

The Center for Asian American Studies and the Department of English Present

Lost in Transition

Uncovering Canada in Asian North America

by Iyko Day

Candidate for Assistant Professor with the Department of English and the Center for Asian American Studies

Tuesday Jan 23, 2007
Calhoun 100
5:00-6:30

This talk will elucidate a hemispheric mode for reading Asian North American cultural production. The presentation will feature work by Gutzon Borglum, the Group of Seven, Tseng Kwong Chi, and Jin-me Yoon. Ms. Day is currently a Ph.D. Candidate in the Department of Ethnic Studies at University of California, Berkeley, where her dissertation project is titled "Out of Place: Asian North America in Transnational Borderlands."

Student Meeting with Iyko Day

Tuesday January 23, 2007

PAR 306

1:45-3:00 PM

Open to all undergraduate and graduate students