuckians out of reach. This all happened in one minute of play.
Thereafter, Texas seemed to play a faster, more aggressive game, while Ky. seemed to lose heart. Texas scored 3 touchdowns in quick succession, Spoonts getting two and Ramsdell one. Helland replaced Spoonts at full, and played a good game while he was in. Towards the end Texas relaxed once more into her slow playing, and Ky., altho disheartened, played hard, kicking whenever they got possession of the ball.

Fourth Quarter.

In the fourth quarter Kelleher and Spoonts replaced Moore Helland, and Ky. who had the ball, began the play on Texas' 45-yd. line with an attempt by Kingsley, who had taken left halfback, to skirt Estill's end.
No such luck, however, for Estill threw him for a loss, and Oldem sent Francis back once more for the old familiar kick. Massingill received it and then sent his team straight down
the field for the seventh touchdown, Spoonts going over. Six minutes later, after various fumbles, and poor work in interference, Texas managed to get another touchdown. The game ended by Vining's recovery of a punt
by Massingill on Kentucky's 30-yd.
line.
