9 Talking Days Before Election; Pack Stumps On

Campaigners Snipe At Other Hopefuls In Wordy Battles

By The Associated Press

US Senate race candidates battled for attention Saturday with just nine more talking days left until the voters speak in the April 2 special election.

Mostly they concentrated their pleas on assertions of how they would handle such national issues as the federal budget, inflation, old age pensions, foreign aid.

Martin Dies, congressman-at-large seeking promotion to the senate to fill the unexpired term of Price Daniel, took potshots at Thad Hutcheson of Houston, the GOP organization's lone candidate.

Dies Slams Thad

Dies said Hutcheson had "one platform for Houston, another for Pampa, and others for different parts of the state" and was trying to "fool the voters with inconsistent campaign statements."

At Austin, James P. Hart announced endorsement by former Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann of Dallas and former Supreme Court Justice A. J. Folley of Amarillo and W. M. Taylor of Dallas.

Ex-Regents Support Hart

There former regents, who served while Hart was chancellor of The University of Texas, also endorsed the candidate: James W. Rockwell of Houston, Edward B. Tucker of Nacogdoches, Mrs. Edgar Tobin of San Antonio, W. M. G. Swenson of Stamford, William E. Darden of Waco.

In Fort Worth, the Star Telegram Sunday announced its support of Dies. The newspaper said Dies, a veteran of 17 years in Congress, appears to be the only candidate whose qualifications and experience would enable him to settle into the senatorial harness and go effectively to work from the moment he arrives in Washington.

Hart talked finances. He said at McKinney that the Republican Administration's tight money policy has failed to control inflation and a better way must be found. The government must help by cutting its budget, he suggested.

Panhandle Snow Fury Traps 200 Travelers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freezing blizzard with heavy snow and gusts of wind up to 80 miles per hour roared through the Texas Panhandle Saturday. Up to 200 persons were snowbound on frozen highways in buses and automobiles.

Late Saturday, blowing snow reduced visibility to zero at Dalhart and other points. Most Panhandle highways were blocked by deep drifts.

Temperatures dropped steadily and were due to hit a low of 20 degrees before dawn Sunday.

Up to 200 automobiles were believed stranded about 40 miles west of Amarillo. Between 200 and 300 motorists took refuge in homes and public buildings at Vega, 32 miles west of Amarillo.

Fear was expressed for the safety of motorists caught in their cars.

CAA personnel at the Dalhart Airport termed it "blizzard conditions" there. They said visibility was zero with gusts of winds up to 72 miles per hour. Earlier, winds peaked at 80 miles per hour at Amarillo.

Snow Piling in Drifts

Some six or seven automobiles were said to be stranded just outside Dalhart.

The sheriff's office at Stratford, 81 miles north of Amarillo, said "a good many" motorists were stranded there. Snow was piling up in drifts there in late evening.

Two loaded buses were stranded about 22 miles west of Amarillo. A group of cars were stalled in drifts about 10 miles farther west between the towns of Vega and Adrian.

"Everyone feels helpless," Wayne Cook, filling station operator at Vega, said. "We can't see to do anything."

Late Saturday, Cook said Vega had gotten between four and five inches of snow and "there's more snow blowing now than there has been all day."

"If anything, it's getting worse," Cook said. "It's a bad situation up here right now. How long it will last nobody knows."

Snow Plows Blocked

Cook said snow plows were unable to make much progress. "The stalled cars are blocking the road and the snow plows can't get through," he said.

"We've got everything full," he added. He said the town—Vega has a population of about 700—had opened its doors to motorists. They were lodged in the courthouse, American Legion Hall, schools, and private homes, in addition to the three small hotels and motels.

Cook estimated that between 150 and 200 cars were stranded between Vega and Adrian, 13 miles to the west. Vega is about 32 miles west of Amarillo.

The Amarillo Globe-News said many highways in the area were blocked.

In Amarillo, the Santa Fe Railroad said it was preparing to send a relief train north to Boyce City, Okla., to pick up passengers of two Continental Trailways buses stranded near the Oklahoma panhandle town.

UT Takes Aggies 8-4 In Wet Series Opener

By EDDIE HUGHES

Texas Sports Editor

COLLEGE STATION — Early morning rains caused the postponement of the second game of a scheduled two-game baseball series between Texas and Texas A&M here Saturday, with the Longhorns now looking forward to a two-game series with SMU in Austin next weekend.

Coach Bibb Falk's Longhorn nine, with the effective, if not superb, pitching of big George Myers Friday afternoon at Kyle Field, took the series opener, 8-4, and had planned to go with veteran Harry Taylor or sophomore Howard Reed Saturday. But since Kyle Field was ankle deep in water from rains early Saturday, officials decided to call the final game of the series.

To Be Played in Austin

It will be played as a doubleheader when the Aggies and Texas play in Austin on the final day of the season, May 14.

Although the Longhorns will step aside from conference action Monday and Tuesday with their annual series with the Minnesota Gophers at Clark Field in Austin, they have their eyes trained on a crucial two-game series with SMU's Mustangs Friday and Saturday at Clark Field. A sweep of the series with the highly respected Pony team will be hard to accomplish, but if done, would give the Longhorns the start they need to win their first SWC baseball title since 1954.

Kyle Field has always proved to be a jinx to Longhorn baseball teams in the past, but Myers, although giving up 11 hits in going eight innings, struck out 11 and aided his own cause considerably in the first inning with a three-run home run blast.

Moore Connects Too

Myers wasn't the only one to boast of a home run Friday for Texas, as Bill Moore, who claimed he couldn't hit any kind of left-handers, disproved it with a line-shot blast over the rightfield wall off southpaw Toby Newton in the next inning.

Until the Aggie game Friday, the Longhorns had been having trouble against left-handers. Newton was the fifth they had faced this season, and the first one they had been able to get a hit off of, as Myers' circuit clout in the first inning was the initial blow off a southpaw. Moore got the third one with his homer, thus breaking the left-hander's jinx too.

Hurlers on Hand

Whether the rain helped the Longhorns or not, one can never tell. Although a sweep seemed most unlikely because jinxes usually win out, Texas had Taylor and Reed available along with Billy Ed Marshall, Ray Stauffer, J. L. Smith and Bob Suddeth for relief duty, and could have made a clean sweep.

Shoddy play by the Aggies—and by Texas, too—was a big factor in who got the runs. In all, Texas got one earned run while A&M got two.

Crowd Appreciates 7 Wagner Encores

By ANN RUDD

Texas Amusements Staff

"I don't believe you Texans ever sleep," said Conductor Roger Wagner as the Gregory Gymnasium cried for seven encores Saturday night.

So enthusiastic was their reaction that Mr. Wagner had to quiet the crowd to speak his appreciation for their response. However, it was their encores that were most appreciated, although the Chorale presented a well-rounded program.

Renaissance Trilogy

Opening the evening's CEC event was a trilogy of Renaissance music: "Ave Marie" by Vittoria, "Tu es Petrus" by Palestrina, and "Vere Languores." Several light classics, "Hear the Murmuring Waters" by Monteverdi, "Echo Song" by Di Lasso, and "Four Motets, Opus 74" by Brahms followed.

One of the outstanding moments of the evening was "Sacred Service," from the ancient Hebrew by Bloch. Paul Hinshaw was soloist. Soloist Hinshaw also did a creditable job on a Spanish song, "Ayer Te He Visto."

Suite in Folk Idiom

Closer to their more familiar folk style was the presentation of a chorale suite, "Mirror for the Sky," written in folk idiom. The four movements were "Contestoga Wagons," "Woman Is the Forged Wheel," "Along About Cockerow," and "Big Chickie, Little Chickie."

The Chorale is fortunate to have Duo-pianists Stecher and Horowitz, who contributed much to the program, both as accompanists and as performers. Their selections included "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" by Bach-Hess, "Waltz" (Suite No. 2, Opus 1) by Rachmaninoff, and "Ritmo" by Infante.

Seven Encores

The Chorale received seven encores including "Skip to My Lou," "Cindy," "Frere Jacques," "Oh, Dear, What Can the Matter Be?" "Polly-Wolly Doodle," and "Oklahoma."

The program was enjoyable, but had Mr. Wagner presented more of the folk music for which his group is famous, the audience would have been his all evening—not just at encore time.

Engineers Check English Building

Tests by College of Engineering staff members to determine the cause of buckling of ceilings in the English Building are still in progress, a spokesman in the Comptroller's office reported Friday.

The spokesman said the cause of the buckling cannot be pin pointed at this time. He added that an extensive study is under way and once the answer is found the problem will be corrected.

The spokesman said there is no faulty construction and no danger that anyone will be injured.

Squares of the sound-proof ceiling, including segments of the steel braces which support the ceiling composition, have been removed for testing.

Managing Editor Of Texan Resigns

Vade Smith, managing editor of The Daily Texan, has announced his resignation from that post effective April 1.

Students with Texan experience who wish to apply for the position should pick up an application form from Mrs. Earl Lindsey, Business Manager of Texas Student Publications.

Completed forms should be returned with a letter of application and a transcript of grades through last semester to Mrs. Lindsey, Journalism Building 107, by Wednesday noon.

The executive committee of the TSP Board will meet to select a managing editor to succeed Smith either Thursday or Friday.

R-U Barbecue Tickets Go On Sale Monday

By PHYLLIS COFFEE

Texas Staff Writer

With 750 pounds of barbecued steers, the Round-Up Barbecue Committee plans to feed about 3,000 hungry Texans from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. April 5.

Barbecue tickets will go on sale in living units, the University Co-Op, and the four Hemphill's stores Monday. They may also be purchased from a booth in front of the Union Building from 10 to 11 a.m. next week. The tickets, which cost 75 cents if bought in advance and $1 at the gate, will be available at various booths on the campus the week of the barbecue.

The evening's activities will be set off with a program of popular entertainment from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Five Sweethearts Will Represent SWC in Parade

Five visiting Southwest Conference sweethearts who will be in the Round-Up Parade have been announced by Barbara Benson, Round-Up office director.

They are Shelby Sanders, TSCW, Aggie sweetheart; Lee Ann Lane, Baylor; Martiele May, SMU; Gayle Scott, TCU; and Naomi Robins, Rice. The sweethearts of Arkansas and Texas Tech are not yet known.

Daniel Favors Hike In Teachers' Wages

"There is no finer profession, and no profession needs finer people," said Governor Price Daniel in his talk to the Texas Association of Future Teachers of America at its tenth annual state convention in Batts Hall Auditorium Friday morning.

Governor Daniel, speaking to approximately 400 FTA members, said there is no reason why the public schools should not be the best. For better schools, better salaries are needed, he said. He recommends an increase in the starting salary of teachers along with a long-range study to determine the exact needs of the increasing enrollment.

Other members of the program were Dr. C. L. Yarbrough of Snyder, National Education Association state director, who introduced Mr.

Round-Up for the thirteenth consecutive year, will furnish the barbecue, potato salad, and beans. Also on the menu will be bread, Cokes, and ice cream.

The food will be served in the southwest corner of the Forty Acres by APOs, Cowboys, and Spurs. In case of rain, festivities will be moved into Texas Union ballroom.

Sally Moore and Buddy Dau, Barbecue Committee co-chairmen, promise that service will be quick and efficient.

University Sweetheart Celia Buchanan and John White will be mistress and master of ceremonies for the entertainment, which will include the selection of the Beard-Growing Contest winners.

Preliminary judging for the 100 bearded entries will be held at 4 p.m. April 4. Four finalists in each of the four divisions will compete for honors at the barbecue.

A portable TV set from Speedway Radio and TV Service will be given

Fine Arts Council Plans Graduation Ceremonies

Fine Arts Student Council has turned its attention to the spring graduation of seniors in the College of Fine Arts.

Among suggestions for the May ceremonies were a meeting of the seniors with Jack Maguire, executive secretary of the Ex-Students' Association, and a luncheon for seniors and their parents.

Daniel, and Dr. A. J. Stoddard, former Los Angeles school superintendent and now a consultant for the Ford Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education.

Dr. Stoddard, educator for more than 50 years, said in reference to a statement made earlier by Governor Daniel that Texas Schools are already the best. Described as a "great spirit in the field of education" by Dr. Yarbrough, Dr. Stoddard said that there will always be a shortage of teachers because America is trying to do so much.

Friday night an anniversary party marking the tenth birthday of the Texas association was held in the Union Ballroom.

Miss Waurine Walker, past president of the National Education Association, spoke at the banquet Saturday night at the Driskill Hotel.

the winner of the "bushiest" or best natural-growth division.

The man with the best-looking natural red beard will receive a pair of slacks from Jorace Men's Wear. The winner of the "mustachio" contest will receive a complete shaving kit from Kruger Jewelry Co.

The best "peach fuzz" beard winner, a division open only to freshmen, will be given a pair of slacks from Reynolds-Penland Co.

Winners in each division will also get a kiss from Miss Buchan.

Vic Sterzing Will Perform At R-U Dance

Vic Sterzing and "The Talk of the Town Music" with the "Town-Crier" vocal group will play for the Round-Up dance Friday, April 5, in the Main Ballroom of Texas Union.

At the same time the Cripple Creek Ranch Hands will be playing and calling for a square dance in the University Commons. Both dances will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets, which are $2 per couple, are on sale at the Co-Op, Hemphill's, Reynolds-Penland, and Reed Music Store.

Sterzing is widely known as a drummer, having played at Coronado Beach and Mission Beach, Calif., and at several hotels in southern California, Arizona, and Texas. He has appeared in Mexico at resort spots such as Aqua Caliente and Mexicali.

Jill Schutze, University music student, will sing with the orchestra for the Round-Up Dance.

London Scientist To Speak Monday

Professor Ernest Baldwin, biochemist from the University of London, will address the Seminar in Biological Sciences at 4:30 p.m. Monday in Chemistry Building 15.

He will be on campus Monday and Tuesday as a guest of the Department of Chemistry and the Biochemical Institute.

Professor Baldwin will speak on "Comparative Aspects of Nitrogen Metabolism." He is the author of "Dynamic Aspects of Biochemistry" and "Comparative Biochemistry."

Phi Sigs Join Student Party

Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity booted the Representative Party, last week, voting unanimously to join the Student Party.

The fraternity had been a member group of the Representative Party. Thurston Barnett, Student Party chairman, on hearing of the vote, said, "I think this is a manifestation of the discontent that is present in any group where certain of its members are not given a democratic opportunity to develop and grow. I am happy to welcome Phi Sigma Kappa and any other group that chooses to associate with the Student Party."

Famous journalists spoke; student journalists resolved, re-resolved, and decided issues; and a new state-wide advertising association was formed—all at the Southwestern Journalism Congress held at Texas A&M Thursday through Saturday. Seven University journalism students and three faculty members represented the University.

William Randolph Hearst Jr., editor-in-chief of the Hearst newspapers, spoke to the 150 luncheon guests Friday on "The World Today." He called for a change in the State Department's policy of refusing to allow newspapermen to visit Red China. While declaring he would not send a reporter there against the administration's wishes, Mr. Hearst voiced opposition to any such restriction of the press concerning foreign news coverage.

"We understand policies of foreign countries from reading newspapers," he said, "therefore the public must be kept informed by the press."

Newspaper reporters should be allowed to visit any place in the world, he concluded.

16,697 Enrolled For Spring Term

There are 16,697 students enrolled in the University for the spring semester, according to a report released by the Registrar's office. This is an increase of 136 over last spring's enrollment.

The decrease in spring semester enrollment, as compared to the fall semester, is the highest since 1950-51, when it was 14.6 per cent. This year's decrease is 9.3 per cent. Last year's was 6.2 per cent.

This means that 3,290 students who were here in the fall either received their degrees or dropped out of school. Last year's drop from fall to spring enrollment was 2,870.

The number of students being readmitted to the University was 15,952, an increase of 238 over last spring's readmissions.

Students coming in from other colleges and from high schools totaled 745. The number of high school graduates and senior college transfers enrolling this spring dropped off slightly from last spring's figures.

Student Journalists Denounce Censorship

Famous journalists spoke; student journalists resolved, re-resolved, and decided issues; and a new state-wide advertising association was formed—all at the Southwestern Journalism Congress held at Texas A&M Thursday through Saturday. Seven University journalism students and three faculty members represented the University.

restriction was the resolution passed by the Southwestern Students' Press Club concerning the "withholding of information at the sources of news in all levels of government." It called for journalistic enterprise and diligence to keep alive "the tradition of public service inherent in a free press."

But the biggest bombshell thrown into the Southwestern Students' Press Club — and passed nearly verbatim — was the resolution submitted by The University of Texas delegation:

"WHEREAS the supervision by non-student advisors has frequently hindered the editorial freedom of many student newspapers; and WHEREAS the student newspaper's primary purpose is to serve students; and WHEREAS the students' voices are heard through the opinions expressed in the student newspapers; BE IT HEREBY RESOLVED that the Southwestern Students' Press Club opposes non-student censorship and editorial supervision not concerned with editorial matter which may be construed as libelous and therefore detrimental to the paper's well-being."

Mark S. Smith, University student who presented the resolution, said the discussion of censorship was not at all new.

"Only last year a violent battle was waged against censorship of student newspapers by The Daily Texan editor," he said. "We do not propose to reiterate previous arguments, but to declare our support of an advisor with whom we may consult, especially concerning libel possibilities. We are opposed to any other form of non-student participation which may lead to censorship."

Advertising Group Formed

Saturday morning 17 students from six Texas colleges and universities formed the Student Advertising Association of Texas. It is dedicated to promoting student publication advertising.

Les Bears, University advertising major, was elected parliamentarian of the group. Other charter members from the University include Roger Broach and Smith. All three are members of Alpha Delta Sigma, a professional advertising fraternity.

The next meeting of the Southwestern Journalism Congress will be held at Baylor University next year. This year's gathering included journalists from the United Press, The Houston Chronicle, Columbia Broadcasting System, US Steel Corporation, the Hearst radio network, and McGraw-Hill Publishing Company.

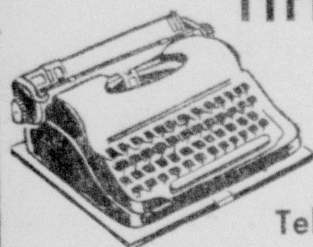

TAR HEELS WIN NCAA TITLE IN THREE OVERTIMES, 54-53

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two free throws by calm Joe Quigg with six seconds remaining in the third overtime broke up a bitterly contested game and gave the North Carolina Tar Heels a 54-53 victory over Kansas and the NCAA major college basketball championship Saturday night.

The Tar Heels, extending their one-season record to 32 victories, wiped out a five-point deficit late in regulation play to send the game into the first overtime at 46-all.

The score stood 48-all after the first extra period as each team tallied a field goal and neither was able to count in a wild second overtime, marred by a mild tussle. Both coaches, Dick Harp of Kansas and Frank McGuire of North Carolina, came on the playing floor.

San Francisco's Dons, with Gene Brown hitting in the clutches, defeated Michigan State's Spartans 67 to 60 for third place in the tournament.

Minnesota Gophers Here for UT Series

National Champs Play Two Tilts Starting Monday

By RAY COLLINS

The defending champions of collegiate baseball, the Minnesota Gophers, will begin their season with their annual series against the Texas Longhorns here in Clark Field Monday and Tuesday.

The games are scheduled for 3 p.m.

Coach Dick Siebert brings an experienced squad with him including seven lettermen, headed by All-American pitcher Jerry Thomas.

Jack McCarton, all-conference third-baseman in the Big Ten last year, returns with such other familiar stars as Doug Gillen, first base; Dave Lindblom, center field; and Woody Erickson, catcher.

Other positions will be filled by promising sophomores and service returnees. Second base seems to be a questionable spot with Max Schmitt the leading candidate.

Dean Maas, Gopher football captain, should aid the Gopher pitching staff, having given a good showing in the College World Series in Omaha last year.

At shortstop will probably be Pete Badali, a sophomore who is a veteran of two years service in Europe. Leading contenders for the right and left field jobs are Ken Bombardier, Billy Sandback and Skeeter Nelson, all three of whom are sophomores.

McCarton, who was the leading hitter for the Gophers last season, will probably hit in the clean-up position this year. Last year he batted .436 and hit eight home runs. He knocked in 32 runs.

Thomas, known for his good control, will probably oppose Howard Reed or Harry Taylor in the opener here. Thomas had a 12-1 record last season, and a 2.80 earned run average. In the opener here last year, Thomas was the winning pitcher, giving up only seven hits. One was a home run by Jerry Good, present Steer first baseman.

Other mound help will be provided by George Thomas, brother of Jerry, Art Renteria, and southpaws Dick Siebert Jr. and Phil Gustafson.

Texas Handball Team Nears SWC Crown

HOUSTON (Sp.) — Jack Davis, top-seeded singles player from the University of Texas, forged his Longhorn handball team into the lead of the Southwest Conference handball tournament here Saturday by reaching the singles finals in Class A.

The tournament will finish play Sunday, but it already appears that Texas will repeat as conference champion. If so, it will mark their seventh major tournament victory in three years, including the national title last year.

Davis gained the finals Saturday by easily taking Mickie Klug of the University of Houston, 21-7, 21-9. Davis showed tremendous authority with his drive shots. He entered the semifinals by defeating George Ragsdale of Texas A&M, 21-10, 21-9.

Education Talk Tuesday

Charles B. Park, Central Michigan College director of special studies, will conduct a seminar Tuesday at 3 p.m. in Batts Auditorium.

Several leading Texas educators and a non-professional advisory committee have been invited to attend by Dr. Roy M. Hall, coordinator of a Texas study of the effective use of school properties and instructional personnel.

Mr. Park will report on the effectiveness of a "teacher-aide" program used in Michigan.

The Ford Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education authorized Michigan's Co-operative Study for the Better Utilization of Teacher Competencies in 1952.

One phase of the program includes experimental use of teacher-aides as a partial answer to the growing teacher shortage.

ASME Meets Monday

William F. Ryan, national president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will address the engineering faculty and students at a public meeting Monday at 10 a.m. in Batts Auditorium.

A resident of West Newton, Mass., Mr. Ryan is vice-president and senior consulting engineer of Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation. Since receiving his master's degree in mechanical engineering from Harvard University in 1913, he has been engaged in engineering work, particularly in the steam-power field.

He also has had experience in design of chemical and industrial plants and recently in nuclear projects.

Mr. Ryan is an honorary member of the Harvard Engineering Society, ASME, and the Award of Engineering Societies of New England. In 1954, he was awarded an honorary doctor of science degree by the Catholic University of America.

Syria—Tertium Quid?

Dag, Nasser Negotiate; Bermuda Talks Begin

As UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld conferred in Cairo with Egypt's President Nasser last week, Israel stated she would wage open war against Egypt if Nasser "tries to block our historic and legal passage to the Gulf of Aqaba."

Globus-Focus

Hamarskjöld was presumed desirous of a buffer zone between Israel and the Gaza Strip to prevent border fighting and Egyptian commando raids. The strip is now jointly occupied by UN Emergency Force troops and Egyptian administrators.

The Swedish diplomat also intends to obtain a declaration of nonbelligerence from both Egypt and Israel, which would end the state of war existing since the Arab-Israeli fighting of 1948.

Egypt is reluctant to nullify this condition, which furnishes her an excuse to exclude Israel from shipping in the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Israel's position was further explained to Secretary of State Dulles when he returned to Washington from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Australia.

Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's Foreign Minister, told Dulles her nation was depending heavily on "assurances" that the US would uphold Israel's position in the dispute.

Premier David Ben-Gurion said he regarded President Eisenhower's assurance that "we would have no regrets if we withdrew" (from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba area) "more valid than any treaty between nations."

The result of the Meir-Dulles talk was a US promise to Israel to push for peace in the Middle East, but no new assurances of aid in her Arab difficulties.

Canal Plan Offered
Egypt meanwhile has submitted a proposal for operating the Suez Canal. Though considered unsatisfactory, the note to the US was greeted with the attitude that Nasser was at least considering some manner of agreement. The plan stated:

1. Egypt will respect the 1888 agreement internationalizing the canal.
2. All tolls will be paid to Egypt, as they have since she nationalized the waterway July 26.
3. Stockholders' compensation claims will be decided directly or by arbitration.
4. Canal tolls will be paid in advance of ship movements to "the Suez Canal Authority in Egypt or to its nominees."
5. A fund built from part of the fares will be established for canal improvement or plans designed to increase traffic.
6. Egypt "is still loyal to the purpose of co-operation" and will issue "another detailed statement."

Syria in a Vacuum
Syria is becoming increasingly conspicuous in the Middle East muddle. A vacuum of internal and external power exists in this nation, where right- and left-wing army officers, the country's strongest clique, disagree as to the extent of Soviet interests and influence.

Syrian President Shukri al-Kuwatly expressed the general attitude of the country as wanting to be a tertium quid in the struggle among world powers, and escape the general dichotomy of Communist and non-Communist nations.

Bermuda Talks Begin

Attempts at mending strained Anglo-American relations began on Bermuda this week as President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan held talks.

As the Stars and Strips and the Union Jack crackedle by side in the warm wind, the Big Two discussed the split created by US opposition to the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall, a possibility of the US joining the Baghdad Pact's military committee, and US aid in helping Britain build a streamlined atomic army.

Magsaysay Mourned

As the world mourned the death of Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay, killed in an airplane crash Sunday, Vice President Carlos Garcia became the republic's new leader Monday night.

Magsaysay was an arch foe of Communism, and Garcia said he would continue the late leader's domestic and foreign policies.

Reds Win Indian State

Indian Prime Minister Nehru's ruling Congress Party suffered a severe setback last week as the Communist Party won control of a state legislature for the first time. The Red triumph was scored in the newly established state of Kerala, on India's southern Malabar Coast. They promised to govern the unemployment-ridden state according to the Indian constitution.

Nehru was reported unworried, as his Congress Party led the National Parliament race and in most other state legislatures.

Refugees Worry Nixon

Returning from his 19,000-mile, nine-nation African goodwill tour Thursday, Vice President Nixon's chief concern concerned the Arab refugee situation.

He called the refugee problem the "most troublesome" one for African Arab leaders, and the one most affecting US-African relations.

Nixon's other main points concerning his African trip were: 1. Africa is becoming an East-West battleground, and the US must assign it "higher priority," meaning more and better diplomatic efforts.

2. U.S. Information Agency activity to Africa must be increased, particularly by expanding American libraries.

3. African students and leaders should be brought to the US for "get-acquainted" visits.

4. Egyptian President Nasser's influence over Arab Africa is abating because of the newly independent African nation's cherished freedom and independence.

Aramburu Attacked

Argentine President Pedro Aramburu's government drew heavy fire last week because of a proposed economic plan.

The government wants a free enterprise economy for prices and a tight wage control. Opposition said this program would damage working class economy and incur additional criticism of the provisional government.

Participation—100 percent participation—is the goal of this year's Round-Up celebration.

As in years past, thousands of people from throughout the state of Texas and even from foreign states will congregate in Austin to see what goes with the Forty Acres.

After a long hassle earlier this year, the Central Round-Up Committee, with support from the Student Assembly, the Ex-Students' Association, and the Texan, decided to have a Round-Up parade.

There will be a Round-Up parade.

Thousands of people will line the streets of Austin to see what interest the student body has in "workin' together." The stress isn't on finesse—it's on sharingness.

President Wilson has asked faculty not to hold any quizzes during the two days of Round-Up week-end to allow full participation to take place.

All that's left is for student groups to make a commitment.

The deadline for entering is this Wednesday.

The parade this year offers a real challenge to the students. The format features informality, low cost, low pressure, little sweat, and much sharing. No group is asked to do any more than just spend a few of their creative minutes in helping a project which will reflect to the people of Texas the spirit of the student body.

The challenge is out.

Are there any takers?

How about, say, 100 percent worth?

NAACP Bill 'Hanging'

A former executive of the ICT Insurance Company, John G. Vaughan, told Senate investigators Friday that the idea of spreading the company into as many as 24 states in the nation was a bad idea from the beginning.

He also told the committee that BenJack Cagle was an impulsive executive who would exile officials of the company when they did not agree with him.

Vaughan said that if the company had worked only in Texas it would have been one of the biggest fire and casualty companies in the state.

Week before last, Senate investigators revealed that money was borrowed from a Dallas bank to begin the company and, further, that more money was borrowed at the end of the year for year-end reports. However, Meyer J. Rachofsky, vice-president of Mercantile National Bank, told the committee last week that the money never left the bank.

Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade quoted an aide of BenJack

Cage as saying he "was afraid someone in the union or Texas politicians would kill him if he returned."

Cage told the Associated Press in a telephone interview earlier he would be glad to come back to Texas and testify before the investigating committee if he were asked. Cage is now in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Trial Set For Monday

Judge Charles Betts Friday scheduled trial of the priority suits in the US Trust and Guaranty case for 9 a. m. Monday in the 98th District Court in Austin.

Betts told attorneys that he wanted it understood the only issue before him was the question of priority payments of liquidated assets of the defunct Waco Insurance firm. He said trial arguments, without a jury, would be limited to that issue.

The House Wednesday advanced a bill to bar state and those of its political subdivision employees from membership in the NAACP but left final passage hanging.

No effort was made by Representative Reagan Huffman of Marshall to get his bill (HR 32) completely out of the House and into the Senate. The bill may come up again this week.

LIFE in Texas

An article published in LIFE magazine last week on Texas elections says anyone could have entered the senatorial race and have had about an equal chance of winning. However, LIFE limited the field and predicted the real race would be between Ralph Yarbo-

Rain, Varsity Carnival Splash Campus Spring

Spring officially came and with it came water from the sky, leaving students from West Texas boggled in amazement. Excepting the girl standing at the door of Littlefield Dorm, picnic hamper in hand, who collegiately remarked, "I can't believe it's raining," T-sips were in high spirits last week with great expectations of a fruitful spring.

Thousands pushed their way through the crowded midway of Varsity Carnival Saturday night to see Zeta Tau Alpha's "Ground for Mortgage" win first place in the sorority show division and Phi Kappa Psi's "Varieties" take number one honors among fraternities.

The second place sorority show was "Freud's Review of Texas University," produced by Kappa Kappa Gamma, while the third place award went to Pi Beta Phi's "Cord Capers."

"UT Confidential," presented by Lambda Chi Alpha, was second in the fraternity division and Sigma Phi Epsilon's "See the Sig-Ep Show" won third place.

Following numerous recounts of the votes, Kappa Alpha fraternity finally awarded its Miss Campus Chest trophy to Val Leibowitz, sophomore Sigma Delta Tau, in one of the closest contests in the six-year history of the event.

More than $1,500 crossed the counter in the last five minutes of voting, causing contest sponsors to delay certifying the results and withhold the winner's trophy until Monday. Final count showed Sandra Rosen, Delta Phi Epsilon, only 89 votes away from the winner. The KA's contest netted more money than in any previous year—over $2,500—all going to the Campus Chest fund.

Alpha Epsilon Phi's "Sorority Rodeo," a greased pig scramble in a pit of mud, was first place winner in the fraternity concession division while Alpha Delta Pi's "Ginger Bread" concession took first place among sorority entrants.

Freddy "Gruesome" Gerson upheld a two-year tradition established by Phi Sigma Delta fraternity as he proved his first place repulsiveness in the Ugly Man Contest.

Faculty Steps
Faculty Council, in addition to passing various changes in certain degree plans, took basic steps toward more personal enforcement of scholastic probation regulations early last week.

Dean L. D. Haske pointed out that strict application of the rules at all times caused unwarranted hardship occasionally on a few students, but the council's action was not to be taken as an attempt to lower these standards. He said the move was aimed at students with a high grade point average faced with enforced withdrawal and students placed on scholastic probation because of illness or technicalities.

Registrar Byron Shipp suggested

ed that such hardship be avoided by placing students with postponed exams on a "dean's probation" until the March examination series is completed. After this period, probation, unless removed, would become final and would then be recorded in the Registrar's office. At present probation is immediately recorded.

The Council agreed by consensus to accept this recommendation and also suggested that deans be expected to use discretion in application of the enforced withdrawal ruling in doubtful cases. During the next month, undergraduate deans will meet to formulate some definite recommendations on the matter.

Teaching Excellence
Letters went out to some 160 student organizations seeking their opinion on a proposed list of "virtues of teaching excellence" as initial action in what may prove to be the first University-wide teaching evaluation program begun. The list was compiled by the Teaching and Student Evaluation Committee of the Faculty-Student Cabinet.

Dr. W. H. R. Shaw and Nancy Hoston, faculty and student co-chairmen, announced that the purpose of the letter is "to collect—perhaps the first time—material directly from students that reflects the items they consider important for first rate instruction."

Student Party Reorganizes
The Student Party, in its first major meeting since last spring, adopted a new constitution, the essence of the reorganizational changes drafted by the steering committee under Thurston Barnett, party chairman.

An amendment stating that "an organization affiliating with the student party shall have a minimum of 15 members desiring to affiliate" caused the most prolonged debate. Several amendments which would have changed the basic structure of the party were defeated.

Round Up Nears
Trophies will go to the fraternity and sorority with the most entrants in the Charras' first annual Round-Up Rodeo April 5-6 officials announced. The rodeo will be at Hancock Recreation Center, across the Interregional Highway from Delwood Center. Ninety-three entries—40 more than last year—have been received in the Round-Up Beard Growing Contest. Tickets for all Round-Up events went on sale last week also.

And then . . .
Terry Townsend, Lambda Chi Alpha, was elected president of Interfraternity Council and Chi Phi fraternity was presented a trophy for best grade improvement during the fall semester . . .

The "dean" of United States tennis coaches, Dr. Daniel Allen Penick, 87, retired from the University staff after more than a half century of service . . . Chill Wills, colorful Hollywood character actor, was on campus . . . Houses of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority were rocked by explosions determined by Austin police as being caused by a type explosive used by the Navy in mock battles . . . The Committee of 75, representing all senatorial districts and virtually a cross section of Texas, was named to recommend steps in planning the future of the University.

News You Don't Need

A Buddhist priest, Chuk Mor of Penang, North Malaya, said last week he had received reports that certain monks had been attending strip tease shows "on the sly" on that tiny North Malayan island. He said he took a serious view of the matter and will bring up the question at the next meeting of the Penang Buddhist Institute.

Great Composers Spotlighted in April

Already looking forward to great programming during April, KHFI-FM announces these features during the next month:

Jazz to Classics; All Good Music

From Jazz to Classics, if it's fine music, you'll find it on KHFI-FM. Stressing variety in fine music reproduction, KHFI-FM tries to please the discriminating Austin listening audience with high fidelity production of all types of musical presentation.

"American Jazz," emceed by UT anthropology prof Chad Oliver, is a popular feature of KHFI. You can hear it Saturday nights from 10 to 11. "Old time" jazz is his specialty.

"VM Jazzland" is presented every night from 11:30 to 12 midnight. "Mostly modern" is the keynote.

On the opposite extreme, such programs as "Symphony Hall," featuring best basic works by great composers; "The Opera House," and others offer a fitting contrast for the finest in musical reproduction—KHFI-FM.

Businesses Sell Program Guides

Program Guides, selling for 25c each and $2.50 for a year's subscription, are now on sale at 13 Austin businesses plus the station at 3004 Guadalupe.

Nau's Drugs, Hi-Fidelity, Inc., Berkman's, J. R. Reed, Speedway Radio-TV, Cuneo's Bakery, Connelly's Florist, University Co-Op, The Tower Drug Store, Bray and Jordan Pharmacy, Hirsch's Drugs, Holiday House, and the Record Shop all have them for sale.

The Program Guide contains a complete schedule of the month's programs over KHFI-FM plus program notes by Program Director Leonard Masters.

(1) Symphonic Works by 30 of the world's great composers, including Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart, Rimsky-Korsakov, Wagner, Debussy, Mahler, Saint-Saens, Haydn, Berlioz, and Prokofiev.

(2) Contemporary works by Piston, Hanson, Cowell, Gershwin, Gould, Copland, Vaughn Williams, and others.

(3) Ballet scores including "Swan Lake," "The Nutcracker," "The Sleeping Beauty," "Bluebird," and "Helen of Troy."

(4) Complete operas, including "Tosca," "The Spanish Hour," "The Saint of Bleeker Street," "Parsifal," and "Aida."

(5) Plus sacred masses, works for solo piano, light concert music, Broadway musicals, and adventures in high fidelity.

(6) Shakespeare's "Macbeth," "Julius Caesar," "Othello," and "Midsummer Night's Dream."

(7) Over 90 hours of popular music by Percy Faith, Paul Weston, Victor Young, Harry James, Kostelanetz, Montovani, Artie Shaw, Michael Lagrand, Morton Gould, Les Elgart, Robert Shaw Chorale, and more.

(8) State-wide news of cultural activities every day.

Cycle Programs Put Presentations In Proper Place

A desire to "put things in their place" seems inherent in an orderly society. KHFI-FM aims to put musical scores "in their proper place" in musical perspective by featuring "cyclical programming."

Briefly, this means that instead of mixing one of Verdi's operas in the midst of other scores—to feature a series of Verdi's works together. KHFI-FM follows this theme in all areas—grouping the musical and sound reproduction that has made the biggest mark on the centuries—"in its proper place."

that take place here—coverage of everything from the Austin Symphony Orchestra to the yearly Parade of Homes.

WHAT DO YOU NEED TO ENJOY FM?

All you need is an FM Radio ($40 complete and up) or an FM Tuner for your present radio ($25 and up) or an AM-FM Radio ($50 and up). Check your present radio . . . it may be already equipped to handle FM.

WHO LISTENS TO KHFI-FM?

The loyal listening audience of KHFI-FM consists of more than 7500 persons, and this number is growing rapidly as more persons realize the real sound splendor to be found.

Here are some facts about the type of people that compose the listening audience:

(1) Every year more people attend concerts than all the Major and Minor League Baseball combined.

(2) 35 million Americans spend more than one-half billion dollars for good music admissions.

... One Year of FM Progress!

Thunderstorms, Household Noises

'Adventures in Hi-Fi'

The strange world of sound fascinates many. To hear these sounds at their most intense moment, caught by explicit recordings with unblemished reproduction over FM is a real thrill.

KHFI-FM offers each Saturday night from 8 to 9 p.m., "Adventures in High Fidelity" to satisfy the desire to delve even deeper into this world of sounds.

The "Sound of the Week"—whether it be thunderstorms, sounds of the Ionosphere, household sounds, delicate sounds or whatnot—is coupled with a recording in a more profound vein for pure listening thrills.

Growing Listenership Marks KHFI's First Year

KHFI-FM, in its first eight months of broadcasting, had earned better than 13% of the radio listening audience in Austin. This is a significant portion of the listening audience for a new station, since radio listenership in Austin is shared by five local stations and several out of town stations.

It is especially significant when it is realized that a special receiver is required to listen to FM. Of the more than 1000 people called in the research project, nearly 20% owned

FM receivers.

The present listenership of KHFI-FM is estimated at nearly 20,000, including listeners in large buildings wired for FM reception such as the Episcopal Student Center (Gregg House) and Brackenridge Hospital. The listenership of the station is based on a telephone survey conducted by Radio/Television Director R. F. Schenckman.

The survey was conducted in October of last year from a sampling designed by Hoyle Osborne, research analyst for the city of Austin.

AUSTIN

Special Programs Today on 98.3 mc

The magic of FM radio—high fidelity reproduction of the world's greatest sounds—celebrates its first birthday as an Austin product today, as Station KHFI-FM, 98.3 mc, presents a special potpourri of the "representative week of FM with KHFI" from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The station regularly broadcasts from 3 p.m. each day.

Boasting better than 13% of the radio listening audience of Austin after just one year here, KHFI-FM began broadcasting March 23, 1956, to bring the magnificent new medium of high fidelity through FM reproduction to the receptive Austin audience. Austin, as one of the great cultural and educational centers of the South, has responded well.

Station Manager Jim Moore, along with Program Director Leonard Masters and Chief Engineer Dale Jones, were instrumental in bringing FM to Austin a year ago.

Now, along with other staffers Robert F. Russell, assistant station manager; Rod Kennedy, public relations; Robert Clardy, continuity; Bill B. Oxley, commercials; and Edrine Carson, office manager; KHFI-FM is aiming for an even more successful year during the coming 365 days.

Featured in today's potpourri, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., will be such regular KHFI-FM features as "The Music Box," "Promenade Concert," "The Opera House," "VM Jazzland," "Intermezzo," and "Request Concert."

Also, "Adventures in High Fidelity," "On Stage," "American Jazz with Chad Oliver," "Marquee," "Folk Music of the World," "Symphony Hall," "Cuneo's Big Band Sound," "Speedway Radio & TV Evening Serenade," "The Chamber Group," "Ballet Theatre," "Out of the Past," and "Champagne Opera."

It is such diversified program planning, featuring the best possible in sound reproduction, that has brought so many friends and regular listeners for KHFI in such a short time.

Another feature on Sunday will be a special offer as a salute to the Austin Symphony Orchestra and Musical Director Ezra Rachlin. KHFI-FM will give free student or enlisted men's tickets to the April 1st concert with each Program Guide subscription telephoned to the station during the anniversary broadcast today. The Program Guides, which list all KHFI programming for the month with special program notes, sell for 25c each and $2.50 per year's subscription.

AM vs. FM

There are two systems of radio transmission in use today. The first, is called AM or Amplitude Modulation. It is the system used in commonplace broadcasting. The second, developed commercially only in the past 15 years, is called FM or Frequency Modulation. In most AM broadcasts a certain amount of static and electrical noise, interference, fading and cross-talk usually exists. But, this is not so in FM broadcasts. When you tune in FM programs, you hear voice or music against a background of silence. Even thunderstorms directly overhead do not affect FM reception. Nor will X-ray machines, fluorescent lights, or any of the other usual causes of radio interference. On FM, music or voice is heard in full and natural tones. Sounds never heard on AM can now be heard distinctly on FM. The feeling of "presence" so essential to music listening, puts that orchestra right into your own living room. And so a brand new world of radio entertainment opens up with an FM receiver.

Alpha Lambda Delta Pledges Fifty-five Freshman Coeds

Miss Helen Flinn, assistant dean of women, has released the names of 55 girls who have pledged Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary organization.

Miss Flinn said that the initiation ceremonies, to be held on April 25, would be held at Carothers Dormitory because the dormitory had the highest percentage of freshman girls to make a 2.5 average or better during the fall semester. Fifteen percent of the 26 freshman girls in Carothers Dormitory made the list.

Of the 871 freshman women in the University, Miss Flinn announced that six percent had made grades that averaged 2.5 or better, thus qualifying for membership in Alpha Lambda Delta.

Tying for second highest percentage of women making the pledge list were Blanton and Grace Dormitories. Eight percent of their women made the list. Littlefield and SRD Dormitories were next with 7 per cent.

Women on the list were: Judith Abrams, Jane Anderson, Sara Adel Applebaum, Frances Bates, Lillian L. Bond, Lanell Chaffin, Nancy Jane Chapman, Nancy M. Cheek, Josephine Cogdell, Betsy Inez Coleman, Irma Dahse, Barbara Ann Dixon, Mrs. Aileen Donovan, and Delia Dusen.

Also Mary B. Fanner, Etelka Ferguson, Emily Flachmeier, Margaret Jean Focke, Betty Forman, Mrs. Mineola Grumbles, Julie Hallmark, Rosemary House, Betty Jayne Kacir, Della King, Janis Little, Virginia Louise McFarland, and Melanie L. McGhee.

Also Annette Maples, Mary Gay Maxwell, Dorothy Miller, Phyllis Milliger, Margaret M. Motter, Norma Jane Nix, Colleen O'Connor, Harriet Olsen Jo Ann Owens, Leslie Jane Park, Dixie Kay Pinkney, Bette Ann Pringle, Joan L. Raab, Rita Rich, and Barbara Gail Ricketon.

Also Dorothy Ann Stroup, Suzanne Lee Stark, Clara G. Shugart, Judith Hope Slavin, Maxine Thomson, Myrna Tovrov, Linda Kay Yancey, Marcia Wade, Charlotte Washington, Helen Wear, Tommie Jo Williamson, and Jean Elizabeth Wilson.

Theta Xi House Nears Finish

The new ultra-modern Theta Xi fraternity house will be completed May 4, announced Billy Carnes, chapter president. The alumni dinner will be held there as the first social function in the house.

The architectural design of the house embodies a large hexagonal center area from which extend three wings at symmetrical angles. The center area, a combination recreation and dining room, can be divided by an accordion partition.

The first wing houses the foyer, living room, library, and chapter room. The second wing has the kitchen, housemother's suite, and utility and mechanical rooms. The officers' quarters and guest rooms are located in the third wing.

Only living quarters for the officers will be provided, incorporating a new approach to fraternity living. Under this plan other chapter members can live outside the house in the neighboring area but still participate fully in chapter activities and have their meals there.

A low, sloping roof extending outward beyond the wings provides two covered terraces at the rear of the house for outdoor entertaining.

Salmon pink brick will be used at the end of the wings and for trim. Glass will be used extensively for wall areas.

The over-all cost of the project will be approximately $150,000. Architects are Kuehne, Brooks, and Barr.

Phi Mu Alpha To Meet Here

The annual province convention of Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, will be held in the Music Building March 29-30, said Don Smith, president. The convention will be in connection with the Southwest Symposium of Contemporary Music.

Fredrick Ferrell, of the Eastern School of Music, will be guest conductor of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia in a concert honoring Archie Jones, professor of music at the University.

As a prelude to the convention, orchestral readings, open to the public, will be held in the Music Building from 9:30 a.m. until noon and from 2 until 4 p.m. beginning Wednesday. These readings will continue throughout the convention.

The conventioners will have a dinner at the Terrace Motel Restaurant Saturday, March 30.

Nine chapters of Phi Mu Alpha will be represented at the convention.

DISCUSSING THE CONSTITUTION of the recently reorganized Coed Forum at their first meeting are members of the Dean of Women's staff and women presidents and representatives of other campus-wide organizations. Clockwise are Shirley Bird, Margaret Turpin, Carol Querolo, Miss Dorothy Gebauer, Margaret Wellborn, Miss Helen Flinn, Ann Donaghey, Jarrett Vogan, Mrs. Dorothy Dean, Maurine Motter, Julie Holman, Nancy Rodman, and Carlene Johnson. Standing are Sue Rosson and Diane McFarland. At their first meeting, the group elected Julie Holman president and Lynn Cornelius secretary-treasurer. The organization will meet the first and third Thursdays of every month with the Dean of Women's staff.

Women's Group To Meet Monday

Cap and Gown, senior women's organization, will have a meeting at 4:30 p.m. Monday in Union 301.

The co-chairmen of Swing Out will present their plans for the Spring event and afterward there will be general discussion.

Henry Jacoby has been chosen Silver Spur co-chairman to work with Cap and Gown co-chairmen Carol Querolo and Susan Mowery. Steve Butler and Jack Norwood will be resident co-chairmen.

Other Spur co-chairmen are George Olsen, finance; Bud Mims, publicity; Jerry Wells, posters; Frank McClaine, mechanics; and Benny Rhodes, program.

Governor Meets In Capitol Daily

If meeting Texas' Governor is one of your ambitions, a quick trip to town will do the job.

At 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday the Governor appears in the Governor's Public Reception Room on the second floor of the Capitol. Furnished with green chairs embossed with the State Seal, this room is the scene of daily handshaking and document signing, and is open to the public.

Many people attending this ceremony just want to meet the Governor, while others are there arranging a ceremony in which they want to include him.

This daily ceremony was first started in 1947 by Governor Beauford Jester. Since that time, it has been kept by each Governor as part of the daily business.

Law Bachelors Hold Picnic

The Law Bachelors are giving a picnic with the members of Delta Gamma sorority Sunday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. The picnic will be held on Lake Austin.

Can I test Christian Science for myself?

The steady growth of Christian Science has naturally caused many to wonder whether it could also help them. Some have friends or relatives who are Christian Scientists and have inquired there. But others prefer to look into the subject entirely for themselves and reach conclusions in their own way.

SCIENCE AND HEALTH
with Key to the Scriptures by MARY BAKER EDDY
shows what Christian Science is and exactly how it works. Anyone who reads this book can test for himself its practical value in solving the problems of daily life.

Science and Health may be read, borrowed, or purchased at any Christian Science Reading Room, or send $3.00 and a copy will be mailed postpaid.

Speaking of Churches...

"The Great Rejection" will be the subject of Dr. Blake Smith's message at the 8:45 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday at the University Baptist Church. The Rev. Robert Lovell will be in the pulpit at the 7:30 service.

Dean James I. McCord of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary will be the guest speaker at the College Department Training Union, which will begin with supper at 5:30 p.m. in the Recreation Room of the Students Building. He will lead a discussion centered around the "Uniqueness of the Christian Religion—What Is It?"

Dr. Edmund Heinsohn will speak on "Jesus and the Multitudes" at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at the University Methodist Church.

"The Living Sacrifice" will be the topic used by Rev. Gregory Robertson at the 7:30 evening service.

Carl Besch, sophomore, will speak in student-led services at the University Lutheran Church at 10 a.m. Sunday. Representative Frank Mann will speak on "The Christian Influence in Public Life" at the Gamma Delta discussion group at 4 p.m. Supper will follow.

Paul Pettit of the Baha'i Faith will speak on "God and His Prophets" in a public lecture to be held in the University Y.M.C.A. at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The Baha'i Faith originated in Persia in 1844 as a religious sect known as Babism. The Baha'i New Year was observed March 20 in over 250 countries, where its advocates believe the Faith has "marked an era unprecedented in the history and development of mankind."

Dr. James Wharton of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary will speak to the Westminster Student Fellowship on "The Prophets: God's Judgment on History" at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. This is the third in a series of talks by Dr. Wharton on the Old Testament.

Gamma Phi Honors Foreign Students

Gamma Phi Beta held an open house for 60 University foreign students from 4 to 5 p.m. Friday at the chapter house.

Gamma Phi is one of eight campus organizations participating in the project sponsored by the International Council.

"This is something new on the campus and Mr. Joe Neal, head of the International Advisory Office, says it is one of the best programs for the furthering of foreign students' social life that has been done," explained Marla Kincaid, chairman of the International Council.

Charity Carnival Coming to Hillel

Jewish students of the University will sponsor a carnival featuring games and refreshments, Sunday, March 31, at Hillel Foundation.

Money derived from the fund-raising affair will go to the United Jewish Appeal Emergency Fund which enables Jewish people the world over to escape oppression.

"Purposes of this affair are for students at the University and the local Jewish Community to fraternize and enjoy themselves and to raise money for a very worthy cause," said Bob Storer, chairman.

PIKA's Hold Picnic Sunday

Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity will have a picnic for Chi Omega sorority Sunday from 2:30 until 7 p.m. at a home on Lake Travis. After the picnic some of the boys will go to Jonestown to dance.

FOREIGN STUDENTS chat with members of Gamma Phi Beta at the sorority's party Friday. Talking over the state of the world in general are Masheng Chen, Salvador de la Casa, Carolyn Shane, Ola Butler, and Ronald Chung. Paula Craig, standing, is preparing another raid of the punch bowl.

Chi Gamma Iota Selects Finalists

Five finalists for Chi Gamma Iota Sweetheart have been chosen. Final selection of the 1957 Sweetheart will take place Monday at 8 p.m. in Texas Union 301.

Anne Belle Clements, Alpha Chi Omega; Sherry Glover, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jeannie MacCamey, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jackie Spearman, Delta Gamma; and Becky Wilson, Pearce Co-op, are the finalists.

The five were chosen from 16 girls nominated by sororities, co-ops, and nominated independently by Chi Gamma Iota members. Initial judging was done by a special committee. The entire membership will select the winner from the finalists.

The Sweetheart will be presented at the Chi Gamma Iota Spring Formal and will ride in the Round-Up Parade.

BSU Auxiliary Formed

The Young Women's Auxiliary, a new organization in the Baptist Student Union, has started holding meetings. The group was organized in late February.

The purpose of the group is to study and work with missions. It meets the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Sponsors of the auxiliary are Mrs. Hardy Clements and Mrs. Walter Floyd.

Michigan Alums to Meet

The University of Michigan Alumni Association will hold a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Austin Women's Club in honor of the 140th anniversary of the founding of the University of Michigan. Reservations may be made by contacting Eugene Ivash at GL 3-0585.

Yearly Contest For Students Opens April 3

Next event in the series of competitive speech contests directed jointly by the Oratorical Association and the Department of Speech will be the annual Battle of Flowers Oratorical Contest, which offers $200 in prizes to the three winners.

The contest is sponsored by the Battle of Flowers Association of San Antonio.

Rules for the contest provide that any bona fide student of the University may enter except previous first-place winners of the contest. Orations must be original speeches from 10 to 12 minutes in length, delivered from memory.

The subject matter of the oration must deal with character delineations of Texans or historical events and institutions appropriate to the theme of Texas independence. Originality and research are important.

The first-place winner, who will receive an award of $100, will deliver his oration at the annual banquet of the Battle of Flowers Association of San Antonio during the celebration of the Fiesta de San Jacinto on April 25.

Preliminary round for the contest will be held April 3 in Speech Building 201. Eight contestants will be selected from the preliminary round to enter the final round on April 10.

Beta Alpha Psi Meets Tuesday

The University of Texas chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, honorary accounting society, and the Austin chapter of Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants will hold a joint dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hill's Cafe.

Texas Secretary of State Zollie Steakley will address the meeting. Steakley is a graduate of the University of Texas Law School and practiced law in Sweetwater. He was assistant attorney general from 1939 to 1942 and in 1946.

Steakley was engaged in private law practice in Austin from 1946 until his appointment as secretary of state January 15 of this year. He is a prominent Baptist layman and is active in Lions' Club work.

Officers' Union Has 15 on Roll

A unit of the Officers' Christian Union, a national organization, was formed at the University in November and has since grown to a membership of 15 ROTC instructors and advanced cadets.

All military personnel on campus are invited to join but those who are merely "joiners" are not encouraged. "They could only have an adverse effect on our group," explained Maj. Eugene Wink, the faculty sponsor.

"There are four points to our program: Bible study, discussion of problems common to servicemen, witnessing for Jesus Christ in order to help others, and attempting to develop Christian leadership among military officers," added Maj. Wink.

The OCU meets every second and fourth Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Texas Union 315. Anyone interested in the organization is invited to attend the next meeting.

'Sneak' About 'Weather'

The Paramount Theater's sneak preview Sunday night is about the "weather." One word in its title rhymes with "Seine." If you see it you won't be hurt—for its male star's first name is "Burt." Also in it is an Oscar-winning actress.

Hit Songs of Yesterday

The nation's top song in 1911 was "Alexander's Ragtime Band;" in 1914, "Ada Daba Honey Moon;" in 1921, "Ain't We Got Fun?;" in 1927, "Ain't She Sweet?;" in 1931, "All of Me;" in 1935, "P. S., I Love You;" in 1936, "The Broken Record."

Famous Choir Gives Concert Today in Gym

The Augustana Choir will be presented Sunday afternoon by the Cultural Entertainment Committee. The concert, an extra event, will be at 3 p. m. in Gregory Gymnasium. The choir is one of the oldest and best known college cappella choirs in America. The director is Henry Veld.

The program will include "The Cherubic Hymn," "Dirge for Two Veterans," "There is No Rose," "This Little Babe," "Hymn to St. Cecilia," "The Last Words of David," "Psalm XXXIII," "A Christmas Wish," "Hymn to King Stephen," "Souls of the Righteous," and "There is a Balm in Gilead."

Tickets for Blanket Tax, Season Ticket holders, children and high school students will be 50 cents. Adult single admission will be $1. No seats are reserved.

WHO WILL WIN? — Jerry Lewis, in a Swami's turban, conjures up a fine "Oscar" from his crystal ball, as he gets in swing for emceeding the Motion Picture Academy Awards Presentation on NBC-TV and Radio, Wednesday. Nominees for Best Actor—in left half of layout—are: (top left) Rock Hudson for "Giant"; (top circle) Sir Laurence Olivier for "Richard III"; (center circle) the late James Dean for "Giant"; (bottom left) Kirk Douglas for "Lust for Life"; and (bottom circle) Yul Brynner for "The King and I." Best Actress nominees—in right half of layout—are: (top circle) Carol Baker for "Baby Doll"; (top right) Deborah Kerr for "The King and I"; (center circle) Ingrid Bergman for "Anastasia"; (bottom circle) Nancy Kelly for "The Bad Seed," and (bottom right) Katharine Hepburn for "The Rainmaker." The program, which will originate in Hollywood and New York, will be carried on KTBC-TV from 9:30 to 11:15 p. m. Wednesday.

Harp Ensemble Concert in Recital Hall at 4

The University of Texas Music Department will present a harp ensemble concert at 4 p. m. Sunday in Music Building Recital Hall. Joel Andrews, University harpist-instructor, has invited outstanding harpists from all over the state to participate in the event.

The University of Texas Harp Quintet, composed of Patricia Wentworth, Kay Dyche, Janis Grumbles, Linda Potts Yeager, and Mr. Andrews, will have appearing with them senior guests Laverne Hodges of Corpus Christi, Mrs. Martha Ann Goldthorn of Harlingen, and Sam Milligan, instructor of harp at North Texas State College in Denton.

Horace Britt, professor of cello at the University, will appear as guest soloist with the University Harp Quintet.

The University Quintet will play "Rumba," "Spanish Dance No. 5," and "Malaguena." Horace Britt will appear with the Quintet in "The Swan" by Camille Saint-Saens. The Quintet and senior guests will play "Pavane," "Gavotte," "La Joyeuse," and "Sixth French Suite."

The Junior Ensemble will play "Tryptic Dance" by Pierre Baudouin, "Gymnopedie" by Eric Satie, and "Frere Jacques" traditional Seventeenth Century tune. The full ensemble of 18 harpists will be heard in "Night Breeze," "Carillon" and "Chanson dans la Nuit" by Carlos Salzedo.

The Oscar Derby

Wednesday Tells The Final Story For Oscar Race

By BRADFORD DANIEL
Texan Amusements Editor

First in a series of three articles.

Wednesday night will tell the tale; the secrets surrounding this year's Academy Awards will be known, the winners named. The race is hot, probably the most heated in recent years. It's a comeback year—Ingrid Bergman, who once deserted Hollywood for an Italian film director, is a candidate for Best Actress.

Nancy Kelly, a Hollywood star returning to the film industry after leaving it several years ago for a Broadway career, is nominated for "The Bad Seed." Others running for Best Actress honors are Deborah Kerr, Katharine Hepburn, and Carol Baker. Miss Hepburn previously won an Oscar in 1932 for "Morning Glory;" Miss Bergman in 1944 for "Gaslight."

It's a year of triumph for Rock Hudson, nominated for his role in "Giant." After many years in films he has emerged this year as a star to be watched. Running against him for Best Actor Oscar are Laurence Olivier (winner, 1948: "Hamlet"), Yul Brynner, Kirk Douglas, and James Dean. Mr. Dean has, for the second time, been nominated posthumously. He was so honored for his role in "Giant." His first such nomination was for "East of Eden" in 1955.

Supporting Players

Mercedes McCambridge, nominated as Best Supporting Actress for "Giant," won that category in 1949 for "All the King's Men." Against her are pitted Patty McCormack ("The Bad Seed"); Eileen Heckart ("Written on the Wind"); Mildred Dunnock ("Baby Doll"); and Dorothy Malone ("The Bad Seed").

Two nominees for Best Supporting Actor have previously won Oscars. Mickey Rooney, nominated for "The Bold and the Brave," won a special Oscar as a child star.

Anthony Quinn ("Lust for Life") won Best Supporting Actor in 1952 for "Viva Zapata!" Running against them are Robert Stack ("Written on the Wind"); Anthony Perkins ("Friendly Persuasion"); and Don Murray ("Bus Stop.")

Not Always Talent
The Oscar race is not always determined exclusively on talent. Other factors often enter into the picture: campaigns, money, personal grudges. "Marty," the best film of 1955, cost only $343,000 to make, but Hecht-Lancaster, its producers, spent over $500,000 promoting it for the Oscar.

Often a candidate wins without any campaigning. Such was the case of Anna Magnani, 1955 winner for "The Rose Tattoo." She came to Hollywood, made the film for Hal Wallis, then returned to Rome, where she remained until telephoned that she had won.

The minimum worth of an Oscar to a winning star is estimated at $1 million. But, even this has been proved unstable. Luce Rainer, winner in 1936 and 1937 ("The Great Ziegfeld," "The Good Earth"), never made another hit film after she won. Her career very rapidly hit the bottom. Some cited this reason: She was too particular about her screenplays.

She was no longer willing to take a chance on a picture. She had taken a chance in "The Good Earth," playing a Chinese peasant. This chance paid off: gold statuette no. 2. She never again took a chance. She never again won—either an Oscar—or a boxoffice smash.

Orchestra Plans Closer

The Austin Symphony Orchestra will close its 1956-57 season on April 1 with a concert at City Coliseum. Director Ezra Rachlin will appear as piano soloist.

9 Talking Days Before Election; Pack Stumps On

Campaigners Snipe At Other Hopefuls In Wordy Battles

By The Associated Press

US Senate race candidates battled for attention Saturday with just nine more talking days left until the voters speak in the April 2 special election.

Mostly they concentrated their pleas on assertions of how they would handle such national issues as the federal budget, inflation, aid age pensions, foreign aid.

Martin Dies, congressman-at-large seeking promotion to the senate to fill the unexpired term of Price Daniel, took potshots at Thad Hutcheson of Houston, the GOP organization's lone candidate.

Dies Slams Thad

Dies said Hutcheson had "one platform for Houston, another for Pampa, and others for different parts of the state" and was trying to "fool the voters with inconsistent campaign statements."

At Austin, James P. Hart announced endorsement by former Atty. Gen. Gerald C. Mann of Dallas and former Supreme Court justices A. J. Folley of Amarillo and W. M. Taylor of Dallas.

Ex-Regents Support Hart

There former regents, who served while Hart was chancellor of The University of Texas, also endorsed the candidate: James W. Rockwell of Houston, Edward B. Tucker of Nacogdoches, Mrs. Edgar Tobin of San Antonio, W. M. G. Swenson of Stamford, William E. Darden of Waco.

In Fort Worth, the Star Telegram Sunday announced its support of Dies. The newspaper said Dies, a veteran of 17 years in Congress, appears to be the only candidate whose qualifications and experience would enable him to settle into the senatorial harness and go effectively to work from the moment he arrives in Washington.

Hart talked finances. He said at McKinney that the Republican Administration's tight money policy has failed to control inflation and a better way must be found. The government must help by cutting its budget, he suggested.

SOME PEOPLE do nothing. Others sit under trees. Nancy Haston, Student Association secretary, is an energetic member of the latter group. Idling away the day—at least under trees—will probably be uncomfortable most of Sunday with an expected low of 40.

R-U Barbecue Tickets Go On Sale Monday

By PHYLLIS COFFEE
Texan Staff Writer

With 750 pounds of barbecued steers, the Round-Up Barbecue Committee plans to feed about 3,000 hungry Texans from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. April 5.

Barbecue tickets will go on sale in living units, the University Co-Op, and the four Hemphill's stores Monday. They may also be purchased from a booth in front of the Union Building from 10 to 11 a.m. next week. The tickets, which cost 75 cents if bought in advance and $1 at the gate, will be available at various booths on the campus the week of the barbecue.

The evening's activities will be set off with a program of popular entertainment from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Five Sweethearts Will Represent SWC in Parade

Five visiting Southwest Conference sweethearts who will be in the Round-Up Parade have been announced by Barbara Benson, Round-Up office director.

They are Shelby Sanders, TSCW, Aggie sweetheart; Lee Ann Lane, Baylor; Martie May, SMU; Gayle Scott, TCU; and Naomi Robins, Rice. The sweethearts of Arkansas and Texas Tech are not yet known.

Daniel Favors Hike In Teachers' Wages

"There is no finer profession, and no profession needs finer people," said Governor Price Daniel in his talk to the Texas Association of Future Teachers of America at its tenth annual state convention in Batts Hall Auditorium Friday morning.

Governor Daniel, speaking to approximately 400 FTA members, said there is no reason why the public schools should not be the best. For better schools, better salaries are needed, he said. He recommends an increase in the starting salary of teachers along with a long-range study to determine the exact needs of the increasing enrollment.

Other members of the program were Dr. C. L. Yarbrough of Snyder, National Education Association state director, who introduced Mr.

Round-Up for the thirteenth consecutive year, will furnish the barbecue, potato salad, and beans. Also on the menu will be bread, Cokes, and ice cream.

The food will be served in the southwest corner of the Forty Acres by APOs, Cowboys, and Spurs. In case of rain, festivities will be moved into Texas Union ballroom.

Sally Moore and Buddy Dau, Barbecue Committee co-chairmen, promise that service will be quick and efficient.

University Sweetheart Celia Buchanan and John White will be mistress and master of ceremonies for the entertainment, which will include the selection of the Beard-Growing Contest winners.

Preliminary judging for the 100 bearded entries will be held at 4 p.m. April 4. Four finalists in each of the four divisions will compete for honors at the barbecue.

Panhandle Snow Fury Traps 200 Travelers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A freezing blizzard with heavy snow and gusts of wind up to 80 miles per hour roared through the Texas Panhandle Saturday. Up to 200 persons were snowbound on frozen highways in buses and automobiles.

Late Saturday, blowing snow reduced visibility to zero at Dalhart and other points. Most Panhandle highways were blocked by deep drifts.

Temperatures dropped steadily and were due to hit a low of 20 degrees before dawn Sunday.

Up to 200 automobiles were believed stranded about 40 miles west of Amarillo. Between 200 and 300 motorists took refuge in homes and public buildings at Vega, 32 miles west of Amarillo.

Fear was expressed for the safety of motorists caught in their cars.

UT Takes Aggies 8-4 In Wet Series Opener

By EDDIE HUGHES
Texan Sports Editor

COLLEGE STATION — Early morning rains caused the postponement of the second game of a scheduled two-game baseball series between Texas and Texas A&M here Saturday, with the Longhorns now looking forward to a two-game series with SMU in Austin next weekend.

Coach Bibb Falk's Longhorn nine, with the effective, if not superb, pitching of big George Myers Friday afternoon at Kyle Field, took the series opener, 8-4, and had planned to go with veteran Harry Taylor or sophomore Howard Reed Saturday. But since Kyle Field was ankle deep in water from rains early Saturday, officials decided to call the final game of the series.

16,697 Enrolled For Spring Term

There are 16,697 students enrolled in the University for the spring semester, according to a report released by the Registrar's office. This is an increase of 134 over last spring's enrollment.

The decrease in spring semester enrollment, as compared to the fall semester, is the highest since 1950-51, when it was 14.6 per cent. This year's decrease is 9.3 per cent. Last year's was 6.2 per cent.

This means that 3,290 students who were here in the fall either received their degrees or dropped out of school. Last year's drop from fall to spring enrollment was 2,870.

The number of students being readmitted to the University was 15,952, an increase of 238 over last spring's readmissions.

Students coming in from other colleges and from high schools totaled 745. The number of high school graduates and senior college transfers enrolling this spring dropped off slightly from last spring's figures.

header when the Aggies and Texas play in Austin on the final day of the season, May 14.

Although the Longhorns will step aside from conference action Monday and Tuesday with their annual series with the Minnesota Gophers at Clark Field in Austin, they have their eyes trained on a crucial two-game series with SMU's Mustangs Friday and Saturday at Clark Field. A sweep of the series with the highly respected Pony team will be hard to accomplish, but if done, would give the Longhorns the start they need to win their first SWC baseball title since 1954.

Kyle Field has always proved to be a jinx to Longhorn baseball teams in the past, but Myers, although giving up 11 hits in going eight innings, struck out 11 and aided his own cause considerably in the first inning with a three-run home run blast.

Moore Connects Too

Myers wasn't the only one to boast of a home run Friday for Texas, as Bill Moore, who claimed he couldn't hit any kind of left-handers, disproved it with a line-shot blast over the rightfield wall off southpaw Toby Newton in the next inning.

Until the Aggie game Friday, the Longhorns had been having trouble against left-handers. Newton was the fifth they had faced this season, and the first one they had been able to get a hit off of, as Myers' circuit clout in the first inning was the initial blow off a southpaw. Moore got the third one with his homer, thus breaking the lefthander's jinx too.

Hurlers on Hand

Whether the rain helped the Longhorns or not, one can never tell. Although a sweep seemed most unlikely because jinxes usually win out, Texas had Taylor and Reed available along with Billy Ed Marshall, Ray Stauffacher, J. L. Smith and Bob Suderth for relief duty, and could have made a clean sweep.

Shoddy play by the Aggies—and by Texas, too—was a big factor in who got the runs. In all, Texas got one earned run while A&M got two.

Crowd Appreciates 7 Wagner Encores

By ANN RUDD
Texan Amusements Staff

"I don't believe you Texans ever sleep," said Conductor Roger Wagner as the Gregory Gymnasium cried for seven encores Saturday night.

So enthusiastic was their reaction that Mr. Wagner had to quiet the crowd to speak his appreciation for their response. However, it was their encores that were most appreciated, although the Choral presented a well-rounded program.

Renaissance Trilogy

Opening the evening's CEC event was a trilogy of Renaissance music: "Ave Marie" by Vittoria, "Tu es Petrus" by Palestrina, and "Vere Languores." Several light classics, "Hear the Murmuring Waters" by Monteverdi, "Echo Song" by Di Lasso, and "Four Motets, Opus 74" by Brahms followed.

One of the outstanding moments of the evening was "Sacred Service," from the ancient Hebrew by Bloch. Paul Hinchaw was soloist. Soloist Hinchaw also did a creditable job on a Spanish song, "Ayer Te He Visto."

TAR HEELS WIN NCAA TITLE IN THREE OVERTIMES, 54-53

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Two free throws by calm Joe Quigg with six seconds remaining in the third overtime broke up a bitterly contested game and gave the North Carolina Tar Heels a 54-53 victory over Kansas and the NCAA major college basketball championship Saturday night.

The Tar Heels, extending their one-season record to 32 victories, wiped out a five-point deficit late in regulation play to send the game into the first overtime at 46-all.

The score stood 48-all after the first extra period as each team tallied a field goal and neither was able to count in a wild second overtime, marred by a mild tussle. Both coaches, Dick Harp of Kansas and Frank McGuire of North Carolina, came on the playing floor.

San Francisco's Dons, with Gene Brown hitting in the clutches, defeated Michigan State's Spartans 67 to 60 for third place in the tournament.

Minnesota Gophers Here for UT Series

National Champs Play Two Tilts Starting Monday

By RAY COLLINS

The defending champions of collegiate baseball, the Minnesota Gophers, will begin their season with their annual series against the Texas Longhorns here in Clark Field Monday and Tuesday.

The games are scheduled for 3 p.m. Coach Dick Siebert brings an experienced squad with him including seven lettermen, headed by All-American pitcher Jerry Thomas.

Jack McCartan, all-conference third-baseman in the Big Ten last year, returns with such other familiar stars as Doug Gillen, first base; Dave Lindblom, center field; and Woody Erickson, catcher.

Other positions will be filled by promising sophomores and service returnees. Second base seems to be a questionable spot with Max Schmitt the leading candidate.

Dean Maas, Gopher football captain, should aid the Gopher pitching staff, having given a good showing in the College World Series in Omaha last year.

At shortstop will probably be Pete Badall, a sophomore who is a veteran of two years service in Europe. Leading contenders for the right and left field jobs are Ken Bombardier, Billy Sandback and Skeeter Nelson, all three of whom are sophomores.

McCartan, who was the leading hitter for the Gophers last season, will probably hit in the clean-up position this year. Last year he batted .436 and hit eight home runs. He knocked in 32 runs.

Thomas, known for his good control, will probably oppose Howard Reed or Harry Taylor in the opener here. Thomas had a 12-1 record last season, and a 2.80 earned run average. In the opener here last year, Thomas was the winning pitcher, giving up only seven hits. One was a home run by Jerry Good, present Steer first baseman.

Other mound help will be provided by George Thomas, brother of Jerry, Art Renteria, and southpaw Dick Siebert Jr. and Phil Gustafson.

Texas Handball Team Nears SWC Crown

HOUSTON (Sp.) — Jack Davis, top-seeded singles player from the University of Texas, forged his Longhorn handball team into the lead of the Southwest Conference handball tournament here Saturday by reaching the singles finals in Class A.

The tournament will finish play Sunday, but it already appears that Texas will repeat as conference champion. If so, it will mark their seventh major tournament victory in three years, including the national title last year.

Davis gained the finals Saturday by easily taking Mickie Klug of the University of Houston, 21-7, 21-9. Davis showed tremendous authority with his drive shots. He entered the semifinals by defeating George Ragsdale of Texas A&M, 21-10, 21-9.

Another University of Texas player, Bill Fritts, entered the Class B semifinals in singles by downing James O'Connell of South Texas Junior College, 21-13, 21-5. If Fritts reaches the finals, he may face Richard Beeler, recent intramural champion at Texas.

The Texas doubles team of Roger Tolar and Jim Loynd entered the semifinals Saturday, and will play Sunday.

Texas leads in team totals with 15 points, followed by Texas A&M in second place with 11 and Houston with 10.

Water Basketball Title Set Monday for Frats

Delta Tau Delta and Phi Delta Theta will lock horns at 7 p.m. Monday in the Gregory Gym pool to determine the intramural water basketball champion in the fraternity division.

The winner will join three already-determined division champions and battle it out for the intramural crown.

Division winners are Blocker, Independent, Oak Grove, club, and Brack Hall, dorm.

Education Talk Tuesday

Charles B. Park, Central Michigan College director of special studies, will conduct a seminar Tuesday at 3 p.m. in Batts Auditorium. Several leading Texas educators and a non-professional advisory committee have been invited to attend by Dr. Roy M. Hall, coordinator of a Texas study of the effective use of school properties and instructional personnel.

Mr. Park will report on the effectiveness of a "teacher-aide" program used in Michigan.

The Ford Foundation Fund for the Advancement of Education authorized Michigan's Cooperative Study for the Better Utilization of Teacher Competencies in 1952.

One phase of the program includes experimental use of teacher-aides as a partial answer to the growing teacher shortage.

ASME Meets Monday

William F. Ryan, national president of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, will address the engineering faculty and students at a public meeting Monday at 10 a.m. in Batts Auditorium.

A resident of West Newton, Mass., Mr. Ryan is vice-president and senior consulting engineer of Stone & Webster Engineering Corporation. Since receiving his master's degree in mechanical engineering from Harvard University in 1913, he has been engaged in engineering work, particularly in the steam-power field.

He also has had experience in design of chemical and industrial plants and recently in nuclear projects.

Mr. Ryan is an honorary member of the Harvard Engineering Society, ASME, and the Award of Engineering Societies of New England. In 1954, he was awarded an honorary doctor of science degree by the Catholic University of America.

Ely to Talk on Law Day

Walter Ely, one of the nation's outstanding trial lawyers, will be a principal speaker at the fifth annual Law Day at the University April 12.

Mr. Ely was born in Texas and received his law degree from the University in 1935. Before going to California, he was editor-in-chief of the Texas Law Review and served as Assistant Attorney General.

He received his masters degree from the University of Southern California and has since become widely known as a trial lawyer. He is senior member of the Betts, Ely, and Loomis law firm in Los Angeles.

Syria—Tertium Quid?

Dag, Nasser Negotiate; Bermuda Talks Begin

As UN Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld conferred in Cairo with Egypt's President Nasser last week, Israel stated she would wage open war against Egypt if Nasser "tries to block our historic and legal passage to the Gulf of Aqaba."

Globus-Focus

Hammarskjöld was presumed desirous of a buffer zone between Israel and the Gaza Strip to prevent border fighting and Egyptian commando raids. The strip is now jointly occupied by UN Emergency Force troops and Egyptian administrators.

The Swedish diplomat also intends to obtain a declaration of nonbelligerence from both Egypt and Israel, which would end the state of war existing since the Arab-Israeli fighting of 1948.

Egypt is reluctant to nullify this condition, which furnishes her an excuse to exclude Israel from shipping in the Suez Canal and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Israel's position was further explained to Secretary of State Dulles when he returned to Washington from the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization meeting in Australia.

Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's Foreign Minister, told Dulles her nation was depending heavily on "assumptions" that the US would uphold Israel's position in the dispute.

Premier David Ben-Gurion said he regarded President Eisenhower's assurance that "we would have no regrets if we withdrew" (from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba area) . . . more valid than any treaty between nations.

The result of the Meir-Dulles talk was a US promise to Israel to push for peace in the Middle East, but no new assurances of aid in her Arab difficulties.

Canal Plan Offered
Egypt meanwhile has submitted a proposal for operating the Suez Canal. Though considered unsatisfactory, the note to the US was greeted with the attitude that Nasser was at least considering some manner of agreement. The plan stated:

1. Egypt will respect the 1888 agreement internationalizing the canal.

2. All tolls will be paid to Egypt, as they have since the nationalized the waterway July 26.

3. Stockholders' compensation claims will be decided directly or by arbitration.

4. Canal tolls will be paid in advance of ship movements to "the Suez Canal Authority in Egypt or to its nominees."

5. A fund built from part of the fares will be established for canal improvement or plans designed to increase traffic.

6. Egypt "is still loyal to the purpose of co-operation" and will issue "another detailed statement."

Syria in a Vacuum

Syria is becoming increasingly conspicuous in the Middle East muddle. A vacuum of internal and external power exists in this nation, where right- and left-wing army officers, the country's strongest clique, disagree as to the extent of Soviet interests and influence.

Syrian President Shukri al-Kuwatly expressed the general attitude of the country as wanting to be a tertium quid in the struggle among world powers, and escape the general dichotomy of Communist and non-Communist nations.

Bermuda Talks Begin

Attempts at mending strained Anglo-American relations began on balmey Bermuda this week as President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Macmillan held talks.

As the Stars and Strips and the Union Jack cracked side by side in the warm wind, the Big Two discussed the split created by US opposition to the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt last fall, a possibility of the US joining the Baghdad Pact's military committee, and US aid in helping Britain build a streamlined atomic army.

Magsaysay Mourned

As the world mourned the death of Philippine President Ramon Magsaysay, killed in an airplane crash Sunday, Vice President Carlos Garcia became the republic's new leader Monday night.

Magsaysay was an arch foe of Communism, and Garcia said he would continue the late leader's domestic and foreign policies.

Reds Win Indian State

Indian Prime Minister Nehru's ruling Congress Party suffered a severe setback last week as the Communist Party won control of a state legislature for the first time.

The Red triumph was scored in the newly established state of Kerala, on India's southern Malabar Coast. They promised to govern the unemployment-ridden state according to the Indian constitution.

Nehru was reported unworried, as his Congress Party led the National Parliament race and in most other state legislatures.

Refugees Worry Nixon

Returning from his 19,000-mile, nine-nation African goodwill tour Thursday, Vice President Nixon's chief comment concerned the Arab refugee situation.

He called the refugee problem the "most troublesome" one for African Arab leaders, and the one most affecting US-African relations.

Nixon's other main points concerning his African trip were:

1. Africa is becoming an East-West battleground, and the US must assign it "higher priority," meaning more and better diplomats.

2. U.S. Information Agency activity to Africa must be increased, particularly by expanding American libraries.

3. African students and leaders should be brought to the US for "get-acquainted" visits.

4. Egyptian President Nasser's influence over Arab Africa is abating because of the newly independent African nation's cherished freedom and independence.

Aramburu Attacked

Argentine President Pedro Aramburu's government drew heavy fire last week because of a proposed economic plan.

The government wants a free enterprise economy for prices and a tight wage control. Opposition said this program would damage working class economy and incur additional criticism of the provisional government.

there's gonna be a ROUNDOUP

Participation—100 percent participation—is the goal of this year's Round-Up celebration.

As in years past, thousands of people from throughout the state of Texas and even from foreign states will congregate in Austin to see what goes with the Forty Acres.

After a long hassle earlier this year, the Central Round-Up Committee, with support from the Student Assembly, the Ex-Students' Association, and the Texan, decided to have a Round-Up parade.

There will be a Round-Up parade.

Thousands of people will line the streets of Austin to see what interest the student body has in "workin' together." The stress isn't on finesse—it's on sharingness.

President Wilson has asked faculty not to hold any quizzes during the two days of Round-Up week-end to allow full participation to take place.

All that's left is for student groups to make a commitment.

The deadline for entering is this Wednesday.

The parade this year offers a real challenge to the students. The format features informality, low cost, low pressure, little sweat, and much sharing. No group is asked to do any more than just spend a few of their creative minutes in helping a project which will reflect to the people of Texas the spirit of the student body.

The challenge is out.

Are there any takers?

How about, say, 100 percent worth?

Rain, Varsity Carnival Splash Campus Spring

Spring officially came and with it came water from the sky, leaving students from West Texas boggled in amazement. Excepting the girl standing at the door of Littlefield Dorm, picnic hamper in hand, who collegiately remarked, "I can't believe it's raining," T-sips were in high spirits last week with great expectations of a fruitful spring.

Thousands pushed their way through the crowded midway of Varsity Carnival Saturday night to see Zeta Tau Alpha's "Ground for Mortgage" win first place in the sorority show division and Phi Kappa Psi's "Varieties" take number one honors among fraternities.

The second place sorority show was "Freud's Review of Texas University," produced by Kappa Kappa Gamma, while the third place award went to Pi Beta Phi's "Cood Capers."

"UT Confidential," presented by Lambda Chi Alpha, was second in the fraternity division and Sigma Phi Epsilon's "See the Sig-Ep Show" won third place.

Following numerous recounts of the votes, Kappa Alpha fraternity finally awarded its Miss Campus Chest trophy to Val Leibowitz, sophomore Sigma Delta Tau, in one of the closest contests in the six-year history of the event.

More than $1,500 crossed the counter in the last five minutes of voting, causing contest sponsors to delay certifying the results and withhold the winner's trophy until Monday. Final count showed Sandra Rosen, Delta Phi Epsilon, only 89 votes away from the winner. The KA's contest netted more money than in any previous year—over $2,500—all going to the Campus Chest fund.

Alpha Epsilon Pi's "Sorority Rodeo," a greased pig scramble in a pit of mud, was first place winner in the fraternity concession division while Alpha Delta Pi's "Ginger Bread" concession took first place among sorority entrants.

Freddy "Gruesome" Gerson upheld a two-year tradition established by Phi Sigma Delta fraternity as he proved his first place repulsiveness in the Ugly Man Contest.

Faculty Steps

Faculty Council, in addition to passing various changes in certain degree plans, took basic steps toward more personal enforcement of scholastic probation regulations early last week.

Dean L. D. Haskew pointed out that strict application of the rules at all times caused unwarranted hardship occasionally on a few students, but the council's action was not to be taken as an attempt to lower these standards. He said the move was aimed at students with a high grade point average faced with enforced withdrawal and students placed on scholastic probation because of illness or technicalities.

Registrar Byron Shipp suggested that such hardship be avoided by placing students with postponed exams on a "dean's probation" until the March examination series is completed. After this period, probation, unless removed, would become final and would then be recorded in the Registrar's office. At present probation is immediately recorded.

The Council agreed by consensus to accept this recommendation and also suggested that deans be expected to use discretion in application of the enforced withdrawal ruling in doubtful cases. During the next month, undergraduate deans will meet to formulate some definite recommendations on the matter.

Teaching Excellence

Letters went out to some 160 student organizations seeking their opinion on a proposed list of "virtues of teaching excellence" as initial action in what may prove to be the first University-wide teaching evaluation program begun. The list was compiled by the Teaching and Student Evaluation Committee of the Faculty-Student Cabinet.

Dr. W. H. R. Shaw and Nancy Haston, faculty and student co-chairmen, announced that the purpose of the letter is "to collect" for perhaps the first time—material directly from students that reflects the items they consider important for first rate instruction.

Student Party Reorganizes

The Student Party, in its first major meeting since last spring, adopted a new constitution, the essence of the reorganizational changes drafted by the steering committee under Thurston Barnett, party chairman.

An amendment stating that "an organization affiliating with the student party shall have a minimum of 15 members desiring to affiliate" caused the most prolonged debate. Several amendments which would have changed the basic structure of the party were defeated.

Round Up Nears

Trophies will go to the fraternity and sorority with the most entrants in the Charron's first annual Round-Up Rodeo April 5-6 officials announced. The rodeo will be at Hancock Recreation Center, across the Interregional Highway from Delwood Center. Ninety-three entries—40 more than last year—have been received in the Round-Up Beard Growing Contest. Tickets for all Round-Up events went on sale last week also.

And then . . .

Terry Townsend, Lambda Chi Alpha, was elected president of Interfraternity Council and Chi Phi fraternity was presented a trophy for best grade improvement during the last semester . . .

The "dean" of United States tennis coaches, Dr. Daniel Allen Penick, 87, retired from the University staff after more than a half century of service . . . Chill Wills, colorful Hollywood character actor, was on campus . . . Houses of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity and Pi Beta Phi sorority were rocked by explosions determined by Austin police as being caused by a type explosive used by the Navy in mock battles . . . The Committee of 75, representing all senatorial districts and virtually a cross section of Texas, was named to recommend steps in planning the future of the University.

NAACP Bill 'Hanging'

Senate Continues ICT Probe

A former executive of the ICT Insurance Company, John G. Vaughan, told Senate investigators Friday that the idea of spreading the company into as many as 24 states in the nation was a bad idea from the beginning.

He also told the committee that BenJack Cagle was an impulsive executive who would exile officials of the company when they did not agree with him.

Vaughan said that if the company had worked only in Texas it would have been one of the biggest fire and casualty companies in the state.

Week before last, Senate investigators revealed that money was borrowed from a Dallas bank to begin the company and, further, that more money was borrowed at the end of the year for year-end reports. However, Meyer J. Rachofsky, vice-president of Mercantile National Bank, told the committee last week that the money never left the bank.

Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade quoted an aide of BenJack Cagle as saying he "was afraid someone in the union or Texas politicians would kill him if he returned." Cagle told the Associated Press in a telephone interview earlier he would be glad to come back to Texas and testify before the investigating committee if he were asked. Cagle is now in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Trial Set For Monday

Judge Charles Betts Friday scheduled trial of the priority suits in the US Trust and Guaranty case for 9 a.m. Monday in the 98th District Court in Austin.

Betts told attorneys that he wanted it understood the only issue before him was the question of priority payments of liquidated assets of the defunct Waco Insurance firm. He said trial arguments, without a jury, would be limited to that issue.

The House Wednesday advanced a bill to bar state (and those of its political subdivision) employees from membership in the NAACP but left final passage hanging.

No effort was made by Representative Reagan Huffman of Marshall to get his bill (HB 32) completely out of the House and into the Senate. The bill may come up again this week.

LIFE in Texas
An article published in LIFE magazine last week on Texas elections says anyone could have entered the senatorial race and have had about an equal chance of winning. However, LIFE limited the field and predicted the real race would be between Ralph Yarborough of Austin and Martin Dies of Lufkin.

From Snow to Stones

Texas weather made news this week by running the entire gamut of weather from tornado warnings to snow. Central Texas had beautiful spring weather on Saturday while the Panhandle of Texas and some parts of Oklahoma and New Mexico had drifts of snow that were five feet deep. Earlier in the week, tornado warnings were issued for Austin, and hailstones and rain hit the city Wednesday night.

Olympians Get Permission

To Wed from Czech Reds

Well, our two olympic champion friends—one from each side of the Iron Curtain—have finally been granted permission to marry by the Communist Czech government.

Harold Connolly, US Olympic hammer throwing champ, revealed last week the Czech Olympic discus star, Thea two met at the Melbourne Olympic games.

An item of more serious import was the Senate rackets investigators' studies of the Teamsters Union. Early in the week the investigators indicated that further questioning of Frank W. Brewster may have a "vital" bearing on a later probe involving Teamsters President Dave Beck.

Beck's story—told earlier—of borrowing union funds was declared "not the same as our information" by counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the special Senate committee.

Another investigating body—this one of the Civil Aeronautics Board—disclosed Thursday that the doomed crew of one of the planes involved in the tragic January California air mishap may have spent the last seconds of life attempting to crash into an open area.

The DC-7 liner fell on the athletic field of a suburban junior high school after colliding with a jet fighter plane. Eight were killed and 76 injured in the mishap.

A CAB expert told the board that "in the case of the DC-7 the crew probably was able to alter the flight path somewhat until the tail disintegrated at a low altitude."

"It appears that the DC-7 crew may have induced these failures in a last desperate attempt to crash in an open area."

News You Don't Need

A Buddhist priest, Chuk Mor of Penang, North Malaya, said last week he had received reports that certain monks had been attending strip tease shows "on the sly" on that tiny North Malayan island.

He said he took a serious view of the matter and will bring up the question at the next meeting of the Penang Buddhist Institute.

AUSTIN

Special Programs Today on 98.3 mc

The magic of FM radio—high fidelity reproduction of the world's greatest sounds—celebrates its first birthday as an Austin product today, as Station KHFI-FM, 98.3 mc, presents a special potpourri of the "representative week of FM with KHFI" from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The station regularly broadcasts from 3 p.m. each day.

Boasting better than 13% of the radio listening audience of Austin after just one year here, KHFI-FM began broadcasting March 25, 1956, to bring the magnificent new medium of high fidelity through FM reproduction to the receptive Austin audience. Austin, as one of the great cultural and educational centers of the South, has responded well.

Station Manager Jim Moore, along with Program Director Leonard Masters and Chief Engineer Dale Jones, were instrumental in bringing FM to Austin a year ago.

Now, along with other staffers Robert F. Russell, assistant station manager; Rod Kennedy, public relations; Robert Clardy, continuity; Bill B. Oxley, commercials; and Edrine Carson, office manager; KHFI-FM is aiming for an even more successful year during the coming 365 days.

Featured in today's potpourri, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., will be such regular KHFI-FM features as "The Music Box," "Promenade Concert," "The Opera House," "VM Jazzland," "Intermezzo," and "Request Concert."

Also, "Adventures in High Fidelity," "On Stage," "American Jazz with Chad Oliver," "Marquee," "Folk Music of the World," "Symphony Hall," "Cuneo's Big Band Sound," "Speedway Radio & TV Evening Serenade," "The Chamber Group," "Ballet Theatre," "Out of the Past," and "Cham-pagne Opera."

It is such diversified program planning, featuring the best possible in sound reproduction, that has brought so many friends and regular listeners for KHFI in such a short time.

Another feature on Sunday will be a special offer as a salute to the Austin Symphony Orchestra and Musical Director Ezra Rachlin. KHFI-FM will give free student or enlisted men's tickets to the April 1st concert with each Program Guide subscription telephoned to the station during the anniversary broadcast today. The Program Guides, which list all KHFI programming for the month with special program notes, sell for 25c each and $2.50 per year's subscription.

Great Composers Spotlighted in April

Already looking forward to great programming during April, KHFI-FM announces these features during the next month:

Jazz to Classics; All Good Music

From Jazz to Classics, if it's fine music, you'll find it on KHFI-FM.

Stressing variety in fine music reproduction, KHFI-FM tries to please the discriminating Austin listening audience with high fidelity production of all types of musical presentation.

"American Jazz," emceed by UT anthropology prof Chad Oliver, is a popular feature of KHFI. You can hear it Saturday nights from 10 to 11. "Old time" jazz is his specialty.

"VM Jazzland" is presented every night from 11:30 to 12 midnight. "Mostly modern" is the keynote.

On the opposite extreme, such programs as "Symphony Hall," featuring best basic works by great composers; "The Opera House," and others offer a fitting contrast for the finest in musical reproduction—KHFI-FM.

(1) Symphonic Works by 50 of the world's great composers, including Bach, Beethoven, Brahms, Mozart, Rimsky-Korsakov, Wagner, Debussy, Mahler, Saint-Saens, Haydn, Berlioz, and Prokofiev.

(2) Contemporary works by Piston, Hanson, Cowell, Gershwin, Gould, Copland, Vaughn Williams, and others.

(3) Ballet scores including "Swan Lake," "The Nutcracker," "The Sleeping Beauty," "Bluebird," and "Helen of Troy."

(4) Complete operas, including "Tosca," "The Spanish Hour," "The Saint of Bleeker Street," "Parsifal," and "Aida."

(5) Plus sacred masses, works for solo piano, light concert music, Broadway musicals, and adventures in high fidelity.

(6) Shakespeare's "Macbeth," "Julius Caesar," "Othello," and "Midsummer Night's Dream."

(7) Over 90 hours of popular music by Percy Faith, Paul Weston, Victor Young, Harry James, Kostelanetz, Montovani, Artie Shaw, Michael Lagrand, Morton Gould, Les Elgart, Robert Shaw Chorale, and more.

(8) State-wide news of cultural activities every day.

Cycle Programs Put Presentations In Proper Place

A desire to "put things in their place" seems inherent in an orderly society. KHFI-FM aims to put musical scores "in their proper place" in musical perspective by featuring "cyclical programming."

Briefly, this means that instead of mixing one of Verdi's operas in the midst of other scores—to feature a series of Verdi's works together, KHFI-FM follows this theme in all areas—grouping the musical and sound reproduction that has made the biggest mark on the centuries—"in its proper place."

that take place here—coverage of everything from the Austin Symphony Orchestra to the yearly Parade of Homes.

WHAT DO YOU NEED TO ENJOY FM?

All you need is an FM Radio ($40 complete and up) or an FM Tuner for your present radio ($25 and up) or an AM-FM Radio ($50 and up). Check your present radio . . . it may be already equipped to handle FM.

WHO LISTENS TO KHFI-FM?

The loyal listening audience of KHFI-FM consists of more than 7500 persons, and this number is growing rapidly as more persons realize the real sound splendor to be found.

Here are some facts about the type of people that compose the listening audience:

(1) Every year more people attend concerts than all the Major and Minor League Baseball combined.

(2) 35 million Americans spend more than one-half billion dollars for good music admissions.

(3) 35 to 49 percent of All RECORDS sold in the United States are Classical Music.

(4) More than 20 million school children are now studying good music.

(5) The Good Music Audience is the fastest growing market in the U.S.

Thunderstorms, Household Noises

'Adventures in Hi-Fi'

The strange world of sound fascinates many. To hear these sounds at their most intense moment, caught by explicit recordings with unblemished reproduction over FM is a real thrill.

KHFI-FM offers each Saturday night from 8 to 9 p.m., "Adventures in High Fidelity" to satisfy the desire to delve even deeper into this world of sounds.

The "Sound of the Week"—whether it be thunderstorms, sounds of the ionosphere, household sounds, delicate sounds or whatnot—is coupled with a recording in a more profound vein for pure listening thrills.

Growing Listenership Marks KHFI's First Year

KHFI-FM, in its first eight months of broadcasting, had earned better than 13% of the radio listening audience in Austin. This is a significant portion of the listening audience for a new station, since radio listenership in Austin is shared by five local stations and several out of town stations.

It is especially significant when it is realized that a special receiver is required to listen to FM. Of the more than 1000 people called in the research project, nearly 20% owned

FM receivers.

The present listenership of KHFI-FM is estimated at nearly 20,000, including listeners in large buildings wired for FM reception such as the Episcopal Student Center (Gregg House) and Brackenridge Hospital. The listenership of the station is based on a telephone survey conducted by Radio/Television Director R. F. Schenkkan.

The survey was conducted in October of last year from a sampling designed by Hoyle Osborne, research analyst for the city of Austin.

AM vs. FM

There are two systems of radio transmission in use today. The first, is called AM or Amplitude Modulation. It is the system used in commonplace broadcasting. The second, developed commercially only in the past 15 years, is called FM or Frequency Modulation. In most AM broadcasts a certain amount of static and electrical noise, interference, fading and cross-talk usually exists. But, this is not so in FM broadcasts. When you tune in FM programs, you hear voice or music against a background of silence. Even thunderstorms directly overhead do not affect FM reception. Nor will X-ray machines, fluorescent lights, or any of the other usual causes of radio interference. On FM, music or voice is heard in full and natural tones. Sounds never heard on AM can now be heard distinctly on FM. The feeling of "presence" so essential to music listening, puts that orchestra right into your own living room. And so a brand new world of radio entertainment opens up with an FM receiver.

Congratulations to KHFI-FM

Alpha Lambda Delta Pledges Fifty-five Freshman Coeds

Miss Helen Flinn, assistant dean of women, has released the names of 55 girls who have pledged Alpha Lambda Delta, freshman women's honorary organization.

Miss Flinn said that the initiation ceremonies, to be held on April 25, would be held at Carothers Dormitory because the dormitory had the highest percentage of freshman girls to make a 2.5 average or better during the fall semester. Fifteen percent of the 26 freshman girls in Carothers Dormitory made the list.

Of the 871 freshman women in the University, Miss Flinn announced that six percent had made

Theta Xi House Nears Finish

The new ultra-modern Theta Xi fraternity house will be completed May 4, announced Billy Carnes, chapter president. The alumni dinner will be held there as the first social function in the house.

The architectural design of the house embodies a large hexagonal center area from which extend three wings at symmetrical angles. The center area, a combination recreation and dining room, can be divided by an accordion partition.

The first wing houses the foyer, living room, library, and chapter room. The second wing has the kitchen, housemother's suite, and utility and mechanical rooms. The officers' quarters and guest rooms are located in the third wing.

Only living quarters for the officers will be provided, incorporating a new approach to fraternity living. Under this plan other chapter members can live outside the house in the neighboring area but still participate fully in chapter activities and have their meals there.

A low, sloping roof extending outward beyond the wings provides two covered terraces at the rear of the house for outdoor entertaining.

Salmon pink brick will be used at the end of the wings and for trim. Glass will be used extensively for wall areas.

The over-all cost of the project will be approximately $150,000. Architects are Kuehne, Brooks, and Barr.

Phi Mu Alpha To Meet Here

The annual province convention of Phi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity, will be held in the Music Building March 29-30, said Don Smith, president. The convention will be in connection with the Southwest Symposium of Contemporary Music.

Fredrick Ferrell, of the Eastern School of Music, will be guest conductor of the Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia in a concert honoring Archie Jones, professor of music at the University.

As a prelude to the convention, orchestral readings, open to the public, will be held in the Music Building from 9:30 a.m. until noon and from 2 until 4 p.m. beginning Wednesday. These readings will continue throughout the convention. The conventioners will have a dinner at the Terrace Motel Restaurant Saturday, March 30.

Nine chapters of Phi Mu Alpha will be represented at the convention.

Women's Group To Meet Monday

Cap and Gown, senior women's organization, will have a meeting at 4:30 p.m. Monday in Union 301.

The co-chairmen of Swing Out will present their plans for the Spring event and afterward there will be general discussion.

Henry Jacoby has been chosen Silver Spur co-chairman to work with Cap and Gown co-chairmen Carol Querolo and Susan Mowery. Steve Butler and Jack Norwood will be resident co-chairmen.

Other Spur co-chairmen are George Olsen, finance; Bud Mims, publicity; Jerry Wells, posters; Frank McClaine, mechanics; and Benny Rhodes, program.

Governor Meets In Capitol Daily

If meeting Texas' Governor is one of your ambitions, a quick trip to town will do the job.

At 11:30 a.m. Monday through Friday the Governor appears in the Governor's Public Reception Room on the second floor of the Capitol. Furnished with green chairs embossed with the State Seal, this room is the scene of daily handshaking and document signing, and is open to the public.

Many people attending this ceremony just want to meet the Governor, while others are there arranging a ceremony in which they want to include him.

This daily ceremony was first started in 1947 by Governor Beauford Jester. Since that time, it has been kept by each Governor as part of the daily business.

Law Bachelors Hold Picnic

The Law Bachelors are giving a picnic with the members of Delta Gamma sorority Sunday from 2:30 to 5 p.m. The picnic will be held on Lake Austin.

Can I test Christian Science for myself?

The steady growth of Christian Science has naturally caused many to wonder whether it could also help them. Some have friends or relatives who are Christian Scientists and have inquired there. But others prefer to look into the subject entirely for themselves and reach conclusions in their own way.

SCIENCE AND HEALTH

shows what Christian Science is and exactly how it works. Anyone who reads this book can test for himself its practical value in solving the problems of daily life.

Science and Health may be read, borrowed, or purchased at any Christian Science Reading Room, or send $3.00 and a copy will be mailed postpaid.

Speaking of Churches...

"The Great Rejection" will be the subject of Dr. Blake Smith's message at the 8:45 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday at the University Baptist Church. The Rev. Robert Lovell will be in the pulpit at the 7:30 service.

Dean James I. McCord of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary will be the guest speaker at the College Department Training Union, which will begin with supper at 5:30 p.m. in the Recreation Room of the Students Building. He will lead a discussion centered around the "Uniqueness of the Christian Religion—What Is It?"

Dr. Edmund Heinsohn will speak on "Jesus and the Multitudes" at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at the University Methodist Church.

"The Living Sacrifice" will be the topic used by Rev. Gregory Robertson at the 7:30 evening service.

Carl Besch, sophomore, will speak in student-led services at the University Lutheran Church at 10 a.m. Sunday. Representative Frank Mann will speak on "The Christian Influence in Public Life" at the Gamma Delta discussion group at 4 p.m. Supper will follow.

Paul Pettit of the Baha'i Faith will speak on "God and His Prophets" in a public lecture to be held in the University Y.M.C.A. at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The Baha'i Faith originated in Persia in 1844 as a religious sect known as Babism. The Baha'i New Year was observed March 20 in over 250 countries, where its advocates believe the Faith has "marked an era unprecedented in the history and development of mankind."

Dr. James Wharton of the Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary will speak to the Westminster Student Fellowship on "The Prophets: God's Judgment on History" at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. This is the third in a series of talks by Dr. Wharton on the Old Testament.

Gamma Phi Honors Foreign Students

Gamma Phi Beta held an open house for 60 University foreign students from 4 to 5 p.m. Friday at the chapter house.

Gamma Phi is one of eight campus organizations participating in the project sponsored by the International Council.

"This is something new on the campus and Mr. Joe Neal, head of the International Advisory office, says it is one of the best programs for the furthering of foreign students' social life that has been done," explained Marla Kincaid, chairman of the International Council.

Charity Carnival Coming to Hillel

Jewish students of the University will sponsor a carnival featuring games and refreshments, Sunday, March 31, at Hillel Foundation.

Money derived from the fund-raising affair will go to the United Jewish Appeal Emergency Fund which enables Jewish people the world over to escape oppression.

"Purposes of this affair are for students at the University and the local Jewish Community to fraternize and enjoy themselves and to raise money for a very worthy cause," said Bob Storer, chairman.

PIKA's Hold Picnic Sunday

PI Kappa Alpha fraternity will have a picnic for Chi Omega sorority Sunday from 2:30 until 7 p.m. at a home on Lake Travis. After the picnic some of the boys will go to Jonestown to dance.

FOREIGN STUDENTS chat with members of Gamma Phi Beta at the sorority's party Friday. Talking over the state of the world in general are Mashing Chen, Salvador de la Casa, Carolyn Shane, Ola Butler, and Ronald Chung. Paula Craig, standing, is preparing another raid of the punch bowl.

Church of Christ Adds Wing for Student Use

Thirty years of service to the University—from 1927 to 1957—and the University Church of Christ is increasing its assistance by the addition of the Student Center and Bible Chair now under construction.

Chi Gamma Iota Selects Finalists

Five finalists for Chi Gamma Iota Sweetheart have been chosen. Final selection of the 1957 Sweetheart will take place Monday at 8 p.m. in Texas Union 301.

Anne Belle Clements, Alpha Chi Omega; Sherry Glover, Zeta Tau Alpha; Jeannie MacCamey, Kappa Kappa Gamma; Jackie Spearman, Delta Gamma; and Becky Wilson, Pearce Co-op, are the finalists.

The five were chosen from 16 girls nominated by sororities, co-ops, and nominated independently by Chi Gamma Iota members. Initial judging was done by a special committee. The entire membership will select the winner from the finalists.

The Sweetheart will be presented at the Chi Gamma Iota Spring Formal and will ride in the Round-Up Parade.

BSU Auxiliary Formed

The Young Women's Auxiliary, a new organization in the Baptist Student Union, has started holding meetings. The group was organized in late February.

The purpose of the group is to study and work with missions. It meets the second and fourth Mondays of each month. Sponsors of the auxiliary are Mrs. Hardy Clements and Mrs. Walter Floyd.

The first Bible Chair at the University church was begun in 1927 and the new building should be completed in time for the fall semester of 1957.

The new wing to the present church at 1903 University Avenue will cost about $125,000. W. O. Gustafson is the architect for the three-story Austin Stone annex, and building is under contract to the Thomas Brothers Construction Company.

The Bible Chair and Student Center will be located on the first floor and will be under the direction of Earl McMillan. A student group is working with the church officers and will help determine the uses of the activities room in the Student Center. A student soft drink bar is definitely being planned and plans for various other facilities are being considered.

A chapel seating 125, designed primarily for use of the University students, will occupy part of the second floor with the Bible Chair library and offices. The regular church education library will remain in the present building. Offices will be for the minister, an associate minister, the Bible Chair director, and two secretaries.

Classrooms for junior high and high school students will be located on the third floor.

Harrison Mathews, minister, said, "One of the great missions of the University Church of Christ has been to provide a place of worship, study, and fellowship for the great host of Christian youth who attend The University of Texas. We feel that with our new facilities we will be able to be of greater service to every Christian who cares to work and worship with us."

Yearly Contest For Students Opens April 3

Next event in the series of competitive speech contests directed jointly by the Oratorical Association and the Department of Speech will be the annual Battle of Flowers Oratorical Contest, which offers $200 in prizes to the three winners.

The contest is sponsored by the Battle of Flowers Association of San Antonio.

Rules for the contest provide that any bona fide student of the University may enter except previous first-place winners of the contest. Orations must be original speeches from 10 to 12 minutes in length, delivered from memory.

The subject matter of the oration must deal with character delineations of Texans or historical events and institutions appropriate to the theme of Texas independence. Originality and research are important.

The first-place winner, who will receive an award of $100, will deliver his oration at the annual banquet of the Battle of Flowers Association of San Antonio during the celebration of the Fiesta de San Jacinto on April 25.

Preliminary round for the contest will be held April 3 in Speech Building 201. Eight contestants will be selected from the preliminary round to enter the final round on April 10.

Officers' Union Has 15 on Roll

A unit of the Officers' Christian Union, a national organization, was formed at the University in November and has since grown to a membership of 15 ROTC instructors and advanced cadets.

All military personnel on campus are invited to join but those who are merely "joiners" are not encouraged. "They could only have an adverse effect on our group," explained Maj. Eugene Wink, the faculty sponsor.

"There are four points to our program: Bible study, discussion of problems common to servicemen, witnessing for Jesus Christ in order to help others, and attempting to develop Christian leadership among military officers," added Maj. Wink.

The OCU meets every second and fourth Tuesday at 7 p.m. in Texas Union 315. Anyone interested in the organization is invited to attend the next meeting.

Beta Alpha Pi Meets Tuesday

The University of Texas chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, honorary accounting society, and the Austin chapter of Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants will hold a joint dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Hill's Cafe.

Texas Secretary of State Zollie Steakley will address the meeting. Steakley is a graduate of the University of Texas Law School and practiced law in Sweetwater. He was assistant attorney general from 1939 to 1942 and in 1946.

Steakley was engaged in private law practice in Austin from 1946 until his appointment as secretary of state January 15 of this year. He is a prominent Baptist layman and is active in Lions' Club work.

The Oscar Derby

Wednesday Tells The Final Story For Oscar Race

By BRADFORD DANIEL
Texan Amusements Editor

First in a series of three articles. Wednesday night will tell the tale; the secrets surrounding this year's Academy Awards will be known, the winners named. The race is hot, probably the most heated in recent years. It's a comeback year—Ingrid Bergman, who once deserted Hollywood for an Italian film director, is a candidate for Best Actress.

Nancy Kelly, a Hollywood star returning to the film industry after leaving it several years ago for a Broadway career, is nominated for "The Bad Seed." Others running for Best Actress honors are Deborah Kerr, Katharine Hepburn, and Carol Baker. Miss Hepburn previously won an Oscar in 1932 for "Morning Glory." Miss Bergman in 1944 for "Gaslight."

It's a year of triumph for Rock Hudson, nominated for his role in "Giant." After many years in films he has emerged this year as a star to be watched. Running against him for Best Actor Oscar are Laurence Olivier (winner, 1948: "Hamlet"), Yul Brynner, Kirk Douglas, and James Dean. Mr. Dean has, for the second time, been nominated posthumously. He was so honored for his role in "Giant." His first such nomination was for "East of Eden" in 1955.

Supporting Players
Mercedes McCambridge, nominated as Best Supporting Actress for "Giant," won that category in 1949 for "All The King's Men." Against her are pitted Patty McCormack ("The Bad Seed"); Eileen Heckart ("The Bad Seed"); Mildred Dunnock ("Baby Doll"); and Dorothy Malone ("Written on the Wind"). Two nominees for Best Supporting Actor have previously won Oscars, Mickey Rooney, nominated for "The Bold and the Brave," won a special Oscar as a child star.

Anthony Quinn ("Lust for Life") won Best Supporting Actor in 1952 for "Viva Zapata!" Running against them are Robert Stack ("Written on the Wind"); Anthony Perkins ("Friendly Persuasion"); and Don Murray ("Bus Stop").

Not Always Talent
The Oscar race is not always determined exclusively on talent. Other factors often enter into the picture: campaigns, money, personal grudges. "Marty," the best film of 1955, cost only $343,000 to make, but Hecht-Lancaster, its producers, spent over $500,000 promoting it for the Oscar.

Often a candidate wins without any campaigning. Such was the case of Anna Magnani, 1955 winner for "The Rose Tattoo." She came to Hollywood, made the film for Hal Wallis, then returned to Rome, where she remained until telephoned that she had won.

The minimum worth of an Oscar to a winning star is estimated at $1 million. But, even this has been proved unstable. Luise Rainer, winner in 1936 and 1937 ("The Great Ziegfeld," "The Good Earth"), never made another hit film after she won. Her career very rapidly hit the bottom. Some cited this reason: She was too particular about her screenplays.

She has no longer willing to take a chance on a picture. She has taken a chance in "The Good Earth," playing a Chinese peasant. This chance paid off: gold statuette no. 2. She never again took a chance. She never again won—either an Oscar—or a boxoffice smash.
