STUDENTS' ASSEMBLY APPOINTS MANAGER OF NEXT VARSITY CIRCUS

Financial Bill, All-University Dance, Thanksgiving Reception

By Nowlin Randolph
Wm. L. McGill will be manager of the Varsity Circus for 1923, as a result of the action of the Students' Assembly at its meeting Tuesday night. Other matters of importance passed upon include final passage of the bill authorizing the committee to investigate all campaigns for money to be put on the campus, selection of a committee to have charge of a campaign to raise money for students in the devastated regions of Europe, and appointment of a committee to audit the finances of the All-University dance and the Thanksgiving reception.

McGill will be assisted in his work on the Varsity Circus by the Cowboys, who are made assistant managers by a provision of the bill. In addition a board of directors will be appointed to have general charge of the work of getting up the Circus.

Handman Appears

Dr. Max S. Handman, professor of sociology, appeared before the Assembly to explain the needs of European students. The money to be raised from the drive, which will be put on in all the universities in the United States will be distributed to needy students in Russia, Armenia, and other destitute countries. Ira J. Allen, Beatrice Lytle, and W. L. Kemper were named to assist with the work in the University. Dr. Handman is chairman of the faculty committee appointed by President Vinson.

All campaigns for money must hereafter be approved by the Assembly before coming on the campus. The bill, which provides for a committee to have charge of the supervision, is aimed particularly at individuals and organizations which seek to raise money for projects not approved by responsible authorities. All University organizations which wish to raise money, however, are subject to it and must make application to the committee.

RESUME OF FINANCES AND PURCHASES MADE BY LAND BOARD GIVEN

Deficit Is Expected When All Purchases Have Been Completed

Giving a complete resume of the finances and purchases of the University Land Acquisition Board, J. H. W. Williams, secretary of the Board, Tuesday afternoon issued the following statistics:

Total number of independent tracts bought, 154; total number of independent tracts unbought, 71; total amount disbursed, $715,378.20; total amount of balance, $634,621.80; total amount asked by owners for unbought property, $739,060.37.

It can be seen from these figures that, if the property owners secure the prices they ask, the Austin business men that signed the bond guaranteeing that the property in the 135 acre addition to the campus could be bought for the sum of $1,350,000 will have to pay the deficit, which, at the extreme, will amount to $104,438.47. Even if the property owners do not secure the full amounts of their askings, it is practically assured that there will be a deficit, as expenses of litigation and clerical work must be paid by the Board.

The high prices asked for the remaining property can be explained by the fact that most of the property remaining to be bought is located north of the campus on Whitis Avenue, University Avenue, Wichita, and Speedway, all property with extensive improvements.

Cowboy Director Is Elected Manager of University Circus

WILLIAM MCGILL

During the sessions of 1920-21 and 1921-22, McGill served as manager of the Longhorn Band, handling all the business details in connection with the organization including the financing of the annual tours. He was manager of the Longhorn baseball team in 1920.

TWELFTH NIGHT REVELS WILL BE GIVEN SOON BY SOPHOMORE GIRLS

Co-eds Will Attend Dressed to Represent Characters From Shakespeare's Plays

Arrangements for the Twelfth night Revels to be given by the sophomore girls Friday night, January 12, were made at a general meeting of the sophomores in the Women's Gym at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The details of the party were explained by Frances Little, chairman of the social committee. The party is to be a Shakespearean Twelfth night revels; everyone is to come in a funny but not elaborate costume representing any one of the characters from Shakespeare's plays, whether it be Julius Caesar, a witch, or any one.

The costumes are to be ones which can be quickly improvised and come so as to afford amusement. The party will begin with a grand march led by the tallest person present.

Each courtier will be presented before the royalty and all will be entertained by imported entertainers. Then the revels will begin; the dancers will dance, the caldron will tell fortunes for ten cents, and the fun will last for several hours. At the close of the party the participants will tear all the Christmas decorations and greens from the walls and burn them in a huge bonfire, for it is an unlucky omen for any Christmas decorations to remain up after Twelfth night. All sophomore girls are invited to come and bring ten cents to make the caldron boil.

Veteran Grapplers Start Intensive Training For 1923 Conference Matches

Real training for Coach Roy McLean's Varsity wrestling squad began this week with nearly every veteran of last year's team out for his old place. According to McLean and from the way in which the men are showing in practice, not more than one or two places on the squad are anywhere near cinched.

Aided by the excellent weather and a lengthy preliminary training period over most of the fall term the grapplers are getting to work earnestly and with the opening of the season still almost a month off it is probable that every man will be in good condition and ready for

SOLONS PREPARE TO GET TO WORK AFTER OPENING

Spirit of Friendliness Felt in Preliminary Sessions

With the election of officers for the Thirty-Eighth Legislature of the State of Texas, Capital Hill lost its sleepy appearance and became a hustling beehive as the lawmakers settled down to business Tuesday afternoon.

R. E. Seagler of Anderson county was elected speaker of the House over Lewis T. Carpenter of Dallas. The vote was Carpenter 19; Seagler 127.

Both branches of the Thirty-Eighth Legislature were called to order promptly at noon Tuesday. Secretary of State S. L. Staples called the House to order while the Senate was called to order by Lieutenant Governor Lynch Davidson. The race for Speaker of the House was much hotter than the vote indicated. Many speeches were made on both sides and it seemed uncertain which candidate would win until the vote was taken.

Members of the House removed their hats and listened with old time Southern courtesy as Mrs. Edith Willmans of Dallas the first woman legislator in Texas, arose and made a speech supporting Mr. Carpenter of Dallas for Speaker of the House. She declared that she is in favor of any bill for appropriations that is for the advancement of education. She said that she made no distinction between higher education and elementary education. "I am for any thing that is for the good of the people," she stated. When asked concerning several bills that are to be introduced concerning the University she stated that she would support any bill that she thought to be of any aid to it.

Many of the Representatives expressed themselves as favoring appropriations for the University. They said that they had pledged their every effort to support any measure that was for the good of the State.

A friendly air in general prevailed as the ninety-three new members of the house mingled and became acquainted with the old members.

Among the new members to take their seats Tuesday in the House, four are now registered and taking work in the University. They are George Kemble from Fort Worth; Roger Robinson from Leon County; Cecil Morgan from Bremond; and Homer Maxwell from Stephens and Palo Pinto counties.

Among the officers of the senate several University students were elected. Richard Blalock was elected assistant secretary; Morris McKiff was elected second sergeant-at-arms; and Lane Tynes as assistant door keeper.

No bills were introduced in either house but the entire day was spent in electing officers and appointing committees to serve during the Thirty-Eighth Legislature.

Craddock Is Back

Among the old men who are back is Craddock, Varsity's premier heavy who is now wrestling at his usual weight. Craddock shows signs of being in as good shape as he was last year when he captured the conference title.

Leon Gorman, who also put in an excellent season last year and who is captain of the team is about fifteen pounds above the 175 class in which he shows. Gorman is working off his excess weight quickly and in about a week he should be

Carl Phinney Chosen Head Clerk of House in Opening Session

C. L. PHINNEY

C. L. Phinney of Brownwood was re-elected Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives Tuesday afternoon without opposition. Phinney is entering upon his third year in the University. Phinney served as Chief Clerk during the first and second called sessions of the 37th Legislature, having the distinction of being the youngest chief clerk ever elected.

University Yearbook Nears End Following Holiday Work

New Workers Appointed to Assist in Different Departments

By laboring incessantly during the latter part of December and during the Christmas holidays, the Cactus workers were able to get well past the half-way mark in progress toward the completion of the yearbook, according to Maurice Angly, editor-in-chief. Over two thousand pictures have been made and most of them have been shipped to the engraver. This number includes nearly all of the photographs which will be used in the book, a few for the basketball division and the Grind Section remaining to be taken. The Senior, Graduate, Sorority and Fraternity Sections have been sent to the engraver and it is too late to make any photographic changes in these groups.

Mr. McCaskill, manager of the Extension Studio and Mr. Taylor, one of the photographers, worked with Managing Editor White for three days during the holidays and during parts of nights, checking and mounting the Sorority and Fraternity Sections. Angly says that this service was not provided for in the contract and is an instance of the co-operation which the Studio is giving the staff.

The Basketball Division will be completed as soon as the closing of the season permits, but the Grind Section will not be rushed. It is the policy of the editor to delay the sending of this section until the last moment in order that no interesting bits of material suited to this section will be omitted because of tardiness in being submitted. Bill Murphree, who re-entered the University this term, will do all the cartoon work for this section and some of the art work for the other divisions of the annual. He is well known as a cartoonist, particularly because of the interesting sketches he places on the bill-board in the Co-op window.

LONGHORN PLAYERS OVERCOME PIRATES BY SMOOTH TEAMWORK IN SECOND GAME

Sophomores Choose Corps of Officers for Next Two Terms

Officers for the sophomore class for the winter and spring terms were elected at a meeting of that organization held Tuesday afternoon. About fifty were present, the number being divided equally between the two sexes. Bill Murphree of Wellington was selected to head the second year students during the present term. Jack Life will succeed him.

Other officers were elected were Helen Harris, vice president; Dick Blalock, secretary and treasurer; and Joyce Cox, sergeant-at-arms, for the present term. Dorothy Fisher, vice president; Otis Flynt, secretary and treasurer; and Jimmy Moran, sergeant-at-arms, for the spring term.

Plans for the sophomore reception were discussed in general. Jimmy Moran and Helen Harris were appointed to have charge of this affair. No definite date was set, but the general agreement was that the dance should come immediately before February 22, if the committee thought it practicable.

WRESTLERS WILL MEET Intamural Tournament Will Be Held This Term

University wrestlers who have not won their letters in wrestling will be eligible for the intramural wrestling tournament to be held beginning on January 29.

The contestants will be divided up into the regular University classes, heavyweight, 175 pounds, 158 pounds, 145 pounds, 135 pounds, 125 pounds and 115 pounds. The maximum overweight that will be allowed will be two pounds and the men entering will be weighed in on the morning of their matches.

The preliminaries will be held on the first day and they will be worked off as quickly as possible. The semi-finals and finals will follow immediately after the eliminations and the entire tourney will not take over four or five days.

Coach McLean, Varsity wrestling coach and instructor of wrestling in the men's physical training department, will be in charge of the meet, and he announces that all men who want to work out may do so any day after 4 p. m. in the wrestling room of Z Hall.

PIRATES UNABLE TO STOP ROMNEY'S FIGHTING MACHINE

Six Texas Substitutes Sent in After Regulars Pile up Score

By Leon Radoff

Winding up the first series of the season with a second win, the Longhorn basketball quintet displayed a smoother, more regular machine than they had shown in the first game. Winning by the score of 31 to 16 and leading throughout the game, there was never a time when Southwestern threatened the Varsity lead.

The Pirates deserted their consistent passing game and depended almost wholly on ill-judged long attempts. Time after time no attempt was made by the Pirates to advance the ball past mid-field and long shots were tried instead.

Pirates Flash at Times

The Pirates also lacked the spirit that they showed in the first game of the series and throughout the game they showed that Monday's game had taken the fire out of them. However, the Georgetown crew flashed streaks of brilliant playing and several times the Pirate forwards connected with long shots that looked impossible. Passes that worked the ball down the field through the defense of the Texans were also carried through but not as often as the night before.

From the time that the first goals were thrown the Longhorns felt sure winners, and therefore their play was not as spirited as it had been in the first game. The Varsity passing game was more accurate, however, and the chief difficulty was in locating the basket after the ball had been worked down to within striking distance. No long shots were attempted by the Longhorn cagers and more machine play that was worked in mid-season

OUTLOOK IS GOOD FOR SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Try-outs for Stringed Instrument Players Wednesday, Thursday and Friday

Organization of the Student Symphony Orchestra is going forward with gratifying speed according to Professor F. L. Reed, of the School of Music. The brass and woodwind sections of the orchestra are already filled up, most of the musicians being drawn from the Longhorn Band. Now, Professor Reed is calling for stringed instrument players, and he announces that tryouts will be held in S Hall 10, on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday afternoons from three to five o'clock. The number of instruments will be limited to eight first violins, eight second violins, four violas, four cellos and four stringed basses.

Altogether the orchestra will have a personnel of thirty-five or forty and will be under the leadership of F. L. Reed, conductor, assisted by Mrs. Bess N. Kintner, concert master and assistant conductor and Julio Gallindo, assistant director. The orchestra will give a concert in spring term.

The Student Symphony Orchestra is to be a permanent campus organization, and will fill the place which was vacated by the Municipal Orchestra which was discontinued at the beginning of the war. "There is a fund set aside by the Regents for the maintenance of such an organization and the students who can do so are urged to cooperate in setting it on foot," said Professor Reed.

MOTHER GOOSE BALL PLANNED BY W.A.A.

Novel Entertainment Will Be Offered to Co-eds at Next Open Meeting of Council

Meeting for the first time during the winter term, the Woman's Athletic Council decided Tuesday night to give a Mother Goose Ball for the Co-eds of the University at the next open meeting of W.A.A. which will be held Thursday of next week.

Announcements concerning the ball will be made later in the week. Admission of 25c for two girls will be charged.

Etta Gilbert, manager of swimming, tendered her resignation, which was accepted by the Council, and Eugenia Smith was elected to fill the vacancy.

A bill was placed before the Council calling for funds to furnish a dancing studio for the Dancing Club. The furnishings will include a mirror which will cover one end of the room in the Woman's Building basement which is being used for gym classes. Curtains will also be hung around two sides of the room, and the floor will be refinished. However, action on the bill was postponed until the next meeting, which will be next Tuesday night.

John Lomax Will Read From Cowboy Ballad Collection At Reading Hour Thursday

By Genevieve Aron

After some deliberation, it has been decided that the next Thursday afternoon reading, which will be a reading of Cowboy Ballads by John A. Lomax, will be held in room 312 Education Building as usual, unless the room is too overcrowded, in which case the entire audience will move over to K Hall, according to Miles L. Hanley, who is in charge of the readings. Mr. Hanley is of the opinion that the change, if necessary, will take only a few minutes and will not in any way impair the effect of the lecture.

It has been two years since Mr.

Lomax has read any of his ballads at the University, and consequently they are a novelty to the majority of students. His lectures are always attended to the limit of the standing room, and the last two times he spoke, which were the successive summers of two and three years ago, the audience gathered out on the campus.

Collected Ballads as Student

The Cowboy ballads were collected by Mr. Lomax when he was a graduate student at Harvard. He was three years Sheldon Fellow, working on the collection of American

THE LEGISLATURE CONVENES

The Thirty-eighth Legislature has now perfected its organization and begun the task of providing suitable and necessary legislation for the state during the ensuing two years. The ceremony of inducting the new law-makers into office has been completed; the pre-session caucuses and campaigns for places of leadership are matters of the past; the legislators are now busily concerning themselves with the problems which must be solved during the next two months, if the law-making body is to perform its proper functions.

The average citizen probably does not realize the fundamental importance of the state legislature in our system of government. Elected by the people of the state and directly responsible to their constituents, members of the Legislature are charged with the sacred duty of providing suitable laws for protecting the constitutional guarantees of life, liberty and property; and, in addition, the law-makers must provide the various agencies of the state government with suitable and sufficient finances, powers, and facilities for the proper functioning of the governmental system of the commonwealth. The representative assembly is the basis of our system of democracy, as, through this body of representative makers of laws, the sovereign will of the citizens is afforded the best opportunity to express its sentiment in regard to important matters of government. Constitutional and democratic government is justified largely through the effectiveness, responsiveness, and efficiency with which the legislative bodies perform their duties.

The Thirty-eighth Legislature should achieve a unique place for itself in the history of Texas government. With two-thirds or more of the legislature being new members who are comparatively young in years and ambitious in spirit, the dominant tone of the law-making body should be progressive and aggressive. And it seems certain that the vital matters confronting the Legislature will require the very best that this spirit of progressiveness, tempered by a leavening influence of sound judgment, can give to the task. Not only must this Legislature concern itself with the usual appropriation bills and other routine matters, but also it must consider such important questions as the proposed Constitutional Convention, the precarious situation of the public school system, the unstable and insufficient support of institutions of higher education, the serious problem relating to effective enforcement of the laws, and needed state reclamation of waste lands. The fact that these important matters involve the future welfare and prosperity of the state during generations to come, clearly indicates that the Legislature will best concern itself with the quality, rather than the quantity, of its legislation.

REPRESENTING THE PEOPLE

While the Legislature is in session on Capitol hill, another representative assembly, the University of Texas, is holding its regular meeting on another hill, to the north. In a sense, the University is as truly representative as the law-making body, as it is attended by students from every section of the state. As representatives of the rural community and the city, as delegates from the homes of the rich and the poor alike, students of the University are here to receive equal benefit from the training for citizenship and service which the state affords through the capstone of its democratic system of public education.

It is only fitting, then, that these two representative and democratic institutions, the Legislature and the University, should strengthen during the association of the next two months, the spirit of friendliness and co-operation which exists between them. The Legislature labors in order to provide the state with a better and more efficient system of government by law, while the University exists only that it may train for the state a better type of citizen to participate in affairs of the commonwealth. During the sessions of the Legislature, University students are afforded an exceptional opportunity to become personally acquainted with the law-makers of the state, and to acquire a first hand knowledge of the procedure and functioning of the Legislature.

The University, on its own behalf, extends a most cordial invitation to the members of the law-making body to visit the campus and mingle with the students in their daily routine of study; to learn through personal contact the actual conditions under which this institution is laboring in its attempt to provide four thousand eager young men and women with a fitting education; to secure a vision of the great future in service to the state which awaits the University, when it is finally adequately equipped and supported for the performance of its ever increasing tasks.

Opinions of Others

SOMETHING BETTER

(Daily Kansan)

When you sit down to spend an hour with a trashy novel or magazine, do you ever think that there is something better—something which might add to your sum-total of knowledge? When after dinner you lounge near the phonograph or piano listening to jazz, do you realize that you are smothering a latent appreciation of the fine and beautiful in music? Surely you know that your time is limited to the span of a man's life, and is a thing to be treasured. Amusement, tawdry and poor are a waste of that which is most precious—your time. They are as a powerful narcotic to your potential love of something better.

EMPTY HONOR (Silver and Gold)

In what does honor consist, and what is its mark? That is the question bothering those to whom it seems incongruous that the honorary societies of which there are a number, should have a scholastic average below that of the whole student body. That these societies make no attempt at scholastic attainment is perhaps tenable. So far these societies have been justifying their existence merely on the ground that they recognize worth. Actually their membership is dependent on political qualifications.

If then their badges are not marks of honor, and as they have as yet shown no other reason for taking up room and time, we believe the authorities would be justified in disbanding them for economic reasons. If they ever had a purpose they seem to have wandered far from it, and their only activity now seems to make a little more business for some fraternity jeweler.

Are College Women Superior? (Southern California)

Are women mentally superior to men?

That question rises annually, prompted by the scholastic standing reports of fraternities and sororities. Now comes the view that women are not mentally superior to men as the scholastic reports would indicate, because the women take easier subjects than do the men, and, therefore, their marks cannot be counted at face value when compared with the grades of men in a harder, more technical subject.

Women are not mentally superior to men. The reason for their leadership indicated on the scholarship reports lies deeper than the mere statement that women take easier courses than do the men, for that is only partially correct.

Men take a greater active part in the University activities than do the women, especially at U. S. C., where the women only dominate one activity, that of stage productions. An active part in university undertakings calls for more time and thought than does merely an active interest which, it cannot be denied, the women have.

Considerably more men are working their way through college than are women. Again the drain upon time and thought is much heavier, and the natural consequence is that they have not the amount of time to put on their subjects that the women are accustomed to use for purposes of self-enlightenment.

Take away the disadvantage, really an advantage in the long run under which the men are forced, then compare the scholarship grades and the men would hold their own if not surpass, the women.

Put the question in a fairer light. Who, on the average, receives the most benefit from college life, the men or the women? The men unquestionably would have the years, not because they need the training more than do the women, but because they have a two-fold training which makes for greater development.

PI SIGMA ALPHA IS INSTALLING CHAPTERS AT VARIOUS PLACES

Texas Alpha Chapter Undertaking a Study of State Judiciaries

Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary government fraternity, which was originated at the University of Texas two years ago, is rapidly becoming a fraternity of national importance. The fraternity has given a splendid account of itself where chapters have been installed, and its rapid growth is only a proof of what it is doing. The chapters are pursuing regular work in the study of government by having before them speakers of recognized stability on various problems of government. At the present time it is installing a Delta and Epsilon chapter at the University of Kentucky and Washington and Lee University respectively. Eta chapter will be installed at the University of Nebraska at the end of the present semester, while arrangements are being made to establish an Eta chapter at the University of California, a Theta chapter at Leland Stanford, and an Eta chapter at Northwestern University.

The Alpha chapter of the University of Texas, is making a study of State Judiciaries this year and is having before its members of the Faculty of the Law School, and representatives from the various State Courts at Austin. So far, this year, splendid discussions of the jury have been given by Judge Lattimore, of the Court of Criminal Appeals, and Professor Rhea of the Law School. These discussions have been followed by round table in which members of the chapter participated. It is recognized by all that this work supplements very admirably the various courses in the Department of Government.

The second National convention will be held in connection with the American Political Science Association. One of the chief purposes of the organization is to bring promising students of Government throughout the nation in touch with each other and the heads of Departments of Government in American universities. This touch will undoubtedly be helpful to both heads of departments and students aspiring to become teachers of government.

The national officers of Pi Sigma Alpha are: Dr. C. P. Patterson, president; Ben F. Wright, vice-president; Thomas C. Clark, vice-president; Irvin Stewart, secretary; and Cecil B. Chamberlain, treasurer.

Fritz Lanham Has His Little Joke On Republicans

Fritz Lanham, editor of the The Texan in 1900-01, and at present a Congressman from Texas, recently gave the Republicans some good-natured chiding in regard to the Democratic land-slide last November. According to a report of the humorous instance, as reported in the Waco News-Tribune, Congressman-at-Large Richard Yates, Republican, of Illinois, who came back with a 276,000 majority when G. O. P. candidates were falling thick about him, arose the other day to say that it wasn't such a bad year for republicans after all.

Mr. Yates discoursed at length on his own majority and then predicted that the Republicans would wipe the Democrats out, root and branch, in 1924.

When Yates concluded Congressman Fritz L. Lanham of Texas arose. "I have been seeking to analyze the statement of my good friend from Illinois, Mr. Yates, and have come to the conclusion that it is tantamount to this, that under the anesthetic of his own personal majority he did not feel the pain of the recent operation which the Republican party underwent," Lanham said.

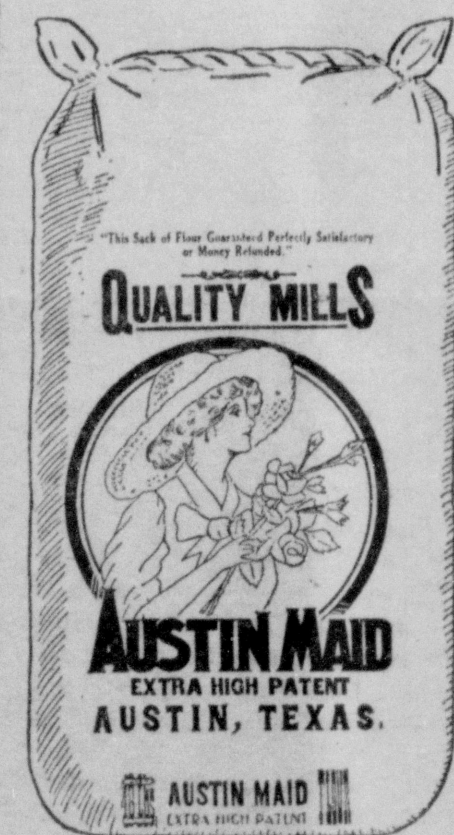

"The situation reminds me of the story of the young man from the east who went out west. His parents did not hear from him for a long time. One day they received a telegram to this effect:

"Your son, John, was killed today in a railway wreck. His head was mashed to a pulp. His chest crushed, both arms broken and both legs broken."

"Then after an hour there came to the grieving parents another telegram which said:

"Mistaken as to details. Left arm not broken."

"I think that summarizes the results of the recent elections, and my good friend from Illinois is taking comfort from the fact that the left arm was not broken."

Ballads, which was his work for his Master's degree. The selection does not propose to be an anthology of Western verse, but an amassing of selected material which is the folklore of America.

Work Praised by Roosevelt

While he was in Cheyenne, Mr. Lomax made the acquaintance of Theodore Roosevelt, who heartily endorsed the work he was doing, as "a real service to America." In a letter to Mr. Lomax, following the perusal of some of the "Ballads," Mr. Roosevelt remarked on the interest of the work in a social and historical as well as a literary way, and remarked on the similarity of the American Ballads to the early British ballad, and especially praised the fact that they had been permanently collected shortly before they began to decline before the popularity of music hall songs.

Mr. Lyon Phelps has called the collection a work of "original research" and was very enthusiastic over Mr. Lomax's oral rendition of the poems. "They are as oral as the chants of Vachel Lindsay; and when one has the pleasure of listening to Mr. Lomax—who loves these verses and the men who first sang them—one reconstructs in the imagination the appropriate figures and

Like the old English ballads and other folk literatures much of the material which comprises the two volumes which are the result of Mr. Lomax's labor is anonymous. They grew and existed with variations over many portions of the country. Some of them are adaptations of works of which the authors are known, but which the cowboys made peculiarly their own by characteristic alterations, which usually improved rather than detracted from the quality of the poems.

After their publication and the immense success which greeted him at Harvard, Mr. Lomax went over the country lecturing to the different American colleges and through this work, he has become one of the most widely known Texans in the country.

The best looking man in the 155 pound class right now is Shropshire also a veteran of last year, who won from Oklahoma A. & M., Texas A. & M., and others, losing only one match during the entire season.

At 145 pounds Coach McLean has several likely looking men trying out and it is for this position that the hottest fight will be staged. From his veterans McLean will have Scurlock and among the other candidates he has several good men including Ford and Campbell who are covering the mat in fine style.

No Lightweight Veterans

In the 135 pound class there are no veterans but there are more candidates for this position than for any of the others, and from such men as Eastman, Fussel and Kluge the place will soon be filled.

Nelson Scurlock the veteran 125 pound grappler, will probably not be able to wrestle this year as he is not in good enough physical shape. The other men who are aiming at the vacant position are Olan, Turner, and McWhorter, all good men and hard workers.

In the baby-weight class, 115-pounds, Nash a three year veteran is showing better than he has at any time in his career and he will probably take the mat in this weight although he is opposed by at least two men who are possibilities. The two men are both veterans of the Frosh squad of last year, and have been training with Coach McLean all during the fall; they are Frazier and Sherrel.

Contracts have already been signed with Conference teams for matches and a Conference meet to be held in Austin about March 1 has already been arranged. Varsity will meet the Aggies at College Station and the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater. Beginning with this week the squad will work out every day, starting at 4 p. m.

Woman Keeps Up Family And Goes To College, Too

Wives of University of Texas men should take courage from the example of Mrs. S. H. Carter of Manhattan, Kan. Mrs. Carter attends college and carries a full assignment of study while taking care of a family of three.

The Carters live in a 5-room house, and in addition to caring for it and her 10-months-old son, Mrs. Carter is reported as also doing much of her sewing. She takes a full seamstress course of 17 hours a week at the Manhattan college, her classes being so arranged in the mornings that she may devote the rest of the day to housework.

KAPPA ALPHA AND LAMBDA CHI ALPHA ARE TRIUMPHANT

Phi Sigma Delta Goes Down in Defeat After a Hard Struggle

Kappa Alpha triumphed over Beta Theta Pi to the tune of 6 to 1, while Lambda Chi Alpha nosed Phi Sigma Delta out of a victory by a score of 7 to 6, in the Men's Gym yesterday afternoon. Both games were thrillers from start to finish, and the outcome of each was uncertain until the last whistle blew, especially the Phi Sig-Lambda Chi tussle which had to go two extra periods on account of an existing tie.

The Lambda Chi's and Phi Sig's took the floor first. After 6 minutes of furious fighting on the part of both teams, the Phi Sigs drew first blood when C. Landa looped one. The battle raged on and the score was soon tied when Pate registered one for the Lambda Chi's. The half ended with the score standing at 2 and 2.

While the Phi Sig's and Lambda Chi's were resting, the Kappa Alpha's and Beta's put up a near duplicate of the preceding conflict. Both teams fought like demons, but the K. A.'s hogged what little scoring was done in this canto, and the half ended 3 to 0 with the K. A.'s on the big end as a result of three free throws by Joe Moore.

Warfare was resumed again between the Phi Sig's and Lambda Chi's. The second half started with a rush, but two free throws each by Jackson for the Lambda Chi's and by Levy for the Phi Sig's resulted in a score of 4 to 4 and the tie continued until the end of the game. By mutual agreement, and extra-minute period was played.

Each team put all they had into the turmoil and at the end of this session, the score stood 6 and 6. McKenzie scored one for Lambda Chi and Lefkowitz followed with one for the Phi Sig's.

Play was renewed between the K. A.'s and Beta's to let the other two teams rest before playing another extra three minutes.

The Kappa Alpha's continued to monopolize the scoring until a foul permitted Turner to throw a free goal, which was the only counter the Beta's could garner. Mays and Joe Moore accounted for the rest and in fact all the scoring done by the K. A.'s.

Ten fatigued players once more took their positions on the court. The whistle sounded, play started, the whistle sounded again, the Phi Sig's had fouled and Jackson, of the Lambda Chi's tried for goal. The ball hit the ring, hesitated, and dropped through for the winning point.

The line-ups:
Lambda Chi Alpha: McKenzie, Haniston, Jackson, Atkinson, Pate, and Collier.

Phi Sigma Delta: Bluestein, C. Landa, L. Landa, Lefkowitz, and Moch.

FEW GIRLS FLUNK OUT

Only Twenty-two Freshmen Girls Bust Out in Fall Term

Miss Edna E. McDaniel, assistant Dean of Women and Freshman advisor, announced yesterday that only twenty-two freshman girls flunked out of school last term. This is a remarkable record in view of the fact that there are 550 first year women in school, and it is attributed to the personal conference system which has been inaugurated for the first time this year. Miss McDaniel met every freshman girl personally, helped arrange her work and in the case of those whose grades were below passing at mid terms she investigated conditions and sought to remedy the cause of the trouble. One girl who failed in every subject at mid term passed everything after Miss McDaniel had advised her about her work.

The freshman dean is in her office every day and invites all the girls to see her about anything they do not understand. She is assisted by the Freshman Commission and the freshman officers.

ED ANGLY

News was recently received at the University of the departure of Ed Angly, B.A. 1919, for London where he will serve on the foreign staff of the Associated Press. Since his graduation Angly has been on the New York staff of the Associated Press, a leading news-gathering agency, and has secured a number of "scoops" in covering various events. His transfer to the foreign service marks a decided promotion for him.

Among other activities, Angly served as editor-in-chief of the Cactus for 1918-19.

Grand Order of De Molay Chooses Its Officers for 1923

Officers for the year of 1923 were elected at a meeting of the Stephen F. Austin chapter of De Molay Monday night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral. Many of the members of this organization and all of the newly-elected officers are students of the University. The officers elected were: Master Counselor, John Mayfield; Senior Counselor, Charles Phinney, Brownwood; Junior Counselor, Homer Williams; Senior Deacon, Pat Neff, Jr., and Junior Deacon, John B. Moore, Jr. Some changes in the organization were made at this meeting. Formerly there was a team of boys for each degree—that is two degree teams. This was changed forming two teams for each degree making four degree teams. Practice for these teams will begin soon. A class to learn the obligations of the organization will be started next Sunday, according to the new Master Counselor, John Mayfield.

Tickets for Annual Texan Banquet Will Go on Sale Today

Tickets for the annual banquet for Texan workers will be put on sale today by the committee in charge of the entertainment. The banquet will be held on January 23 at the University Cafeteria, beginning at 8 o'clock.

Only workers on the Daily Texan will be sold tickets, each boy and girl paying his own admission. Dates will not be prohibited at this entertainment; neither will they be requisite for attendance at this get-together. The price of the ticket is $1.00.

The program for the banquet has not yet been completed, but something new in banquet entertainment has been promised by the committee in charge.

MISS BUDD GIVES WORK TO MANY VARSITY GIRLS

Miss Josephine Budd, Y. W. C. A. secretary, announces that she has found girls to fill all the positions open at the beginning of the term except in the library check room from 11 to 12 on Monday and Wednesday and from 12 to 1:30 on Tuesday and Saturday. There are several places for girls to work for their room and board, but there is at present no clerical work open. Miss Budd asks that women of the community who will have places during the summer months please advise her as soon as possible, since applications are already being received from prospective students.

FORMER STUDENT TO GIVE BUSINESS TALK

Lecture Will Be First of Series Sponsored by B. A. Department

W. W. Woodson, former student of the University of Texas, and now President of the First National Bank of Waco, will speak Wednesday night at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium on the subject "What Business Demands of the Man." This is the first of a series of monthly lectures on business subjects to be given by prominent business men of the state. These lectures are arranged for and sponsored by the junior class of the Department of Business Administration with the cooperation of Dean Spurgeon Bell and the students of the Department.

Mr. Woodson attended the University several years ago, and took his LL. B. degree in 1901. Immediately thereafter he accepted a position as assistant cashier of the bank at Mart, Texas, and within five years rose to the position of vice-president. From there he went to the First National Bank of Waco as vice-president. Upon the retirement of the president, Mr. Woodson succeeded to that office, which he still holds.

But Mr. Woodson's activities are not confined to the business world, but extend into many others. He has served as President of the Athenium Society. Shortly after his graduation he held the position of President of the Alumni Association of the University of Texas. Later he became President of the Texas Bankers' Association and is now serving as Chairman of the Committee on Legislation of the same organization. During the war, Mr. Woodson was made Chairman of the Liberty Loan Committee of his district.

At the present time he is an active member of the Committee on the Students' Memorial Union.

editor and will be under the direct supervision of the magazine editor. They are instructed to get photographs of the prominent girls of their dormitories in groups and individually. A group picture will be made of the girls in every dormitory that has an editor; the one for the Woman's Building has already been taken. In addition they are supposed to keep their eyes and ears open for Grind Section matter as well as for material for the activities section of the book.

The girls who were appointed as editors are as follows: Woman's Building, Eleanor Hindman and Julia Crisp; Newman Hall, Elizabeth Speaker; Grace Hall, Ann Marshall and Ruth Ropes; and Johnnie Gilkerson and Della Knoll for the New Masonic Dormitory. Beatrice Lytell and Mildred Taylor have been selected to aid in keeping up with the activities in the Woman's Gym. It is thought that the appointment of these girls to keep up with the activities in their dormitories will aid materially in making the subject matter of the Cactus more comprehensive and interesting. It will doubtless aid greatly to the Activities Division wherein their contributions will be placed.

A letter has been received from the engraving company in which it is stated that this year's Cactus is over a month ahead of the other college annuals whose engraving they are doing. The staff will doubtless continue its consistent efforts to put out a good Cactus and one not tardy in being delivered.

CAMPUS SHORTS

In a letter to the Ex-Students' Association Meade F. Griffin '15 suggests that arrangements be made with the broadcasting stations in Texas to be quiet from a certain time on the night of March 2, in order that some of the officials of the University might make radio addresses. He also says that it would be entertaining and certainly appreciated for the University Band and Glee Club to give a musical concert.

Louise Wright, former student in the University, will take her M. A. from Columbia University in February.

Milton Ling, former student in the University, is taking advanced English work in Columbia.

Law School Graduate Is County Attorney of Navarro County

B. W. GEORGE

Ballard W. George, a graduate of the Law School of the University in 1920, on January 1 assumed his duties as County Attorney of Navarro County. As Navarro forms a district by itself, Mr. George is also district attorney for that district.

A significant fact in Mr. George's election is that he received more votes than both his opponents in the first primary and thus did not have to enter the run-off primary.

Wayne R. Howell, B.A. and LL.B. in 1921, has been appointed assistant to County Attorney George.

Both Mr. George and Mr. Howell were prominent in various student activities during their years at the University. Among other things Mr. George was a member of Delta Theta Phi, legal fraternity, and Mr. Howell was affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi and a member of Chancellors, honorary legal society.

and H. P. Green were appointed to audit the report on the financial status of the All-University dances and the Thanksgiving reception, submitted by Robert L. Murphree. Their report is to be made at the next meeting.

Cletus Oakley, manager of the Mandolin Club, asked that his organization be given some share in the blanket tax. Due to the failure of its representative to appear, the Mandolin Club was not considered when the tax was apportioned in the fall. Oakley urged reconsideration on the ground that the Club is a representative University organization. A suggestion that there was a surplus left over from the Club's apportionment for last year led to the appointment of John Mayfield and Ira Allen to investigate means of raising the necessary funds.

Bill Passed

The bill to regulate money campaigns is as follows:

BE IT ENACTED BY THE STUDENTS-ASSEMBLY OF THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS.

A bill to create a committee to pass upon applications to conduct financial drives on the University campus.

Sec. 1. Any person or group of persons desiring to put on a finance drive, tag-day, or any other means of raising money on the campus, shall be compelled to get permission from a committee to be composed as follows:

Two members from the faculty to be appointed by the president of the University.

Two students to be appointed by the president of the Students' Association and approved by the Students' Assembly.

Sec. 2. This committee shall represent the Students' Association in the general supervision and control of all financial drives that shall be conducted on the campus.

Sec. 3. This committee shall be organized at the beginning of each long session; the term of office shall be for the entire long session in which they are chosen; and the members shall be eligible for more than one term.

Sec. 4. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, the committee provided for herein being chosen in the manner above described and holding office for the remainder of the long session of 1922-23.

Sport Gossip

By Leon Radoff

With the start of the winter term, and the coaches of the University knowing now whom they will be able to definitely count on for winter and spring sports, athletics around the University have started humming.

With the weather as balmy as it has been for the last three weeks Doctor Penick has worked his men out daily in preparation for the early spring meets that are scheduled with Conference Schools.

Lewis N. White who was recently picked as the second National Collegiate player is showing his brilliant form that carries him steadily through his meets. He looks even better than he did last spring or in the autumn when he was a co-winner of the University Open Doubles Tourney. His teammate "Red" Thalheimer is also stroking brilliantly and the pair seem destined for an exceptionally good season.

The balmy sun has put the pep into Billy Disch's men and the daily practice in the sunlight is thawing out the stiff arms and frozen legs that are still unwilling to be exerted for a whole afternoon at a stretch. And not to detract from the accomplishments of the dead, Billy Disch is getting the same steam into his practice sessions that he used to have when Pig Belmont would look over the baseball candidates each afternoon from his post back of home plate. Frank Gibson is a worthy disciple of Disch and he is putting the head coach's methods into practice for excellent results.

Instructor Wade, who daily demonstrates to his pupils the art of boxing is rounding a boxing squad into good shape. He has no plans for inter-collegiate bouts but he is training his men anyway, and if boxing does receive the consideration in the Southwestern Conference that is due it, Wade will have a group of veterans to start off with. Bouts between members of the class and intramural participation are on the program for the remainder of the year and some first class tilts can be looked forward to.

Coach Roy McLean is looking over his men preliminary to picking a wrestling team to represent the University in coming meets with other schools and for the Southwestern Conference meet to be held in Austin next March. Coach McLean has almost a veteran team of grapplers back to take the mat, but he promises that in addition to the old men several new faces will be seen in the squad that he will pick to represent the University.

Coach Milton Romney's cagers have already started off their season with two straight wins over the strong Southwestern Pirates. The team is looking good for this early in the season and with a great deal of reserve material to bring up, Varsity is expecting a fairly successful season in basketball.

And best of all football is gone and just about forgotten.

TEA IS BEING SERVED DAILY BY CAFETERIA

Probably for the first time in the history of the University, the cafeteria is serving tea every afternoon. This one of the pleasing innovations of Miss Jansen, manager of the Commons. A job or two is thus given deserving students, besides providing a place where every student can secure a mid-afternoon lunch of a sandwich, cake, or other delicacy.

Miss Jansen announces that tea will regularly be served from 2:30 to 5 p. m.

PRESIDENT OF MU PHI EPSILON VISITS HERE

Miss Persis Heaton, national president of Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary musical sorority for women, is a visitor at the University.

Miss Heaton is from Simpson Conservatory at Indianola, Iowa, and has just returned from California where she installed a chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon. She will remain in Austin for several days in order to inspect the local chapter, Mu Theta. The members of Mu Phi Epsilon expect to entertain for Miss Heaton at the Woman's Faculty Club during her visit.

BOLTON WILL LECTURE

High Value Placed on Garcia Collection by Californian

Dr. Herbert C. Bolton, head of the department of Spanish History in the University of California, and former head of the same department in the University, arrived in Austin Tuesday morning. While here he will deliver several lectures to classes of Spanish history, and examine the contents of the Garcia Library. This library he says is a most wonderful collection of Spanish literature. It is stupendous! "Why, if the University should ever tire of it, and want to dispose of it the Cortez document alone would bring the price paid for the whole library."

Dr. Bolton expressed himself as being delighted with the progress made by the University of Texas in the past thirteen years. "Any University might well be proud of the permanent buildings which have been erected on the campus during the past few." When reminded of the shack, he smiled and said, "No great undertaking can be accomplished all at once; it takes time." While in Austin, Dr. Bolton will be the guest of Dr. C. W. Hackett of the department of history.

Freshmen Girls to Be Entertained by University Ladies

The University Ladies Club will entertain all freshman girls Wednesday afternoon with a reception at the University Club, 2304 San Antonio, from 4 to 6. All first year women are invited to call sometime during the afternoon.

"I am anxious to see every freshman girl present," said Miss McDaniel. "We want to bring the new girls together this term but this will be impossible unless they come to the entertainments we have planned for them. No special invitations are being issued but each girl is urged to be present."

Camp Scores for Visitors

Peyton, Robertson, and Barrett were the main scorers for Texas while Camp led in the point getting for the visitors. Peyton was high man of the game with three field goals and five free goals out of seven tries. Barrett and Robertson each completed four field goals. Camp although high man for the Pirates was away off his game, and out of a possible seventeen free trials he completed only six. Ellis and Adams each completed two field goals.

Again after Varsity had rolled up a comfortable lead in the first period Romney sent in his second string men. They succeeded in holding "Chief" Gardner's men but they were not able to score, and at the beginning of the second period the first string tossers went back into the game and held their places until the final whistle.

In the first period Texas started the scoring early and held a comfortable lead throughout. At the end of the first half the score was 18 to 13 in favor of Varsity. The second half was a repetition of the first and Varsity made 11 to 5 by the Pirates.

The Men's Gymnasium was again filled to its capacity and Yell Leader Nowotny and Assistant Poole led Varsity rooters through University yells and songs before the start of the game.

Intramural Game Fails

The basketball game between the Pre-Meds and the Sophomore intramurals that was scheduled as a curtain raiser to the big game was not played as the sophomores failed to produce a team for the start. The game was forfeited to the Pre-Meds.

The starting lineups for the Southwestern game were:

Peyton (c)	Adams
Left Forward
Barrett	Ellis
Right Forward
Settegast	Wray
Center
Robertson	(c) Camp
