

THE DAILY TEXAN

The First College Daily in the South

AUSTIN, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1934

FOUR PAGES TODAY

No. 20

Today's News Tip

Read Knickerbocker's story of the Spanish civil war on page 4.

Today's Quotation

Things are in the saddle, and ride mankind.—Emerson.

Ballot Places Determined At Drawing

Cross, Fritz, May, Brooks, Williams, Handley, Richards, Mitchell First

Positions on the official ballot of the fall Students' Assembly election were determined Tuesday afternoon by a drawing supervised by Inez Granau, secretary of the Students' Association, John Bell, president of the association, and Ross Terry, election judge. The election will be held Tuesday, October 16. Candidates' expense accounts must be filed with the secretary of the association by 1 o'clock on election day.

Margaret Grasty and Rufus Hall were elected to the two positions from the Graduate School when they were unopposed.

The official ballot:

Graduate School

Margaret Grasty and Rufus Hall unopposed.

Arts and Sciences

(Two girls to be elected)

1. Juanita Cross
2. Mary Lynn Young
3. Roberta "Bobbie" Purvis
4. Beatrice Kubela
5. Lucilla Gumm
6. Fletcher Metcalfe
7. Katherine Archer

(Three boys to be elected)

1. Frank Fritz
2. Bryson Martin
3. Jarrell "Jake" Pickle
4. Jack Taylor
5. John Green
6. Pat Coleman
7. Frank Horak
8. John Dittmar
9. Hubert "Buster" Jurecka
10. Jack Davis

School of Law

(Two to be elected)

1. Frank Brooks
2. Frank Ikard
3. Tom Taggart
4. Herman Wright
5. Walter R. Ely, Jr.

School of Business Administration

(Two to be elected)

1. Tom Handley
2. Joe Smartt
3. Charles "Tiny" Gruneisen
4. Leroy C. Mumme
5. Millard Dilg
6. John Halton

Department of Journalism

(One to be elected)

1. Elouise May
2. Ed Carl Ferris
3. John Duke

College of Pharmacy

(One to be elected)

1. J. Thomas Richards
2. Frank H. Bowers
3. Robert Estes

College of Engineering

(Two to be elected)

1. Dan "Junie" William
2. L. D. Day
3. Ralph C. Immel
4. William "Bill" Pitzer
5. Randolph F. Simon

School of Education

(One to be elected)

1. Billie Burke Mitchell
2. Catherine Gramon
3. Margaret Williamson
4. Margaret Knight
5. William "Bill" Flatt

CLUB ELECTION CALLED

The Toastmasters' Club will elect officers for the year at a meeting tonight at 7 o'clock in Texas Union 311, William Lee, president, announced.

HELEN CRAWFORD (the Cisco one) is one Theta gal who always had a string of admirers, both boys and girls. That's so because she is always herself.

Speaking of Thetas, who could overlook MARGARET HARING? HENRY BARNES certainly can't. They're one of the campus most devoted couples.

We hope that SUNSHINE PIERCE will pay more attention to her attire when she goes down the drag next time.

The Buzzard has nothing but good words for IONE MONROE. She deserves them all.

We hear that LAYLA BRUCE has a passion for new shiny cars like JOHNNY MANN COBB's new one. That's a tip for the boys.

Speaking of the COBB family, have you heard about the time IRBY started to buy a Frigidaire for his room at the fraternity house?

And here's a warning for MATTIE and her boy friend GEORGE. You're liable to get blackmailed, MATTIE.

Under the temporary chairmanship of Jimmy Langdon and Mary Cumbe the ex-students of Cleburne High School organized the Cleburne Club Tuesday night.

The second meeting of the club will be held Monday, October 15, at 7:30 o'clock in Texas Union 311.

Members of the organization are Rose Munves, Mary Cumbe, James Langdon, William Flatt, Charles Ferguson, Pat Davids, Joe Baxter, Leon Abteras, Calvin Tapp, Eugene Vanderslice, Edward Leaton.

John Dunlap, Ben Dunlap, Hubert Wade, Robert Battle, Mary Elizabeth Ownsly, Lucile Heaton, Jane Swift, Catherine Connor, Alford Earl White, Harold Russell, Eugene Gieson, Styron Ragdale.

George T. James, Woodrow Wilson, Richard Flatt, Leon Flatt, Carrol Cooke, Aaron Cohen, Murray Crowder, Keith Kelly, Page Stanley, Tom Ireland, C. J. Hall, and Leedes Bayless.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

In the meantime, desperate efforts were made to save Barthou. They apparently failed solely because of his advanced age.

The shooting marred arrangements made months ago for a state visit designed to solidify the friendly relations between France and Yugoslavia, which have continued interrupted despite a recent realignment in the Balkans, which has placed Alexander's kingdom closer to Germany and further away from Italy and France.

Italy Looks On

In his significant speech at Milan only Saturday, Premier Mussolini alluded in no uncertain terms to the strained relations between Italy and Yugoslavia, precipitated by a long series of attacks by the Jugo-slav press upon the bravery of the Italian soldiers in the World War.

Alexander, who was only 46 years old, shared with King Zog of Albania the distinction of being the only crowned dictator in Europe.

He failed to rally, however.

General Georges, a member of the French Supreme War Council who journeyed to Marseilles with Barthou to greet the visiting Yugoslavian monarch, died shortly after Barthou succumbed.

In the space of a few seconds, the portly, shabbily dressed Croatian assassin, Petrus Kalemec, a native of Zagreb, wreaked greater damage upon Europe than any man since the World War.

Two Innocent Victims

Barthou and General Georges obviously were innocent victims.

The man's nationality made it apparent he was intending only to kill his king at all costs, but in the wild fusillade that accompanied his attack Barthou sustained his mortal wound and Georges was struck in the thigh.

The tragedy that left Yugoslavia without a king and stripped France not only of her foreign minister but also of her greatest statesman occurred as an automobile bearing Alexander and Barthou entered the Place de la Bourse.

A few minutes earlier, Alexander had disembarked from a Yugoslavian warship to be accorded a royal reception at the pier. He was smiling and happy in the conviction his visit, part of Barthou's carefully laid plan for a Franco-Italian rapprochement, would cement and solidify the peace and good relations of the leading nations of Europe.

Dramatic Death Scene

In the wild confusion that followed the shootings, Alexander and Barthou were rushed to the prefecture of police.

Desperate efforts were made to save the king, but he was too badly hurt, and a few moments after his arrival, Mme. Joughannau, wife of the prefect of police, tenderly closed his eyes amidst scenes of intense emotion.

Longhorns Turn Backs on Victory to Prepare for Game with Oklahoma Sooners

This SPORTING World

By STANLEY GUNN
Associate Sports Editor

Many Fans Watch Steers in First Practice of Week

By CECIL E. BURNEY
Texan Sports Staff

From all indications the University of Texas Longhorns have forgotten their sensational victory over the Notre Dame Ramblers and the tumultuous reception that they received upon their return from South Bend yesterday morning. At least that was the impression left with the several hundred fans that assembled at Texas Memorial Stadium yesterday afternoon to view the Steers in their first regular workout of the week.

Coach Jack Chevigny spent the early part of the afternoon session drilling his charges on the fundamentals of the game. The air was filled with flying footballs as a lengthy session of passing and punting was conducted by the Steer mentors.

The major portion of the afternoon was spent in a scrimmage session that saw the varsity divided into four teams, the first and second team entering into a dummy scrimmage and the two remaining teams being pitted against a delegation from the Frosh squad.

The entire squad is in fine shape following their recent encounter at South Bend as no injuries were sustained in the Rambler game. Stiff workouts are scheduled for the rest of the week to prepare the Steers for the game in Dallas Saturday against the Oklahoma University Sooners.

The Steer mentor is intent upon developing an offense that will down the Sooners and revenge the 9-0 defeat handed the Longhorns last year at the State Fair Grounds.

The Sooners succeeded in defeating the "hither-to-fore-unbeatable" Centenary Gentlemen last Saturday by the decisive score of 7-0. This proves conclusively that the Oklahoma Sooners will be a difficult team for the Longhorns to cope with when again they meet at Fair Park in Dallas.

The Steers showed no outstanding weakness in their last encounter and with another week of practice behind them should be able to battle the Sooners on equal terms.

Tentative plans call for workouts through Thursday after which the Longhorns will entrain for Dallas.

TOUGH TEAM—

THE SOONERS would enjoy nothing better than whipping the Longhorns and the team that beat the mighty Ramblers at the same time. By their victory over the Gents they have proved to the Southwest that they will be a tough aggregation to stack up against—even if their opponents did beat the Irish. Outstanding in the forward wall of the Sooner is one Cash Gentry. Gentry is a rough individual who has attracted much attention from this part of the country and from all-American team pickers. He will play at tackle. The Sooners also have a pair of excellent wingmen in Harris and Coker. Red Stacy, senior guard is also outstanding in the line.

ODE TO HOMER—

TO THE COURAGEOUS young journalist who signs himself "Homer" in the firing line squib of Tuesday's Texan berating our bragging on our predictions we reply:

By carefully re-reading the Sunday column you will, undoubtedly, perceive that we were modestly boasting of our prediction on the Texas-Notre Dame game and NOT the other predictions. As we missed the aforementioned guess by one point only we still think it permissible to feel satisfied about it. Our paragraph mentioned nothing about bragging on other guesses. Therefore it seems only logical that we were right, and you, dear Homer, were wrong, as usual. In fact you were out of your field so to speak. Our mutual friend, W.E.M., is the logical man for your self-appointed task of running down various people and the Texan and sports writers in particular.

STATISTICS—

INTERESTING figures have been compiled to show the strength of Southwest teams in the season's intersectional battles. According to the statistics the effective East is first with seven won, two lost, and one tied.

The Southwest is rated second with six won, two lost, and two tied. The defeats handed Notre Dame and Purdue were big factors in the raising of the prestige of the Southwest, which has long been almost nil. Intersectional games for this week-end among Southwestern teams include Texas v. Oklahoma, Tech v. Oklahoma City, A.&M. v. Centenary, and T.C.U. v. Tulsa.

HILLIARD IN ACTION—

WALTER BEACH, Steer publicity writer, tells us that he has a number of autographed photos of Hilliard making the touchdown against the Ramblers which he will offer for sale at the athletic office this week. The pictures show Hilliard stepping through a hole as wide as a wagon with a Longhorn lineman clearing the way. The cameraman was standing in the end zone directly in front of Hilliard, which gave

Four Rambler Teams Failed to Match Longhorns in That 'Old Will to Win'

By WARREN COOPER
Texan Sports Editor

It takes more than just a flock of big, husky, star players to win football games.

The University of Texas Longhorns' victory over the Notre Dame University Ramblers carries out this point.

When the Steers and Irish took to the field in their game last Saturday at South Bend, the eleven best men on each team were in the lineup, or that is the way the two coaches rated them. On the Texas bench there were two teams not rated as good as the eleven Texans that were on the field. On the Notre Dame bench there were four teams and all were considered nearly on a par with the starting group. Before the game was over Texas had substituted four men and the Ramblers had used nearly all their forty-four.

Steers Determined

Sixty minutes of continuous fight with their hearts set a little more on victory because of their position as the underdog is just about the best way to account for the Steers' great victory. The Ramblers outweighed them, they used numerous substitutes in an effort to wear them down. With all respect to the late Knute Rockne we can understand now how much those shock troops helped him to build a great name for the Catholic school in the football world. The Longhorns faced a fresh team nearly every quarter during the game. Co-captain Charlie Coates, who was the best lineman on the field, played against four centers.

Four Against One

In Carideo, Layden, Melinkovitch, and Elser the Ramblers have four of the biggest and hardest running backs in the country. When the Irish received the ball on the second kickoff, after the Steers had made their 7 points, they started a strong drive up the field, and the Orange and White had to rally to stop them crossing the goal line. Several such drives and the same number of successful stands by the Steer line brought the game to the end of the first quarter, and the Steers were backed up against their goal line.

Chevigny substituted Baezel for Hadlock at the start of the second quarter, and on the first punt by Notre Dame Baezel fumbled and the Irish recovered the ball almost on the same spot that the Steers recovered the opening kickoff. Baezel was tackled high and hard when he dropped the ball. Melinkovitch carried the ball over for a touchdown on the third attempt. Pilney's try for extra point.

WELLER WINS TITLE

The University of Texas intrasquad tennis tournament closed at Penick Courts Tuesday afternoon, with Ed Weller winning the singles title as the result of a final match victory over Carl Smalley. Weller won in two straight sets, 6-4, 6-4.

Pharmacy, Middle Field; Little Campus vs. Newman Club, South Field.

5 o'clock

Poker Flats vs. Alley Cats, North Field; Offner House vs. Swank House, Middle Field; Presbyterian Club vs. Tejas Club, South Field.

Sport Notices

There will be a meeting of the Golden Gloves boxing fraternity today at 5:30 o'clock in the boxing room in Gregory Gym. Discussion of competition for the T. A. A. F. boxing tournament to be held at San Antonio November 1 will take place at the meeting.

JIMMIE KAZEN,
president, Golden Gloves.

by place-kick, was wide and the Steers led 7-6. Not a spectator in the stands thought the outcome would be that score. When the Irish made their score, the ma-

Star in Line

JOE SMARTT

JIM TOLBERT

majority of the 30,000 spectators stood up and cheered and when they missed the extra point, they did not care so much.

When the game was over all the Notre Dame rooters were still

Pleases Coaches

MANTON

T. C. U. coaches are particularly pleased with the showing that Taldon Manton, above, made against the Arkansas Razorbacks last Saturday. Manton has been serving as fullback every since Sub-captain Dan Harston broke his arm.

Jean Bianckins spent the week-end in Houston with her parents.

Longhorn Coach Names Runners

Coach Clyde Littlefield chose six harriers Tuesday to represent Texas against the Oklahoma University cross-country team in Dallas Saturday. The teams will compete in a special two-mile race in Fair Park Stadium between the halves of the Texas-Oklahoma football game.

Those who will make the trip are George "Mule" Wilson, Woodrow Finley, Buren Edwards, Remus Thomas, Mitchell Stark, and Joe Storm, captain. In the trial two-mile inter-squad race Tuesday Wilson led the field by a fair margin, with Finley and Edwards coming in second and third.

CHEER LEADERS

The best dressed girls at college lead the cheers for MANGEL'S. They cheer for the dresses of simple classic line, the traditional sweaters and skirts. Lingerie of luxurious softness that will withstand college laundering and FAN TAN hosiery that wears and wears even with heavy brogues. They have something to cheer about when they buy at MANGEL'S.

★

Mangel's

620 CONGRESS

For Perfect
Laundry Service
ALWAYS DIAL
6 4 4 4
DRISKILL HOTEL LAUNDRY
"Snappy Service"

WHEN YOU'RE TIRED...

GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

DOUGLAS E. JONES '36 - ENGLISH.
Composition is hard work! "Doug" says: "When I feel played out, Camels give me a real snapback in energy."

VACATION CITIES INCOMPARABLE!

San Antonio and Corpus Christi! Where glorious sunshine, the blue of the Gulf, and every outdoor sport invite you to play the year around. And at each city a truly fine hotel home with rates surprisingly low.

JACK WHITE, Operator

PLAZA HOTELS

SAN ANTONIO AND CORPUS CHRISTI TEXAS

YOU'LL ENJOY this thrilling response in your flow of energy!

"Even the greatest writers are supposed to find writing a hard task, and if you ever have to do any writing you know just how hard a time the rest of us, who don't aspire to genius, have in expressing ourselves," says Douglas E. Jones, '36. "Majoring in English, I put as much energy into writing as a man would use up in heavy physical labor. When I feel played out I smoke a Camel. Camels give me a real snapback in energy. They are so mild that I can smoke all I want without upsetting my nerves."

You, too, will like Camel's matchless blend of costlier tobaccos. Mild—but never flat or "sweetish"—never tiresome in taste. You'll feel like smoking more... and you need not hesitate about it! For with Camels, you will find that steady smoking does not jangle the nerves.

CAMEL CARAVAN with Glen Gray's Casa Loma Orchestra, Walter O'Keefe, Annette Hanshaw, and other Headliners—over WABC-Columbia Network.
Tuesday, 10 p.m. E.S.T.—9 p.m. C.S.T.—8 p.m. M.S.T.—7 p.m. P.S.T. | Thursday, 9 p.m. E.S.T.—8 p.m. C.S.T.—7:30 p.m. M.S.T.—6:30 p.m. P.S.T.

BRIDGE EXPERT Shepard Barclay says: "Bridge calls for concentration. I smoke a Camel frequently, and feel refreshed and mentally alert again!"

CAMEL'S COSTLIER TOBACCOS NEVER GET ON YOUR NERVES!

ANY TOBACCO MAN WILL TELL YOU:
"Camels are made from finer, more expensive tobaccos—Turkish and Domestic—than any other popular brand."

Copyright, 1934, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company

CAMPUS SOCIETY

BY MABEL SHELLEY

Louise Boren Made Queen of Festival

Louise Boren, member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, will leave Wednesday afternoon for her home in Tyler where she will rule over the annual East Texas Rose Festival which takes place October 11 and 12. Christine Hughes, Pi Beta Phi, will also take part in the festival.

The Second Annual Smith County Rose Festival will feature an original operetta and pageant and an illustrated lecture on the newer varieties of roses by Dr. J. Horace McFarland, editor of the "Rose Annual" and president emeritus of the American Rose Society.

Bride-Elect Feted At Local Parties

Complimentary parties for Gretchen Leudecke, former University student whose marriage to Thomas Brawley Sammons of Mission will take place October 20, will continue with a tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Theo Bellmont this afternoon at 5 o'clock, with Margaret Beverly as hostess. Sammons is a former University student and member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Miss Leudecke was entertained by Mrs. Eldridge Moore Saturday afternoon with a luncheon and a tea in the afternoon given by Frances Hackett.

A dinner party will be given Thursday by Margaret Beverly, and a linen shower has been planned by Mrs. George Temple and Mrs. N. R. Jackson in honor of the bride-to-be.

Maden Gamma Phi Beta Pledge Head

Katherine Maden was elected president of the Gamma Phi Beta pledges at a meeting Monday night. Other officers elected were: Mildred Etter, vice president; Helen McIntyre, treasurer; Hazel Anderson, calling secretary; Margaret Correll, corresponding secretary; Dorothy Styles, historian; Billie Hall, librarian; Ossie Shivers, publicity chairman; Betty Valdrance, fellowship chairman; Maxine Kubela, song chairman; and Helen Schroeder, activity chairman.

SOCIETY ELECTS

Athenaeum Literary Society elected seven new members into its ranks on second voting and four on first voting.

New members are Bill Hardway, Robert S. Grimes, John Miller, Ocie Peterson, Paul K. Herder, James Doty, and Charles Wright. Members up for first voting were Ralph Niely, Garland Smith, Franklin Daniel, and Damon Avery.

Mrs. F. N. Slataper and daughter, Louise, visited Alice Slataper at the Phi Mu house Saturday.

Today in Brief

- 10 o'clock—Dr. George C. Truett will conduct revival services at University Baptist Church.
- 3 o'clock—Housemothers for women will meet in Texas Union 301.
- 3 o'clock—University Dames will meet at the home of Mrs. M. P. Smartt on the Manor Road.
- 6:15 o'clock—Beta Alpha Psi for High School P. T. A. will meet.
- 4 o'clock—Bit and Spur tryouts to be held at Westernfield Riding Ring.
- 5 o'clock—Members of Frank Kerbow's Sunday School Class will meet at the University Presbyterian Church; then will go on a picnic.
- 6:15 o'clock—Beta Alpha Psi meets at University Commons.
- 7 o'clock—Toastmasters' Club will meet in Texas Union 311.
- 7 o'clock—Girls' Glee Club will meet in Texas Union 401.
- 7:15 o'clock—University Y. M. C. A. Board of Directors will meet at Y. M. C. A.
- 7:30 o'clock—Cosmorama Club will meet in Texas Union 309.
- 7:30 o'clock—Dr. George C. Truett will speak at University Baptist Church.
- 7:30 o'clock—Dallas Club will organize in Texas Union 316.
- 8 o'clock—Co-Op directors meet at University Club.

Smith-Holland Rites Set for Monday

Virginia Holland, ex-student of the University, and Langston Smith of Austin will be married Monday at the bride's home in Franklin.

Miss Holland attended the University last year, and was a candidate for the Cactus beauty page. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Holland. Mr. Smith received his law degree from Cumberland University in Tennessee in 1931. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lon A. Smith of Austin.

Burr-Caswell Rites Set for Thursday

Plans for the marriage of Mary Helen Caswell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Haskell Caswell of Austin to James Guy Burr, Jr., also of Austin, have been announced.

The ceremony will be read in the First Methodist Church Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock by the Rev. Virgil Fisher. Carl Fehr is to be the organist and Lester Brenizer the soloist.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Roy Ward, cousin to Miss Caswell, will serve as matron of honor and the bridesmaids are to be Elizabeth McClelland of Austin and Velma Sealy of Santa Anna.

The best man to Mr. Burr will be Garrison Walshall. Mike Butler, Jack Sparks, Lewis Burr, and Kenneth Caswell will be ushers.

Following the rehearsal at the church tonight, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Caswell, brother and sister-in-law of the bride-to-be, will entertain at their home with a buffet supper complimenting Miss Caswell and Mr. Burr.

Both Miss Caswell and Mr. Burr are ex-students of the University.

S.A.E.'S ELECT GRAVES

Tom Graves has been elected president of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity for the fall semester, taking the place of Kurt Von Bauer of St. Louis, who did not return this year. Tom Lumpkin was elected inter-fraternity representative, replacing Bonner Bentley, who is attending Rice Institute in Houston.

Pledges of S. A. E. fraternity elected the following officers last week: Hubert Wheeler of Menard, president; Tom Rose of Dallas, vice-president; Latane Temple of Texarkana, secretary and treasurer.

HARBER-KAY MARRIED

Mary Virginia Kay, former University student, and Cecil Harber, both of Tyler, were married in Tyler Saturday at the home of the bride's parents by Dr. Robert Hill, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Harber was a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. She also attended the University of Colorado for one year and Southern Methodist University.

The couple will make their home in Tyler where Mr. Harber is connected with a cotton firm.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Lenora Hellmuth, former University student, and E. W. Koerth of Bellville. The couple were married in Houston recently at the First Methodist Church, with the Rev. Robert E. Goodrich officiating. While a student in the University, Mrs. Koerth was president of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority. She did graduate work here last summer. Mr. and Mrs. Koerth will make their home in Bellville.

Delta Delta Delta sorority has announced the pledging of Anne Fleming of Austin and Elizabeth Tipps of Dallas.

Former and Present 'Philo Vance'

TWO GUESSES, which is Philo Vance? You are right both times. William Powell and Warren William have each played the S. S. Van Dine sleuth, but William has the role in "The Dragon Murder Case" opening at the Queen today.

Wathen to Direct Opera Broadcast

The University Light Opera Company will be presented in a fifteen minute broadcast over station WFAA, Dallas, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

The radio station is featuring entertainment centered around the Texas-O. U. game all during the day, but the Light Opera Company will be the only University organization to go on the air.

The program is being directed by James Wathen, who will present three soloists and a chorus of thirty. The selections will include the following:

"One Alone" from "The Desert Song," sung by George Herr; "Take Heart," from "Pirates of Penzance," sung by Carrie Merle Hatch and William Logan; "The Heart Bow'd Down," from "Bohemian Girl," sung by Fox Miller; "Wandering One," from "Pirates of Penzance," sung by Carrie Merle Hatch and the chorus.

The broadcast group will rehearse Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 5 o'clock in the Texas Union.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Mose Heidt Garrett of Houston have announced the engagement of their daughter, Portia Jane, to Maurice Albert Quilter, Jr., son of Mrs. M. A. Quilter of Houston. The wedding will take place early in November. Miss Garrett was a student in the Department of Journalism last year. She is a member of Gamma Phi Beta sorority. Mr. Quilter is a former student of St. Edward's University.

HARLEY SADLER'S TENT THEATRE

AUSTIN
Four big weeks, starting MON., OCT. 15th

Opening play "MERTON OF THE MOVIES"

Tent located 16th & Guadalupe

Big TEXAS-O. U. CELEBRATION IN DALLAS SAT. NIGHT - OCT. 13

Starting at 11 p.m. with a MIDNIGHT SHOW at the Capitol Theater

And an ALL COLLEGE DANCE

and BREAKFAST at the DALLAS ATHLETIC CLUB FROM 1 A.M. 'TIL 6 A.M.

featuring the KANSAS CITY COLLEGIANS

Admission $1.50 per Person Tickets include show—Dance—Breakfast

Tickets on Sale—Capitol Theater Mail Orders Accepted

SPECIAL LAUNDRY RATES FOR STUDENTS

DIAL 3566

SUITS CLEANED AND PRESSED 50¢

AUSTIN LAUNDRY COMPANY

RADIO REVIEW

7:30—Wayne King's orchestra; NBC: WFAA.
7:30—Everett Marshall's Broadway Varieties; CBS: KRLD.
7:30—Lanny Ross; NBC: WREN.
8:00—Nino Martini; CBS: KRLD.
8:30—John McCormack; NBC: WENR.
9:00—Byrd Expedition; CBS: KMOX.
9:00—Guy Lombardo; NBC: WOAL.
9:30—Hurry Rhythm; Jack Denny; NBC: WFAA.
10:15—Frank Dailey's orchestra; CBS: KMOX.
10:30—Henry Busse; CBS: KFAB.
10:45—Orzie Nelson's orchestra; CBS: WDAY.
10:45—Jan Garber; WGN.
11:00—George Olsen's orchestra; NBC: KRLD.
11:30—Jack Berger's orchestra; NBC: KRLD.
12:00—Frankie Masters' orchestra; KMOX.

CLASS TO GIVE PICNIC

Frank Kerbow's Sunday School class at the University Presbyterian Church will hold a picnic this afternoon. Members will meet at 5 o'clock at the church. Beverly Brown and Melford Dickerson are in charge of arrangements for the picnic.

HOUSTON GUESTS RETURN

Ben Sewell, Arthur Terrell, and Tom Lumpkin returned Sunday from Houston where they attended the wedding of Roy Calvin Sewell, Jr., and Miss Jane Lambreth at the Trinity Episcopal Church.

DAMES INVITE MOTHERS

All mothers who have sons or daughters in the University are invited to attend a meeting of the University Dames this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. M. P. Smartt on the Manor Road.

Opening Today

AT THE QUEEN

A man dives into a swimming pool and never comes up. The pool is drained, revealing no trace of the body, but disclosing a gigantic footprint—supposed to be that of a dragon. This is the situation confronting Warren William in "The Dragon Murder Case" which opens today at the Queen.

AT THE TEXAS

Will Rogers has a well suited role in "David Harum," a horse racing story of the 90's. Kent Taylor and Evelyn Venable are in the supporting cast. Today only.

AT THE HANCOCK

"Such Women Are Dangerous," a comedy-drama starring Warner Baxter, opens today at the Hancock. The film combines romance, intrigue, and mystery, and presents Baxter in a role that is ideally suited to his personality. Baxter finds himself the target of the love-making of three charming feminine stars, Rosemary Ames, Rochelle Hudson, and Mona Barrie.

AT THE PARAMOUNT

Reunited for the first time since their initial co-starring venture made "State Fair" memorable, Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres will be seen again as the gay young sweethearts of "Servants' Entrance" when this newest important Fox picture opens today at the Paramount. Miss Gaynor portrays a merry million-heiress of an automobile manufacturer who goes from riches to poverty and back again; Mr. Ayres is a chauffeur who goes from poverty to riches. Starting from opposite rungs of the social ladder, they meet at the bottom. The climb

Seen at Hancock

Warner Baxter, idol of three women in "Such Women Are Dangerous," opening today at the Hancock.

upward is fraught with humorous and fascinating adventures.

BLAND OFFICIAL CHAPERON

Mrs. Ruby Terrill-Lomax, dean of women, announced Tuesday that all co-eds wishing to attend the Texas-O. U. game in Dallas Saturday must immediately file such intention with their house-mothers. Those making unchaperoned cross country trips to the game, must in addition to this procedure present permits from their

WHERE TO GO

"SERVANTS' ENTRANCE" At the Paramount. Co-starring Janet Gaynor and Lew Ayres, with Ned Sparks.
"THE DRAGON MURDER CASE" At the Queen. Starring Warren William, with Margaret Lindsay, Lyle Talbot, and Eugene Pallette.
"SUCH WOMEN ARE DANGEROUS" (B minus) At the Hancock. Starring Warner Baxter, with Rosemary Ames and Rochelle Hudson.
"DAVID HARUM" (A) At the Texas. Starring Will Rogers, with Kent Taylor and Evelyn Venable.

parents. Headquarters for Texas students will be maintained at the Adolphus Hotel, where Mrs. Kathleen L. Bland, official chaperon from the Dean of Women's office, may be reached.

PLEDGE SERVICES HELD

Phi Mu sorority held formal pledge services Monday night at the chapter house for the following girls: Helen Ramsey of Austin, Frances Ratliff of El Paso, Barbara Whitney of Texon, Grace Warman of Wichita Falls, and Josephine Hanley of Lancaster.

FRESHMEN TO BE HONORED

A formal candlelight dinner honoring the freshmen of the Woman's Building will be given by staff members of the building Thursday night at 6 o'clock in the dining hall.

PLAYS SELECTED

At a meeting of the Gregg House Players Monday night two once-act plays, "The Devil Comes to Alcaraz" and "A Flower of Yeddo" were selected as the season's first entertainment. The character personnel and date of production will be announced as soon as casting is completed. Althea Klump and Agnes Wilkams are directing the plays.

Doris Cowan of Dallas, a former student of the University, was a recent visitor in Austin.

HANCOCK

Starts 11-1 Today 15c

Women's secrets meant more than his life!

WARNER BAXTER

IN

"SUCH WOMEN ARE DANGEROUS"

with ROSE MARY AMES ROCHELLE HUDSON NONA BARRIE

RICH MEN MADE LOVE TO HER!

STARTS TODAY! 25c 11 to 1

But she couldn't cook, sew, bake a cake, or take care of babies well enough to win a poor chauffeur's heart!

Janet GAYNOR Lew AYRES

Servants' Entrance

A FOX Picture with NED SPARKS Paramount

PHONE 2-3164

Classified Ad Section

PHONE 2-3165

THE DAILY TEXAN BUSINESS DIRECTORY

BARBER SHOPS

NEW WAY BARBER SHOP
Haircuts 25c—Shaves 15c
Shampoo 25c—Children's Haircut 15c
Three Courteous Barbers. 409 W. 24th

BEAUTY SHOP

GUARANTEED PERMANENTS
$1.25 to $5.00
Oil of Castor, Vogue, Real Art, Nettle and Eugene MAROELS 5th
Call Mrs. Schrameck
Phone 2-5708 2806 Guadalupe

BOATS

DANCING ON THE RIVER
Dancing and picnicking under a silvery moon on the Colorado offers a delightfully romantic, colorful, and inexpensive evening.
Ten to twenty couples on a river barge.
Phone 2-1201 for reservations
KENNELWOOD BOAT CLUB
Lake Austin—one mile above dam.

CAFES

WUKASCH BROS HOME COOKING

2002 GUADALUPE

CHIROPRACTOR

DR. CARLIE WRIGHT RUCKER
CHIROPRACTOR
Foot Adjustments Massage
2-0200 Hrs. 2-6 203 W. 15th

COACHING

WOODSON, Residence 2203 Nueces.
Phone 2-4225. Math, physics, chemistry, psychology, English, Education and history.

DANCING

LEARN TO DANCE—8 lessons—$3.50.
Beginners—Advanced classes forming.
Ballroom—tango—tap. ANNETTE DUVALL SCHOOL OF DANCING. K. C. Hall.
108 W. 14. 8:30 to 2-3554.

DRESSMAKING

FIRST class dressmaking, alterations, remodeling. Alterations on short notice. Former fitter for Marie Antoinette. Prices reasonable. Cleo M. Smith. 113 W. 8. 4752.

FLORISTS

FULL value (we pay no commissions) in "everything floral." Corgases a specialty. SEERATZ FLORAL CO., 206 W. 19th. Phone 5115.

FLOWERS and corgases add to the joy of every occasion—make yours enjoyable by calling 2-2745. WATSON FLOWER PLACE, 2802 Nueces.

HARDWARE

UNIVERSITY HARDWARE CO.
"Everything for the Household."
GAS HEATERS
GAS CONNECTIONS
RCA RADIOS
2346 Guadalupe Phone 2-3677

LAUNDRIES

HOME LAUNDRY
PHONE 3702

PLUMBING

E. RAVEN—Plumbing, water heater repairing, gas piping, gas heaters and ranges connected. Sinks, sewers unstoped. 1403 Lavaca. Phone 6763.

RADIO

RADIO servicing. Prompt quality repairs at minimum prices. CUNNINGHAM RADIO SERVICE, 102 West 29th St. Call 7711.

SHOE REPAIRS

GOODYEAR SHOE SHOP
"Everything for the Shoe"
Comfortable and Spacious Waiting Room
Shoe Dyeing Shines
2326 Guadalupe Phone 4597
Gus A. Fritke, Proprietor

TAILOR

STYLE, fit and workmanship as only found in fine tailoring. Suits for as low as $15.00. Alterations and repairs. Phone 2-0622. F. X. MAYER, 135 E. 6th.

LEWIS THE TAILOR
Alterations a specialty. Cleaning and pressing. Phone 2-2322.

TAXI

AUSTIN TAXI
6167—Phones—2-2474
1 or 2 passengers 20c

4376—PHONES—6564
CONGRESS TAXI
One or two passengers in City Limits 20c
Univer. Station 24th & San Antonio

TYPEWRITERS

STECK'S RENT
TYPEWRITERS ARE
THE BEST IN AUSTIN
Phone 5334—We Deliver

PHONE 9412
Sold—Repaired—Rented
Lowest Prices
Satisfaction Guaranteed
TYPEWRITER SERVICE CO.
114 W. 5th St.

USED CARS

SPECIAL!

1930 La Salle Sport Coupe

New Firestone 6-ply Heavy-duty Tires.
This Car is exceptionally clean and has good Duco paint job.

$450

Trade and Terms
John H. Nash
MOTOR COMPANY
Authorized Chevrolet Dealer
Sales and Service
207 W. 5 Phone 2-1177 310 W. 5

Business Directory

RECORDS

"LEARNING" and "A NEEDLE IN A HAYSTACK" as played by Eddy Duchin have just arrived at the J. R. REED MUSIC CO. 805 Congress.

TAILOR

STYLE, fit and workmanship as only found in fine tailoring. Suits for as low as $15.00. Alterations and repairs. Phone 2-0622. F. X. MAYER, 135 E. 6th.

LEWIS THE TAILOR
Alterations a specialty. Cleaning and pressing. Phone 2-2322.

TAXI

AUSTIN TAXI
6167—Phones—2-2474
1 or 2 passengers 20c

4376—PHONES—6564
CONGRESS TAXI
One or two passengers in City Limits 20c
Univer. Station 24th & San Antonio

TYPEWRITERS

STECK'S RENT
TYPEWRITERS ARE
THE BEST IN AUSTIN
Phone 5334—We Deliver

PHONE 9412
Sold—Repaired—Rented
Lowest Prices
Satisfaction Guaranteed
TYPEWRITER SERVICE CO.
114 W. 5th St.

USED CARS

SPECIAL!

1930 La Salle Sport Coupe

New Firestone 6-ply Heavy-duty Tires.
This Car is exceptionally clean and has good Duco paint job.

$450

Trade and Terms

John H. Nash

MOTOR COMPANY

Authorized Chevrolet Dealer

Sales and Service

207 W. 5 Phone 2-1177 310 W. 5

USED PARTS

NEW AND USED parts. Nice stock used cars. Glass, batteries. Firestone tires. ALLEN USED CAR AND PARTS CO., 305 E. 6th. 2-5544.

BOARD AND ROOM

NICE ROOMS, excellent meals for 10 University boys. 25¢ blocks north-west of campus. Mrs. Ellen Bright. 2501 Nueces. Phone 2-4443.

LOST AND FOUND

LOST: Kappa Sigma pin, set with diamonds. Sunday or Monday. Reward. No questions asked. Phone B. W. Crain. 2-2610.

LOST: Austin Hi Class ring on campus. Also Lunt's "History of England." Finder please call Jacobson 5363.

LOST during final exam week of June, ring with large yellow setting. Sentimental value. Reward. Call 3951.

MISCELLANEOUS

ELIZABETH HARRISON might be able to take her Frank boy-friend to see "David Harum" if she'll come by J. B. 108 for her ticket.

UNIVERSITY stationery, 24 sheets, 24 envelopes 25c. All brands cigarettes 15c. Buy all your needs at HACE'S 5c & 10c STORE, 2332 Guadalupe.

FURNISHED HOUSES

HIGH CLASS English cottage. Five rooms, sleeping porch, garage. Beautifully furnished. Convenient in every detail. $50. 504 W. 21.

ROOMS FOR RENT

ROOM and board in private home for two boys. Private entrance. Adjoining bath. 2607 Salado. Phone 2-1252.

ROOM with sleeping porch and board. For two boys. $25. each per month. 2102 Guadalupe. Phone 6599.

SOUTHEAST ROOM in quiet, private home. Adjoining bath. New home. Simmons bed. Four large windows. Rates reasonable. Phone 6594.

VERY DESIRABLE clean, cool, southeast room. Near campus. Single beds. All modern conveniences. Private home. 1204 Nueces Street.

ROOMS in private home for young men students. Apply to 1601 San Jacinto Street. Mrs. L. B. Whittle.

BOYS: 3 newly furnished south rooms and porch. 4 blocks from campus. 2503 Rio Grande. Phone 8211.

BOYS or couple—room adjoining bath. Quiet, private new home. Breakfast if desired. Also sleeping porch room. Reasonable. Phone 6594.

WANTED TO BUY

HIGHEST CASH prices paid for second hand clothing, shoes, and suit cases. We buy musical instruments. A. SCHWARTZ. Phone 5762.

Markets Are People . . . .

And so long as human nature is human nature, people will grow tired of things, alter their ideas, and seek ever-new avenues to greater comfort and happiness. Since people are always searching for something, be sure what you want to sell is in a place where these people will see it as they search. Use The Daily Texan Classified Section.

"FFP"

FRENCH'S FOOT POWDER
For Real Foot Comfort

QUICKLY RELIEVES
"ATHLETE'S FOOT"
PREVENTS RE-INFECTION

25¢

ALL DRUG STORES

THE DAILY TEXAN

The Daily Texan, student newspaper of The University of Texas, is published on the campus of the University at Austin by The Texas Student Publications, Incorporated, every morning except Monday, throughout the long session. Editorial Offices—Journalism Building 101, 102, and 103. Telephone 9181-61 (After 10 p.m. 9187). Advertising and circulation department—Journalism Building 105—Phone 2-3164 and 2-3165. Printed by the University Press, A. C. Wright, Manager. Entered as second class matter at the postoffice at Austin, Texas. Subscription price by mail: Five dollars yearly.

Editor-in-chief _____ D. B. Hardeman
Associate Editor _____ Joe Storm
Telegraph Editor _____ John Polly
Secretary to the Editor _____ Kathryn Owens
Night Supervisor _____ Alex Louis
Proof Reader _____ Millard Zeagler

EDITORIAL WRITERS
Stanley Gunn _____ Dick West
Mildred Cooke _____ Kleber Miller

AMUSEMENTS DEPARTMENT
Co-editors _____ Mabel Shelby, Walter Walker

SPORTS DEPARTMENT
Editor _____ Warren Cooper
Associate Editor _____ Stanley Gunn
Assistants _____ Joe Beiden, Jr., Ed Hodge, Douglas Perkins
and Cecil E. Burney.

SOCIETY DEPARTMENT
Editor _____ Mabel Shelby
Associate Editor _____ Mildred Smith

FOR THIS ISSUE

Night Editor _____ Bill Bedell
Head Copyreader _____ Rupert Clark
Assistants: Ada Reed McGill, Katherine Heath, Adele Baker, Artie Lee, Calamont, Lynn Jackson, Carolyn Malina, Edmund Van Zandt, Ann Faulk.
Day Volunteers: Pericles Alexander, Bob Kaufman, Frances Odom, Howard Grimes, Marion Hill, Oletta Perrin, Betty Pugh.

Back A Worthwhile Drive

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. of the University start an annual drive for membership this week. These organizations are seeking to enlist some 3,000 students on their rolls, there being no restrictions to membership except affiliation as a student in the University.

The "Y" history on the campus reveals a story of struggle and progress. Such influential men on the campus as Dr. Daniel Penick, Dean T. U. Taylor, and Dr. W. J. Battle have cooperated for several decades in bringing to the Forty Acres an institution that stands for morality in every phase of collegiate life. In spite of the depressions of 1893 and 1907, the drive continued unabated, and culminated in 1912 with the erection of the present building on Guadalupe Street—a graphic story of what determination can do.

A digest of the different activities in the "Y" organizations show the following: Organization for the furtherance of peace; a fellowship group designed to enable freshmen to become better acquainted on the campus; an inter-church relations club to foster religious activity on the part of students; social economics groups that inspire in the members a desire to study current conditions and learn how they can be intelligently solved; a club to foster fine arts appreciation; and an international relations group.

Nearly 2,000 students took part in these activities last year. None of them regret the invaluable friendships they made and the liberal knowledge they gained in the free discussion of subjects listed above.

Every student can not be a fraternity or a sorority member, but in the "Y's" he does have an opportunity to join some kind of an organization that can give him close friendships. They will be associations that will not die when college is over, for they will have been prompted by a mutual desire for better living.

Join some of these groups and enjoy a well-rounded college life of the wholesome sort. That is what they are for. That is why they are successful.

NOTES FROM WASHINGTON

By KARL KAHN
Copyright, 1934

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—(INS)—Postmaster General Farley and Dolly Gann have crashed the pages of 1934's Who's Who, but Jerome Dean didn't make the thick red book of potent people.

Dizzy should worry, Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, says the dizziest Dean would be gilt-edge security for a loan at the Reconstruction Finance Corporation any day in the week.

Who's Who, or Dizzy, now?

The last Congress told the Federal Reserve it could lend $280,000,000 to small industries.

In four months only some $2,000,000 has gone out in loans, and about $10,000,000 in loans has been approved.

The Federal Reserve is worrying that it will be supplanted by a central bank.

That's strange.

The funeral code authority has requested the NRA to make a code amendment which would provide that no member of the industry use the words "gratis," "free of charge," or "no added charges" in advertising funeral services.

Rather an indelicate request, it seems, at a time when the Blue Eagle is half dead and so many official heads are being chopped off in the birds roost.

Senator James Hamilton Lewis, chairman of the Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, predicts that the Democrats will pick up at least nine, possibly ten Senate seats in the November election.

The Senior Senator from Illinois claims Missouri, Ohio, West Virginia, New Jersey, New Mexico, Indiana, Rhode Island, Maryland and Minnesota, and puts Michigan in the "possibly class."

Senator Lewis, says the gentlemen at Republican headquarters, is talking through his pink whiskers.

At that, the Senator didn't mention Connecticut, Delaware, Vermont, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin, which some of the Democrats are claiming.

How many claims make a vote in your state?

MUSINGS

By VANCE MUSE, JR.

Overheard Joe Collegian chatter: "I don't Library much when I say I'll be Sutton to come by in a Waggener car." I Auditorium to pieces.

"Spec," porter at the Phi Gam house, does card tricks that would make most professionals extremely envious. Black magic, we call it.

When asked if you can saddle a horse, the bright (?) answer is always, "Sure—it's a cinch."

To wax serious a moment—it occurs to us that patriotism should not be confined solely to a college or a state. Students who recently stood and cheered when "The Eyes of Texas" was played, later ignored the rendition of the national anthem ("The Star Spangled Banner"). It seems that the Eyes of Texas should be able to see past the boundaries of the State.

We are rather tardy in dedicating to SRD "My Old Flame."

Gracie, who couldn't blow her nose if brains were dynamite, wants to know if those CCC workers are Spanish yes-men.

BEG PARDON

The statement published in The Daily Texan Monday, which quoted Dr. R. H. Cuyler, instructor in geology, as saying that geologically speaking, he estimated that in ten million years, Barton Springs would dry up, was unauthorized and completely misleading. Dr. Cuyler said he has never made any estimation as to the life of the springs.

From Our Readers

THE DALLAS CLUB

It was with true dismay that I read in the Firing Line Tuesday morning that a call was being made for students whose homes are in Dallas to organize a club. Many Dallas students on this campus, including the writer, feel sincere pride in the fact that no narrow clique from that town has ever felt itself so isolated from the rest of the student body as to be forced to organize in order to be able to "enjoy the social privileges" received from the University.

Most students will admit that they come to the University to pick up new ideas. Perhaps the best method of beginning such new lines of thought is the daily contact with intelligent strangers. Certainly no person, on enrolling in an institution of statewide attendance, should attempt to shut himself up in a tight provincial shell with only those who have the same mental background. He will stagnate in the depths of his homesickness.

Yours truly,
G. L. C.

ABOUT OUR LIBRARY

I would like to call the attention of our faculty and student body to the fact that The University of Texas is endowed with one of the largest and most commodious library buildings in the United States. A second remarkable feature about our library is the fact that the equipment is the most modern available, with the suction tube communication with every floor of the building, a voluminous card index system, elevators in the building and many other labor saving devices, devised and installed for the single purpose of saving both the time of the student and of the library assistants. A third remarkable feature rests in the fact that the library personnel is composed of some of the keenest minds on the campus.

But evidently the most remarkable feature of the whole system is the gross inefficiency obtained from adding together the greatest building, the most up-to-date equipment, and the 'campus brain trust.'

I am sure that everyone who has tried to obtain a book from the loan desk of this magnificent institution can well appreciate the following incident in the life of the author who is listed among the unfortunates who has attempted to borrow a book.

Having two hours of leisure until the next class, I decided that I would invest that time most profitably in some outside reading. Arriving at the loan desk, I was told that I must have my auditor's receipt in order to obtain a library number, which in turn meant a trip home. Nothing daunted, I went home and obtained the slip, and after waiting a not inconsiderable time, the library number was procured.

The next trip was over to the card index to obtain the call number. Another prolonged wait at the desk for service, during which time three assistants wandered leisurely around evidently doing nothing but making money (they get paid by the hour.) Forced at last to ask for service, one of those intellectual minds sauntered over and said "Did you want something?" I wondered how he got on the honor roll, and especially how he was able to hold that job. He took the card, and after a dilatory search through several indexes, and a couple of jokes with the other assistants, he returns to tell me that he book is on reserve. Taking the stairs, the elevator being undependable, I went to the reserve loan desk. Another interminable wait produced the result that the book was not on reserve after all and that the general loan desk must have made some mistake. Another trip up those stairs, a re-check on the call number, another prolonged wait at the desk, another examination by the employee through the files finally produced the answer for which I had worked so hard and waited so long—the book was out. Two hours consumed, a weary body, a pleasant disposition shot to pieces, and absolutely nothing accomplished.

I believe that most of the student body will bear me out in the contention that we could better do without a library than to have one where the source material is practically inaccessible. Twelve million dollars worth of building, and books worth actually $12 to the student body. Surely something can be done about it. A little efficiency among the employees, a further division of labor, and a foreman to keep the assistants on their toes would probably give better results. Don't you think so?

— O. B. M.

Club to hold tryouts
Tryouts for Bit and Spur will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Westernfield Riding Club. Augusta Boyle, leader, has arranged for a car to be at the Women's Gym at 3:40 o'clock to meet those who have no transportation.

Felix Klein of Taylor visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Klein, over the week-end.

Official Notice

THE FOLLOWING law students please call for mail in Dean Ira Hildebrand's office.

A. E. Amerman
Philip Bren
Philip Pfeiffer Brown
William Morris Brown
William Stephens Clarke
Hugh Jack Cureton Jr.
William E. Cureton
Jesse M. Davis
Chris James Dixie
Kraft Warren Eidman
Walter Raleigh Ely, Jr.
Wickliffe Walthen Fisher
Simon Moritz Frank
Elias Gatoura
Dick Hoskins Gregg
William Shumate Harris
Richard Henderson
William Orr Huie
John Abness Kerr, Jr.
Leon Jacobson
William Joseph Laney
Harold S. Long
Milton Joseph Mehl, Jr.
Max Mendlovitz
Lucian Edward Morehead
Vaughan Watkins McLeod
Joe Henry Munster
Covey Thomas Oliver
Buckley B. Paddock
Frank Marion Ryburn, Jr.
John Waltham Rutland
Benno Charles Schmidt
Harold John Schulz
John M. Scott
Ben Gardner Sewell
A. J. Smith
Arthur Poe Terrell
Ross D. Terry
Herfonce Weinert
Sam Wilcox
Herman Vaughan Wright
William Glen Yarbrough
IRA P. HILDEBRAND,
dean of the School of Law

THE EXAMINATION for the Brown University mathematical prizes will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday, October 13, in Waggener Hall 101. The competition is open to all regular freshmen. See Catalogue, Part I, page 18. P. M. BATCHELDER, chairman, Department of Pure Mathematics.

BIT AND SPUR tryouts are to be Wednesday at 4 o'clock at Westernfield riding ring. A car will

DAVID RAMSEY

invites your patronage

As student to student—

Let US worry about your car. Drive into our student-operated station where service is given in a friendly fashion.

HUMBLE GASOLINE AND OIL
CERTIFIED LUBRICATION
WASHING AND POLISHING

An HUMBLE Station
1800 San Jacinto

One block South of the signal light.

be at the Woman's Gym at 3:50 o'clock to take those who have no transportation.

ANNA HISS, director of physical training for women.

THE FOLLOWING STUDENTS please report to the Registrar's Office (Sutton Hall 101) at once:

Breedlove, Robert L.
Brown, Fred George
Carlisle, G. I.
Choate, Elby D.
Churchwell, Luther William
Cunningham, Benjamin Brooks
Foster, Lloyd Vance
Foster, Mrs. Ray Beth Pegram
Fulwiler, Harry Fuller
Fulwiler, William James
Gamble, Melba Burnay
Gathings, George Wilder
Gonzalez, Louis
Imle, Edgar Fremont
Hall, Clifford Ragland
Hamilton, Olan Harvey
Lee, John Aubrey
McAllister, Alex William
McClung, Claude
Saxon, Mrs. Alice Louise Moore
Schmidt, Edward Herman
Shaffer, Charles Norton
Shelton, Joe Harrison
Smith, Elnora Marjorie
Smith, Mabel Beatrice
Stagner, Jack
Steed, Lonie Mose

E. J. MATHEWS,
Registrar

HOUSEMOTHERS for women will meet Wednesday, October 10, in Room 301, Texas Union at 3 o'clock. Important reorganization and business meeting.

RUBY TERRILL-LOMAX,
dean of women.

DELAYED APTITUDE tests for freshmen will be given Thursday night, October 11, in Hogg Memorial Auditorium beginning at 7:30 for new freshmen who did not take the exams on September 19. Bring two sharp pencils. The test is required of every new freshman. Be sure to be prompt.

E. J. MATHEWS,
Registrar.

ENGLISH 12 students are invited to visit an exhibition of Chaucerian items in the Wrenn Library. Different pages of the facsimile of the Ellesmere MS. will be shown each day. This exhibition will be taken down about October 17.

E. G. FLETCHER,
Professor of English.

PI LAMBDA THETA, women's education sorority, will hold its first regular meeting Thursday night, October 11, at 7:30 o'clock at the Faculty Women's Club. All members are urged to attend.

MARY BELLE GRANGER,
President.

Cosmorama Club To Meet Tonight

The Cosmorama Club will resume its campus activities tonight with its initial meeting at Texas Union 309 at 7:30 o'clock. New officers will be elected, a new constitution will be voted upon, and plans for the year will be formed. Julius Deutsch announced.

The club was popular on the campus last year and proved instrumental in the movement to secure federal relief jobs for University students. There are no restrictions on membership.

MORRISON IMPROVING

Bob Morrison, undergoing treatment at the Hotel Dieu in New Orleans for pneumonia, is rapidly improving, according to the latest word received by his mother, Mrs. Charles W. Morrison. He is expected home within two weeks.

MUSSOLINI DENIES 'WINK'

ROME, Oct. 9.—(INS)—The Italian Government press bureau today issued an official denial of a report published in the United States that 500,000 persons gathered at Milan Saturday laughed when Premier Mussolini spoke of increasing friendship between France and Italy.

The press bureau likewise denied that Il Duce had "winked" when he referred to Franco-Italian amity, which the erroneous report declared had precipitated the laughter.

Fears were expressed that publication of the article may cause a serious misunderstanding in Italy's definite efforts to reach a rapprochement with France.

Gladys Matson and Roas Nell McPhail were selected as librarians of the Girls' Glee Club at a meeting Monday afternoon.

WHEN

Freshmen Become Seniors

AND

Reach the End of Their COLLEGE CAREER

THEY will find that the events and thrills, the joys and friendships of the college year need not be lost and forgotten. For they will have THE CACTUS, a $20,000 volume, the yearbook of their University—a copy for each year, a book that has recorded in word and picture everything of significance that has happened over the span of time.

AND they will be there too—represented individually in the class sections—first a freshman, then a sophomore, a junior, a senior, a graduate perhaps—

THOSE pictures are now being made—for freshmen and sophomores—appointments at Journalism Building 108 (Old Engineering Building).

PERPETUATE YOURSELF
IN THE PARADE OF
COLLEGE LIFE THROUGH

THE CACTUS

"The Book of Texas"

Fair enough—

FROM time to time we tell you facts about Chesterfield Cigarettes.

We say that Chesterfields are different from other cigarettes—that the tobaccos are different, the paper is different, and the way they are made is different.

Everything that modern Science knows about or that money can buy is used in making Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette—a cigarette that Satisfies.

You can prove what we tell you about Chesterfield.

May we ask you to try them—
—that would seem to be fair enough.

Strictly on their merits

the cigarette that's Milder
the cigarette that Tastes Better

On the air—

MONDAY ROSA
WEDNESDAY NINO
SATURDAY GRETE
PONSILLE MARTINI STUECKGOLD
KOSTELANETZ ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS
8 P. M. (C. S. T.)—COLUMBIA NETWORK