Bears Pointing for S. M. U.
Game Next Week, According to Waco Scribe

By Marion Barron
Sports Editor, Waco Times Herald
Waco, Nov. 6.—Accompanied by over 1,000 supporters on a special train, the Baylor Bears will invade the corral of the Texas Longhorns Saturday to play the first football game in the new Texas Stadium.

Not only will it be a game of a thousand thrills from the fans' viewpoint but it will be an interesting study to the student of psychology for that mysterious something which makes mind superior to matter will play a large part in the Baylor Texas game. The Longhorns will enter this "grudge" fight at their highest mental pitch, fighting mad. They let down in the game with Rice but they will be battling with their full fiery spirit for revenge over the Bruins Saturday.

Due for Let-Down
On the other hand, the mental condition of Bridges' team will be only normal or lower. The Bears were primed for the Aggie game and not only will they naturally let-down for the Texas game but they will be forced to, in order that they may prime themselves again for the powerful S. M. U. Mustangs whom they meet the following week.

Perhaps the Bruins will have a physical edge over the Longhorns but brawn counts little when two spirits such as those of the Green and Gold and the White and Gold clinch in such a dynamic struggle as the one scheduled Saturday afternoon.

Bears Want Championship
Coach Frank Bridges is a man of mystery and even those closest to him never know what he will do. What his plan of battle for the Texas game is, is not known and will not be known until it is seen in action on the field at Austin. Bridges says that he will consider it a great moral victory if the Bruins are able to hold

MISS RUTH CROSS WILL ARRIVE AUSTIN NOV. 25University Graduate, Author of
"Golden Cocoon," to Attend
Thanksgiving Game

Miss Ruth Cross of New York City, Texas writer, whose novel, "The Golden Cocoon," has brought her fame in the literary world, will leave New York City Sunday, November 9, for Texas.

Miss Cross is a graduate of the University of Texas and will be here November 25. She will be present for the Texas-A. & M. game Thanksgiving. She is now engaged in writing another novel with Texas for its setting, and the purpose of her trip is to get "local color."

Miss Cross has sold the motion picture rights of her novel of a New York filming company and has completed a play recently. The University is proud of its illustrious graduate and will be glad to welcome her on her visit.

GLASCOCK READS
FROM 'MARIFLOR'Public Reading of Realistic Novel of Celtiberian Peasant Life Given

Dr. Clyde Chew Glascock, at the public reading Thursday afternoon, read a selection from the introductory chapter of Concha Espina's "Mariflor," a Spanish novel depicting the poverty and the suffering of Spanish peasants.

According to Dr. Glascock's review of the story in the July number of the Texas Review, the novel deals with the life of the Maragato peasants living in the province of Leon in Northern Spain, who are perhaps the descendants of the first known inhabitants of Spain—the Celtiberians.

"Mariflor," meaning originally Mary's flower, is the name of the beautiful heroine who accepts the hand of a wealth cousin in order to save her family from financial difficulty.

The poverty and the lack of fidelity of the man whom she loves truly impels her to the marriage. The story tells of the brutalities and the gloom found in the lives of these Maragato peasants, and for this reason it is devoid of any portrayal of the joys of living. It leaves "a lasting impression on the reader's mind, one of hardship, of suffering, and of sorrow bravely borne."

The book is full of the naturalism and realism that is found in many of the Blasco Ibanez stories.

Longhorns Being Put Through Stiff Grind
For Game With BearsFRESHMAN PARADE
BEFORE PEP MEETPeppy Rally Follows March Around Campus Led by Slime Band

"Beat Baylor. Beat Baylor!" was the count shouted by the green capped army that marched around the campus last night led by the Freshman band.

A few peppy yells are given at the gym when the slimes assembled last night at 7:15 for the freshman pep rally, and then a march through the campus was made to recruit stragglers.

When the parade returned to the gym, Tom Pickett told the freshmen that paint and brushes were ready to put more "Beat Baylor" signs on the campus and asked for volunteers to do the work.

The freshmen were told by yell-leader Gerhardt to sit together during the game. He asked them to let the girls and upperclassmen friends go for a few hours to make a real '28 rooting section for the game. Gerhardt said he had more pep at the rally than he has had this year.

New Line Has Been Built for Baylor
Contest

Clark Field and the Memorial Stadium take turns about witnessing the Longhorns practice each afternoon as Foreman Doc-Stewart and his assistant Cowpunchers, Wait and Bluestein, drive the herd in preparation for the Baylor round-up.

The herd has almost forgotten the last afternoon that Foreman Doc Stewart has not sent them through a stiff practice, first on old Clark Field stamping grounds, later in the day shifting to the new corral. The Longhorns have been forced to vacate Clark Field early three times this week and then is when Doc runs them over to the Stadium, probably to get used to the new pen.

In an effort to concoct some sort of defense against the Baylor power plays, Doc has scrimmaged his men against Clyde Littlefield's frosh early and late. Yesterday, for variety's sake, he invited the St. Edwards College eleven out to mingle with the Steers and try out their famous Notre Dame passes in dummy practice.

It is probable that Bruce Shearer will be recalled from the backfield to pair with Stookie Allen at end. This will leave an offensive quartet to be chosen from Wright, Marley, Foster, Thompson, Slover, Schuhardt, and Smith. If he is able to play, Stud Wright will certainly be at one of the halves, as he is the best punter and passer on the entire squad.

Buddy Sprague and K. L. Berry are the only parts of the Longhorn line that will resemble the one that started against Rice. Pfannkuche has been definitely placed at left guard in Dayvault's old position, leaving Matt Newell and Swampy Thompson to scrap for the pivot position. They will likely alternate between center and tackle.

The Bears are due to arrive sometime this afternoon and if it is not too late, they probably will stage a pre-game work out in the stadium. The Longhorns will have one more practice before the battle, and Doc has assured the team it will be one of the stiffest scrimmages of the year.

RECEIVE T. C. U. A. & M.
RESULTS

The Co-op will receive the returns from the T. C. U. A. & M. game at College Station Saturday. The news of the progress of the game will be relayed to the Stadium for the benefit of the students.

SLIMES SWIPE
SOPH PREXY--
GET MOLASSES

Three freshmen received free baths in high grade molasses and Sneed Larry, sophomore president, got a free ride to San Marcos because the three slimes were over-anxious to do valorous deeds for the class of '28.

It started when they saw the notice of the sophomore girls luncheon which was to be held Tuesday night and failed to see that it was only for girls.

The brave slimes made a rush for Larry and carried him forcibly out of his private den to keep him away from the feed. The mistake was discovered when the car-load of desperadoes and their captive reached San Marcos, and Larry was returned in time to hear the bed-time story broadcasted at 9 o'clock.

BILLY DISCH WILL MAKE ONLY SPEECH
OF PEP MEETINGYell Practice for Bear Game
to Last Only Thirty Minutes

TONIGHT IS ZERO HOUR

Special Rooters' Section of 400 Will Remain for Rehearsal

"Start That Stadium With Fight—Beat Baylor"—the battle cry of Texas will sound again tonight in the final "Beat Baylor" rally at the Men's Gym. The pep meeting will begin promptly at 7:15 and will last only thirty minutes, according to head yell-leader Bob Payne.

Coach Billy Disch, "the Grand Old Man," will make a short talk to the rooters. This will be the only address made, Payne said.

Everybody Out
"We expect the largest crowd in the history of Varsity," he said, "to respond to the call of the old time fight spirit that made itself felt at the rally Wednesday night. We are trying to instill that spirit into the rooters, and through them that Longhorn team." "We want everybody there tonight," Payne continued. "We will begin at 7:15 sharp. Those students who are planning to go to social functions will have plenty of time to attend the rally."

Last of Series
The pep meeting tonight is "zero hour" before the battle with Baylor. It will be the last of a series held this week, and according to Coach Doc Stewart, is the most vital rally of the series.

The special section of 400 rooters will remain tonight and will spend some ten minutes in additional yell practice. This section will lead the rooting sections of Texas at the game tomorrow.

Cap and Gown Will Hold Initiation in Girls' Study Hall

Cap and Gown will hold initiation tonight in the Girls Study Hall at 7 o'clock for girls graduating in June and August, 1925. Another initiation will be held Wednesday night of next week for some who were not able to come today.

Initiation was postponed last night on account of the W. A. A. meeting.

*Conference Games.

By Victor Emanuel
Daily Texan Sports Editor

No conference title is due to be decided this week, but four interesting games are scheduled in the Southwest, either of which may be of much future importance in deciding the eventual champion. While most of the spotlight is focused on the Baylor-Texas battle at Austin, the clash that should really prove crucial is staged for Fayetteville, Arkansas, with the S. M. U. Mustangs invading the Razorback pen.

Aggie-T. C. U.
Everything points to the Aggies breaking their sinister hoodoo streak today. Everyone concedes that Bible has the best defensive eleven in the conference and they have an offense which on paper plays is second only to Baylor. It is on passing that the Aggies invariably meet their nemesis. The Farmers cannot pass; neither can they defend against one, so their hope is that T. C. U. is as pitifully weak in the overhead department as Bible's team.

The game between Austin College and Rice should provide a real upset. Since the Owl victory over Texas no one gives Austin a ghost of chance, forgetting that the Kangaroos defeated a stronger eleven in Baylor. On paper there is little to choose between the two teams but Austin College will be in a better frame of mind and for that reason ought to win.

S. M. U.-Arkansas
Morrison's sparkplugs, unbeatable from a Dallas angle, are in for the surprise of their lives. We believe that Arkansas has greater possibilities than any other conference eleven and these possibilities will be realized tomorrow if at all. The Mustangs seem to be scared stiff at the thought of the long trip to Fayetteville, but they according to Dallas scribes are going about the game in ordinary fashion and already looking ahead for the Baylor clash of November 15 to decide the title.

Baylor has such a great physical edge over the Texas Longhorns that the game can be awarded on paper unless the Longhorns show a superb fight. And when elements of fight and psychology are taken into consideration then a football game cannot be doped.

The game would be the best of the day, one of the best staged in the Southwest in years. Texas has everything to gain and little to lose, while Baylor will sacrifice even the title to gain a win over their hated rivals, the Longhorns.

PAINT FOR LAW BUILDING
Law Building is undergoing a thorough painting of cornish work. Painters have been at work for several days. Fears that the bright red color which first encircled the building would remain, have proven groundless, as a conventional gray has already begun to replace the flaming red.

Armistice Dance, Women's Gym, 9-1, Gardner's Orchestra $1.50.

RILEY BIGGS

Baylor must have selected their line captain for weight for Biggs is one of the heftiest guards in the conference.

BILL COFFEY

The brainiest quarterback in the conference, says Frank Bridges. Evidently he has forgotten Berry of the Aggies, Stollenwerck, and our own Birdie Foster.

STRICKLAND

Longhorn line will have to stop this plunging back to beat the Bears.

ST. EDWARDS COLLEGE MEETS STRONG TULSA SQUAD THIS AFTERNOON

Both Elevens Have Good Records for Season Thus Far

St. Edward's College and the Tulsa University Golden Hurricane will clash on Clark Field this afternoon at 3:00 in one of the most important inter-state games of the year. No Oklahoma team has succeeded in invading Lone Star soil this season and gaining a victory, so that the Tulsa eleven, goaded on by the 35-7 defeat administered by the Saints last year, will make a mighty attempt to break the precedent.

Both elevens have praiseworthy records for their earlier games. St. Edwards is undefeated and numbers among their victims San Marcos Normal, leaders in the T. I. A. A. race, Daniel Baker, and Louisiana Polytechnic. The only blot on the Golden Hurricane record is a 26-6 defeat administered by the powerful Haskell Braves after Tulsa had led 6-3 during three quarters of the game.

An added feature of the day will be the presence of the Longhorn Band. University students will be admitted for the nominal price of 50c provided they show the blanket tax at the gates.

NEW BOARD TO SOLVE EDUCATION PROBLEMS

Organization of a new school of inquiry has been perfected and work begun, for the assistance of all schools in their problems of organization and development, according to Professor Tennant, research specialist in rural education in the Bureau of Extension.

This division of the University has not yet become well known to the rural and city schools over the State, but it promises to become an important division in solving all school problems, where expert technical assistance is needed.

REFEREE TO BE SELECTED
Students of the University who fulfill the qualifications required will be selected to referee high school basketball games this year, according to Roy Bedichek. A request will be made at a later date for boys who wish to try out. There were between twenty and thirty boys who were selected and sent to different parts of the state last year by the League.

SIXTY-FOUR W. A. A. GIRLS AWARDED PINS AT MEETING THURSDAY

EIGHTEEN NEW MEMBERS ADDED

Social Hour and Dance Held Following Transaction of Business

Sixty-four W. A. A. members were awarded W. A. A. pins at the regular meeting of the organization held at the Woman's Gym Thursday night. These pins were awarded to the new girls who had earned 100 points and had paid their dues. Eighteen new members were sworn into the organization and admitted to the latter part of the closed meeting.

After the meeting, the audience was admitted into the adjoining gym, which was decorated to represent the Covered Wagon on the plains. A bar room scene was enacted with the regular drinks and dances, after which dancing was enjoyed with the Woman's Building orchestra furnishing the music.

Those receiving pins were: Mary Dunlap, Bernard Frank, Ophelia Schaeffer, Rosemary Walling, Frances Cox, Floy Wooley, Ruth McMillan, Blanche Hair, Frances Murphy, Angela Strnad, Jessie Church, Nell Nimon, Margaret Gates, Florence Smith, Winona Gause, Helen Lang, Marguerite Lang, Mary Ulrich, Lynn Eclsel, Corinne Woods, F. Basement of Woman's Building Is Studio

All the fixtures have been taken out of the old gymnasium in the basement of the Woman's Building and the place has been turned over to the dancing classes for a studio. Through the interest of I. P. Lochridge, business manager of the University, and W. A. A., hardwood floors have been put in and the walls painted ivory. W. A. A. has given beautiful gray draperies that fall from the ceiling to the floor and Mrs. Walter Fisher has added a lovely gray drop curtain.

Other additions include shaded lights. The studio is used by dancing classes.

CUNNINGHAM TALKS ON U. S. FOREIGN SERVICE

Tells Commerce Club of Opportunities for Trained Men in This Field

The many opportunities that are open to trained men in the foreign service of our government were explained by Charles H. Cunningham to the members of the Commerce Club at a meeting held Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Law Building.

The speaker was introduced by Dean Bell of the Business Administration Department. Mr. Cunningham was formerly on the faculty of the University, and has a keen sympathy for Texas and the students. Since he has been connected with the foreign service he has served in several important positions, having been the United States Commercial Attache in Spain for the last three years.

Demand for Men

Cunningham pointed out to the audience of about 150 students that were present how the increased foreign trade of our commercial organizations had created a demand for a number of trained men to fill the many places that are connected with the work. These positions command high salaries, but are hard to fill because the majority of young Americans do not like to leave the many advantages that we have at home. As a result the American corporations have often been forced to put foreigners in charge of their interests, with a resulting loss to their trade.

The countries abroad have a preference as a rule for American made goods; but our manufacturers have to meet the stiff competition of lower priced articles, made by other foreign countries. The large American manufacturing corporations have greatly improved their foreign trade organizations in the last few years, and the annual total of export trade is increasing.

Foreign Trade

Then Cunningham explained how the departments of the Service were organized to handle the interests of this foreign trade. He explained how the Consular Service, the Diplomatic Service, and the Department of Commerce chose the men to carry out this business.

TEXAN READ IN CANADA

Proof of the fact that The Daily Texan is read in Canada is shown by the re-write in the McGill University daily paper of a story carried in The Texan several weeks ago on the different ways one may be employed in working his way through school. The story was written by Edward Steere, a reporter on The Texan, and was printed in the McGill Daily under a double column head on the front page.

"T. U." Formation With Cowboys to Be Made Between Halves

Sixty Longhorn Bandmen and sixty freshmen will march on the field between halves at the stadium opening game Saturday between Texas and Baylor. The Longhorn Band and the Cowboys will make the "TU" formation for the first time this year on the home field.

The official opening game of the stadium will witness the first appearance of the Freshman Band in full uniform, and the freshmen are working on some new stunts. The Longhorn Band will feature entirely new and popular music at the A. & M. game, and this organization also is working on plans for the presentation of some entirely new stunts, according to Burnett Pharr, director. The exact nature of these stunts is to be held secret until Thanksgiving Day, said Pharr.

PLAN ASSOCIATION OF MANAGER CITIES

Government Research Bureau Will Organize 24 Cities of State

Organization of an association of the 24 city managers of Texas is being planned, according to R. D. Jacobsen of the government research division of the University of Texas. City managers have become a profession, he said, and it is planned to have annual meetings for the purpose of discussing municipal problems.

A circular letter was recently sent out which explained the situation to the various city managers. Replies from Amarillo, Bryan, San Angelo, Temple, Tyler, and Waco are favorable to organization. These towns are the only ones which have yet been heard from. The association may either be independent or may be a section of the League of Texas Municipalities.

Veterans Bureau Has Twenty Men in Training at University

According to the records in the office of the registrar of the University there are 20 men in training in the University under the supervision of the United States' Veterans Bureau. These are men, as the records will show, who were injured in the service of the United States during the World War. They received such for returning to their pre-war vo-injuries that wholly unfitted them cation, and the Government is aiding them in rehabilitating themselves so they may earn a living.

Many of these men, as their individual records show, were injured in the line of battle. The time limit of vocational education, as it now stands according to law, is June 30, 1926. All training programs must close by that date. Of the veterans now in the University each is scheduled to receive his degree before that date. Many of them will receive their degree in June, 1925.

Dean of women, in receipt of a letter of appreciation from Westmoreland College, San Antonio, for the many courtesies extended the students from that school during their recent visit here. The San Antonio girls were impressed by the size of the school and the hospitality of our students.

"Euclid Avenue, Jim Corbett, and a Modern Preacher" will be the subject of Dr. Jewett's sermon at the Christian church Sunday morning. This should be an interesting sermon. We don't know what Dr. Jewett knows about Jim Corbett, but we imagine the ex-pugilist will feel flattered when he learns that he is part of the subject of a sermon.

"Foreign Service as a Career" was discussed by Charles H. Cunningham, commercial attaché to the American Embassy at Madrid, before the University Commerce Club last night. The address was given in the law auditorium. Our foreign trade has afforded many opportunities for college graduates in recent years, and Dr. Cunningham's address was of interest to many of the students.

Texas University ranks eighth among the higher institutions in summer school attendance, according to Dr. Frederick Eby, director. Last summer's school was the most successful in the history of the University, and next year's will be even better. The summer school in 1925 will not be hindered by a lack of finances, and emphasis will be given to the graduate department. Last summer Austin was almost as cool a place as Boulder, and our local people were not nearly so bold when it came to high prices.

WE CAN BEAT BAYLOR SATURDAY

The battle cry of the students of the University of Texas is "Beat Baylor." The game Saturday with the Baylor Bears is the most important of the season as it marks the opening of the new stadium and the appearance of our most ardent rivals.

The student body held a rally Wednesday night, and the attendance was fairly good and the enthusiasm ran high. However, a rally of that kind will never beat Baylor. An outsider who was present at Wednesday's rally said: "The school spirit has certainly improved, but the students are not determined enough to defeat Baylor." While we are making plans to beat Baylor, the Waco student body is working overtime to establish a school spirit and a desire to fight in its team that cannot be subdued.

Following are excerpts from Tuesday's Baylor Lariat: "When we meet those Texas Steers next Saturday, they'll think the hoof and mouth disease has hit 'em," "De-horn those Longhorns," "We Want Beef," "Open that Stadium right—beat Texas," etc.

It is evident that the attack on Dr. Brooks and the evolution dispute didn't take all of the fight out of Baylor. With such a dogged determination on the part of the Bears, and with the Baylor team outweighing our players about fifteen pounds to the man, it will require the best school spirit we have ever developed here to win Saturday.

We must not lose to Baylor Saturday for the team's sake, and for the sake of the new stadium. A victory Saturday will make the difference between a successful and an unsuccessful season. But far more important than this, almost every student in the University has made sacrifices to raise the money to build the new stadium as a monument to our boys who fought and paid the supreme sacrifice during the World War. We have backed the stadium and the school to the extent of raising more than $200,000 in the University. After having given so unselfishly of our means, surely we are not going to let Baylor back its team better than we do our team.

Let's show the 1,500 Baylor students Saturday the largest stadium a Bear ever gazed upon; let's show them the most patriotic and best rooting student body they ever tried to match; and if we do these things, Coach Stewart and his players will show Baylor the most courageous, fighting team that ever walked on a football field—a team that will make the Bears hunt their caves and the Baylor students, with their chorus of 1500, sing "I'm forever blowing bubbles."

POLITICAL RESULTS

Two of the most picturesque characters who have been in politics in recent years were Democratic nominees Tuesday, Jack Walton and Al Smith. Jack lost and Al won.

Walton's race for senator from Oklahoma is an interesting story. Two years ago he ran against the Republican nominee, Fields, for the governorship of the Sooner state and won by an overwhelming majority. This time he was opposed by a Republican for the United States senatorship from his state, and although the state went Democratic by a big vote, Jack was defeated. Walton was governor of Oklahoma for more than a year, and after making a miserable failure of the job, he was impeached. He appointed a president of Oklahoma A. & M. who was not thought qualified for a college presidency, and he made many other blunders. His radical actions proved very expensive to the citizens of Oklahoma, and the end of his stormy career as governor was greeted with applause and joy. His defeat Tuesday was a victory for good government. A man should not be able to make a failure of filling a high political office and then be promoted by the people to a better position.

THAT'S MUCH DIFFERENT

The Texan is glad Al Smith, the Democratic nominee, won in New York. We cannot help but admire him. He was born over on the Bowery section of Long Island, grew up in poverty and around unwholesome influences. However, he made good at every job he tackled, and has made New York a good governor. When he was elevated to the honorable position of governor of the largest state in the union in population, he did not forget his friends in the slum sections and he was not unmindful of the interests of the people who were his friends in boyhood. Al Smith is idolized by thousands of people in New York City and deserves their admiration and adulation.

The results of Tuesday's balloting showed that the Democrats made a serious mistake at their convention in New York City when it required 103 efforts to select a nominee for the presidency. The Republican's steam-roller convention in Chicago was better politics.

Scottish Rite Dormitory Entertains Tonight 9 to 12 With Annual Informal Dance

With more than two hundred boys on the guest list, the girls of the Scottish Rite will entertain tonight from 9 to 12 in the beautiful ball room of the dormitory with the first informal dance of the fall term.

Opening the social season at the Masonic girl's dormitory, the affair will be one of the most enjoyable and interesting dances to be given by the girls this year. The dormitory will be all "dressed up" for the large number of guests attending the dance.

Steve Gardner's orchestra, members of which have gained fame as dance musicians, will furnish the music.

Joyce Garrett of San Antonio and Mildred Fielding of Paris are in charge of the plans for one of the most successful dances of the year.

A feature of the dance will be that many former Dormitory girls who have married since leaving the building will return to be present and enjoy the occasion. Among those are: Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Smythe.

Chaperones for the dance will be Judge and Mrs. James W. McClen-don, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Muenster, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Woodward, Dean and Mrs. L. H. Hubbard, Miss Lucy Newton, and President and Mrs. Walter Splawn.

Bebe Daniels in "Dangerous Money"

Bebe Daniels, who stars in "Dangerous Money," playing at the Queen Theater for the rest of the week, has in this film, her first starring vehicle, and the picture is a case of good showmanship. The cast includes Tom Moore, Dolores Cassinelli, William Powell, and others. This screen play is based on Robert Herricks' novel.

The picture was very highly commended by the California newspapers on its first appearance there. One of them said, "An excellent picture and it will go far. It has everything—an engrossing story, beautiful settings, a charming leading lady, and good direction."

Al. G. Field's Here Today at Hancock

There is not a city or hamlet in this country where the Al. G. Field Minstrels is not well and favorably known. It is said the success of this company has been greater than any of its kind and that it has outclassed all entertainments of like character.

It is known not only as an attraction, but an institution. Clean in every detail, it has furnished amusement for generation after generation. The minstrel loving public views it as its own and capacity audiences greet it everywhere.

This, the thirty-eighth annual tour, is to be made memorable by the retention of all the old favorites who have aided in the building of this popular organization, augmented by a number of new artists of unquestioned ability, who will add to the attractiveness of this famous company, which will appear at the Hancock Theater today.

Texas Presents Pola Negri in "Men"

Pola Negri's latest starring picture for Paramount, "Men," which shows at the Texas Theater today and Saturday, proves that a story may be a great tragedy and yet end happily.

The picture was produced by Dimitri Buchowetzki, who was brought to this country from Europe for the purpose, from his own original story.

"Men," dramatizes the heartless persecutions which countless women suffer at the hands of the stronger sex. It also presents the retaliatory measures which women sometimes adopt in their battle against life.

"Cleo," the role which Pola Negri creates in "Men," is the cumulative effect of the many significant characters she has played since she first flashed, meteor-like, across the world's dramatic sky.

A waitress in a cheap restaurant of a French port, Cleo keeps a watchful eye upon her father, a decrepit musician who provides music for the guests. One night a handsome stranger attracts her attention, and for the first time the young girl experiences the emotion of love.

Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water" at Majestic

Harold Lloyd's latest comedy, "Hot Water," which opened a week's engagement at the Majestic Theater Monday, proved a scream from beginning to end. Although Lloyd fans will find it hard to believe, it is easily conceded that Lloyd has made this the best of all his comedies, profiting by each of his past experiences.

In "Hot Water" the story opens with Harold a happy husband, who lives in peace until a mother-in-law and loving relatives came to keep him in perpetual "hot water." This, together with a trick automobile with a complex for smash-ups, cops, a ghost who isn't a ghost, combine to make this comedy one of the very best.

Jobyana Ralston plays the wife and makes an excellent foil for the humaneness and naturalness of Harold's situations. She also played the feminine lead in "Girl Shy."

PRE-LAW INTRAMURALS CONQUER PRE-MEDS; SCORE 7-0

TOUCHDOWN MADE ON FORWARD PASS

Pre-Laws Will Meet Laws or B. A. Team for Intramural Championship

The Intramural football race assumed the possibilities of a family series in Dean Hildebrand's school when the Pre-Laws defeated the Pre-Meds yesterday afternoon on Clark field, 7-0.

The game was conspicuous for its lack of first downs. Both teams fought steadily during the entire course of the game and the Pre-Laws were victorious not because they out fought their opponents but because their team worked in closer harmony. The Pre-Meds fought a good fight but failed to function in a machine-like manner. It was particularly their fight rather than their teamwork that enabled them to put up as good a struggle as they did.

In the first quarter the Pre-Laws turned a line buck, and end run, and a forward pass from Prince to Sparks into a touchdown, the only touchdown of the game. Sparks, who scored the touchdown was injured in a following play in the first quarter and was carried off the field with a broken rib.

The second and third quarters revealed principally a bucking game, although in the last few minutes of the third quarter the Pre-Meds completed a long forward pass to Estes which advanced the ball to the Law's 15 yard line, which was the Med's nearest approach to a touchdown, for the Laws braced up and held them for downs. Heironymous touched off a thrill spark in the last few minutes of play when he intercepted a pass and almost got away for a touchdown. He was perhaps the outstanding player of the game, doing good defensive work and being successful in recovering several fumbles.

The Laws play the Business Administration next week and the winner of that game will play the Pre-Laws for the Intramural football championship.

HIGH SCHOOL CHAMPS TO BE PICKED IN GAMES THIS WEEK

Wee Hours of Morn Find Stags Lined up for Dance Bids

"Stand back, gents." "The line forms on the right." "Ouch! Get off my foot." "What do you think that this is, your birthday?"

These and similar remarks could be heard in the Main Building this morning at 1:15, in answer to a call that the freshmen were massing for an attack on B. Hall. But alas for the rumor. This one was false. The riot was nothing else but the waiting lists for those few stag bids to the Gym dance at 50c a bid.

About fifty were waiting in line at 1:15 and several more were seen coming across the hill. It was estimated that seventy-five would be in line by the time the paper went to press.

BAYLOR HAS EDGE

Texas to a tie. And he is right in that, for the Bruins are now playing for the championship and not games. The Bears are pointing for their exceptionally difficult battle with the S. M. U. Mustangs and the Longhorns loom as an exasperating, stumbling block in the path of Baylor. If Baylor expects any chance at all with S. M. U. they must come out of the Texas game in good condition.

The wing positions of the Baylor team will be on an uncertain status. "Sniper" Conally, veteran end, was injured in the Aggie game but he will start at right end. "Bozo" Reed and Bubba Nash, two promising but inexperienced ends, will likely alternate on the left side.

Sam Coates, who considers his visit Saturday to the University of Texas as somewhat of a homecoming, will play left tackle while Bill Meers will take the right position. It is said that the Steers are laying for Coates but they will encounter

Substitutions: Pre-Meds: Estes for Middleton, Davant for Kuser, Johnson for Pluenncke, Castleberry for Peters, Zewell for Russell, Eckhardt for Marr. Pre-Laws: Meadows, Johnson, More, Seman, Akin, Albertson, and Townes.

Officials: Referee, Dayvault; Head Linesman, Whitaker; Umpire, Bluestein; Law linesman, Forrest Bennett.

District championships in three interscholastic league districts of Conference A will be decided this week end, and the remaining five sections in that conference will be decided the following week end, according to information given out by Roy B. Henderson of the Interscholastic League.

Amarillo and Vernon will play this week end for the championship of Section 1. The winner of the Cisco-Ranger game will play Comanche for the Section 2 championship. In Section 3, Cleburne and Mineral Wells are the contestants. Section 4 will match Waco against Hillsboro for its title. The section 5 championship title lies between the winner of the Denison-Greenville, Oak Cliff-North Dallas games, and Sherman. North Dallas is not in the race and in the event that they defeat Oak Cliff, it will leave the championship of Section 5 between Sherman and the Denison-Greenville game winner.

In Section 7 Houston Heights and Houston Central will have a little family game, while Beaumont and Port Arthur play in Beaumont. In the event that Port Arthur, who has already been eliminated, defeats Beaumont, the winner of the Houston game will become the district champion. Corpus Christi will play the winner of the Austin-Temple game for the championship of Section 8.

trouble in stopping this slashing and dangerous-to-tackle runner.

The key stone of the Baylor line will be stronger than any other part with Sisco and Hartzog at guards and the famous "Bear" Walker at center. Riley Biggs, 190 pounds, may get in at guard before the game is over. This pivot position has been the shining light of the Baylor team in every game this year and it was through here that Baylor largely thrashed the Aggies.

Many Quarterbacks

Bill Coffey will start at quarterback and will perhaps share time with "Ping" Collier and George Fall. Baylor is well equipped in the field generals' department with the two old heads and one youngster and all of them are about as good as the other.

Captain Ralph Pittman will play at right half with the flashy Bennie Strickland on the left side. As in the Aggie game, Pittman will be depended upon to keep the oval out of dangerous territory for Baylor. Pittman stands out with his defensive work, running of interference and plunging the line. Marley and Dayvault will likely not recognize Strickland as the one that played against Texas last year. Bennie's improvement has been miraculous and with his shifty hip movement it is hard to bring him down. Jack Jones who jumped into the limelight with his defensive work in the Aggie game, will play fullback or lineback position. Jones is a real star and regarded as one of Baylor's best prospects.

Cold figures would give the Bears the edge but there is psychology to figure in and then when you add Bridges and Stewart to that and mix it up with the fact that it is a "grudge" game, it develops into one of those uncertain battles where nothing would be an upset.

NEW FILMS RECEIVED BY EXTENSION DEPARTMENT

Pictures Show History and Development of Modern Shorthand

Extension Loan Department of the University has just received a new set of films illustrating the system of shorthand, according to Mrs. Chas. Moore, head of the Extension Department. They have been for many years attempting to secure this film for the benefit of the Schools of Business Administration and other schools in demand of such material throughout the State.

This set is a motion picture of the story of twenty centuries of shorthand as told by John Robert Gregg in the Century Magazine. Shorthand is commonly visioned as a modern art, a recent utility in commercial life, but from 63 B. C. these pictures show, it has played an important part in the progress of civilization. It is probable that St. Luke reproduced the sermon on the Mount in shorthand. Samuel Pepy's diary, recorded in the seventeenth century was written in shorthand.

Gregg traces the story on down to modern times and shows the part which it plays in the world's progress and the realization of its future possibilities.
