

Croswell, Bryson, Blanchard, Sucke, Stone Add Petitions As Fall Election Candidates

Announcement Period to End In Two Days

Five more students have filed petitions for candidacy in the fall elections with Margaret Gray, secretary of the Students' Assembly. Mark "Bubba" Croswell and Jack Sucke announced that they would run for assemblyman from the School of Business Administration. Pauline Blanchard will run for assemblyman from the College of Arts and Sciences. Shudde Bess Bryson and Ben Stone will run for a chair in the Judiciary Council. Two days remain during which petitions may be filed for the election.

Croswell, a senior in the School of Business Administration, is a member of the Cowboys, and is vice-president of the Kappa Sigma social fraternity. He is a former intramural manager, and is now himself active in campus intramurals.

Jack Sucke, a student in the School of Business Administration, is vice-president of the Curtin Club and a member of the Board of Governors of the Curtin Club. He was recently appointed by Jimmie Brinkley, president of the Students' Assembly, to fill Irby Cobb's position in the Judiciary Council.

Miss Blanchard is a member of the Home Economics Club, Glee Club, Cap and Gown, Y.W.C.A. She was rush captain of the Phi Mu social sorority this year. She served on the Cactus staff for two years.

Miss Bryson is president of the senior class and president of the U.T.S.A. She is a member of the Mortar Board, Co-Ed Assembly, Alpha Lambda Delta, Sidney Lanier Literary Society, Cap and Gown, Honor Roll, Raquet Club, and Zeta Tau Alpha social sorority.

Stone, a graduate student in the School of Business Administration, is a member of the Cowboys and is a student assistant in the School of Business Administration.

Grid-Graph Ready For O. U. Game

The O.U.-Texas football game will be shown in detail on the Grid-Graph in Hogz Memorial Auditorium Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Charles Zivley, manager of the Texas Union, announced yesterday.

"It will be necessary for all persons desiring to be admitted to this party to have one of the tickets which we are giving away absolutely free at the office in the Union, or pay the charge of 25 cents," said Mr. Zivley.

Students may get tickets by presenting their auditor's receipts at the manager's office, whether they have paid their student activity fee or not. Faculty members will be given tickets on personal recognition. Each ticket is good for the entire season. The deadline for securing them is closing time of the Union the night before the game. After that time, the student may pay 25 cents to be admitted to the party.

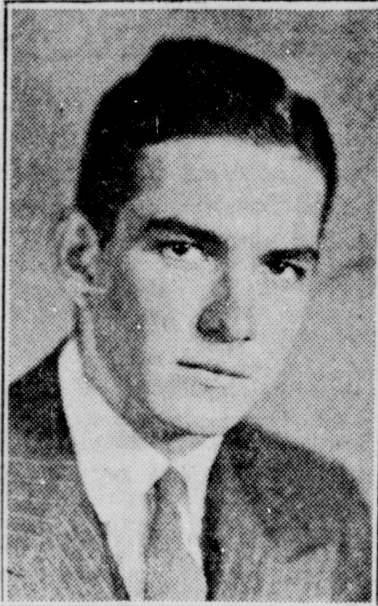

The Grid-Graph machine had its first trial here two years ago during the Texas Tech game. It is an electrical device which duplicates on a miniature field the movements made on the gridiron on which the actual contest is being played. Passes, runs, fumbles, and kicks, all plays are graphically reproduced on the Grid-Graph.

The Grid-Graph offers the students who do not attend the out-of-town games an opportunity to see the actual plays of the games.

16 Pass Tryouts For Wesley Players

Sixteen students have been made probationary members of the Wesley Foundation Players after successful tryouts. Solon Earle, director, has announced. Casting was begun for "Journey's End," to be produced next month.

The following were made probationary members: Philena Helen Campbell, Barbara Kone, Eugenia Lee, Juliet Knight, Gypsy Petty, Adele Collins, Ivan Belknap, Rose Munves, Glen A. Nelle, Louise Morris, David Culberson, William Lee, Harold Wood, Tommy Markley, Buff Martin, and Oscar Lindstrum.

Ben Stone, above, filed his petition for candidacy to the Judiciary Council yesterday with Margaret Gray, secretary of the Students' Assembly.

Shudde Bess Bryson, above, is another candidate for a seat in the Judiciary Council. She filed her petition with Margaret Gray yesterday.

Carolyn Wells Writes Poem About Texas

One of the Saturday Evening Post's humorists, Carolyn Wells, who contributes nonsense poetry to the "Post Scripts," jotted down her "Personal Impressions of Texas" in verse form and sent them to Miss Fannie Ratchford, librarian in the Wrenn Library.

While Miss Ratchford was on her vacation last month in New York, she visited with Mrs. Wells for about an hour, seeing her collections of books—nonsense poetry volumes, humorous short stories, detective stories, and an unusual set of Walt Whitman's works.

Mrs. Wells also writes detective stories, and is under contract with the J. B. Lippincott Publishing Company to write three stories a year as long as she lives.

Never having been in Texas, Mrs. Wells humorously composed these six stanzas about the state, and sent them to Miss Ratchford:

PERSONAL IMPRESSIONS OF TEXAS

Our Texas is a noble state,
It's very big, it's very great.
It's area, (I think I've heard)
Is bigger by almost a third
Than England, France and part Of Spain!
(Or maybe, that's the size of Maine.)

But anyway, from side to side
The State of Texas is quite Wide.

The people there are fierce and bold;
They live in ranches I am told.
They gallop wildly o'er the plain,
Then swiftly gallop back again.

The Texas plain is very vast,
And so they have to gallop fast.
Some Texans have quite breezy manners,
And wear sombreros and bandanas;
And some have black mustaches
And wear the best of evening

All Aboard for the O. U. Game! Big Doings--But You Pay 8 Bucks

By FRED GIPSON

NATURALLY, MOST OF US are trying to trick, threaten, and otherwise inveigle somebody out of a ticket to the Texas-O.U. game Saturday, and at the same time figure out ways and means of getting a ride to Dallas free of charge. And on top of that, a lot of us are trying right at the last minute to scare up acquaintances with residents of Dallas, so we'll have somebody to eat off while we're there.

Nobody's worrying about a place to sleep, of course. Because if they wanted to sleep, they'd stay in Austin to begin with.

But in spite of all that can be done, there's going to be a lot of us having to dig down in our pockets, write home, or do something to manage finances for that trip. Because it has to be made.

Because who could think of staying in school while all the big doings are taking place in Dallas?

And so we're going to have to look for bargains.

Well, there is one. It's not just what we'd like, of course, because a man just can't help wishing he could get a bargain that didn't cost him a cent. And this

Orange Jackets Sell Tickets To O. U. Game

The Orange Jackets will assist the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the sale of student tickets to Dallas today and Friday in front of the Texas Union or in the main corridor of the New Library Building, Joe Stanton, secretary and manager of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said Wednesday.

A parade, including the Texas Longhorn Band, the Austin High School Band, and citizens of Austin riding in cars furnished by local automobile dealers, will leave the Capitol grounds this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

The tickets, which cost blanket tax holders $5.80, entitle the purchaser to a round-trip to Dallas on the M.K. & T. Railroad, admission to the Centennial grounds, dinner at the Black Forest, admission to the Cavalcade of Texas, conveyance to and from the Union Station, lunch at the Nuremberg Restaurant, and a tour of the Centennial grounds.

If a student has his blanket tax, his admission to the Texas-Oklahoma football game will cost only $1.10 in addition to the $5.80 paid for his ticket. If a student prefers to sit in the reserved section provided for the Austin Day visitors, his ticket plus the round-trip ticket will cost $8. Mr. Stanton said. It is not compulsory that purchasers of the student tickets attend the football game.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Stanton announced, arranged for the student rates to add to the number of Austin people going to the Centennial for Austin Day, sponsored by Mr. Stanton's group. He is a former student of the University.

DEBATE CLUB TO MEET

A regular meeting of the Hogz Debate Club will be held at Texas Union 315 tonight at 7:30 o'clock, Darby Orgain, president, has announced. Two speeches will be given by members of the club.

one's going to cost a little. But it's the best thing anybody's run across around town yet.

The Austin Junior Chamber of Commerce is putting on this bargain, a bargain ticket to Dallas. It's an $8 cut. But it looks like maybe it would take care of a man all right, and show him around a little at Dallas.

It gives him admission to the Texas-O.U. game, so he won't have to crawl over a fence.

Let him ride the M-K-T special to Dallas and back—provided he can get up and be down at the station Saturday morning by 6 o'clock, which is pretty early to have to get up, and provided he's still able to see and board a train

Council Gives Appointments Sanction

Judiciary Affirms President's Power To Fill Vacancies With Ratification

The Judiciary Council last night voted four to two in favor of the defense represented by Jimmie Brinkley, president of the Students' Association, in the case concerning the interpretation of certain clauses of the constitution of the Students' Assembly and of the Handbook of the Texas Student Publications, Inc.

J. Anderson Fitzgerald, plaintiff in the case and dean of the School of Business Administration, raised the question of the legality of Brinkley's making appointments to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors of the Texas Student Publications, Inc.

The Judiciary Council ruled as follows: "In the section of Chapter II entitled 'When Directors Take Office' of the Handbook of the Texas Student Publications, Inc.:

"1. Whenever the word 'vacancy' appears in this section it means a student vacancy having to do with those students who are also members of the Assembly.

"2. The president of the Students' Association has the power to fill any student vacancies for the Board of Directors of the Texas Student Publications, Inc., with the ratification by the Assembly at their first meeting.

"These by-laws contained in the Handbook of the Texas Student Publications, Inc., are binding as an elaboration of the Constitution of the Students' Assembly and there exists no contradiction nor typographical errors in the phraseology of the clauses of the Constitution and By-Laws."

Those voting in favor of the petition were Elowese Crain, Margaret Wirtz, Gus Garcia, and John Bradshaw, chairman. Those opposed were Ramsey Moore and Bub Karkowski.

Dean Fitzgerald in a letter to the members of the council said that while the Constitution gives the president of the Students' Assembly the power to fill vacancies on the Assembly, it gives him no power to fill vacancies on the Board of Directors.

In the Handbook of the Texas Student Publications, Inc., it is stated that when "vacancies occur on the board, the president of the Students' Assembly declares a vacancy and fills the place by appointment."

Only a few membership tickets to the Austin Community Concert Association, entitling the holders to five concerts, are now available.

The association works on the principle of fine arts at moderate prices, this being made possible by advance subscriptions before the season opens. The budget thus raised is put into the bank as the Association's assets for the season, and upon this basis the artists' contracts for the year are drawn up. Only members may attend the concerts as only those holding season tickets are admitted; no tickets for individual concerts are sold at the box office.

Only the balcony of the auditorium is reserved for students at the half-price memberships.

Those unable to pay now may secure a ticket from the association on a deferred payment arrangement. This arrangement may be made through the Association's secretary, Miss Lois Trice at the Wrenn Library in the Old Library Building.

$500 to be Awarded For American Play

To stimulate the writing, production, and publication of new American plays, the Charles H. Sergel Prize of $500 will be awarded the author of the best full-length play submitted on or before April 1, 1937.

The plays must have been written since 1935 and must be hitherto unpublished and unproduced, and it is best that they represent or interpret American life.

Judges have not yet been announced, but in the past they have been well-known authors. A bulletin in the east entrance of the New Library Building contains complete information concerning rules of the contest.

Brinkley Again May Be Ineligible; Parlin, Moore, and Nowotny Meet This Morning to Make Final Decision

Russian Chorus To Give Concert Here Tonight

Russian folk-songs and dances in glittering Slavic costume, and with a change in mood, the greatness of classical choral works are presented by a group that has been on the international concert stage for 80 years—Madame Slaviansky and her Russian Company.

Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock, this organization appears in Hogz Memorial Auditorium for the first program of the year sponsored by the Student Cultural Entertainment Committee.

The chorus and dancers are making their second tour of the United States, returning from recent engagements on the West Coast. The group spent part of the spring and summer at Southwestern University singing and giving instruction in choral work.

Thus the sixth season of the Student Cultural Entertainment Committee opens under the direction of W. T. Rolfe, chairman of the Department of Architecture, faculty advisor, and Tom Law, student chairman.

The group that appears on tonight's program was founded by a Russian nobleman in 1858 and has been in continuous existence since. Its first visit to the United States was in 1869-70, when it gave 175 concerts.

Dmitry Agreffe Slaviansky, born of the highest nobility in Moscow, was the founder. The present director of the chorus, Mme Margarita Agreffe Slaviansky, is the youngest daughter of the founder, having taken over the position after her father's death in 1908.

Slaviansky deserted the operatic stage to make his life work the discovering and writing down of Slavic folk-melodies, "The Song of the Volga Boatmen" being among the numbers of songs he has given the world.

In 1858 he founded the Slaviansky Russian Chorus, giving concerts in the courts of Alexander II and Alexander III, as well as on the concert stage of Europe and America.

The chorus came to America on this second visit from the Far East, where they appeared in China and Japan. Mlle Mara Slaviansky, the only daughter of the director, is soprano soloist and accompanist for the group. The program will include folk-songs and dances as well as more serious choral music. This program is free to blanket-tax holders; admission charge for others is 50 and 75 cents.

'Step Rally' Set For Friday

To stimulate student interest in the Texas-Oklahoma game, plans are being made to conduct a "Step Rally" Friday morning. The rally will be held in front of the Texas Union beginning at 9:50 o'clock.

Headed by the five yell leaders, a group will form on the west side of the campus near Waggoner Hall and march to the steps of the Texas Union. Twenty members of the Longhorn Band will accompany them.

The rally will be composed of three yells, a talk, and the playing of the "Eyes of Texas." After a ten-minute demonstration, the students will disband and return to their classes at 10 o'clock.

The plan is similar to one that has been used effectively in colleges and universities on the West Coast. "The purpose of the 'Step Rally' is to create school spirit on the campus as well as at the regular rallies and at the games," Jack Lewis, head yell leader, said.

No Arrests Made In Campus Thefts

None of the loot taken in robberies in the University neighborhood last Monday night has been recovered. R. D. Thorp, chief of police, said Wednesday.

Police have a meager description of the man who stole money from several boarding houses without carrying off the purses, but Thorp added that it was hardly enough to make arrests.

Matson, Belden, Wirtz, Moore, Garcia Appointed

Two new members were appointed to the Students' Assembly by Jimmie Brinkley, president of the Assembly, Tuesday. The two new members, Gladys Matson and Joe Belden, were both sworn into office at the meeting of the Students' Assembly Tuesday night. Both Matson and Belden will serve as assemblymen from the College of Arts and Sciences until the fall election, October 20.

Three more new appointments were made yesterday to the Judiciary Council by Brinkley. The three students appointed were Margaret Wirtz, Ramsey Moore, and Gus Garcia.

Miss Matson, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, is president of the Milam County Club, vice-president of Kirby Hall, vice-president of Theta Sigma Phi, secretary of the Inter-City Council, reporter of Cap and Gown, a member of the Girls' Glee Club, and Gamma Phi Beta, social sorority. She has been a Bluebonnet Belle nominee for the past two years.

Belden, a junior student in the College of Arts and Sciences, is president of the Newman Club, manager of the varsity swimming team, upperclass co-sponsor of the Sophomore Club, and a member of the West Texas Club, Y.M.C.A. cabinet, Rusk Literary Society, and Sigma Delta Chi. He is sports editor of The Daily Texan. Last year Belden was co-president of the Sophomore Club, a Newman Club scholarship winner, and a night editor of the Texan.

Miss Wirtz was one of the ten Bluebonnet Belles last year. She is a member of the Sidney Lanier Society, Alpha Delta Phi social sorority, and Alpha Lambda Delta, honorary scholastic society. She is a graduate student, working on her bachelor of laws degree.

Garcia received his bachelor of arts degree in August. He is also a law student. He is an assistant in public speaking, a member of Hogz Debating Club, Newman See MATSON, page 5

KNOW Announcer Auditions Set

Auditions to select student announcers for the University Hour series of programs to be broadcast over KNOW, will be held Wednesday, October 14, in the Physics Building auditorium, starting at 2:30 o'clock, Nelson Olmsted, program director of KNOW, said Wednesday. Walton Newton, regular staff announcer, will be in charge of the auditions.

This series of programs will consist of either three programs a week, one half-hour in length, or five programs a week, fifteen minutes in length. Student announcers chosen will be responsible for the staging, directing, and announcing of the programs.

Any bona fide student of the University, either man or woman, is eligible to compete for a position on the announcing staff, Olmsted said.

Regular announcers on the staff in the future will be chosen from the group of student announcers.

Caldwell Declares Communism And Atheism Advocated Here

By J. C. ARNOLD

REPRESENTATIVE JOE CALDWELL of Asherton Tuesday proceeded to set The Daily Texan right on some of the oft-misquoted points in his investigation of "Communist and atheistic teachings in Texas colleges and institutions of higher learning."

"We are not taking a crack at the University," Caldwell said, "for our investigation does not include the University of Texas alone. It would be unfair to confine it to them."

Caldwell stated that he and his committee members, Representatives Tom C. Cooper and Fred Harris of Lindale and Dallas, respectively, were receiving reports of "Red" and atheistic activities daily. While some of these reports, he believes, must be correct, a great many are not.

"There are some professors who are advocating and endorsing Communism and atheism. What's more they are making converts," the Change From School of Law To Arts and Sciences Causes Authorities to Raise Question

By J. C. ARNOLD

Jimmie "Cousin" Brinkley's eligibility was questioned Wednesday afternoon, with his title as president of the Students' Assembly at stake. But the University's sometimes in and sometimes out student president still has a fighting chance. H. T. Parlin, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, V. I. Moore, dean of student life, and Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men, meet this morning to give a final decision on Jimmie's case. The decision, in reality, will be up to Dean Parlin, but a conference with the Deans of Student Life is necessary under the circumstances.

Allred to Head Austin Group To O. U. Game

Governor James V. Allred, Mayor Tom Miller and City Manager Guiton Morgan will lead the Austin delegation to the Oklahoma-Texas football game in Dallas Saturday. Saturday has been chosen Austin Day at the Centennial, Kent Rider, radio publicity chairman of the Exposition, said yesterday.

Hundreds of Austin citizens and University students will make the trip by train and automobile. It was indicated at the office of the Austin Junior Chamber of Commerce. The Junior Chamber is sponsoring a special train to Dallas. An $8 combination ticket includes transportation, admission to game, admission into and a tour of the fair grounds, admission to the Black Forest and Cavalcade of Texas, and lunch and supper. Blanket tax owners may purchase this ticket for $5.80.

Tuesday afternoon University ticket sales to the game were reported going twice as fast as they did last year. Miss Alice Archer, secretary of the Athletic Council, estimated that 450 student tickets had been sold.

Good student and reserved seat tickets are still available, although several thousand tickets have been sold. Especially are tickets on the east side selling rapidly.

The special train will leave Austin at 6 o'clock Saturday morning and arrive in Dallas at 11:20 o'clock. It will leave Dallas at 11:30 o'clock Saturday night, although tickets are good on any Katy train leaving Dallas before 11 o'clock Monday night.

A car for dancing will be included in the special, and entertainment features will be staged.

$10 and $5 Offered Contest Winners

Prizes of $10 and $5 are available to entrants in the Community Chest poster contest, which closes at midnight Friday, October 9. No posters had been submitted by students Monday, Mrs. Robert Hamby, chairman, said.

Posters submitted should follow the idea of the "Good Samaritan" as found in St. Luke. They should be 14 by 22 inches on 10-ly cardboard and should have the following words printed on them: The Community Chest of Austin, October 12-19, 1936, Be a Good Samaritan.

Any number of posters may be submitted by one person, and all entries should be turned in at the Community Chest office.

University Co-Op Issues Yell Book

Approximately three thousand yell books and a fifty-two page "sports review" are available to University students free of charge at the University Co-Op.

The yell books contain all the new cheers and songs used at pep rallies and games and a sports directory including pictures of members of all athletic teams, coaches, yell leaders, and band members. The other pamphlet gives information about the intercollegiate sports in which the University competes.

New students have been urged to get their copies of this yell book as soon as possible and learn the songs and yells before the next football game. This sports directory enables the students to recognize the various leaders in the sports of the University.

In "The Sports Review" appear pictures of all famous athletes and coaches of Texas, including pictures of the national intercollegiate golf champion and the two fastest track men of the South. The various athletic teams which are represented in the book are football, basketball, track, tennis, baseball, cross-country, boxing, swimming, and golf. A picture of the Longhorn Band also appears in this directory.

Willie Thomas, assistant yell leader last year, edited "The Sports Review"; this book was dedicated to Lloyd Davidson, head yell leader year before last.

Brinkley Re-elected Houston Club Head

Jimmie Brinkley and Hazel Chinn were unanimously re-elected as president and secretary, respectively, of the Houston Club at its meeting last night.

Other officers were John Stephens, vice-president; Winston Gabler, treasurer; Arno Swartz, sergeant-at-arms; T. P. Hewitt, parliamentary; Dean Couch, reporter.

Kitty Lawder, Mary Katherine Settegast, Zay Smith, and Harvey Gabler were appointed to serve with Mary Ann Tuffly and Dean Couch, co-chairmen, on a social committee.

THE investigation was not decided upon the spur of the moment for Caldwell stated See CALDWELL, page 5

Queens to Present Scrolls to Teams at O. U. Game

Coming Sooner Game Recalls Heroes of Bygone Years

Although Major Lawrence "Biff" Jones's Oklahoma Sooners and Coach Jack Chevigny's Texas Steers appear to be two smart powerful football teams, their thirty-first annual game at Fair Park Stadium, Dallas, Saturday will have to hump itself if it produces as many individual thrills as old-time Sooners and Longhorns were wont to electrify their crowds with back in the days when the players wore reed-padded pants and a drop-kick counted five points.

CO-ED Campus Sports

By JUANITA WHITTLESEY
Texas Sports Staff

TURTLE CLUB and Bit and Spur added new names to their rolls this week. Rain kept golfers and tennis players from trying their skill Wednesday afternoon and their tryouts have been postponed.

Turtle Club
Elsie Jane Allison, Gretchen McGowan, Patricia Downing, Carol Quebedeaux, Dorothy Kiester, Ruth Hull, and Elsie McKellar made Turtle Club. Miss Allison and Miss McGowan last week, and the other five Wednesday night. Miss Margaret Hodgins, sponsor of Turtle Club, Irma Cline, leader, and Elizabeth Baker were the judges.

The seven girls will be initiated Wednesday, October 14, at 7:15 o'clock. After initiation the club members will start a swimming meet to determine which girl is the best all-around swimmer and diver. A gold turtle will be presented to the champion in January.

Bit and Spur
Six girls out of the twenty-four who tried out were taken into Bit and Spur after the tryouts held at the club's new riding ring in Pease Park Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. F. P. Seybolt, Dr. and Mrs. Walter C. Goddard, and the six new members were honored with a supper ride Wednesday night.

Tee Club
TEE CLUB tryouts have been postponed until Tuesday, October 13, from 2 to 6 o'clock. Those wishing to try out prior to that time may make appointments with the following: Martha Burns, 9133, Margaret Ward, 5329, Juanita Whittlesey, 4455, Evelyn Harris, 25659, Elizabeth Baker, 23153, Nell Francis, 9133, or Frances Preston, 4514.

Orchosis
Thirty girls took the orchosis club up on their invitation to attend the meeting held Wednesday night. Miss Mary McKee told them just what the club aims were, and Lucille Schroeder, leader of the group, told them what was expected of them in tryouts. In order to become a member of Orchosis a girl must first master the basic movements of dancing. Every girl after becoming a member of Orchosis must appear before the members in an original dance.

Te-Wai-Hiss
Preliminary tryouts for Te-Wai-Hiss were held Wednesday afternoon. The second and final tryout is scheduled for Wednesday, October 14, from 5 to 7 o'clock.

Intramurals
First rounds in the archery and tennis tournaments will close this week.

Sports Notice

RACQUET CLUB tryouts for upperclassmen and second term freshmen will be held this afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock on the women's court.
MARY LOUISE WEIR, leader.

March of Time Has Football as Topic

The real star at the Paramount this mid-week is President Roosevelt, whom Paramount News cameramen have caught delivering his Syracuse address. It seems the President turns actor-comedian and delivers his address with much humor. Scenes of the Waco flood are shown.

The cinema journalism for November, March of Time, considers the labor controversy, England's tithe war, and subsidizing the American football game. Of the last named, George Owen, professor at M.I.T., and father of a former Harvard football captain, commented for March of Time:

"If it is necessary for a boy to undergo extreme risk of life and limb, why not reimburse him in a substantial and regular manner, not seduce him, as it were, by subterfuge? Professional sport as such and as a business, is perfectly justifiable. But it is unworthy of colleges when indulged in by trickery and deceit. Why shouldn't the players share in the profits of the game?"

Brownie Green Chosen From Texas Campus

When the Longhorns meet the University of Oklahoma Sooners in the Centennial Cotton Bowl Saturday, the game will be watched by a brown-eyed queen from The University of Texas. There will also be a queen from the Sooner campus.

Brownie Green, Dallas student, has been selected by the Centennial's special events committee as the representative to hand to the captain of the Oklahoma team a scroll of good will and sportsmanship shortly before the kick-off. From Oklahoma will come Polly Atkinson, senior journalism student of El Reno, to hand to the Texas captain a similar scroll.

Ned Blaine, chairman of the Centennial committee, made the announcement of the selections yesterday.

This is the first time that the practice of expressing a feeling of sportsmanship between the two teams has been done in this way. Miss Green is a well-known student on the campus, member of various organizations and one of the duchesses of the Queen of the Texas Relays last year. Miss Atkinson is president of the Oklahoma chapter of Delta Gamma.

HERE IS ONE for the record book. Gene Locke snapped up a bet that New York would not win the first four games of the present world series. Locke is a sadder but wiser fellow as well as several dollars lighter because, as every grammar school boy knows, this year's blue ribbon classic was an all-Gotham affair. If "Tex" Guinan were not among the heavenly bodies, she would give Locke a rousing welcome with her characteristic "hello, suckers."

Under the gentle tutelage of Cap Hardin, another great track star has been sent to the Forty Acres to send the hopes of the Longhorn thinly-clad soaring. "Beefus" Bryan, who hails from the banks of the Bayou and who has gained plenty of well-deserved recognition as a freshman footballer, comes up with the enviable record of being tops in the hurdle class for the State Inter-scholastic meet just past. May he be just as successful under Clyde Littlefield.

HAVE YOU HEARD THAT—
Andy Kerr has a young 147-pound son fighting for an end berth on the Colgate eleven—Irby Cobb (no relation to Ty of the same surname) is a candidate for Chi Phi nine, "where there is life there is hope" Carl Hubbell's aunt doesn't care whether he is pitching baseball or hay as long as he brings home the bacon—Bill Landruff could probably make the Longhorn netters if he so desired—Dizzy Dean has announced the world in general and the Card management in particular that he is the first holdout of 1937—Bob Parks, backbone of the Kappa Sigmas, is answering the scholastic call rather than lending his brilliant support to intramural activities—John Miner is known to his baseball brethren as "Whiffy"—Riley Smith, All-American quarterback from Alabama, does not like Bernie Bierman one little bit and told the Minnesota coach his sentiments after the All-Star game—Jimmy Langdon is the younger brother of Jack who did the most to wreck the Steer wonder team of 1932 when the Christians gave the year.

Longhorns Scrimmage as They Prepare for O. U. Saturday; To Spend Friday in Ft. Worth

By JOE WHITLEY

Another long scrimmage session featured the Longhorns' Wednesday workout for their annual battle with the Oklahoma Sooners in Dallas next Saturday.

The Steers will entrain for Fort Worth Friday morning at 10:55 o'clock and will work out Friday afternoon at the Texas Christian University field. They will spend Friday night in Fort Worth at a hotel and move on to Dallas Saturday morning.

Another crushing blow to the Orange and White hopes for victory was received when John Peterson, sensational sophomore end, was confined to a hospital Wednesday night with an infected arm, the result of a boil, a severe head cold and a light case of influenza. Peterson will be definitely lost for the Oklahoma contest.

Clint Small and Henry Mittermayer are still missing from workouts on account of hip injuries, and both are likely to see the next game from the sidelines. Lawrence Rupel, a guard, is also definitely out of this contest, having a severe shoulder injury, re-hurt in scrimmage last Monday, and Jack Rhodes, a tackle who starred against L.S.U., will be among those missing on account of an ankle injury, received in the Tuesday's scrimmage session.

Jud Atchison, Nick Frankovic, and Ray Howard, who have been out with injuries for the past two weeks, are rounding into shape, and will be available in the case of an emergency. All, however, are far from their peak.

Jack Chevigny continued to stress blocking Thursday afternoon, and was polishing up his offense for the dangerous Oklahoma team.

Bill Pitzer, who played a great defensive game against Louisiana last week, was showing well in practice Wednesday, as was Jud Atchison and Ney Sheridan.

Ted Twomey, line coach, had his

Mavs a real skinning—Jimmy Hadlock did the official announcing in the L.S.U. skirmish—Minnesota used three miles of tape in their recent game with Washington—Bob Townson, the T-male town Bomber, has all the necessary potentialities of a racket great—Hagen McMahon may be back in the Orange silks next year.

Arrives Here Today From Chicago

By JOE BELDEN
Texas Sports Editor

The XI Olympiad backstroke swimming champion will arrive in Austin at 10 o'clock this morning to register in The University of Texas.

Adolph Kiefer of Chicago, who swept the Olympics in Germany this summer in all backstroke competition, telegraphed John A. McCurdy, secretary of Ex-Students' Association, last night that he had been delayed in Kansas on his way here and would not arrive until 10 o'clock this morning. Yesterday he was reported flying to Dallas and was to have arrived here at 4:30 o'clock by train.

Trained by Robertson

Tex Robertson, Texas swimming coach who discovered Kiefer at the Chicago World's Fair and later trained him for stardom, has been negotiating for several months to make it possible for his pupil to come here. Kiefer had also expressed a desire to be under the tutelage of his first coach again. However, he did not know whether he could get here on time to register for the first semester, because of his post-Olympic tour of Europe.

Although he will have to take negative hours for registering late, he will be able to work for the Longhorn freshman team this year and be eligible for conference competition next year.

Strengthens Squad

The addition of Kiefer to the Texas squad, plus the half dozen state champions that Robertson recruited this summer, will make the Longhorns of 1937 without a doubt the strongest team in the Southwest and one of the most powerful in the United States. Kiefer's swimming career has just started, Robertson remarked some time ago, for he is young, having been graduated from high school in May.

Members of the swimming squad and managers were planning to be at the station this morning to greet the champion on his arrival. Robertson is spending a few days at Sweetwater.

TECH READY FOR WICHITA
LUBBOCK, Oct. 7.—The Texas Tech Red Raiders polished their arms early this week and prepared deftly and grimly for their first raiding spree of the season. They attack the ramparts of Wichita University Friday night in their fourth gridiron gesture of the year.

CHEMISTRY CLUB TO MEET
The Chemistry Club will hold its first meeting this year this night at 7:30 o'clock in Chemistry Building 15. All students who have one year of chemistry are eligible for membership and are invited to attend. The faculty members of the Department of Chemistry will be special guests.

Polo Candidates Try Out Today At Zilker Park

Tryouts for the proposed University polo team will be held at Zilker Park stables Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. W. B. Wilson, student polo enthusiast, said Tuesday.

"Some fifteen students have shown interest in the polo movement and they, as well as anyone else interested, are invited to the tryouts," Wilson stated. "I have heard that there is a great deal of polo talent on the campus, including Sam Jones and Paul Crusemann, local poloists, and I want the best players available to turn out."

Polo is not a recognized sport in the Southwest Conference, but teams made up of students from Texas and Texas A. and M. have met on the field before.

"The Board of Regents and the Athletic Council have both been contacted and appear highly favorable to a University-sponsored team," Wilson added. "We are asking that the school pay for the feed for the ponies and are agreeing that the players will bear all the other expenses."

Mustangs Leave For New York

L.S.U. TO MEET GEORGIA
BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 7.—The Louisiana State Tigers came out of their vicious 6-6 draw with the Texas Longhorns in good physical condition and Monday afternoon got down to the serious task of getting ready for the Georgia Bulldogs. The Georgians will furnish the defending South-eastern Conference champions with their first title defense and unless the Tigers play better ball than they did against Texas, the Bengals may be eliminated from the 1936 chase in quick order.

Abolish War by Intelligent Compromise--Not With Words

America is arming!

With over a billion dollars in this year's budget for our army and navy, America is preparing for a war which many think is inevitable within the next five years.

Yet in spite of all this talk about war the American people deeply desire peace. President Roosevelt and Governor Landon have both expressed their concern in preventing war, and leaders of our thought everywhere have done the same.

But mere sentimentality is not going to keep America at peace. National policies and legislative enactments by Congress do that. To have peace, we cannot close our eyes to the political upheavals taking place daily in the nations about us—we may close our ears, but the rumbling of war drums and marching feet is still faintly audible.

In his speech at Chautauqua, N. Y., on August 14, President Roosevelt expressed the will of the people when he said:

"We are not isolationists except insofar as we seek to isolate ourselves completely from war.

"Industrial and agricultural production for a war market may give immense fortunes to a few men; for the nation as a whole it produces disaster.

"If we must have the choice of profits or peace, the nation will answer—must answer—'We choose peace.'"

In view of the fact that Mr. Roosevelt in his pre-election campaign four years ago did not mention foreign policy once, the speech at Chautauqua is a significant recognition that peace is a major issue.

The question which faces the American people is how to best prepare for war in time of peace, and still maintain a "good neighbor" policy. And this question cannot be answered satisfactorily by the pacifists, nor can it be answered by the militarists.

The solution to the problem lies neither in an extensive campaign to "arm America to the teeth," nor in the practice of huddling in corners behind locked doors, whimpering "I want peace."

The Emergency Peace Campaign, which was inaugurated last April and has already reached 278 cities over the entire country, is one of several organizations which aims to keep the United States from going to war, and war out of the world.

The EPC combats war with words. On Armistice Day in 500 mass meetings from coast to coast, the entire nation will be called upon to declare itself positively against war. Under EPC sponsorship, various speakers over the country will condemn war in ringing phrases; they will urge that we lay down our arms, for "great preparations for war lead surely to war." They will lead demonstrations from a handful of persons to many thousands. Their ideals may be lofty and their aims idealistic; but if nothing concrete is proposed as a substitute for arming, little has been accomplished.

Dr. Charles A. Timm, associate professor of government at the University, is one of the more than 300 educational, religious, and civic leaders who have volunteered their services to the EPC's effort to purge war from the world. Dr. Timm is a student of the causes of war and their inevitable results—economic depressions and international distrust and misunderstanding. His wide knowledge of the entire field of government allows him to make a critical analysis of the world scene. Like so many other noted students of foreign affairs, he is aware of the increasing danger of war and of our embroilment in it.

With such keen educators as Dr. Timm assisting in the fall drive of meetings and conferences, perhaps the work this year will be more worthwhile. Perhaps the EPC and organizations of its nature, realizing the need of immediate action, will this year offer the people of the country something definite—an intelligent compromise between the factions; a middle ground where the militarist and the pacifist may work toward the same goal, together.

Campus Capers

By PAT DANIELS

A new precedent has been set by the University of California freshman class. Two freshman women were seen on the campus wearing the traditional freshman dinks (green caps, Roscoe). "Why can't the first class women have a distinguishing mark as well as the men?" they inquired. "We only hope that more freshmen women will join us in our fight for individualism."

If we mention a Fred Coombs, columnist of the Oklahoma Daily, then you will know that we have one of his bright poems. Here's one now:

If you kiss
 And then you quarrel
 I guess you merely bore her.

If you quarrel
 And then you kiss
 I guess you must adore her.

The rest of this column we devote to Cameron Meyers, writer for the Washington State Evergreen, who gives a remarkable picture of the Woman Who Has a Passion for Living:

"When a friend tells a simple anecdote, she can burst into laughter that brings eyes peering out of every front window on the street.

"She cannot pass a costume jewelry counter without making a purchase.

"She opens all her Christmas gifts before December 25, and enjoys a thorough pleasure in shaking and feeling birthday presents.

"Although she thinks that True Story is the finest publication on the newstands, she confesses she always surmises the climax.

"When taken on a picnic, she always wants to begin eating the luncheon before leaving town.

"She always knows what she wants to eat before the waiter hands her a menu.

"And she never wants to go to bed nor rise in the morning.

"Falsehoods do not bother her when it aids her exhibitionism.

"Although frequently the life of the party, she will, if bored, gaze into space and make no effort to sustain the dialogue.

"Music annoys her, and she enjoys peanut brittle because it crunches.

"She has a faint idea about the nation's chief executive: Mr. Hoover or Al Smith or someone.

"And she has much concern over the meaning of Il Duce and means to try some.

"Her mind is called 'Active' by friends and 'Restless' by non-partisans."

SPANISH WAR TEACHES MANY LESSONS ABOUT POLITICS AND LARGE ARMIES

Although they scream contradictions in the same loud manner which has been theirs since the beginning of the revolution, day by day dispatches from Spain indicate that the rebels are getting stronger and stronger and the government forces are becoming weaker and more hopeless.

Angel Galarza, interior minister, radioed an appeal yesterday for all able-bodied men and women to leave immediately for the battlefront to defend Madrid against advancing rebels.

Although in the same radioed he denied emphatically that the cabinet had fled from the capital, the tone of the message was the groan of a man who knows he is about to die.

Apparently constitutional government is doomed in Spain. To have been right has not been enough. The pen has not been mightier than the machine gun. The shouts of speakers pleading for the rights of a long oppressed people have been drowned out by the roar of cannon manned by the oppressors.

While the import of the Spanish war is far more tragic to those families whose closest and dearest fell in the fray and whose worldly possessions blew up with the debris of bombed towns, the outbreak holds a serious lesson for us on the far side of the globe.

It teaches us not to shout "Communist" too loud when the object of our ire is no worse than a rabid reformer, for somebody will hear us and come to our aid with a far worse devil.

It teaches us the danger of big armies with nothing to do whose chiefs have political aspirations of their own.

It teaches us that loyal citizenry that is willing to fight is not enough to meet a real danger. It teaches that a local militia should be trained with view to giving a few men an intense education rather than giving a great many people a sprinkling of knowledge.

If the Marxists believe that the good is the enemy of the better, they must draw a great deal of hope from Spain, for the worst is fast coming upon her.

Like the walrus in "Alice in Wonderland," we in America can only shed a bitter tear and view the wreckage of sorrow.

Chaperons Selected For Game Special

Mr. and Mrs. George Stautz of Austin have been selected as chaperons to accompany the Texas-Oklahoma football special to Dallas Saturday, Mrs. Ruby Terrill Lomax, dean of women, said Tuesday.

Accommodations for students desiring to spend the night in Dallas may be obtained from the Official Centennial Housing Corporation, which has volunteered its services, Mrs. Lomax said. Lodging as low as 75 cents per night has been offered at places having membership with the bureau. Registration for twenty University girls at the St. Matthew's Home was made Tuesday by Mrs. Lomax.

Harry Fleming is ill at his home in San Antonio.

The Zipper Age

By GERALD M. PORTER

That Face on Guadalupe Street KAHLIL Gibran didn't draw that face: I saw it on an old man on Guadalupe Street early this morning. In truth, that face was not a living replica of the face of Gibran's Prophet, and yet it set me to thinking about that interesting study in black and white. Neither was that face like the usual pictorial conception of the face of Jesus of Nazareth, yet it recalled to my mind the first part of a command which He gave to His followers: "Go ye into all the world . . ."

The old man's face had the characteristics of those from the eastern Mediterranean. It might have come from Turkey, or Syria, (and it might have come from Iowa), but it took my thoughts to Palestine, particularly to Jerusalem and its environs. The owner of that face may sell second-hand clothes in Peoria, and have come to Austin merely to spend some hard earned savings seeing the Texas Centennial. I say he may, but as long as I am not sure, I shall believe only the phantasy created in my mind since his face stirred my imagination.

THAT FACE had eyes that see through and beyond, but it was too hard to be that of Gibran's Prophet. It was too selfish to be concerned with revelation for the benefit of others. Its salient characteristic was that it seemed to bespeak a comprehensive knowledge of the world, a knowledge which lacked the softening quality of sympathy. It said to me, "Go ye into all the world," but it did not add, "and preach." It said, instead, "Go ye into all the world and learn what men are like." And it made me want to go.

Self-analysis is usually interesting to the introspective. And so I, one of their number, began to ponder why a face that was more like a foreboding of evil than a sentinel of hope should be able to arouse within me a desire to go forth and see the world. Isn't bearing moved thus by a face that promised little besides disenchantment like being inspired to go to war by the sight of the wounded? No, it isn't the same. That face emphasized to me the knowledge that lay behind it, not the cost of

STUDENT CLAIMS NEW LONGHORN BAND LACKS COURTESY WHEN DOESN'T PLAY OPPONENT'S SONG

Last year our band membership included approximately 75 members. This year it includes about 150 members. We should congratulate Colonel Hurt for creating more interest, and securing better cooperation from band members. We should also congratulate him for the marked improvement he has effected in the band's music. But, while we are praising our Longhorn Band, let us also criticize it in order to find and correct the weak points.

Last year The University of Texas football team engaged in about eight games. Every school we played had a band which played our school song for us at least once during the game. This was done as a mark of sportsmanship and courtesy. At only one of these eight games did the U. of T. band show courtesy enough to play our opponent's school song. That was at the Oklahoma University game in Dallas. That was a very poor average for our school band to maintain. Every high school band, large or small, has courtesy enough to play its opponent's school song and to form some symbol or letter connected with the opponent's school during its drill between halves.

This year our band has started under the same policy. Last Saturday, as you know, the U. of T. and L.S.U. had a football game. Louisiana were here with a band 206 strong. Our band was as good as theirs, musically. The L.S.U. band played our school song several times, and formed our Governor's name while drilling. When the U. of T. band came on the field it completely ignored L.S.U. The Longhorns left the stadium that day without having played the Tiger school song once. An arrangement of that song could have been easily and cheaply had, and with a little practice, could have been played well.

Those Louisianians were our visitors last week. Our band is representative of our student body and school spirit. What must the Louisianians think of Texas courtesy? They certainly couldn't have praised our band much for anything besides its musical ability.

Let's show Oklahoma University that we are not bad sports. Let's have the sportsmanly courtesy to play their song, and the school songs of all future opponents.

For Digestion's Sake . . . Smoke Camels

With Camels, mealtime is more pleasant—digestion is stimulated—alkalinity increased

IN our busy lives, mealtime is apt to catch us at a disadvantage. We're often under nervous tension and physical strain. As a result, the free flow of digestive fluids is slowed down. How quickly Camels change this. For when you enjoy Camels the digestive fluids are gently and naturally restored to fuller flow. Alkalinity is increased. Time and again, physiological laboratories have checked this welcome effect of smoking Camels.

Camels are mild—you can enjoy them any time. They never jangle your nerves or tire your taste. Camels set you right!

Copyright, 1936, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, Winston-Salem, N. C.

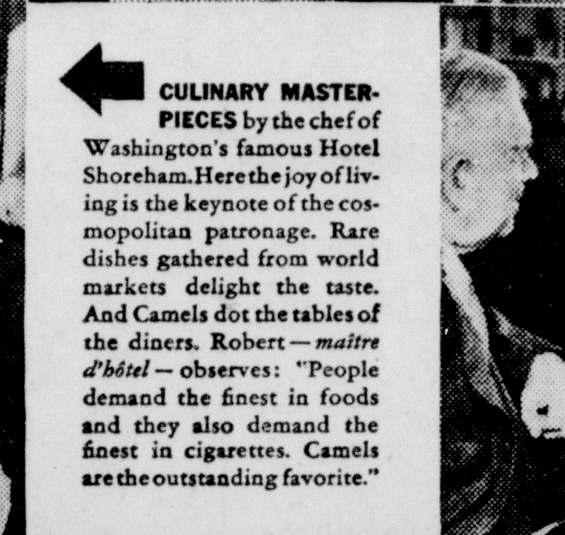

THE FIRST DAYS of the semester are usually crowded. But Camels help a lot. Camels give you a welcome "lift" in energy—stimulate digestion—bring a sense of well-being. And they never jangle your nerves.

'Future Texas' Questionnaire Issued by Press

The Texas Press Educational Bureau of the Texas Press Association is mailing out this week a questionnaire concerning future "advertising and selling" plans for "Texas of Tomorrow" following the close of Centennial year.

For some months the Texas Press Educational Bureau has been going into this matter with the hope that definite plans will be created and put into effect for an extensive publicity and advertising campaign throughout the nation as a follow-up of the activity brought about by the Texas Centennial Celebrations during the year.

The purpose of the questionnaire is to get the reaction and recommendations from a cross section of Texas. If the returns are favorable, then the Bureau will co-operate fully in a campaign to secure the necessary funds.

As soon as the questionnaires have been filled out and returned, the Texas Press Educational Bureau will call a meeting of its committee at Austin to canvass the returns and make future plans. The mailing list of the questionnaire includes every newspaper and periodical and every Chamber of Commerce in Texas—including the Board of Directors of the three Regional Chambers, all members of the Texas Centennial executive groups, all members of both houses of the Legislature, all state officials and many business and professional executives of Texas.

The personnel of the Texas Press Educational Bureau consists of:

Lowry Martin, chairman, Corsicana; Sam P. Harben, secretary, Dallas; H. H. Jackson, Coleman; Louis C. Elbert, Galveston; R. J. Edwards, Denton; Ben F. Harigel, La Grange; Luther Watson, Sweetwater; Charles Devall, Kilgore; Dale Miller, Dallas; Walter Buckner, San Marcos; Ross Woodall, Huntsville; Deskins Wells, Wellington; J. E. Josey, Houston; William McIntosh, San Antonio; Jimmie North, Fort Worth; S. W. Papert, Dallas; Chuck Newell, Austin; Sam Fore, Floresville; Roy Miller, Corpus Christi; Jimmie Donahue, Tyler; Harry Olmsted, Dallas; Ray Nichols, Vernon; Carl Estes, Longview; Allin Mitchell, Corsicana; Henderson Shuffler, Odessa; Lewis Bailey, Dallas.

Freshmen Women To Elect Today

Freshman elections for women students will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Texas Union 315 and 316. The students will elect a president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and reporter.

The elections will be held under the direction of Cap and Gown Council members and officers. The newly-elected president will appoint her Council a few days after her election, with the Cap and Gown Council assisting her.

At the election, Cap and Gown officers and Council members will be introduced, and Shudde Bess Bryson, president of Cap and Gown, will tell the duties of freshman class officers and Council members and will discuss the place of class organization on the campus.

Officers for the Cap and Gown Council include Miss Bryson, president; Ruth Blaugrund, vice-president; Mary Hirsch, treasurer; and Gladys Atkinson, reporter.

The members of Cap and Gown Council are Martha Broderick, Naomi Childers, Eloise Ely, Margaret Gray, Ida Mae Hall, Marguerite MacGuire, Mary Helen Terry, and Mary Louise Weir.

Brinkley Speaks To Hidalgo Club

The Hidalgo Country Club met at 8 o'clock Wednesday night, in Texas Union 301, and elected officers for the year, also ratifying the constitution.

Jimmie "Cousin" Brinkley, claimant to the Presidency of the Students' Assembly, addressed the club. The club will meet every two weeks. Plans were made for a dance.

The following officers were elected: Bill Clifford, president; John Bow, vice-president; Mary Virginia Polk, secretary; Tom Rowe, treasurer; Margaret Hogan, reporter.

He can ride a street car, round trip, from the station to the Centennial grounds in Dallas on that ticket.

He can get into the exposition grounds on it, too. But it doesn't say anything about getting him out.

And he gets to eat at the Old Nuremberg restaurant on the grounds, whatever kind of a place that might be to eat in.

And if he's never made a tour and just wants a sample, he can use this ticket and make a 1 hour and 15 minutes one about the exposition in a special sightseeing bus.

And if he thinks he might want to hunt a little or something, he can get into the Black Forest at the Centennial grounds. He gets his dinner there, too. But it doesn't say what kind of dinner or how a man gets one in a forest that way. May have to take a gun along and shoot a bear for meat.

And, finally, he can get into the Cavalcade on that same ticket.

A man might even get more out of that ticket, but it will probably be lost or worn out by that time, or he'll be lost and worn out. The Junior Chamber of Commerce would probably straighten a man out on that question, if he'd inquire.

There's a rumor about there being some dancing taking place on that special train going up. But that hardly seems likely, considering the amount of people that is liable to be on it. There wouldn't be room.

Anyway, the Governor and the Mayor of Austin are supposed to be on that train—when it starts, they are. They'll probably be thrown off, though, by pranksters before the train reaches Dallas.

Yes, and you have to buy that ticket before 6 o'clock tonight, too, because there won't be any of the bargain ones for students sold after that time. They'll be sold all day though, around the campus, at so many places that you'll probably buy a couple of them before you notice, if you don't watch.

In The Daily Texan's Business News

An entirely air conditioned deluxe passenger train, such as is now operated over the Missouri Pacific Lines, will be on display in Austin Saturday and Sunday, October 10 and 11, at the passenger station from 7 p. m. to 9 p. m. Saturday and from 8 a. m. to 11 a. m. Sunday, according to H. R. Safford, executive vice-president. This train is on tour of the Texas and Louisiana Lines of the Missouri Pacific for the purpose of acquainting the public generally and University students in particular with the type of equipment now to be found on these lines, Mr. Safford explained.

At each stop the public is invited to inspect this equipment. Aboard this train there will be competent men qualified to answer transportation questions and to explain every detail of its construction and operation.

Knowing that many students have never been on the latest type of passenger train equipment, especially the air conditioned type, the Missouri Pacific is endeavoring to conduct an educational program that will prove interesting to everyone who views this train.

Three weeks will be required to transport this luxurious train over the Southern lines of the Missouri Pacific.

New college rings with the official seal of the University are being distributed on the campus as a result of the offer of The Parker Pen Company to give one ring, valued at $2, to each student at the price of twenty-five cents and the top of a carton of their new quick-drying ink, "Parker Quick."

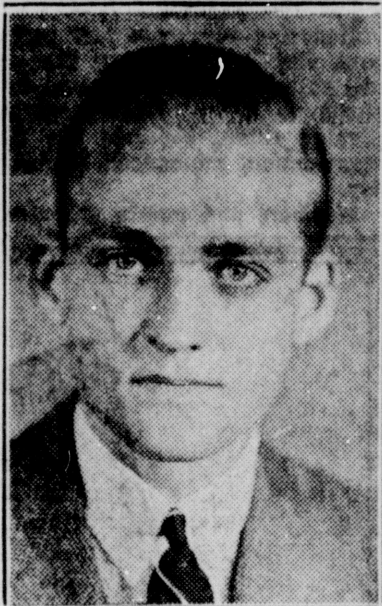

Announcements regarding this and other offers of the Parker Pen Company appear regularly in the columns of The Daily Texan.

Representative Caldwell would make no statement as to what department in the University the investigation was aimed. The last investigation of radical tendencies in the University was in 1920 when the Department of Economics was under fire. Socialism was the issue, and as no one could give a satisfactory definition of Socialism the investigation was dropped.

The investigators hope to make a report to the House of Representatives by the last of next week.

Mrs. Benedict Honored at Tea By Ladies' Club

The University Ladies Club honored Mrs. H. Y. Benedict, wife of the president of the University, and the new women connected with the University with a tea Wednesday afternoon from 4 to 6 o'clock.

In the receiving line at the door of the University Club, which was decorated with fall flowers in bronze and yellow tones, were Mrs. H. Y. Benedict, Mrs. Gilbert McAllister, president of the Newcomers Club, and the members of the executive council of the club who are Mrs. E. K. McGinnis, Mrs. F. L. Jewett, Mrs. Banks McLaurin, Mrs. R. H. Cuyler, Mrs. G. W. Stocking, and Mrs. M. L. Begeman.

Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. J. C. Dolley, Mrs. Paul Boner, Mrs. Fred Bullard, Mrs. W. H. McNeill, Mrs. V. T. Schhardt, Mrs. D. T. Starnes, Mrs. A. B. Swanson, and Mrs. L. L. Click.

Mrs. C. P. Patterson, Mrs. Arno Nowotny, Mrs. W. T. Mather, and Mrs. L. T. Bellmont assisted at the door during the afternoon. Mrs. E. H. Sellards, Mrs. W. E. Metzenthin, Mrs. Fredrick McAllister, and Mrs. T. S. Painter poured.

Other members of the house party were Mesdames J. B. Wharey, E. J. Villavaso, J. A. Fitzgerald, A. P. Brogan, A. P. Winston, C. F. Arrowood, E. C. Bantel, J. L. Boysen, F. A. Buechel, H. G. Penick, and Miss Elsie Perlitz.

Gordon Wiley Heads Fort Worth Club

Meeting for the first time this year, the Fort Worth Club completely reorganized Wednesday night in the Texas Union. Officers elected were Wordon Wiley, president; Marion Lowden, vice-president; Dorothy Jean Housman, secretary; and Richard Standifer, treasurer.

The new president issued a plea for all Fort Worth students to attend the next meeting which will be held Tuesday, October 13, in the Texas Union at 7:30 o'clock.

Perry Pickett and Bill Eysen were appointed to draw up a constitution for the club, and a dance committee composed of Hulbert Smith, Robert Womack, and Wiley Clarkson was formed. Tentative plans were made for a dance to be held in November.

Bachelor Girls Give Dance

The city recreation department sponsors dance clubs of different aged groups, one meeting every week night, except Saturday. The youngest of these groups, called the Bachelor Girls' Club, meets on Thursday nights at the Austin Lions' Club house.

The Bachelor Girls' Club consists of Austin business girls and some University students. This is the only one of these clubs to which stags are invited. Guest couples are also included.

Tuesday night the recreation department sponsored a dance for the board members of each group and entertained at the Lions' Club. Representatives from the Bachelor Girls' Club were Olga Bredt and Helen Ramsey.

Students to Hear Records at Union

"Music of the Masters," informal playing of phonograph records sponsored by the Texas Union, will be devoted to vocal music tonight from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock in the main lounge of the Union. Both choral and solo voice selections will be included.

The series of Brahms symphonies, the first of which was played last night, will be changed to Tuesday nights in order that members of the University Symphony Orchestra, which last night voted to meet on Wednesdays, may attend to the programs of orchestral recordings.

GRADUATES SEE GAME

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Cate of San Antonio, graduates of the University, with their son Jimmie, returned to their home this week after having attended the Texas-L.S.U. game here Saturday. Mrs. Cate is the former Jessie Mary Ramsey of Austin. Mr. Cate is a teacher in the Alamo Heights High School.

Local Danseuse to Present Two Ballets During Season

Back in her Guadalupe Street studio after a summer in Taos, N. M., the attractive danseuse, Miss Janet Collett, is swiftly building up a substantial enrollment of University students for her winter dancing classes. Meanwhile: "One, two, three, assemble; one, two, three, jete," she counts for the newly organized groups, and as slim legs advance, pivot, advance, and leap, her watchful eyes are approving.

To the little dancing instructor, her youthful "material" is like a dictionary to a writer. The language of grace and harmony is in it for her choosing. Before the work is done, slender bodies must bend with clean-cut precision; arms, now stiff, must supply an accent of subtlety to the finished sentence of harmony.

Miss Collett objects to the word "interpretative" in describing her field of the dance. She deplores any sort of emotional disrobing. "If people must fling themselves to the winds," she protests, "let them do it in their own rooms."

Nor does she encourage individual interpretation in her pupils at first, because, as she explains it, they haven't the vocabularies to express themselves coherently.

"People do not go babbling in a foreign tongue before they have mastered it," the instructor observes, "and clumsy self-expression in dancing is worse than in speaking, because it is ridiculous as well as confusing."

Something new, something alive, is Miss Collett's constant demand of herself and of her pupils. And to this end, her plans for the winter include preparation of two new ballets to be combined with a repertoire of last spring, in which

"Pic-Nic" and "The Masque of the Red Death" will be remembered by those who saw the dancer's personal appearance. And this year there will be "something Cuban" for Austin audiences and for those others who will be included in Miss Collett's tour with her pupils later in the season.

In addition, the tireless instructor has formed a children's ballet—innovation to Austin.

Back at work with Miss Collett, it must be added, is her good-looking dancing partner, Jimmy Graham, black mustache and contagious chuckle intact. Likewise enrolled this year in the Collett group are University students: Elizabeth Ann Warren, Eoline Brown, Ruth Swanson, June Hamby, Sue Morrow, Virginia McCaskell, and Arabella Wofford.

New University students enrolled are Elizabeth Sharp, Helen Thomson, Frances Jean Smith, Hallie Willis, Suzanne Dunning, Stuart Watson, Helen Patterson, Ned Cole, May Delle Ritchey, John Ainsworth, Dorothy Lou Cullton, Jacqueline Donegan, Ramon Gunter, Benedict Janak, Gloria Jane Mayer, Marigold Rollins, Ola May Word, Wanda Graham, Andrew Walker, Leonard Duff, H. L. Turns, Bob Wallace, and Lowell Wilkes.

Bohn Hilliard Gets Wedding License

Bohn Hilliard, former University football star, obtained a license at the county clerk's office in Beaumont Monday to marry Miss Ruth Johnston of Robstown. Hilliard told a deputy clerk there he was leaving Monday night for Dallas, where it was believed the couple were married.

Hilliard was an outstanding player for three years on both the football and the baseball team. Known by thousands of football fans as "Bullet Bohn," he received the trophy in 1934 for being the most valuable football player in the Southwest Conference. He participated in the West-East game in 1935. He is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Sigma Chi Official Visits Here Today

Elton B. Hunt, national officer and head of the Southwestern province of Sigma Chi fraternity, will be a guest of the local chapter this week.

Mr. Hunt will arrive Thursday. His home is in Tulsa, Okla.

Gladys and Dorothy Matson will leave Friday night for Dallas to spend the week-end. They will attend the Oklahoma-Texas University football game Saturday. They will also go to Casa Manana and Jumbo in Fort Worth.

Book Review Club Has Luncheon

The newest members of the Book Review Club, recently organized Austin book study group, were entertained by the charter members Tuesday with a luncheon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. B. Cox.

"Gone With the Wind," one of the recent best-sellers written by Margaret Mitchell, was the book reviewed. The programs of the club meetings are devoted to the study of current books, both fiction and non-fiction.

The new members who were honored at the luncheon were Mesdames O. F. Stricker, Ross Bell, E. M. Boyd, B. Gragg, Horace Wallace, H. E. Dugg, S. E. Hays, and T. L. Goudy.

Charter members present at the luncheon were Mesdames J. L. Brown, F. A. Buechel, A. B. Cox, Olin Culbertson, J. M. Falkner, J. F. Ewing, Minnie Fath, R. A. Johns, Tom Lemon, Douglas Johnson, and W. A. Nelson.

'Student Character' Study Group Topic

"Unconscious Forces Affecting the Character of Junior High School Students" will be the topic of the University High School Study Group meeting at 8:30 o'clock this morning in the home economics room of the high school.

Mrs. Homer Trimble will be chairman, and Mrs. Virginia Welch Sharborough, lecturer in the nutrition and health education bureau, will present a general outline for discussion. Today's meeting will be the third in a series on "Character Education in Early Adolescence" lessons, to which anyone interested is invited. Meetings are held every Thursday morning.

Alpha Alpha Gamma Gives Coffee

The traditional coffee of Alpha Alpha Gamma, honorary architectural sorority, was given for the new girls in the department Wednesday afternoon from 5 to 6 o'clock in the lounge of the Architecture Building.

The new members of the department were introduced to the faculty and the members of Alpha Alpha Gamma. Guests who attended the coffee were: Laura Patton, Dorothy Nixon, Jeanne Schneider, Mrs. Worley, and Eloise Correll.

Members of Alpha Alpha Gamma present were Florence L. Smith, president; Evelyn Huffmeyer, Alexena Raines, and Mrs. Grace Raatz. Faculty members present included Walter Rolfe, Goldwin Goldsmith, Raymond Everett, Mrs. Ruth H. Junkin, Mrs. Sarah Harlan, Walter Harris, Hugh McMath, and Samuel Gideon.

A. A. U. W. Graduates Plan Year's Work

The first meeting of the recent graduate group of A.A.U.W. was held Wednesday night in the Texas Union. Miss Mercy Ramsey and Mrs. Ruth Junkin were co-chairmen.

Former members and others who are interested in the group attended. Those present were asked to contribute ideas for the program for the year.

Negro Students Attend Lecture

More than fifty negro students swelled the attendance at the astronomy lecture and planetarium exhibition in the Old Library Building Tuesday. The influx was from Tillotson College, local school for colored students which is directed by the American Missionary Association of the Congregational Church.

The group represented two astronomy classes from the college. C. Randolph Taylor, teacher, explained. "We heard of this lecture, so of course we wanted immediately to take advantage of it," he said. Lillian Burwell Lewis, science teacher, also accompanied the visitors. City buses furnished the transportation.

The general science course, which is required of all Tillotson students preparing to teach in elementary grades, is divided into groups. Those at the lecture were the astronomy group.

Exams for Math Prizes Scheduled For October 10

All freshmen interested in trying for the Brown University Mathematical Prizes may take the special examination at 2 o'clock Saturday, October 10, in Waggener Hall 101, P. M. Batchelder, chairman of the Department of Pure Mathematics, announced today.

The prizes are offered to the regular freshmen making the best grades on the examination. The examination will cover the minimum entrance requirements in elementary algebra and plane geometry.

The amount of each prize will be determined by the Auditor, according to the interest accumulated last year. First prize will be one-fourth; second prize one-sixth; third prize one-twelfth, and the calculus prize one-fourth.

An alumnus of Brown University in 1917 established the fund known as the Brown University Mathematical Prize Fund. From the interest of the fund, the prizes are awarded annually by the staff of the Department of Pure Mathematics on the basis of competitive examinations.

If no competing paper is deemed worthy of a given prize, this prize will be withheld. No prize will be divided.

The calculus examination will be given in May and is open to students who have completed the first course in calculus.

'Collectors' Evening' Scheduled for Club

A "Collectors' Evening," at which curios and hobby collections will be exhibited, is being held by the University Club at the clubhouse at 8 o'clock Saturday night. Members have been asked to bring any interesting things they have collected.

Dr. J. L. Henderson, of the School of Education, will describe his collection of McGuffey Readers, which will be on exhibit. These books are part of the Joseph Lindsey Henderson Collection, now in the library, of several thousand textbooks obtained by Dr. Henderson during the last few years.

Dr. and Mrs. C. T. Gray will have charge of the entertainment and will arrange the exhibits. Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Eby will also act as hosts.

300 Black Widow Babies Hatched In Gym Exhibit

Almost 300 "baby widows," as some of the attendants have tagged them, are now on exhibit in the division of zoology in Gregory Gymnasium.

The egg sac of the black widow which was given to the University Centennial last week by J. E. Pearce, professor of anthropology, has hatched; and tiny baby widows, light brown in color, fill the jar.

The mother black widow has been feasting on the juices of crickets which the attendants captured for her. The babies, however, need no food because they had just as soon eat each other. The male black widow is always in danger of being eaten by the female because she is so much larger, and carries deadly poison which the male does not have.

This habit of cannibalism accounts largely for the fact that black widow spiders are rather scarce.

'Y' to Entertain Upperclassmen

For its first meeting of the year the upperclass group, "Y," activity open to junior, senior, and graduate students, will have a picnic beginning at the Y.M.C.A. Building at 5:15 o'clock this afternoon. Bob Brown, co-sponsor of the organization, announced. Reservations must be made at the "Y" office by noon, Brown said.

A period of recreation under the leadership of Beverly Sheffield, ex-student of the University, is the first feature of the program. After a barbecue supper has been served, a program lasting for an hour will be presented.

John Green, president of the University Y.M.C.A., will lead a sing-song. A devotional will be conducted by Allene Atkinson, who is president of the Y.W.C.A. This will be followed by a talk, "The 'Y' on the Campus Today," by Dr. Edmund Heinsohn, pastor of the University Methodist Church.

Maybelle Hardie, co-sponsor of the group, will conclude the program by outlining the plans of the group for this semester. Programs will center around the general theme, "The Challenge of the Social Order," Miss Hardie said. The second meeting of the group will be held next Thursday night, and it will meet on alternate Thursdays thereafter.

Phi Delta Kappas Begin Meetings; Ullrich Speaks

Speaking on "Problems in Curriculum Evaluation," Felix Ullrich will address the members of Phi Delta Kappa, education fraternity, at their first meeting of the semester in the University Commons tonight at 6:30 o'clock. Mr. Ullrich of San Antonio is part time instructor in educational administration in the University.

A program containing the names of various well-known teachers and speakers who will speak on timely subjects in the educational field has been mapped out for the year.

On October 22, W. R. Bodine, teacher in the University Junior High School, will discuss "A Relative Effect of Organized Instruction and Free Play for the Learning of Baseball Skills."

"A History of the Introduction of Statistics as a Subject of Study in Education" will be given by H. R. Boles, student assistant in the Educational Psychology, at the November 5 meeting.

The topic, "An Age-Grade Study of Texas School Children," will be discussed by J. B. Boynton, student assistant in the Department of Education, on December 3.

At the December 17 meeting, J. H. Aydelotte, who is a part time instructor in history and philosophy, will give a report on "A Visit to the Schools of Mexico."

The last speaker scheduled thus far will be Dr. Jeremiah Rhodes who is director of the Junior School Division in the State Department. He will speak on "The Junior Schools of Texas" at the meeting on January 14.

Officers of Mu Chapter for 1936-37 are: H. S. Von Roeder, president; F. M. Hemphill, vice-president; B. F. Holland, treasurer; Beverly Nance, secretary; O. B. Douglas, faculty sponsor.

CURTAIN CLUB TO MEET

The Curtain Club will meet at 7 o'clock tonight in the basement of the Woman's Building. Virginia Livingston, secretary of the club, has asked that active and probationary members attend.

The second meeting of the group will be held next Thursday night, and it will meet on alternate Thursdays thereafter.

"GIVE ME YOUR HEART."—At the Paramount. From the play by Jay May, story, screen play by Casey Robinson. A Comopolitan Production. Directed by Archie L. Mayo. Released by Warner Brothers.

THE CAST
Belinda Warren Kay Francis
Jim Baker George Brent
Bobby Barrow Roland Young
Robert Melford Patric Knowles
Edward Lord Farrington Henry
Rosamund Melford Frieda Inescort

"Give Me Your Heart" brings us face to face with as frank and plain-spoken a group of characters as we've met in some time. Their interests are centered on a question of some gravity, morality, and such, but the characters discuss the matter so nicely that Mr. Hayes and the Legion of Decency didn't intervene. We think it a pity they didn't.

As such, then, Kay Francis valiantly enacts a lady with a past, while we are quite sure she could play a faultless woman in a picture that might be more interesting. Kay Francis and George Brent, though, have saved this film from utter mediocrity and shamefulness with the helpful assistance of a supporting cast of stability. Roland Young speaks up ever so often to smooth over any embarrassing situations that might have arisen.

"Give Me Your Heart" is what we would like to term a "refined tear-jerker," for the women in the audience seem to be sympathetic toward Miss Francis, even though she has broken the moral code. But who wouldn't be sympathetic toward such a lovely creature as Miss Francis?

Riach Delivers First Of Lecture Series

More than 100 persons jammed Newman Clubroom Tuesday night to hear Father J. M. Riach in the first of a series of weekly lectures on "The Catholic Church and Questions of Today." His topic was "Birth Control."

Father Riach denounced any form of birth control from a moral and social standpoint and from the standpoint of the Church, explaining the consequences the practice would bring about. Among his future lectures he will talk on "Freedom of the Press," a question which he remarked was now pertinent on the campus.

Thirty pictorial photographs that were recently awarded prizes in the monthly national contests sponsored by the Camera Craft Publishing Company, San Francisco, are now on display in the second floor corridor of the Physics Building and may be inspected during the next three days by the students and faculty of the University and by Austin residents interested in photography. The exhibit will close Friday night.

The display is being sponsored by the Austin Camera Club, of which J. M. Kuehne, professor of physics, is sponsor.

This group of pictures is the first section of the Camera Craft traveling exhibit of pictorial photographs. Six such groups are being exhibited throughout the country by recognized camera clubs. Each group ordinarily consists of fifty photographs, but because of the lack of exhibit space in the Physics Building, the local organization has selected for display the thirty pictures considered to be most representative of the group.

Pictures in the group are actual photographs taken by photographers throughout the country, each one having been allowed to use his own judgment as to the amount of toning or retouching which was done before the pictures were entered in the contests. Besides the more common photographic processes used in the development of the pictures, examples of the paper negative, bromoil, bromoil transfer, and Fresson processes may also be found in the exhibit.

Election of officers for the new year and a discussion of the photographs now on display will be held at the meeting of the Austin Camera Club tonight at 8 o'clock in Physics Building 203.

Professor Kuehne, sponsor of the club, urged that all students, faculty members, and residents of Austin interested in the activities of the club attend the meeting tonight.

Actual organization of the club for the year will be started at the meeting and plans for the exhibits of the two groups from the Camera Craft contests, at least one exhibit of work by club members, and at least three exchange exhibits from other camera clubs of the Southwest will be made.

Some folks might shout that democracy is going down in the United States. They might exclaim that we will soon be under a dictator. And they might screech that we will be under the rule of the Communists, the Socialists, the Fascists, or some other kind of "ism." But they can't point to the programs of the entertainers on the air today and cite them as proof of their arguments that everything is controlled by a "czar." Radio is one thing, and there are a great many more in this country, that is still open to all types of people. It makes no distinction between race, religion, or anything else for that matter.

Which all causes radio to be so popular with the great American public. Everybody, for some reason, likes something that is free from all politics of any kind. And in radio they have a perfect example of an institution that, as long as it stays in the bounds of decency, is subject to the control of no one individual or party. There are many immigrants knowing no one and having no money, who have hit the top in radio because of their ability and the opportunity that exists in radio. Of course, the amateur craze has stimulated the development of radio chances for unknowns, but it was there long before Major Bowes had his idea.

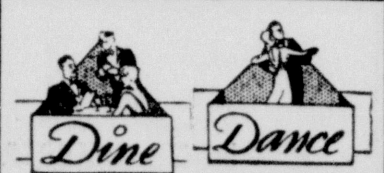

For example: the story of Henry Busse is one of the best to be cited. Because just twenty-five years ago he arrived with $3.00 and a trumpet in New York from Europe. He started to work in a cheap cafe and while there had a chance to play in its small third-rate orchestra. He was too good for that place and moved across the country to San Francisco where he met Paul Whiteman who was playing an engagement there.

The now King of Jazz looked at Busse, heard him play, and then immediately took him into his organization of talented musicians. Under Whiteman's tutelage Busse moved forward rapidly and gained everlasting fame for his historic interpretation of "When Day Is Done." Busse had too much ability and ambition to stay with Paul Whiteman as a musician so he formed his own orchestra. And the result? He today has one of the best bands in the country. Hear him this afternoon at 3 o'clock to see that there is still opportunity in the good old U.S.A.

Here is a simple statement: Fred Allen and Jack Benny are two of the best comedians on the air at the present. That is as far as some people go. They seem to forget that two little ladies by the name of Portland Hoffa and Mary Livingstone have contributed to their husbands' success. Mary, married to Benny, and Portland, the wife of Allen, have for years been teamed on the same programs with their husbands.

The odds say that without them Allen and Benny would not be where they are today—at the peak. So why doesn't somebody give the girls some credit for their work? They certainly rate it. But now they are getting no praise from anyone but their husbands who after all know the true worth of their ability.

TOBIAN HEADS PLEDGES

Louis Tobian of Dallas was elected president of the pledge group of Phi Sigma Delta at a meeting last week. Stanley David, also of Dallas, was elected secretary-treasurer, and Alvin Schwartz of Corsicana was elected vice-president.

Committee Asks 14 Days' Notice For Dances

Applications for places on the University Social Calendar must be made at least fourteen calendar days before the date if the affair is to be a dance, but only a week is sufficient notice if the affair is to be other than a dance.

The University Social Calendar is compiled by members of the Social Calendar Committee, which includes Mrs. Kathleen Bland, assistant dean of women, Jimmie Brinkley, president of the Students' Association, Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men, John Bradshaw, chairman of the Judiciary Council, and Margaret Gray, secretary of the Students' Association.

The committee, although the regulations pertaining to student social life are the same as those last semester, requests students to familiarize themselves with the rules, which are frequently disobeyed because of ignorance, not intention.

Faculty Supervises
Following are regulations which the committee emphasizes. Social functions of students are controlled by the committee and supervised by the Faculty Committee on Student Social Affairs. Jurisdiction of the Social Calendar Committee extends to all University social affairs and parties for mixed groups of students. The committee makes and publishes interpretations of what constitutes a social affair.

Students may not attend social affairs extending beyond 8 o'clock at night except on Friday and Saturday nights or the night before a holiday. Social affairs other than dances must close in time for women students to reach their residences by 11 o'clock.

Application must be made by individual students to the committee for permission to attend social affairs not on the calendar.

Any affair at which there is dancing is considered a dance. No dance for student attendance may be given until permission has been obtained from the committee. No student may attend a dance given by a person or organization not of the University until authorized by the committee.

All functions such as dances, receptions, and suppers, given on any night other than one preceding a holiday, must close by 12 o'clock. This rule excepts the single formal allowed each organization each year.

No student or student group is permitted to give more than one dance a semester unless special permission is obtained.

An "open house," defined as a social function at a group residence with limited number of guests and limited time and expense, is subject to regulation by the committee. For eligibility to attend these open houses or formal during the first semester new students on the campus must have sixty hours credit.

Details which further explain regulations and eligibility of student social life may be found in the Catalogue of General Information. For individual interpretation

Dr. Simonds's Son Home on Visit

A. W. Simonds, engineer in the United States Reclamation Service, is now visiting his father, Dr. Frederic Simonds, professor of geology in the University. Mr. Simonds recently returned from Panama, where he was stationed for two months working on a flood control dam that protects the Panama Canal.

Previous to his work at Panama, Mr. Simonds spent two years on construction work at Boulder Dam, which was recently put into operation by the government.

Mr. Simonds, who was one of the guest speakers at the Southern Geological Society meeting Friday, will leave in about ten days for Denver, Colo., to resume his work for the reclamation service.
