LONGHORNS OUTFIGHT AGGIES AND SWEEP SERIES

NURSES TO HOLD MEETING THROUGH WEEK ON CAMPUS

Nationally Known Speakers Will Appear Before Convention During Week

PROGRAM ANNOUNCED

Will Be Held Under Auspices of Nursing League and Extension Bureau

Beginning Monday, February 4, and lasting through Saturday, February 9, there will be an Institute for Nurses in combined sessions with the Nutrition and Health Education Institute, under the auspices of the Texas State League of Nursing and of the University of Texas Bureau of Extension, to be held at the University Baptist Church. These institutes will be open to students of the University; especially are students urged to attend who are interested in nursing as a profession.

Film to Show Monday

Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Girls Study Hall, there will be shown a film, "The Call of a Noble Profession," portraying the advantages of the modern school of nursing.

Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock, a lecture on "The History of Nursing" with lantern slides, will be given at the University Baptist Church, by L. Jane Duffy, R.N., director of the Department of Public Health Nursing of the University.

Miss Grace Grey, dean of the School of Nursing, John Sealy Hospital, Galveston, will attend the Institute, and will be glad to interview students interested in taking a pre-nursing course in connection with the University and John Sealy Hospital, according to Miss Duffy.

University Professors Speak

Some of the University professors to appear on the program at some time during the institute are: Clara May Parker, adjunct professor of the Art of Teaching, to speak on "Principles of Teaching in Schools of Nursing"; Louise Kipp, Division of Nutrition and Health Education, on "Problems in Special Diets"; Dr. Max Handman, professor of Sociology, on "Principles of Sociology"; Amanda Stoltzfus, lecturer on Rural Education, on "Recreation for Student Nurses"; Dr. Caswell Ellis, professor of the Philosophy of Education, on "Principles of Psychology"; W. E. Gettys, adjunct professor of Sociology, on "Principles of Sociology."

Dr. Lucas Will Lecture

Dr. William Palmer Lucas, professor of Children's Diseases at the University of California, will give a series of four lectures on "Mind and Body Problems of the Growing Child" for the Nutrition and Health Institute.

Dr. Lucas, B.A., M.D., LL.D., was for some time on the staff of Harvard Medical School in the department of pediatrics. Under the direction of Herbert Hoover, Dr. Lucas made a survey of conditions for children in Belgium during the war. Later he was made director of the Children's Bureau of the American Red Cross in France, and was awarded the highest medical decoration conferred by the French government.

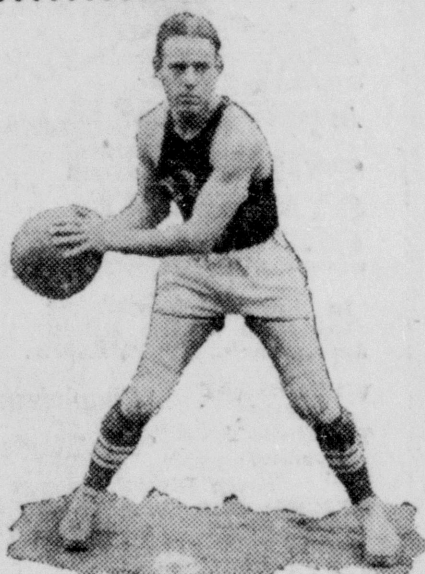

After the war, Dr. Lucas returned to California and conducted research work along the line of blood studies in infants and children, diseases of the upper respiratory tract, asthma and chronic bronchitis, and rickets. Dr. Lucas has written two books: "The Health of the Runabout Child" and "Children's Diseases for Nurses." Dr. Lucas will lecture at 2 p. m. Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and at 8 p. m. Thursday.

Professor Turner to Speak

Prof. C. E. Turner, chairman of the Committee on Standardization of Public Health Training for the American Health Association; and also

TEXAS MAINTAINS WINNING RECORD BY DEFEATING A&M

Record Stands Eight Games Won and None Lost

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Texas	8	0	1.000
TCU	7	3	.700
Okl. A&M	5	3	.625
Baylor	4	4	.500
SMU	4	6	.400
Texas A&M	4	6	.400
Arkansas	1	3	.250
Rice	1	9	.100

Saturday Night Results

Texas 27, Texas A&M 16.
Rice 33, Baylor 18.
SMU 22, Okla. A&M 9.
TCU 23, Arkansas 21.

Texas defended its undefeated record against the Aggie challenge Friday and Saturday nights when they hurled the Farmer forces back for a pair of victories. These wins brought the Longhorn record to eight straight for the season.

The Oklahoma Aggies received a serious blow to their title hopes during the play of the week. Not only did Texas draw further away by grabbing a pair of victories, but the Sooners dropped a battle to Faulk-

STEERS COMPARE FAVORABLY WITH NINES OF EAST--RICKEY

BY VICTOR EMANUEL.

"You have both quality and quantity in your aggregation of college players," said Branch Rickey to Coach Billy Disch yesterday. Your squad will compare very favorably with those of large eastern and middle-western institutions."

Evidently the St. Louis baseball magnate was well pleased with the Longhorns, at least with what he saw of them during Saturday's practice. "There are several embryo stars among your players," he told Coach Disch.

No Longhorns Signed.

When queried as to whether he had succeeded in persuading any of the Longhorns to sign on the dotted line, Rickey laughed and said: "I came to Austin to see Billy Disch, whom I have not seen in twenty years; not to sign players. I advise all collegians to finish their work for a degree; then if they desire to follow baseball, which has now become a clean and lucrative profession. I will give them a chance. I believe that several of the Longhorns have the ability to some day make good in fast company."

Rickey was particularly pleased with the showing of the Varsity infield and the work of two men who will not be eligible for the Longhorns

CAMPUS DRIVE FOR STADIUM FUNDS TO BEGIN SOON

Executive Committee Meets to Work Out Plans in Detail

QUOTA TO BE SUGGESTED

Student Bodies of Other Institutions Raise Sufficient Amount of Money

Final recommendations and organization for a big campus drive between Feb. 18 and March 1 for the purpose of raising additional funds to further the stadium movement now in progress will be considered at a meeting of the executive committee this afternoon at 2:30 at the YMCA, according to Max Fichtenbaum, secretary of the general executive committee. The success of this campus drive will be the barometer of the whole subscription, declared Fichtenbaum, and the interest manifested by the students in the drive will be a wonderful inspiration to the ex-students.

These plans will be worked out in detail, said Fichtenbaum, and submitted for approval to the student central committee appointed by the president of the Students Association. A suggestion of the quota the students should raise will be submitted also, he said. No estimate as to the amount students are expected to raise could be given, but comparing what the student bodies of other schools have raised for a similar project the quota should run high. Indiana raised $413,000 on the campus, Minnesota raised $665,000.

National Secretary of Y Returns to U. S.

Miss Helen Thobin, national secretary for the YWCA, who, after spending three years in China, has returned to the United States for a short visit, will be in Austin Thursday, February 7. Miss Thobin will be in the University YWCA office Thursday to meet the girls and talk to them informally about her work in China, and about the work of Miss Nancy Lee Swann. Miss Swann is the representative in China of the University YWCA.

Miss Thobin will give an address at the regular YWCA cabinet meeting, which will be held Thursday, February 7, at 5 p. m. in the YWCA office.

PLAYS IN RECITAL

PAUL VAN KATWIJK

NOTED PIANIST WILL PLAY IN RECITAL AT HANCOCK THEATER

Entire Program for Sunday Afternoon Concert Announced

Paul van Katwijk, pianist and composer will play in recital this afternoon at the Hancock Opera House at 3:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Department of Music of the University. The concert is free and the public is cordially invited.

He was born in Rotterdam, Holland, studied and graduated from the Royal Conservatory of Music at The Hague. Afterward he studied three years with Godowsky, and at other times in Berlin and Vienna, where he won a free scholarship in the Meisterschule.

Van Katwijk was head of the piano department in the Conservatory of Neustadt an der Haardt, relinquishing that position to accept a similar position at the National Conservatory at Helsinki, Finland. Sibelius, the great French composer, said of Mr. Katwijk, "He is a most remarkable pianist," and Melartin, Director of the Conservatory said, "His playing is technically perfect and profoundly musical. He is a complete artist."

Mr. van Katwijk was for several years with the Drake University School of Music at Des Moines. The Iowa Register of that city reports the impression of his playing made there: "In Paul van Katwijk we find an artist. He is a musician by instinct."

Jimmie's Joys Has Offer to Play at Sewanee, Tennessee

"Jimmie's Joys Orchestra," which plays regularly at the German, has just received an offer from the University of the South at Sewanee Tenn., to play at their six Easter dances. Former University students now attending the University of the South have praised Jimmie's Orchestra so highly that the offer was made to them first. Arrangements could not be completed, however, because all of the men in the orchestra are now in school.

RALLY IN SECOND HALF BRINGS VICTORY TO STEWART'S PROTEGES

By HARRY E. MOORE

Six fighting Longhorns last night proved to the world that Texas has a basketball team. By sheer fight and endurance they forced their game opponents to take the short end of a 27-16 count. But that is not the whole story. The Aggies started like a house afire and within ten minutes had the Longhorns at a 11-2 disadvantage. With their backs to the wall, with defeat staring them in the face, Stewart's men rose to the occasion and scored. 21 points while their rivals were counting three.

Settegast Stars

Much of the credit for the second victory over Bible's team must go to Lester Settegast, center, who has been forced out of most of the important games this season with a bad shoulder. "Setty" counted fourteen points for the Longhorns on six field goals and two free pitches. Bertie Foster covered the fast Darby like a blanket and held the pride of Aggie land to one lone field goal, which came in the last two minutes of play.

Wilcox, Aggie forward, who came to Austin as a substitute, left last night a star. Wilcox was all over the court, both on offense and defense. He scored two field goals and held his man safe for the greatest part of the time. Washburn, high point man, was the only other Aggie to show well. The remainder of the Aggie team fought with all they had, but they simply did not have enough to stop the Longhorns.

Aggies Start With Rush.

The Aggies started the game with a "do or die" spirit, seemingly determined to win at once. And they came near doing just that. However, they set the pace too fast for themselves and before the first half was over they had cracked under the strain, and it was apparent that only a remarkable rally could save them.

Crowds Come Early

The gymnasium was packed before 7 o'clock and long before the game was started the crowds had overflowed to the very edge of the court. Late comers were forced to go away as the doors and every inch of standing space were packed with fans. The Longhorns band received an ovation when they marched in and gave a few numbers before taking their places. In curtain-raiser that was finished before 7 o'clock, the B. A. departmental team went down before the Pre-Meds in a game that was hard fought but rather slow. The score was 6-3.

Schuhardt and Barrett, letter men from the team of a year ago, sat with the Longhorns. Keen, Dyer and several other Aggie stars of former years were with the Aggies.

Duckett drew first blood with a free throw and ran his total to three points a minute later with a pretty field goal. After that he was never able to get into scoring position and failed to count again. Settegast found the basket for the first Texas goal, but the Longhorn rooters caught their breath a minute later when Washburn made a peach of a shot from the middle of the court while running at full speed. Wilcox worked the ball down to Washburn for another field goal. At this time it looked as if Wilcox and Washburn were the whole Aggie team. Washburn repeated his feat of throwing a goal from the middle of the court and the count stood 11-2. This was the high-water mark of Aggie success, as soon after Manny Ponsford grabbed an Aggie pass near his own goal and dropped it through. Settegast followed shortly after with a foul throw and the count was 5-11. With Washburn standing under his goal ready to shoot a crip, Bobby Robertson charged down the court and took the ball away from him. It was one of the prettiest plays of the game and undoubtedly saved two points.

With about four minutes to play the Aggies appeared exhausted and took two minutes time out. When play was resumed, Bobby and Setty each dropped shots through the loop

Lester Settegast, who accounted for fourteen points in last night's game. "Setty" has been in poor shape because of an injured shoulder. Apparently, he has recovered.

New Challenge Ruling Made at Last Meeting of Varsity Net Club

According to the new ruling of the Racquet Club which was made at the meeting Friday afternoon each member must play two matches each week. The sets consist of four games instead of the usual six, and they play two out of three sets.

Beginning yesterday and continuing through Friday, February 7, any girl in the University may challenge the lowest five on the ladder in the tournament which is being held by the Racquet Club. If the Club member loses, the winner takes her place in the Club. The first week in each month the lowest five are open to challenge by other girls.

FIGHTING STEERS PUT ROPES ON SEVEN-YEAR AGGIE JINX

Add another broken jinx to the record of Coach Stewart and his fighting team. When the Steers romped away to a 27-16 over the Aggies last night, they accomplished what other Longhorn fives had attempted and failed to do in seven years—take both ends of a two-game series from the Aggies.

First Sweep Since '17. Not since 1917 when Coach Roy Henderson led a five composed of Thompson, DeVinney, Dittmar, Seer and Greer, to the Southwestern championship in basketball, has any Texas quintet won a majority of the season's games from the College Station five. In 1918 and 1919 the Steers were in gaining an even break, although they won the title in latter years. But in the following year Coach Bible flashed one of the greatest fives in Southwestern basketball history across the conference horizon and Texas was defeated in the four contests. In 1921 Coach Belmont's light but fighting five forced the champion Aggies to split a quartet of games. The years 1922 and 1923 witnessed the Aggies on the long end of 3 to 1 series score which wrecked the pennant hopes of the Longhorns.

Nearest Win in 1921.

And in those final twenty-four contests, of which eight have been Longhorn victories and sixteen decisions have gone to the Farmers, not once could Texas take both ends of the series at either Austin or College Station, although thrice were the season results a split. The nearest they came to winning a pair was in 1921. The Aggies had buried the Orange and White under a 23-5 score in the opener at Aggie land when in the second night the Longhorns gained a sensational 16-15 victory. Then came the series at Austin with Texas two games behind. The Longhorns swept their opponents off their feet in the first night but were nosed out of the series and championship in the second game, after holding the lead more than three-fourths the way. The quintets of 1922 and 1923 were jinxed by the Farmers and it remained for "Doc" Stewart to shatter that jinx as he has already shattered the Vanderbilt and Kyle Field jinxes in football.

Feature Attractions at Austin Theaters This Week

ADAPTATION OF NOVEL, 'JEWEL'

Story of Child's Influence in Maintaining Happiness in a Family

Those to whom life seems constantly full of misery and bitterness may be interested in the coming of "A Chapter in Her Life" to the Majestic theater Monday. In this screen adaptation of Clara Louise Burnham's novel, "Jewel," directed by Lois Weber, the child heroine proves the superiority of trusting optimism to the experience as the guiding force in life.

Miss Weber herself holds to that optimism and in this story attempts to bring mental relief to cynical-minded people of a grossly material age. Claude Gillingwater, Robert Frazier, Jane Mercer, Jacqueline Gadsden and others are in the cast.

GLORIA SWANSON'S NEWEST PICTURE

"Just Like a Woman" Stars Marguerite De La Motte

Betrayed by her own kind, arrested and thrown into prison—an air raid—escape. Tolette, queen of the Apaches, played by Gloria Swanson, has quite a time of it in her latest Paramount picture, "The Humming Bird," which is to be shown at the Majestic Thursday. She plays a duel role—takes a boy's part—first time in her career as a star.

Edward Burns is the man. Sidney Olcott directed the picture, which is an adaptation by Forrest Halsey of the stage play of the same title by Maude Fulton. Gloria revels in it. You will too.

QUEEN FEATURE

The management of the Queen theatre announces "Just Like a Woman" as the feature attraction for two days beginning Friday. This film feature has been produced by Miss Grace Haskins, and directed by Scott Beal and Hugh McClung.

Marguerite De La Motte, George Fawcett and Ralph Graves are the featured players. George Fawcett is the comical old man of the screen, while Ralph Graves has played leading male roles for the past few years.

AT MAJESTIC

DANCING PARTNER

Laurent Novikoff, dancing partner of the famous Russian danseuse, Pavlova, who appears at the Hancock Wednesday and Thursday.

RUSSIAN DANSEUSE HERE WITH BALLET

Hancock Will Present Pavlova and Eighty Dancers Wednesday and Thursday

Cultural and musical interest is just now most centered upon the two-day engagement, at the Hancock Opera House, next Wednesday and Thursday, of Anna Pavlova, world's premiere danseuse and her Ballet Russe. Pavlova's American tour comprises some 100 cities, only the largest and most musically interested places being included.

Pavlova's assisting artists and supporting casts are among the most distinguished dancers before the public, her Paris and London organization, which she brings complete to this city, number some eighty-odd people. An interesting and important feature of the Ballet Russe this season is the large orchestra section, which made it necessary to remove an entire row of seats nearest the stage in order to accommodate this department of the Pavlova contingent.

Pavlova's dancing partner, M. Laurent Novikoff, whose brilliant work with the star here two seasons back, will be seen in some of his most sensational dances.

"Little Old New York Returns Here

Marion Davies as Patricia O'Day will bring to the screen an old-fashioned girl in "Little Old New York" which opens at the Hancock theater on Monday and Tuesday. Patricia is gay and full of fun, but she also has shyness and reserve.

"Little Old New York" was adapted to the screen by Luther Reed. Sidney Olcott directed and Joseph Urban designed the settings. In the great cast are Harrison Ford, Courtenay Foote, Mahlon Hamilton, Sam Hardy, Louis Weiheim, J. M. Kerrigan.

ANNA Q. NILSSON COMES IN PONJOLA

Queen to Show Exciting Picture of South African Gold Fields

This girl, once the idol of London, left behind her everything that could connect her with her scintillating past.

She went in with her eyes open for she knew that she was going into a man's world—a world where no decent girl could live and remain decent.

This is "Ponjola," Cynthia Stockley's stirring exciting story of South African gold field life, which is to be shown Monday at the Queen theater.

MONDAY—TUESDAY—WEDNESDAY

A good man loved her and was asking her to be his wife. He had position, wealth—he offered everything a girl could want. Yet there was something that held her tongue mute and speechless. She alone knew the innermost secrets of her life; years wasted, opportunities lost, love trampled upon—only now did she realize the futility of her existence. Could she build a new future on the ruins of a dead past?

Sermon on the Mount Contains the Essence of Christ's Moral Teachings

WHARTON BELIEVES MATTHEW'S GOSPEL IS THAT OF CHRIST

Happiness Is Supreme Characteristic of Kingdom of God

USE 'HAPPY' FOR 'BLESSED'

"Happy Are the Meek, for They Shall Inherit the Earth"

By Rev. Laurence H. Wharton.

When I was quite a boy my father offered me a dollar if I would memorize the fifth, sixth, and seventh chapters of Matthew, these chapters containing the Sermon on the Mount. My father still has the dollar though under pressure of financial difficulties I nearly got through a third of the task and tried in vain for partial payment. He must have made that offer because he felt the Sermon on the Mount to contain the essence of the teachings of Jesus Christ. As I have come to my own knowledge of an appreciation of the Sermon on the Mount I, too, feel that those chapters contain the very heart of the message of Jesus Christ to men and so I am taking these five student services to make a study of that address of the Master who we have all learned to call the Sermon on the Mount because it was spoken on a little hillside overlooking the Sea of Galilee not far from the city of Capernaum.

Gospel of the Kingdom of Christ.

The gospel of Matthew is primarily the gospel of the Kingdom of Christ. In the first two chapters we have the story of the coming of the King and in the third and fourth chapters we have the selection of the group of disciples. Now in the chapters five through seven we have the announcement of the program of the kingdom. If you think of the coronation announcement of a King of the inaugural address of the president it will best explain the nature of the sermon. Christ is just starting his work and in this address Christ lays down the whole program of His kingdom. If you will think of the old settlers' picnic in your old home town or of the fourth of July political speaking out at the baseball park you will have a fair sample of the kind of crowd that gathered to hear Jesus Christ by the seaside of Galilee except for the national difference. The great host of the listeners were attracted by curiosity and every type of person would be represented. To these Jesus Christ spoke his program of the Kingdom in those words contained in the three chapters of Matthew. In those chapters we have the clearest possible expression of just what the kingdom of God is in the world and of just what is involved in being a member of that kingdom. For the man or woman that wants to know just what it means to be a Christian in terms of every day living and that is after all the acid test of a Christian life, these words are written.

The Beatitudes.

For our purpose we can only note in a few words the opening statements of this sermon. In the first twelve verses we have those sentences, each starting with the word "blessed" that we have learned to call the Beatitudes. Most of us have memorized at one time or another whether the meaning of the memorized words ever got into our minds or hearts or not. There are just two things about these Beatitudes that I would want to call to your attention.

Substitute "Happy" for "Blessed."

In the first place, let's forget that word "blessed." A far better translation of the Greek and expression of the meaning of Christ would be the word "Happy," and we can substitute that word all down the line. "Happy are the pure in heart for they shall see God," etc. These beatitudes will repay right careful thinking. For example there is that one of them, "Happy are the meek for they shall inherit the earth." The meek or perhaps a better word, the gentle, are inheriting the earth. The ravenous animals are gone, the savans, the megatheria and the mastodons which once possessed the earth are gone. We pay four bits to see a tiger or lion these days. The cannibals are gone. The United States and Great Britain, the gentlest nations of the world today, control the world's affairs. The gentle won't win the world but they will inherit it. We are working that way. "Happy are the pure in heart for they shall see God." It is a question of position if we should see certain points of interest or people in this world of ours but as some one has well said, it is a question of disposition if we are to see God. From the standpoint of a pure heart only one sees God.

Christ Wants Happiness for Others.

Just visualize that scene a minute. Jesus Christ is talking to a great host of people who differ vastly in many ways but in each heart there is a longing for happiness and in this opening address Jesus Christ tells them two things. There is happiness in His kingdom and in Him. He wants people to be happy, came that they might be happy. The second thing that he has to say is that happiness is going to come from the inside and will be determined by what one is and not by what one has. Happiness will come as the gift of character and not as a by-product of wealth or fame or position. Happiness, that which comes from character, is in reach of every man or woman that will pay the price of right living. This is the first thought of the sermon on the Mount. Happiness is the supreme characteristic of the kingdom of God.

The Loughorn Magazine for February will be distributed Monday only. Main Building 155. Bring Publications' Ticket.

MARSHALL WILL RUN FOR COUNTY OFFICE

Former Constable Will Run for Sheriff of Travis County

John Marshall of Austin, former constable of Travis County, Texas Ranger and veteran of the World War, has announced his candidacy for Sheriff of Travis County.

Mr. Marshall is a brother of Mildred Marshall, a graduate from the University of Texas Law School, a brother of W. W. (Buck) Marshall, also a University graduate, now superintendents of the Katy Railway offices at Waco, and a son of H. B. Marshall, prominent ranchman of West Austin.

During the World War he fought in the Meuse-Argonne Campaign sector as a corporal and later as a sergeant.

Mr. Marshall says if he is elected to office he will serve the people faithfully as he has in other responsible offices, that he stands for the enforcement of all laws alike and that he will answer all questions in open and aboveboard manner to all classes.

English 2 Students Invited to Lecture

All English students, especially those in English 2, are invited to hear Dr. L. H. Payne lecture Sunday morning at the University Baptist church, at 10 o'clock. The subject of this lecture will be the old and the new morality plays "Everyman" and "Everywoman."

Dr. Payne's series of lectures on "The Bible and English Literature" are proving very popular with University students; many declare the lectures as good as a regular course in the University. The only difference is that there are no quizzes or papers to be prepared. To each and every student interested in English literature Dr. Payne tenders a cordial invitation to attend his lecture. Don't fail to be out!

BIBLE THOUGHT —FOR TODAY—

Bible Thoughts memorized, will prove a priceless heritage.

A VARSITY AUDITORIUM

The crowded condition of the Men's Gym during the last two basketball games, the many students and Austin people who were turned away at the door, the general dissatisfaction that results from overcrowding and scrambling for seats, and the danger to some two thousand students of being crowded into a wooden building which has very inadequate exits, all should serve as a gentle reminder to Varsity officials, regents and building committees of the need of some building on the campus that will care for outside activities of both students and faculty members.

While the once heralded campaign for a union building has almost passed from memory, the needs which that building would have satisfied are pressing more than ever. Students and faculty members must look now to the Board of Regents, or to the Legislature, for the construction of some central building capable of caring for the many activities which have a rightful place in college training.

The need for a building large enough to accommodate the whole student body in convocation, the need for a building large enough to care for the ever-growing crowds of basketball fans, would not, of course, justify the erection of an expensive building under present conditions. These two needs, however, constitute two very small necessities for such a building, for it is almost impossible to enumerate the University activities, both faculty and student, that now wander around helter skelter over Austin seeking some suitable scene for their programs.

A great majority of the activities of the University, although they may be related only indirectly to school room work, are legitimate, commendable and necessary, and go on the whole year round. There is hardly a night or day that does not have some speaker or lecturer on the campus, often several are here at once. There is hardly a night or day that does not have some stage performance, either a concert, an amateur student or faculty show, an artist series, or a choral club program. Then there is that multitude of faculty and student clubs which are constantly active—the band, the glee club, orchestra, speaking and debating societies, literary clubs, student councils, honorary fraternities, clubs and societies, school and class organizations—all seeking a place to carry on their work, all more or less cramped in their present quarters, if any, and all being shifted from one place to another. Then once a year there is that greatest event in the lives of Texas high school students—the interscholastic meet at Austin—and twice a year is that greatest event in the lives of students and their parents—graduation.

It is impossible to enumerate the many organizations which are vitally in need of a place for their activities. Even a brief survey will show that the need of students and faculty members for an auditorium or union building is so great that hardly an hour of the day or night could pass and not find some part of such a building in use. Other schools have not only found space in such buildings in constant demand, but have realized considerable revenue from outside sources, from the many civic organizations and societies which need buildings and rooms for the carrying on of their activities.

In building a University plant piece by piece, it is almost impossible for those in authority to decide what type of building is most needed. Each department, each school, each dean and faculty official, clamors of the needs of some part of the University. Each demand seems legitimate and pressing. Yet, in the near future, the building committee and the Board of Regents must decide upon some one building that will be next erected, in spite of the needs of the departments. In considering this next building, The Texan respectfully calls attention to the need for an auditorium or union building.

COLLEGES AND PROHIBITION

(Arkansas Traveler)

The "wets" claim that drinking has not decreased in colleges since the inauguration of prohibition, and after inspecting dances, athletic contests, and other affairs patronized heavily by students, it appears that there is some basis for their claim. But men who have been around college communities for years say that on the contrary the amount of drinking has decreased, but the difference in the types of drinkers nowadays makes drinking more obvious.

Two classes of imbibers have succeeded the "gentlemen drinkers" of a decade ago who were proud of the fact that they carried their liquor like "gentlemen." The first class of present-day drinkers, the "soaks," is composed of those who constantly drink to excess of the bottled poisons obtained through unscrupulous bootleggers. The second class, even more contemptible, includes the host of boys who think it smart to imbibe liquor because the law forbids it, and after whiffing the cork of the bottle or taking a small drink imagine they are drunk and try to show others what "bold, daring," chaps they are by exhibiting all the signs of drunkenness they have seen employed by real "soaks." After continual imbibing the members of this second class gradually enter the first, a class which likewise has the same illusions about drinking. Just as there were exceptions to the class of "gentlemen drinkers" in the past, exceptions to the present two classes exist, but they seem few indeed around the University of Arkansas.

Prohibition has worked a positive harm to the University life of the present day in its changing of the attitude, not only of the drinkers but of practically the entire student body, toward drinking. Even leaving out the poisonous effects of illicit liquor, prohibition has innocently done an injury in throwing its dare into the teeth of the adventurous student. Boys who never touched liquor before drink to show what they think is boldness in defying the law. Periodic drinking by those of the first mentioned class of large and harmful quantities of liquors has replaced the former habitual imbibing of small daily quantities of intoxicants that at least were not violently poisonous.

In less than a decade, however, we venture to predict that prohibition will have borne good fruit. Drinking is decreasing despite the claims of the "wets" to the contrary and the attempts of those who drink to advertise their law-breaking. At present we stand in the midst of the upheaval that follows every sweeping change.

LITERARY

HOGG.

The program for the Hogg Debating Club Tuesday evening, February 6, will be as follows: Debate, "Resolved That Congress Should Pass a Law Giving Adjusted Compensation to World War Veterans." Affirmative, J. Everett Cline and Finley; negative, W. S. Leslie, Cecil Fulton.

M. A. Patrick will give a short talk on "Present Conditions in Russia." "How Best to Create Interest in Public Speaking Contests" will be the subject of a talk by David Johnson. John Guinn will give the "Weekly Grunt."

Albert Davis of the Hogg was one of the nine speakers chosen Wednesday night in the freshman declamation contest.

The Hogg will soon hold a contest to decide the personnel of the inter-society debating team. The Hogg team went to the finals in 1921 and won the championship in 1922. A member of the Hogg team also won the gold watch given to the best individual speaker among the inter-society teams. The club hopes to have a team this year that will be in the finals.

The attendance this term has been exceptionally good, and every member is urged to be present Tuesday night in the Hogg room in the Y. M. C. A.

The Longhorn Magazine for February will be distributed Monday only. Main Building 155. Bring Publications' Ticket.

Special Music Will Be Heard at Vespers; Wharton Will Speak

Dr. H. L. Wharton, pastor of the Highland Presbyterian church, will speak at Vesper's Monday afternoon in the Girls' Study Hall. Bernice Green, will have charge of the devotionals for the day.

DOC STEWART AND DEAN HUBBARD TALK TO TEXAS TRACK MEN

Emphasize Importance of Keeping in Training Throughout Year

BY ALTON LUCKETT.

Contenders for Varsity, short-horn, and freshman track teams met for their initial confab on Clark Field Saturday afternoon. "Doc" Stewart and Dean Hubbard spoke to the men on the importance of keeping fit. Coach Clyde Littlefield gave detailed plans for the season's work. There is a strong possibility of Texas sending a team to the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival this year, according to the Longhorn track coach.

"A football, baseball or basket ball man with several years of experience can make a Varsity team when he is only 80 per cent perfect, but a track man with the same experience must be 99 per cent perfect before he can even hope to letter," was Coach Stewart's way of stressing the sacrifice that track men must make. The football mentor spoke further on the necessity of year-round training. "I would rather train eleven men in good condition, but with little experience into a winning machine, than many more in a 'soft' condition," Coach Stewart concluded with a few words on the physical benefits of track work.

Dean Hubbard acknowledged his limited experience with track men in comparison to that of Coaches Stewart and Littlefield, but he emphasized the benefits derived from training by relating the story of the life of John P. Jones, winner of the intercollegiate mile run last year.

"The athletic council is seriously considering sending a team to the Penn State Relay Carnival this year," announced Littlefield. The most important event on the program of the Eastern meet is the medley relay race, consisting of a quarter-mile run, two successive 220 yard dashes, and a final half mile run. "Texas University men last year totaled a faster time for the distance of the medley than did the winning team," according to the track coach.

The following schedule of daily work-outs was issued by the University track director:

- From 2 to 3—Weight men.
- From 3 to 4—Jumpers and hurdlers.
- From 4 to 5—Dash, quarter, and half men.
- From 5 to 6—Distance men.

and the half ended with the score 9-11, favoring the Aggies.

Longhorns Take Lead.

Shortly after the opening of the second half Gill added a point for his team by roping a foul goal. Stewart sent Nation in to take Ponsford's place. Ponsford looked dead tired and was usually watched by two Aggie players. Settegast looped a pretty shot and the Aggie lead was cut to one point. Wilcox and Bobby each got a field goal and then Settegast got hold of the ball under his own goal and dropped it through, putting Texas in the lead for the first time in the game. Damon was sent in to take the place of Duckett. After Robertson had scored, Nation took the ball out of Washburn's hands and added two more points to the Texas goal.

Briant came in to take the place of Darby, who had been outplayed all night and had not scored a point. Nation added another field goal and Settegast got two shots that added four more points. Bible rushed Dar-is the principle we work on when we buy any commodity we sell, especially anything that is served at our fountain.

THE BEST IS NONE TOO GOOD FOR OUR TRADE,

We have found that there are any number of fountain chocolates, as many as there are fountains that serve them. On the other hand, we have also found that there are exceedingly few really good chocolates served.

We pride ourselves on the fact that we serve one of these exceptionally good grades. It is MAVIS FOUNTAIN CHOCOLATE made by Devoine of Paris. It has a wonderful smooth consistency and you will never find dregs in your cup, which shows that it is properly ground and held in suspension. It is rich in fats and pleasing to the taste.

Style Leader Here and Everywhere

We are showing the correct style in Men's Hats for Spring 1924 in our south window NOW.

When it's time to show Spring Clothes you will find them in our windows. The spring models in High Class Clothes are not being shown this early. Cheap or "flash" clothing depends on first showings and heavy advertising.—SOCIETY BRAND, ROSENWALD & WEIL, and CLOTHCRAFT are our makes for spring. Wait till you see them and you will not be sorry.

Harrells

Our 1-3 off sale on Finest Clothing in Austin will still continue for a few days.
