

University PO Box Rent Upped

Austin Rates Also To Be Hiked Soon

An increase in University and Austin post office box rental rates is expected soon.

Alex H. Benny, superintendent of the University Station Post Office, said, "the new administration feels that there should be an increase and this will become effective September 1." The rates have not been changed since 1907.

Beginning September 1 the new rates at the University Branch will be as follows: $1 box will be $1.50, $2 box will be $3, and the $3 box will be $4.50.

Oliver N. Bruck, Austin Postmaster General, said, "an increase change is made to conform with the increased cost of providing equipment and service." The new rates will become effective July 1 with an increase of 50 per cent.

Demos Welcome In GOP Primary

FORT WORTH, June 11—(AP)—Texas Republicans have warmly invited conservative Democrats to enter their names for local, district and state offices in the 1954 GOP primary.

The invitation came from Jack Porter of Houston, Republican national committeeman, who told a meeting rally of Tarrant County Republicans the party would hold statewide primaries next summer.

He said the party is looking for "strong candidate" to run against Sen. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex.) and probably will seek to unseat several Democratic congressmen.

He said conservative Democrats who may be defeated by "left wing New Dealers" in the Democratic primary can win as Republicans under cross-filing.

City to Let Contract

To 'Drag' It Over

The contract for widening Guadalupe between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth Streets will be let by the Austin City Council on June 30.

Construction will begin on or about July 10, and will take about six weeks to complete, said Noble Watson, assistant director of public works.

Ten feet will be added to the width of Guadalupe, providing an extra traffic lane. This lane is expected to give relief from the traffic jams at the corner of Twenty-fourth and Guadalupe streets. Cost of the construction

Security Officer Likes Night Beat

By SUE SEITZ

Through the dark, empty corridors of Garrison Hall often can be heard the light step of James B. McCaslin, one of seven campus security officers.

He hurried up to the third floor to punch a time clock, then strolled down to the Law Building. His quick, lively pace belies his age.

"Not many folks could guess how old I am," he smiled. "Sixty-eight. Why, I've got two grown sons and a daughter. I keep young from exercise and fresh air." He was born near Temple, and has been a farmer most of his life. "But I've been on the force at the University for nine years—longer than anyone else," he stated.

Memorial Museum Gets Two Rare Documents

Garland Adair, curator of historical documents in the Texas Memorial Museum, announced Monday the acquisition of a document bearing the signatures of two signers of the Texas Declaration of Independence.

The Texas Heritage Foundation presented a legal instrument in the form of an appeal bond. The 115-year-old document bears the signatures of Robert Hamilton and Col. Lin McKenney.

This week the night security officers were issued uniforms like the day policemen. Previously they wore civilian clothes.

"We sure are proud of them," McCaslin said. "Now we can be spotted easily, and we'll look much neater."

"I like this night beat," Mr. McCaslin confided. Nice and cool. Peaceful. I never have any trouble with the students."

Mr. McCaslin, who rolls his own cigarettes, paused in the Law Building for a smoke with a weary law student.

"I really like those boys," he said. "Such gentlemen, all of them, and such hard-working fellows."

Mr. McCaslin is a hard-working fellow himself. During his shift, from 7 p.m. to 5:30 a.m., he checks eleven buildings four times each, punches 48 time keys. He carries a three and one-half pound time clock, a billy stick and a bunch of keys.

After punching the clock on the third floor of the Music Building and giving the building a thorough once-over, he rested on a bench by Littlefield Fountain. But not until he had spread a handkerchief out on the bench. He didn't want to get his new trousers dirty.

Mr. McCaslin praised Chief Stromquist's work in obtaining the new uniforms. "He is really a swell fellow. He's been doing police work for twenty years. He walks the beat with us at night now and then."

Fires are one of Mr. McCaslin's chief worries. Most of them are caused by careless smokers, he said. He also thought better lighting would lessen security risks.

"During the war we had a lot of prowlers, and from time to time we've had trouble with dogs getting in the buildings and chewing things up, but the campus is relatively quiet now."

"Occasionally we have to rescue a student who gets locked in a building after closing hours. We lock the Music Building at 10. Some buildings will open from the inside after they're locked, but not that one. So the kids have to phone us to get them out."

Work Planned By Assembly

The Student Assembly settled down to summer work Thursday night, with Bill Finger reporting that geology students' grades were lowered because of absences regardless of excuse.

In turn, Jim McKeithan, representing the Blanket Tax investigating committee, recommended a separation for the Oratorical Association and Great Issues. Following approval, an allotment was set—4 cents going to Great Issues and 21 cents for the Association from each Blanket Tax.

Schatzie Nixon, secretary, reported that a list of traditions would be included in the handbook next fall to stimulate the interest of new students for campus lore.

Franklin Spears, Student Association president, said the summer budget for the May to August 31 period has been allotted $274.59; and the surplus was set at $1,946.99.

Also at the meeting, Finger and Gene Walker were elected to the Board of Directors of Texas Student Publications for the summer.

Adele Crawford was selected as chairman of a leadership workshop to be set up in the fall. And Ed York, Jean Marie Edge, Rusty Cobb, James Hunt, and Walker will assist her.

The committee taking up re-organization of the Student Association has not completed its report, but Sam Perry said all reports would be in by the next meeting.

In addition, a $75 bonus was voted Kay Tutt, last year's secretary.

Assembly appointments for the summer have been announced as Jerry Wilson, Fred Hansen, Hunt, and Jackie Weathered for Arts and Sciences with Jack Ritter, Marvin King, and Wyman Gilliam representing the College of Business Administration.

Pat Holloway is the law appointment, and Don Legge has been chosen to represent Architecture. Also, Walker and Floyd Cokendolpher will represent the Graduate School, and Walker will serve until elections in October.

Wanda Harris will represent the College of Education, and James Warner and Don Duncan are Engineering appointments. Dale Brannon will also serve.

The complete list of appointments will be available Saturday.

Care of Handicapped Moral Says Johnson

"Approximately 15 million Americans suffer one or more serious handicaps," said Dr. Wendell Johnson, chairman of the Council on Speech Pathology and Audiology at the State University of Iowa, Wednesday night, in one of the two speeches he made in Austin.

Thursday morning speaking to a capacity audience at the first of a convocation series sponsored by the College of Education he said, "There is no failure or success in nature."

At the Wednesday evening address, sponsored jointly by the College of Education and the Cerebral Palsy Workshop, he spoke on "Who Is Handicapped by Whom?" He said that we are handicapped mostly by each other and ourselves.

He pointed out that 90 per cent of college students suffer from inferiority complexes because educational institutions tend to scare students. Ten per cent of the American population visit psychiatrists regularly, he said.

"Because handicaps are not obvious, Americans tend to believe that handicapped persons are rare," he said.

There is a great need for special education, he believes. "It is immoral not to care for the handicapped."

Talking before the educators and prospective teachers Thursday morning his topic was "How to Live in a Quandary."

"It is healthy to have powerful drives toward achievement. But your goals should be ones that can be reached," he said.

Dr. Johnson explained that the maladjusted tend to be frustrated idealists.

"Many people want to be 'successful' or 'normal,' but such vague goals need to be defined," Dr. Johnson asserted.

Other education convocations will be held in Batts Auditorium at 10 a.m. June 25, 11 a.m. July 2, and 10 a.m. July 30, Dr. William G. Wolfe, convocation committee chairman, announced.

Registration Monday For Workshop on Math

The College of Education will sponsor a conference-laboratory on curriculum and instruction in the mathematics field beginning June 15.

This workshop is the second in a series of five which are being sponsored by the Department of Curriculum and Instruction. Teachers, administrators, and supervisors interested in attending may register each Monday at 9 a.m. in Sutton Hall 227.

Miss Ida May Bernhard, curriculum consultant of the Texas Education Agency, will be director of the conference-laboratory. Lecturers and consultants will be Dr. H. G. Ettlinger, head of the Department of Pure Mathematics; Dr. R. L. Moore, pure mathematics professor; and Dr. J. W. McFarland, assistant professor of curriculum and instruction and co-ordinator of student teaching.

Texan Mixes Names

The Texan, in its June 9 issue, incorrectly named Foy Clement as director of the Housing and Food Service. Foy C. McConnell is the director.

Education Should Adopt New Methods Quicker

Education should be as quick as industry to adopt new methods and equipment, Dean L. D. Haskew of the University College of Education told a group of business-education teachers yesterday.

Dean Haskew spoke at a luncheon during a one week workshop which ends Friday with demonstrations of office equipment.

Education, he said, unlike industry, has been slow to modernize. For example, education has failed to make full use of television, which "may turn out to be one of the greatest methods of teaching we have known."

Texas Defeats Duke, 2-1 In Omaha; Lafayette Next

By ORLAND SIMS

OMAHA, NEB., June 11 (Special)—Duke's Blue Devils got the hits, but Texas got the runs and the game.

The Longhorns beat Duke, 2-1, in the Thursday afternoon first-round NCAA baseball playoff game, which was marked by outstanding pitching and blistering heat.

The Longhorns meet Lafayette College in the second round of the 1953 tournament here at Municipal Stadium at 6 p.m. Friday. Lafayette defeated Colorado State College, 6-2, in the first game played.

Texas got to Duke's erratically brilliant Joe Lewis for a run in the fourth on no hits. Four walks proved Lewis' undoing, as he was relieved without having allowed a hit.

Billy Goodman, his reliever, allowed the second run in the fifth on a walk to Jimmy Dan Pace, Tommy Snow's single, and Roy Kelly's fly ball.

Duke put on a serious threat in the seventh, loading the bases with none out. It was in the seventh that Boyd Linker, Texas' starting pitcher and winner, gave way to J. L. Smith. Smith got the Blue Devils out with only one run, and was in control the rest of the way.

Texas got only three hits, Duke four, but Linker and Smith were able to get them out in all but the seventh without damage.

PAUL MOHR

Nine walks given up by the two pitchers gave the Longhorn runners on base in all but the first and sixth innings.

Sparkling fielding plays by both clubs repeatedly cut down scoring threats. Both teams got one double play, Duke's only run coming in the top of the seventh on a steal home as the Steers got theirs.

Steer first baseman Paul Mohr slammed the game's longest hit, a triple in the bottom of the eighth. Mohr's blast came with two out, and none on base.

Radio Station KVET will broadcast the delayed coverage of the Texas-Lafayette game at 8 p.m. Austin time.

Grade Standards Strike TCU Hard

FORT WORTH, June 9 (AP)—Already hard hit at end because of the graduation of four three-year lettermen, TCU Monday disclosed the loss of three more ends and a tackle who became scholastic victims.

Ends Weldon Dacus, junior from Abilene; Waylon Buchanan, junior from Naples; and Don Ford, senior from Farwell, along with tackle Norman Jett of Seagoville lacked the minimum of 24 semester hours required by the Southwest Conference for the two preceding semesters to remain eligible this fall.

Small Colleges to Have National Baseball Race

ABILENE, June 8 (AP)—A football coaching school and a national championship race in baseball were announced Monday by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, a union of 425 of the smaller colleges of the country.

Al Duer of George Pepperdine, executive secretary of the NAIA, said the coaching school would be held at Kansas City on the occasion of the basketball tournament next winter. The baseball race is due to be started next year.

Two SWC Gridders Sign With Green Bay Packers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Two former Southwest Conference football players signed contracts Monday with the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

End Bill Howton of Rice, who led the league in pass receptions last season, signed for his second season.

Halfback Gib Dawson, all Southwest Conference for the two seasons with Texas, was signed as the Packers number four draft choice.

Hogan Top Oakmont Golfer

OAKMONT, Pa., June 11 (AP)—Aching Ben Hogan, swathed in ointment and sweater, carved out a methodical five-under-par 67 at Oakmont Thursday to seize the first round lead in the so-called "Arnica Open"—The National Open Golf Championship.

You could almost see the cold chills running up and down the spines of the game's great shot-makers as the relentless little man from Texas shot around the storied old course without once going over par.

Expansive, 6,917-yard Oakmont, with its 161 bunkers and furrowed sand traps, is par 37-35-72.

Hogan—dubbed "The Hawk" by his adversaries—cut four strokes from the card on the front side with a 33 and gained another with a 34 coming back.

Then as he elbowed his way through part of the gallery estimated at 8,000, one follower of the sport was heard to remark significantly:

"This is the first open in history decided on the first nine holes."

Hogan's round gave him a three-stroke advantage over Frank Souchak, a 38-year-old amateur who formerly captained the University of Pittsburgh football team, and moon-faced Walter Burkemo, Franklin, Mich. Each had a 70.

The gaudily dressing Jimmy Demaret, three times winner of the Masters, uncorked a steady 35-36-71 for another par-beating effort.

A couple of brash amateurs, unawed by reports of Oakmont's invincibility, swept over the course in 73's for two of the best rounds of the day.

They are John Garrison, Alice, Texas, who fashioned a three-under-par on the front nine only to come back in 39, and Harry H. (Bill) Haverstick Jr., Lancaster, Pa., who bracketed 38-35.

Garrison started out with three straight birdies by sinking 20-foot putts on the first two holes and holing out with a pitch on the third.

57 Sign Up for Play In Men's Intramurals

By BETTYE RAWLAND
Texan Sports Staff

Fifty-seven participants in twelve leagues will begin play in this summer's Men's Intramurals program next week.

Six leagues in tennis singles, with 27 competing, represents the largest division. Handball and horseshoe pitching have 16 and 14 entered.

Contestants will make their own arrangements for matches. Games may be played at any time before the deadlines for reporting scores. The deadline schedule was sent to intramurals competitors by Berry Whitaker, director of Men's Intramurals.

Each player will play other members of his league. The men having the best record percentage in competition within his league will be his league's representative in the straight elimination basis for the championship. One loss will therefore remove league representatives from the championship matches.

Tennis singles entrants are Ralph D. Tatum, Oak Grove; Woody Barron, Campus Guild; Bill Atchison, BSU; John G. Miller, Blomquist Swedes; Aubrey Guthrie, Pi Kappa Alpha; and John N. Touchstone, Phi Delta Theta, all in League A. John R. Knaggs, Oak Grove; Mike Spence, Campus Guild; Charles Robinson, BSU; Virgil C. Altwein, Blomquist Swedes; Ed Gray, Pi Kappa Alpha; and Warren Ware Shipman, Phi Delta Theta, League B. Nathan Arafat, Campus Guild; William H. Clark, Phi Delta Theta; Martin J. # 'I'm Sorry Now'

Senator Taft, who seems to get more acid with each year—or with each unsuccessful try to the Presidency—last week had to take back some of his hot, hasty words, but he didn't go far enough.

As quoted in Time of June 15, Sen. Taft said that "he did not use the words that the US should go it alone in the Far East or anywhere else." He meant that we should only go it alone as far as the UN in Korea is concerned. Which is not much of an improvement.

He continued: "It (the UN) is an impossible weapon against forcible aggression... We already have treaties with Australia and New Zealand, and an understanding with the French in Indo-China. We should also have a free hand to form an alliance with the British on Far Eastern affairs... but not one in which they possess any final veto against our policies."

First, the British, though they have a Security Council veto, have never on a single occasion used it against the US.

Second, the war in Korea is the UN's war, not our war alone. As the UN, the forces in Korea present the world united against aggression, an important psychological fact to the people of Asia. Fighting alone, it could well mean to Asians China helping Korea to defend the Asiatic mainland against Western imperialism. And certainly the regiments of Australian, African, Canadian, British, and other UN troops have not forced us to send more men, instead of less, to Korea.

Senator Taft should do a bit more retracting.

GOP Fishing

Texas Republicans are casting about in Fort Worth this week for a good strong candidate to run against Senate Minority Leader Lyndon Johnson in his re-election race next year. The fishing so far doesn't seem too good. And the prospects for 1954 not much better.

The GOP leaders say they wouldn't mind having a nice, popular conservative Democrat to head their ticket, but their meeting hasn't been stampeded by volunteers. Most Texans still claim to be Democrats, even though they may act like Republicans and sometimes vote like Republicans. So the politician who changes his allegiance for the next election is going to be called a turncoat and worse. Texas voters won't trust a Demopublican in their front yard.

Of course it will be a great day for Texas when the Republican Party can make itself a serious challenge to one-party rule, which, by the way, is not yet. The Republicans have got to win with Republicans, not with just ex-Democrats.

Pure Math Teachers Scoff At Honor Societies, Texan

By SUE SEITZ

"The two math departments will be merged in order to bring them in line with other Universities across the nation," said Dean Charles Boner of the College of Arts and Sciences.

The Departments of Pure Mathematics and Applied Mathematics and Astronomy will be combined into the Department of Mathematics and Astronomy with the fall semester.

Since neither department is affiliated with a national undergraduate honor society in math, the Texan asked professors of both pure and applied math departments if the merger would make the new department eligible for memberships.

Dr. R. L. Moore, distinguished professor in pure math, hooted at the idea of joining such organizations. "I'm sure that no really good student would care to join anything like that. And besides, this math department has always been eligible to join any national organization. The idea that by uniting with that department downstairs (Applied Math) we would be eligible for more honors is silly."

Dr. G. L. Lubben, associate professor of pure math, said that he had heard of such national organizations but he didn't know why anyone would want to join them.

Dr. Moore refused to give an opinion on the merger of the two departments but he scoffed at a Texan editorial which called the action "a significant step forward." "How does the writer know it is a step forward?" and "How can he say this will put it on a par with the best? We are already as good as any department in the country!"

Dr. J. T. Mohat, pure math special instructor, said that he could not see any advantage to having undergraduate organizations, and that he didn't think the University would lose students because of that factor.

The University's math departments are more interested in graduate work than undergraduate. Dr. Robert E. Greenwood of applied math pointed out. "The graduate facilities have always been high at The University of Texas. The Council of the American Math Society has 30 members, seven of whom hold doctor's degrees from The University of Texas. Twenty-five staff members and graduate students represent our departments in the American Math Society, which is principally interested in graduate research. The Math Association of America, which is interested in collegiate teaching, has 15 members from the faculties of both our departments. One professor from each department is a member of the Institute of Mathematical Statistics. Some professors are also members of various astronomical societies.

Dr. Greenwood said that in the past the Applied Math Department did have undergraduate clubs for students, but had never been interested in affiliating with national organizations.

The Firing Line

To the Editor:

When it comes time to vote on the Union fee next fall, one consideration that shouldn't be overlooked is the Union's services to people from off the campus. These include parents of students, important visitors who come here to lecture or appear on programs, and the scores of sightseers who pass through Austin.

To them the Union serves as the University's front door. The Union, more than any other physical part of the school, is the connecting link between the public and the campus. These people come here in the fall during registration and for football games. They come here in the spring for Round-Up and Commencement. They come here all the year around to look at the University.

The Union is often their stopping place even if they start at the Main Building, Memorial Fountain, or elsewhere. There they rest, eat, and meet those on the campus with whom they have appointments. There students "park" guests to go off to attend a previously scheduled activity.

Our visitors get to look the Union over pretty thoroughly. The more services the Union can provide for them the better it is for the University's public relations. These services are, of course, largely the ones the students need from the Union throughout the year. Looks like it would pay us to have the biggest and best union possible at the maximum fee.

Meals Offered Boarders by Living Units

Many of the living units on campus serving three meals a day are accepting boarders during the summer session. The majority of the women's living quarters do not serve the evening meal, and none of the men's dormitories serve at all.

The co-ops are offering this service when their quota of people is not filled. TLOK at 1908 San Antonio is taking only men boarders. Two meals a day and dinner on Sunday costs $7 a week. The noon meal is at 12:30 and supper is at 6. More information can be obtained at 8-8745.

Twin Pines is the only other men's co-op interested in boarders although they would rather that the men lived in the house. Meals are from 50 to 75 cents. The co-op is at 200 East Twenty-second, and their phone number is 8-5717.

Three of the women's co-ops are participating in the plan. The coordinator of Theodora at 2610 Whitis said that the price depends upon which meals are served. Anyone interested should call 8-4241. Whitehall, at 2500 Whitis, is interested in having some women boarders too. Juanice King is the coordinator and can be reached at 8-1575.

Katherine Pierce Co-op will board girls for three meals a day including Sundays. This would be about $30 a month, and two meals a day will be approximately $24 a month. Ginger Hendricks will have more information about this at 7-4311.

Scottish Rite Dormitory's director will be glad to give information about prices and times to those who are interested.

Meals served in Andrews' dining room for the tri-dorms are open to men and women for daily, weekly, or semester rates. By the term, breakfast is $15, lunch is $27 and dinner $37. All three meals for a term will cost $79. Single lunches are 75 cents, dinner is $1, and breakfast 50 cents. The Carother's dormitory office will give more information.

Delta Tau Delta fraternity house is accepting both men and women boarders for the summer meals. Bunch Britton is in charge of making arrangements.

Shelby Reed and Bob Hearon To Marry Monday in Austin

Shelby Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Reed of Austin, will marry Bob Hearon of Dallas, Monday at 4 p.m. in the Presbyterian Seminary Chapel.

Miss Reed received her bachelor of arts degree in June. She was a member of Pi Beta Phi, Mortarboard, Alpha Lambda Delta, Cap and Gown, and the University "Y". She was on the honor roll and is a Goodfellow.

Hearon is a law student. He is editor of the Law Review, member of Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity, Chancellors, and Phi Beta Kappa.

Delores Derrick of Austin, Alpha Phi, to John E. Simpson, Arnold Air Society and distinguished military student, June 6 at the Tarrytown Methodist Church.

Engagements

Nellene Kuempel of Pflugerville to Lawrence Ray Hester of Round Rock July 18 in the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Pflugerville.

Margaret May Riley and Robert Earl Parsons, both of Austin, June 11 at the First Methodist Church.

Nancy Smothers of Round Rock to Bobby Joe Long of Lawton, Okla., in June.

Mary Ann Baker, Alpha Delta Pi, of Austin to Richard Nelson of Austin August 1 at the First Methodist Church.

Bonnie Newton, Alpha Omicron Pi of Bertram, to Gilbert Eimann of Brenham August 8.

Dorothy Gebauer Guest on Cruise

Dorothy Gebauer, Dean of Women, is back in her office after a two-weeks trip to Hawaii as guest of the Secretary of the Navy.

Her cruise was made on a hospital ship, and Dean Gebauer saw a demonstration of how men could be flown in by helicopters from the battleground.

Although the people taking the trip were the guests of the Navy, this was not a vacation tour. Dean Gebauer said, "It was a memorable educational experience which showed the importance, function, and power of the US Navy."

At a briefing by officers of a Marine force fleet, Miss Gebauer met Jimmy Pound, a former University student who was active on the Union Board and in student activities.

The first morning the group was taken on a cruise around Pearl Harbor, seeing locations of ships that were sunk December 7, 1941. Miss Gebauer says a distinctive memorial to that disaster is "The Arizona" which bears a large plaque.

Diplomas to be Ready in Fall

Diplomas for degrees conferred in May of this year will be ready late in September. Certificates were sent to graduates letting them know they received degrees.

Presbyterians To Have Picnic

The Westminster Student Fellowship, student group of the Austin Presbyterian churches, will hold a picnic Saturday afternoon, with food, recreation, and transportation for 50 cents a person.

Any interested students are asked to meet at the University Presbyterian Church, 2203 San Antonio Street, at 2 p.m. Saturday. Transportation will be provided to City Park, where swimming and other forms of recreation are available.

Sunday evening the WSF will meet at the University Presbyterian Church at 5:45 p.m., and then go to the home of a member for supper, a program, and worship. The program will be led by Franklin Spears, Jackie Culbertson, and Dean J. I. McCord of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. Jack Ritter will lead the worship.

University Churches Expand Facilities

Striking simplicity characterizes the modern Roman style architecture of the new St. Austin's Catholic Church.

Built of smooth cut Austin stone, the church has only two outside decorations. Both are crosses carved of white Austin stone. One is above the front entrance, and one has been erected atop the church tower.

Built to accommodate 650 persons, the air-conditioned building will probably be finished by the end of the summer.

In honor of the Blessed Mother, a Lady Chapel, which will be suitable for small weddings and worship services, is being built.

Total cost of the new church is estimated at about $158,000.

More than twice the present space for student work will be available after completion of the University Presbyterian Church building program.

Fulfilling a project begun 25 years ago, the $350,000 expansion will include a sanctuary, 10 new classrooms, and a large room for student activities.

Contemporary design will be the keynote of the sanctuary's interior; three mahogany panels in the wall behind the chancel will be of simple style.

Tall art glass windows on either side of the sanctuary will be of symbolic design, but in keeping with the contemporary style of the building.

The sanctuary will have a central heating and air-conditioning unit, and the offices, fellowship hall, and parlor of the old building will be air-conditioned.

Begun in December, 1952, the building program should be completed by January 1, 1954, said John McCurdy, building chairman.

A traditional style sanctuary is being built by the University Christian Church.

A basement will serve as a meeting and recreation room, and several smaller rooms will be used for meetings and conferences.

One 20x35 foot stained glass window will be installed in the front of the new sanctuary, facing the campus. Designs for this and other windows have not yet been completed.

The church will have new furniture except for the memorial communion table, which will be moved from the old church. The cost of the sanctuary will be about $307,000. Construction was begun April 13, 1953, and the building is expected to be completed by Easter, 1954.

Church Calendar

Dr. James I. McCord will speak on "The Meaning of Forgiveness" at the University Presbyterian Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

"I Believe in God" will be the topic of Dr. Blake Smith's sermon in the University Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

"Excuse Me, Please" will be the topic of Dr. Lewis P. Speaker's sermon Sunday in the First English Lutheran Church.

Frederick H. Ginascol, instructor in philosophy, will speak to the Unitarian fellowship Sunday at 11 a.m. on "Faith Within Reason."

"No Fuzzy Thinking" is the topic of the sermon to be delivered by Dr. Edmund Heinsohn at the University Methodist Church Sunday at 11 a.m.

The Rev. Lawrence W. Bash, minister of University Christian Church, will deliver two sermons Sunday on the theme "The Psalm of Penitence." Double services will be held at 8:30 and 10:50 a.m.

Dr. Marvin S. Vance will speak on "Men of Honest Report" at First Methodist Church worship service Sunday morning at 10:55.

World Premiere Party to Open Summer Program for Baptists

Summer brings no gap in the activities of religious youth groups on campus. Many have elected summer officers to carry out their plans, and almost all plan retreats and picnics in addition to their regular meetings and church services.

Baptist Student Union will begin its summer activities Friday at 8 p.m. with a party. Its theme is "The World Premiere of the 4-D Film 'House of Wit'." Students will be given Polaroid glasses and other ways of carrying out the theme.

The party will be held in the Recreation Room of the Baptist Student Union Building.

Summer officers are Willie Williams, president; Martha Ann Fontaine, secretary; Joe McGraw, treasurer; Gerald Ray and Pozelle Phillips, enlistment chairmen; and Bennie Ruth Smith, social chairman. Others are Adele Crawford, missionary chairman; Billy Ruth Reed, publicity chairman; Martha Behrens, music chairman; Langford Sneed, intramurals chairman; and John Mothershead, co-operative activities chairman.

Vesper services will be conducted in the chapel each weekday Monday through Friday at 5:10 p.m.

The Westminster Student Fellowship elected student officers for the summer at their Sunday evening session. They are Joanne Thompson, president; Adele Black, treasurer; and Jack Ritter, chairman of the program committee.

Ed Frost, director of activities for the Wesley Foundation, said it will be a "pretty relaxed type with lots of weekends at Rock Ledge (the Wesley lodge on Lake Travis)." Watermelon parties and programs in the backyards of members are included.

Sunday begins at 9 a.m. with an informal coffee hour and fellowship, which precedes Sunday School at 9:30.

Buffet supper at 6 p.m. is followed by a general meeting at 6:30 and a formal program at 7.

This week end the Foundation is going to Rock Ledge for a one-day retreat, to leave Saturday morning and come back that afternoon.

Disciples Student Fellowship will elect officers for the summer next Sunday at a picnic at Barton Springs. Their regular meetings are at 6 p.m. every Sunday, and supper is served. Those students going to the picnic are asked to meet at the University Christian Church at 4 p.m. Sunday School is at 9:45 a.m.

Hillel Foundation is holding evening services every Friday at 7:30 and will plan their summer program when interested students can hold a meeting.

Radio House to Continue Series on Local Stations

Radio House will continue to produce a number of its popular radio programs during the summer months.

Among these programs to be heard on the local stations are "Just Listening, Thanks," "Opera House," "What's the Score," "Meet the Prof," "Organ Classics," and "Forty Acres Forecast."

Two new series are being prepared now for later broadcasts. They are "Collector's Item" and "Poet's Playhouse."

"Just Listening, Thanks" will be heard on Sunday nights from 11 to 11:30 on KNOW. Its producer is Julia Beall and the announcer is Paul Markey.

For the lover of concert music, there will be two such programs Saturday evenings. Dan Love will comment on the music, the composers, and artists on "Opera House," heard at 8:30.

Scheduled from 9 until 10 p.m. is "What's the Score" conducted by Bill Cavness. Both programs come over KTBC.

Sunday mornings at 8:45, Eleanor Page plays over KNOW her

No Frolics For Tonight; Gezenslaugh's June 19

There won't be any Friday Frolics tonight but next Friday will see an informal frolic.

The Gezenslaugh Brothers, colorful men from the mountains of West Austin, will provide musical entertainment. Their instruments are the mandolin, two guitars, and a one-string bass fiddle, made of a washtub, a broomstick, and a fishin' cord.

There will be dancing to an orchestra (to be announced) or to the juke box.

There will be fewer Friday Frolics this summer, says Jitter Nolen, director of the Texas Union, but the Frolics we have will be bigger and better.

A message to the co-eds from Jitter says there were too many stags at last Friday's Frolic.

Twelve Signed by AF

Twelve men were signed up for the US Air Force aviation cadet training program by the cadet selection team in the Texas Union before finals.

City Bath House Opens July 1 With New Dance Slab, Beach

The Austin City Bath House on Lake Austin, burned to the ground in May, 1952, by University students celebrating the close of finals, has been restored by the City and is slated for completion July 1.

Officials of the Austin Recreation Department estimate the cost of the new bath house and improvements at $20,000. Other improvements include a new concrete dance slab, widening and sanding of the beach, installation of 100 foot piers with diving boards, and addition of new picnic tables.

Clifton Spiers, assistant city attorney, said the five University students directly involved in the fire were indicted on both civil and criminal charges.

"As far as I know," Spiers said, "settlements have been made by the students with the city, but I do not know the terms of their agreements."

Spiers said the case has gone before the grand jury.

Features of the new bathhouse include modern design, concession stand, larger dressing rooms, and the dance slab in front.

"The ladies dressing side is now open on weekends," recreation officials stated.

Lifeguards are on duty at the beach on Saturdays and Sundays.

The new beach, replacing the weeds and reeds of the former one, is 200 feet long and 50 feet wide. The new piers extend 100 feet into the lake with diving boards on the end.

program of "Organ Classics."

"Meet the Prof," a series of interviews with University professors, will be heard each Monday night. "Forty Acres Forecast" is on the air Tuesday through Friday. KTBC carries both programs at 11:05 p.m.

TV Workshop Presents Series of News Programs

The Television Workshop of the University, in co-operation with Texas Student Publications, Inc., is presenting a series of eight news programs on Monday nights at 10:50 over KTBC-TV.

Lyle Hendricks, KTBC-TV staff consultant, will be television production manager for the workshop. Other summer staff members are Charles Hamilton, production assistant, and Joe Buckman, photographic technician. They are also part-time employees of KTBC-TV. Oscar McCracken will be in charge of Focus on the Forty Acres, a news digest series.

The workshop will also produce a short series in co-operation with the Department of Psychology and several music programs.

The news programs will have news of University students and their activities. On-the-spot news pictures will be used when possible.

The first of the series was presented June 8. Paul Markey is the announcer and Julia Beall is script writer.

The programs will continue through July 27.

Order of Coif Elects Seven Law Graduates

Seven University law graduates have been elected to the Texas Chapter of the Order of the Coif, national law school scholastic honor society. They are Willie Bruce Allen Jr., Daniel Galmes Arnold, Robert Louis Blumenthal, Thomas Gibbs Gee, Eugene Golden, David Jay Kreager Jr., and Jerry Frank Lyons.

To be eligible for the honor, a student must rank in the top 10 per cent of his graduating class and must have made contributions to the Texas Law Review which were outstanding in quality and amount.

The beer-drinking party which resulted in the burning of the bathhouse began early in the evening of May 14, 1952. The students "got cold" around midnight and started a fire near the house. They piled driftwood on the blaze and to make it higher placed doors from the house on the fire.

The students possibly would not have been arrested and accused of the blaze if their car had not been wrecked on the 17 mile trip back to Austin.

Police, investigating the wreck, found the bathhouse blaze.

Education, Information Films Projected Today

Previews of educational and informational films will be shown Friday at 1 p.m. in Batts Auditorium. Sponsored by the University film program committee, the films are free to University students and faculty.

The films include "Let's Draw With Crayons," demonstrating classroom use of crayons; "Finger Painting Techniques"; "Let's Paint with Water Color," showing three methods of water color paintings; and "Treasure House," reviewing the history of the Smithsonian Institution and picturing many of its exhibits and activities.

Two films entitled "Maya Through the Ages," and "Zaculeu" will be shown Monday at 1 in Batts Hall Auditorium.

Texas composers and their music will be featured on "Collector's Item," one of the new programs. Ken Gompertz will announce and give information about the music and the artists whose works are heard.

"Poet's Playhouse," the other new production, is a series of thirty-minute programs employing a cast and an orchestra to dramatize famous narrative poems.

Both programs are in production now and will be aired after transcription at Radio House.

'Titanic' Plot Doesn't Sink With Many Facts

By ELSIE McTEE

"Titanic," a gigantic story of the ship which couldn't sink, but did, seemed as true-to-life on the screen of the State Theater as the situation must have been in 1912. Twentieth Century-Fox did not stray from the facts so much as to ruin the historical value of the film.

Barbara Stanwyck played the role of a mother bringing her two children to America to get them away from a social life their father insisted on having them lead in Europe.

Clifton Webb, playing the role of the father, was as subtly comical as ever, even though his role in "Titanic" was much more serious than his previous "Belvedere" ones were.

A gala party on the maiden voyage of the Titanic was abruptly stopped when the ship struck an uncharted iceberg. The degree of drama and human interest was increased when the passengers learned only life boats to accommodate the women and children were available.

This caused many families to be separated as the life boats departed. As the ship's band played "Nearer My God to Thee," the 19 life boats with 712 survivors drew away from the sinking ship.

Concert Workshop To Begin Sunday

A series of concerts are planned for June 14-20 by the Work Conferences for Band and Orchestra of the Music Department.

Albert Gillis, string faculty member and coordinator for the conference, believes the concerts will be of special interest to orchestra directors and students who are coming to Austin for the clinic.

The concerts will be open to the public in air-conditioned Recital Hall of the Music Building.

Horace Britt, cellist, and Helen Haupt, pianist, will be assisted by Phyllis Young and Martha Lee Baxter at the first concert Sunday at 4:30 p.m. Mr. Britt and Miss Baxter will perform cello duets by Couperin which will be played for the first time in Austin.

Monday morning at 11, Eduardo Fiorelli, violinist, will lecture on

Law School Party Planned

Plans for a Law School party were announced at the initial summer meeting of the Bar Association Board of Governors Monday.

the Handel sonatas. Alexander von Kreisler, conductor, will lecture that afternoon at 1 with a demonstration orchestra.

An all-Beethoven sonata recital with Angel Reyes, violinist, and Richard Hoppin, pianist, will begin at 8:30 Monday evening.

New Geography Major To Teach Map-makers

A major in professional geography will be introduced at the University in the fall term.

The program will prepare students for full-time technical careers as geographers for map makers, publishers, Armed Forces, and certain government agencies, Dr. Donald Brand, geography department chairman, said.

The department will continue to offer a major in cultural geography designed to aid students preparing for business and government careers involving international relations.

'Outward Bound' Satires Humans

A satire on the important trivialities which separate people from each other is the theme of the forthcoming Department of Drama play "Outward Bound," scheduled for June 7-9.

The strange circumstances bring together a society leader with much snob appeal and a wistful scrublady, a clergyman and an alcoholic playboy. These four people, along with an apoplectic executive and a troubled young couple who drift about the play like blue shadows, find themselves unwilling shipmates on what proves to be the most significant voyage of their lives.

Guiding them to their destination is a gentlemanly steward who knows much and says little. Thus until late in the first act the playgoer does not know what the characters' destination is to be.

New Psychology Institute To Centralize Fund Use

An Institute for Psychological Research will be established at the University about July 1, under plans approved by the Board of Regents.

The institute will centralize and co-ordinate use of existing psychology research funds and find new funds for basic research.

It will constitute an organized research unit which State agencies or private enterprise may call upon for psychological service.

Lemmon Townes' Architect

Mark Lemmon of Dallas, consulting architect for all University buildings, is the architect for Townes Hall. General contractor is the Fisher Construction Company of Houston; Young and Pratt of Austin are the mechanical contractors; and Paul Wright of Austin has the electrical contract.

'Personal Appearance' Set for June 19 by ACT

"Personal Appearance," which opens at the Austin Civic Theater Playhouse June 19, is a modern comedy revolving around the antics of an aging actress.

DORAINÉ and ELLIS

Doraine and Ellis Sing At 8 in Recital Hall

"Doraine and Ellis," vocalists of international fame, will be presented in the Recital Hall, Music Building, at 8 p.m. Friday.

Doraine Renard is one of the few Americans to have been chosen for the roster of the Salzburg Opera Company. And Ellis Lucas received dramatic training as a juvenile member of the famous "McLaughlin Players." His musical education was completed at one of America's outstanding music colleges, the Cleveland Institute of Music.

Summer activity ticket holders will be admitted without further cost. Other tickets will sell for $1 at the Music Building Recital Hall box office.

The actress is touring the country. When her train breaks down in a small town, she ingratiates herself into the home of the town's leading family, and immediately begins plotting to seduce the young boy. A clever press agent manages to spoil her plot.

First produced in 1934, the one-set play is a favorite of little theater groups.

The play is the first summer production of the Austin Civic Theater. It will play June 19-20 and 26-27. Admission is 90 cents for adults; 30 cents for children.

Geology Bureau Issues New Book on Old Rocks

The University Bureau of Economic Geology has published a new book, "Geology and Mineral Deposits of Pre-Cambrian Rocks of the Van Horn Area, Texas." Research was done by Philip B. King and Peter T. Flawn.

The rocks at Van Horn, thought to be some of the first formed on the earth's surface, are estimated to be 360-400 million years old.

The University Bureau published the 218-page book in co-operation with the United States Geological Survey, Bureau Director John T. Lonsdale said.

Slaughter Speaks To BA Workshop

In time, all high school pupils may be required to take a basic course in general business education, Robert E. Slaughter of New York City told teachers of commercial subjects who are attending the business-education workshop at the University.

Slaughter recalled, in his Tuesday speech, that in the early days of business education there was little or no co-operation between the school and the employer in educating and training the student for business.

High school students looking forward to careers in banking have much to gain from speech and English courses, as well as mathematics and commercial subjects, G. Norman Brown of Houston told the business workshop Wednesday.

Experience in speech and debating will lend poise in business contacts, he pointed out. Also, mathematics courses develop reasoning ability requisite for all clerical assignments, he added.

Five Friday programs will end the five day old business workshop. Mrs. Charles Mladenka, director of television advertising, Battlestein's in Houston, will speak on the "Personality of the Business Teacher" at 12 p.m.

Other topics of discussion will include "Problems Clinic in Short-hand," a panel discussion on "Personal Problems in Teaching Short-hand," Demonstration of the Gestetner Stencil Duplicator," and a "Conference Summation."

'Process Slow In De-segregation'

The Supreme Court probably will not abolish segregation at one fell swoop in its impending decision on public school segregation, said Dr. George F. Sanchez, professor of the History and Philosophy of Education. He spoke to a meeting of the Central Texas Chapter of Americans for Democratic Action Thursday night.

Since Federal courts have given their blessing to segregation for 60 years, pointed out Dr. Sanchez, a social climate has been generated in which segregated but equal education is accepted. This will temper the Court's decision, he continued, so that a transition period, rather than immediate abolition of segregation will be inaugurated. This will lead to eventual abolition, he believes.

Dr. Sanchez stressed that duplication of plants and services under the doctrine of separate but equal is unreasonable and an unnecessary burden on the taxpayer.

"Is teaching of arithmetic," he asked, "one process for whites and a different one for Negroes?"

European Engineers To Meet UT Faculty

Ten West European engineers will confer with University faculty members on research problems and inspect University facilities in a visit on June 15.

The engineers, coming from Belgium, Denmark, France, Netherlands, Italy, England, and Germany, will attend the American Welding Society's spring convention in Houston June 16-19 after visiting the University. Each is an international authority in his respective professional field.

Rh Negative Blood Type Sought by Austin Bank

Rh negative blood types are sought by the Austin Blood Bank to provide a supply for three patients now in local hospitals. They are suffering from burns or bleeding ulcers, and the blood is needed immediately.

People with Rh negative type are urged to contact the Blood Bank at 8-6457 to volunteer donations.
