AMENDMENT FOR TEXAS-A. & M. HAS LOST MAJORITY

at Seems Certain From Reports—Other Measures May Be Taken

is now practically certain that constitutional amendment proposing the separation of the University and A. and M. is defeated. Report was made last night that a substantial majority, but was overbalanced by the later vote that came in this morning.

appears that in the larger cities issue carried, but in almost all the country districts a decisive vote was registered against it. With the defeat of this measure, the extensive plans for the improvement of the University in the buildings and equipment. But the authority to issue bonds and only construction recourse will be legislative appropriations and other means of revenue as the University has had in the past. This is the condition in regard to A. and M. College.

The best reason that can be given for the defeat of the amendment is that the greater part of the people of the State it remained to the something of a mystery and no knowledge was gained as to the purpose and provisions. Then addition to this is the universal tendency to "let well enough alone," which has often been fatal to the success of other constitutional amendments.

The shacks will remain permanent structures upon the campus and the idea of additional campus buildings will be impossible. This was carefully worked up in the past that it would afford some relief to the present scarcity of funds for building purposes, which only other steps must be taken to insure the success of the plans can be assured.

RIGHT PRIZE AWARD MADE FOR PHILOSOPHY WORK

is A. Bonnet of Eagle Pass and Smith of Austin have been awarded the Charles Durand Oldright prize in philosophy. Mr. Bonnet is recipient of the fund for the year 1918-1919, which was not awarded last year, while Mr. Smith receives the prize for 1919-1920 fund.

is fellowship, the largest awarded by the University of Texas, was established by Mrs. Julia I. Oldright in honor of her son, Charles Durand Oldright, who had been a student at the University 1888-93, and was assistant in biology 1895-96.

holder of the fellowship is appointed by the board of regents of the University every year. His record in the University must be such as to promise of a profitable study in philosophy. The stipend of the fellowship, in the aggregate about $1,000, is intended to meet all the expenses of the holder while pursuing his studies so that he may dedicate his time to the work.

LONGHORNS AND AGGIES MATCHED WELL FOR CLASSIC

Farmers Have Lead in Points Texas Has Stronger Record

When the Rice Owl took flight before the Longhorn stampede on Clark Field last Saturday it put off the decision of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association until Turkey Day, when the honors will be fought for at College Station. The two old rivals, Texas and A. and M., are the only teams in the State that are undefeated by State teams so far.

The dope on the eleven of these two rivals is hard to figure out, since they have not both played any one team except Howard Payne, and that was early in the season before it was possible to get any real line-up on the Thanksgiving Day form of the teams. In the first game of the season on Clark Field Texas beat Howard Payne 26 to 0; three weeks later A. and M. beat the same Howard Payne team 12 to 0.

The College Station eleven is the leading point getter with a total of 203 points to date. Texas comes second on the list with 133. This difference can be accounted for, however, when it is recalled that 105 of the Aggies' score was garnered in a game against two third-rate teams, the Sam Houston and San Marcos Normals. The Farmers have the advantage in weight and it was this that enabled them to humble Oklahoma A. and M. last week. On the other hand, the Longhorns have shown a great deal of improvement over their early season form. The line is much stronger, and the backs end work together with more pep and speed than before. ## FIRST LECTURE FEATURES ALASKA

Raine Will Deliver Travelogue With Colored Slides at Y. M. C. A.

The first lecture of the season will be given Wednesday evening, November 12 at 7:30 o'clock at the University Y. M. C. A. by Edgar C. Raine of Seattle, Washington.

The lecture is to be in the nature of a travelogue illustrated with lantern slide views in natural colors. The scenes are laid in Alaska which Mr. Raine says is the wonderland of the world.

Mr. Raine in this travelogue takes his audience through every town in Alaska and several villages in Siberia. The views show lofty snow-capped mountains rising from the sea to dizzy heights, glaciers and picturesque water-falls; and tell of caribou, walrus herds, and Eskimo igloos.

VOLUNTEERS TO HOLD NATIONAL ASSEMBLY SOON

Student Convention to Meet Delegates of Foreign Schools Dec. 31

The Eighth International Convention of the Student Volunteer Movement will be held in the coliseum, Des Moines, Iowa, beginning at 2:30, Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 31, 1919, and closing on the evening of January, 1920.

The purpose of this convention is to bring together at Des Moines representative delegations of students and professors from all the important institutions of higher learning of Canada and the United States and leaders of the Christian enterprises throughout the world; to consider unitedly the serious situation in all countries today, and the problem of evangelizing the non-Christian people.

The conventions of the Student Volunteer Movement are held only once in a student generation. Those held were in the following named cities: Cleveland, Ohio, 1891; Detroit, Mich., 1894; Rochester, N. Y., 1910; Kansas City, Mo., 1914. The number of delegates increased from 680 at the first convention to 5,031 at the seventh.

Some of the ablest speakers of Christendom will address the convention at the five evening sessions. They will come from all parts of the world, and speak with first-hand knowledge of the conditions and movements described. The addresses will vividly picture and forcefully emphasize the moral, social and religious needs of the world today and the principles underlying the foreign missionary enterprise.

This is the first convention held in six years or since the war began. Because of the time at which it comes, because of the problems which this country and the world face, because of the great eagerness and desire already shown on all sides for the convention, and for

REGULATIONS FOR CACTUS PICTURES

Laws and Engineers Wear Regalia—Department Presidents Come Next

All Cactus pictures must be made at Elliott's for the sake of uniformity and in order to enable the staff, which is already overworked, to have amount of their work made as small as possible. I. H. Crutcher, editor, said last night that the fees paid at the Elliott's include the fee for the page in the Cactus as well as the cost of the photography. Mrs. Elliott having consented to do the collection to aid the staff. All organizations and individuals should be prepared to pay the full fee and settle the matter once for all when the picture is made.

Seniors have only 15 days left in which to have their pictures made. Ruby A. Black, who with Genevieve Groce has the senior department in charge, stated this morning, and all departments whose names begin with A, B, C, D, or E, and any others who can do so are expected to have their pictures made this week. Mrs. Elliott requests that laws and engineers have their regalia with them, and that business administration seniors not wear caps and gowns. A cap and gown can be borrowed at the studio. Girls are to wear dresses or blouses with white collars.

Presidents of all departments and the president of each class, for all three terms are expected to have their pictures taken for the Cactus as soon as possible. Appointments should be made with the Elliott's at once. A charge of $2 for each picture is made. If an order for pictures is given, however, the studio will furnish the Cactus with a print, free of charge.

PROSPECTS FOR ARKANSAS GAME FAVOR VARSITY

Visitors Are Outweighed But Have Individual Stars Among Backfield

Saturday's game between the Varsity and the University of Arkansas will probably mean another defeat for the Razorbacks if all the dope works out true to form.

During the four periods of the Arkansas-Louisiana contest the Tigers piled up 27 points while the Arkansites were unable to penetrate the Tiger lair for a single score. The other swamping Arkansas received at the hands of the Henry Kendall eleven. The final score of this game was 63-7, with Arkansas at the low end of the score. Later, the Kendallites triumphed over the Oklahoma University Sooners to the tune of 27 to 0. The Razorbacks point with pride to the fact that they were the only ones that were able to score on the Kendall aggregation. Notwithstanding all this array of dope, Texas still seems to have the edge for Saturday's contest.

The Longhorns have the Razorbacks outweighed and the Longhorn beef has some speed behind it, as was demonstrated much to the dismay of the Owl. The Arkansas men will average about 160 pounds, while the wearers of the Orange and White will tip the scales somewhere between 165 and 170 pounds, depending largely on the lineup sent in.

The visitors have a fast backfield, which has for a fullback Davison, who has been on the all-southwestern team for the last two years. Taking all things into consideration, it may be said that he is the best fullback in the South. He is exceptionally speedy in broken field running, an accurate forward passer and a good punter. To utilize their fast backfield the visitors will probably resort to the open style of play. Texas has beaten two teams—Baylor and Rice—that resorted largely to the open play, and so she ought to be able to curb the Razorbacks and send them home with the short end of the score.

Something to Explain That Term Report

Statistics in reference to grades made by students of the college of arts of the University of Texas in the fall term are unique and interesting. They show that in 1914-1915, 3.7 of the student body passed in all their work. In 1915-1916, 3.8 of the school passed successfully, and in 1916-1917, the average of those who passed was 3.7. The following year, 1917-1918, there was a perceptible drop to 3.2 passing average. In 1918-1919 another leap downward in the average was made. Out of 2795 students only 2.8 passed a full course. This drop in the number of those completing successfully a full course does not indicate a fall in the ability of students, but is the natural outcome of conditions prior to and during the war, according to H. Y. Benedict, dean of the college of arts.

MRS. KIRBY ACTIVE

Mrs. Helen Marr Kirby, dean emerita of women at the University of Texas, has by no means relinquished all claims to the office which she held for thirty-five years. Although Mrs. Kirby resigned last spring as dean, and was made emerita by the board of regents, she spends a part of each morning in her office in the main building where she receives and advises and assists the women of the University in matters pertaining to all phases of school life.

Mrs. Kirby was made lady assistant of the University the second year of its existence. Since the University of Texas has been open to men and women students alike since its founding, Mrs. Kirby has not only done much to insure the success of co-education in Texas, but in the universities throughout the country as well.

FRESHMEN GIRLS ORGANIZE CO-ED PUBLIC SPEAKING

Officers Elected and Plans Made for Contests in Oratory

Wednesday afternoon the freshman girls met to discuss with Miss Montgomery the organization of a club for the promotion of public speaking contests for the girls similar to those for freshman boys. The meeting was called to order by Roy Walker, president of the class, who immediately turned it over to Miss Montgomery. She briefly outlined the proposed plan and called for discussion of it. It was decided to form a club and to hold contests like the boys' declamation and extempore speaking contests.

After the election of officers, it was decided to meet next Wednesday, when a name for the club will be discussed. The officers are: President, Miss Cochran; vice-president, Miss Smith; secretary, Miss Gill.

DANCE GIVEN BY B. HALL MEMBERS

Men Enjoy Hour of Diversion at Regular Meeting Monday Night

Members of the B Hall Association met in regular session Monday night on the assembly floor of the dormitory. As entertainment for the occasion, the services of a 5-piece band was secured and a punch was served throughout the meeting. For more than an hour, dancing was the main diversion.

Ward Powell, chairman of the program committee planned the dance as an incentive to the members to take more active interest in University social affairs and judging from the success of this first treat it is likely that many more such programs will be arranged for the year.

The B Hall Association is composed of all the residents of the hall and meetings are held weekly. It is the aim of the program committee to secure an interesting speaker for each meeting or a popular entertainment to add to the enjoyment of the gatherings. The meetings are held each Monday night and practically every member is present.

TEXAS A. & M. OFFICIALS

Officials for the University of Texas-A. and M. game to be played on Turkey Day at College Station have been chosen by athletic director L. Theo. Bellmont of the University of Texas and W. L. Driver of A. and M. College.

B. L. McCreary of Kansas City, former gridiron star of the Oklahoma Sooners will officiate as referee for the big contest; Fraull Bridges of Harvard, who is now coach of the Fort Smith, Arkansas, high school, will serve as umpire; and the duties of headlinesman will fall to Charles Braun of Sewanee, who is now located at Waco.

Each of these men has officiated before in Texas football. Probably the most prominent of the three officials, so far as University of Texas fans are concerned, is Braun since he served as referee in the first three contests of the season here on Clark Field and as umpire in the Oklahoma game at Dallas.

Among the latest revivals of the traditional customs of the University, announcement is made that the Varsity Premier Minstrels which enjoyed such popularity in the former days of the University are to be reorganized and presented in a style that will even eclipse that of the previous seasons. Arrangements are already under way whereby the performance will be given in a downtown theater that will be appropriate to the extensiveness of the undertaking. The date will probably be the first of December.

The presentation of the Varsity Minstrels was decided upon when it became certain that the Circus would not be repeated this year, and the plan is for the Minstrels to take the place of the Varsity Circus as the chief student attraction of the college year. A similar plan of management will be utilized and every effort made to make the attraction one of personal interest to every student in order that close cooperation may be insured.

The success of the attraction is certain from the abundance of talent that is available and the direction that is to be secured for its preparation and staging. The best features of entertainment to be found in the student body of four thousand will be selected in addition to professional acts to be secured from ex-students and volunteers.

Instead of the Circus queen, plans are made for the selection of a queen of the Varsity Minstrels together with her duchesses and cohorts. From the prominence which the affair will be given in the annual and other publications and the liberal notoriety that will attend its development, the position promises to be a coveted honor, and the selection will be of intense interest to the student body. ## RUSK TO DEBATE ON IMMIGRATION

Labor Disputes Subject for Second Meeting on Saturday

Immigration will be the subject of discussion at the meeting of the Rusk Literary Society Saturday night when the question, "Resolved, that the United States should restrict immigration for fifteen years," will be debated. On the affirmative of the argument are Byrne, Primer and Chas. J. Green, while their opponents are Herber, Fish and Engelking.

Discussion on this subject promises to bring interesting results. The question is one of international importance and offers a wide field for analysis. Other features of the meeting will be a talk by a member of the public speaking department, and a discussion on hazing by R. N. Mather.

On the following Saturday, the question for debate is, "Resolved, that compulsory arbitration of labor disputes should be adopted in the United States, constitutionally granted." The affirmative supporters will be Dan White and Wiley, and on the negative Murray Allen and Wilson. John Spies will give a declamation and a survey of current events will be made by Parks.

CACTUS PHOTOGRAPHS

The Elliotts have been designated as the official photographers for the 1920 Cactus, and for the convenience of the staff as well as on account of their contract, the respective editors have been compelled to require that all pictures which are to go in this year's annual, whether of organizations, seniors, or class officers, be made by them.

KEEP AT IT.

After the remarkable improvement shown in the game last Saturday, everyone believes that "Varsity" will have little trouble in walking away with the decision in the argument with Arkansas. But after Arkansas come the Haskell Indians, and after the Indians have been dealt with, we go to A. & M. to reason with the Farmers. The battle this Saturday should not be such a very hard one, but the other two might easily prove to be as hard as anyone could wish. The point is that we do not want our enthusiasm to die; that we want to accumulate the largest score possible against Arkansas, and then cross the other lines when we come to them.

According to custom, there will be a rally in the men's gymnasium Friday night. Because you are confident of victory, do not stay away. We want to make our yelling machine just as perfect as possible; we must continue to prepare the noise that we are going to deliver at College Station on Thanksgiving Day.

Each rally has been better than the last one, and there is no reason why we should have an anticlimactic effect now. Go to the rally and do your worst, and then show up at the game Saturday and help make our side of the score a little larger than you expect it to be.

SPEAKING FOR GIRLS.

We are glad to note that the Freshmen girls have been organized for public speaking, and that there will be a meeting of all the girls tomorrow for the same purpose. We suggest that girls investigate this training that will in a way supplement their opportunities in the class rooms and with dates. They may find the work suggested at the meeting Friday every bit as attractive as the latter, with none of the objections of the former.

TRADITIONAL MINSTREL TO BE REVIVED SOON

ing factions will probably begin early activities.

Detailed information on every feature of the attraction will be given as soon as final arrangements are decided upon.

The inauguration of the Varsity Minstrels is nothing of a novelty to the student body since the older students will remember a few years back when the presentation of the University Minstrels was looked forward to from year to year.

Since the introduction of this form of entertainment many years ago it has enjoyed an immense and constant popularity. The first national minstrels were presented about 1843 and since that time several exponents of American minstrelsy have gained a world-wide reputation. Among the most popular and successful producers of minstrel attractions have been Al

G. Field, George Primrose, Honey Boy Evans, Neill O'Brien, and Gus Hill.

Practically every large Eastern college has its minstrel which usually consists in the presentation of the best features of entertainment available. Many of these enjoy a wide attraction in addition to the local patronage; extensive tours being made and often the minstrel characters themselves gain a professional standing from their college stage careers.

VOLUNTEERS TO HOLD ANNUAL ASSEMBLY SOON

many other reasons, it promises to be the greatest and most important student gathering ever held. Not less than five hundred foreign students and leaders are expected in Des Moines. This is the opportunity to meet men and women from every section and type of school, not only the United States and Canada, but from Europe, Asia, and Latin America.

The delegates will be students (men and women) from 1,000 universities, colleges, theological seminaries, and other leading institutions of higher learning in the United States and Canada; members of the faculties; the secretaries employed by the Students Young Men's and Young Women's Christian Associations and University pastors; and student volunteers not at present connected with any institution. The basis of representation is: Two student delegates from each institution and one additional student delegate for each 100 students or fraction thereof above the first 200 students matriculated in the institution; one faculty member of each institution; and the Students' Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. secretaries as ex-officio delegates.

Forty of the leading universities and colleges of the country have registered for full quota of delegates and other institutions are being added daily. Texas University is urged to make preparations for sending delegates.

CHAPEL NOTICE.

"Esteeming the reproaches of Christ greater riches than the treasures of Egypt."

Mr. Frank Fincher chose for his topic at Chapel this morning "Moses' Choice." Moses was faced by the greatest political crisis, perhaps, in the history of his people. There was Egypt with all its wealth and power and pleasures waiting for him. On the other hand were his people oppressed and enslaved. He had to make his choice. One held out a life of ease and honor. The other a hard life of toil and affliction and banishment. The New Testament writer in thinking about this remarks that Moses chose to suffer the same kind of reproaches that Christ suffered, rather than to build his personal gain on the afflictions of his people.

Mr. Fincher will speak on "Christian Patriotism" tomorrow morning. This address in more extended form has been given in some of the larger colleges of the country.

team's defensive power was displayed in the Rice game, when practically all the Rice plays were broken up behind the Owl line.

The fact that A. & M. has a team that so far remains undefeated does not count for much as Coach Bible's eleven has not yet met such strong teams as Phillips University and Oklahoma State. The outcome of next Saturday's A. & M.-Baylor game will give a pretty good idea of the Farmer strength. It is a safe bet to say that the encounter on Kyle Field Thanksgiving Day will be a close game.

Texas has two hard games ahead of her before she tackles the Farmers. Saturday the strong Arkansas Razorback eleven will invade the Longhorn corral. A week later, and the last game before Thanksgiving Day, the Haskell Indians will go on the warpath after the Longhorns' scalps. Both of these games will take place on Clark Field, and some interesting dope should develop on the teams.

Too much Turkish or Just enough Turkish?

IN one way, at least, smoking is exactly like eating.

The more rich and delicious a certain food is, the more care people take to avoid eating too much of it—for instance, plum pudding or candy.

The same rule applies to smoking.

Cigar smokers, for example, are today more careful to avoid too many rich, heavy Havanas. (In fact, more and more cigar smokers now smoke cigarettes too, to help cut down the number of cigars.)

In the same way, cigarette smokers are learning that Turkish tobacco, delicious as it is, is so over-rich or heavy that a man can easily smoke too much of it.

But they are learning also that, instead of cutting down the number of cigarettes per day, they can cut down on the proportion of Turkish in each cigarette.

How to reduce on Turkish

THEY can do this by switching from straight Turkish to part Turkish, or "Turkish blend," cigarettes.

The first Turkish blend cigarette ever made—and the one which has always held first-rank importance—is Fatima.

Fatima contains more Turkish than does any other Turkish blend cigarette.

Perhaps this is the main reason why so many smokers of straight Turkish cigarettes keep switching to Fatimas.

Less worry about "too many"

ANOTHER reason undoubtedly is the fact that Fatimas treat smokers so kindly. The Turkish is so perfectly "balanced" by the other tobaccos in the blend that Fatima smokers never have any worry about smoking "too many."

* * *

AT any rate, whatever the reason may be, Fatima keeps on attracting more and more of those smokers who, if they preferred the fancy, expensive, straight Turkish cigarettes, could easily afford them.

This is shown, of course, by Fatima's record in having won the top notch in sales at so many of the fashionable clubs and hotels and other prominent places all over the country.

How much is "just enough"?

DOES not Fatima's record seem to prove that this is the one cigarette containing just enough Turkish? Not too much nor too little Turkish, but just enough. Make a test for yourself.

FIRING LINE

THE WAGES OF BETTING.

A condition has arisen that has aroused the earnest consideration and concern of those who have the real interests of Varsity and her students at heart, a condition that calls for the cool and collected thinking of all sane-minded people. That condition is the habit of indiscriminate and promiscuous betting, recently become so obvious during athletic contests.

There has of course always been some gambling going on every year, for in such a large group of students a certain amount of looseness of principle may be expected; but now it seems to have become a craze that sweeps through the ranks of the careless and the unwary. Whether it is in part due to the wave of moral laxity that seems to sweep the country in the present crisis of readjustment can not be said. Whatever may be the cause it should call the earnest and serious attention of people interested in the welfare of the institution.

What returns are there to be expected from the practice? Give yourself here a thorough self-examination. There may be some fascination in the game. But that is no excuse for it. The material returns are negligible, in the long run resulting in a mere striking of averages or in loss for the ordinary venturer. But the negative returns are indeed much more weighty and far-reaching. The habit once indulged in breaks down the resistance of conscience and scruple and opens the bars of character to looseness and inconstancy, thereby by that much lowering the value of the future citizenry. Once allow the practice to be only an exception it is prospective of soon becoming the rule.

Furthermore, the practice of betting and gambling is directly and diagonally fatal to that splendid instrument known as "Texas" spirit. One sitting up in the stands with the fate of a stake of earned or ill-gotten dollars depending on the fortunes of the team can not back it with the pure and unalloyed loyalty that it deserves. He sees only his besmirched coins waddling back and forth over the field, and the thing that should be primal, the battles that are testing the mettle of the team, are secondary to him. He is not giving his fifteen "rahs" for the team but for his unearned and undeserved dollars that he expects to collect from some unfortunate weakening like himself who happened to fall on the wrong side of the fence.

Conditions are calling for earnest attention. The business men of the city are seeing the trouble and are taking a hand in the affair, the president of the institution has issued his call, the athletic authorities have started action, the yell leader, in whom all true followers of the Orange and White have the utmost confidence, has asked and pleaded for gentlemanly sportsmanship and the eradication of the evil, and even the football team itself, the object of the true Texan sportsman's support and loyalty, has sent forth its request for the men on the side-lines to keep its banners unbesmirched and to give it the hearty support of a clean conscience that it so richly earns in the straining tussles on the gridiron. Not only that, the fate of intercollegiate athletics hangs in the balance. There is a strong hint, or truer still, a demand from official college circles that unless conditions change, intercollegiate athletics must go by the board. That would indeed be a lamentable reaping for the gambler's folly.

The one who bets is not only gambling on a few valueless coins, but is gambling his own character, on the success of the team, and on that which is dear to the heart of every true son of Varsity, the Texas spirit. Sanity of thought marks out a clear course: Come to the game to root for the team and not for paltry dollars staked on the contest.

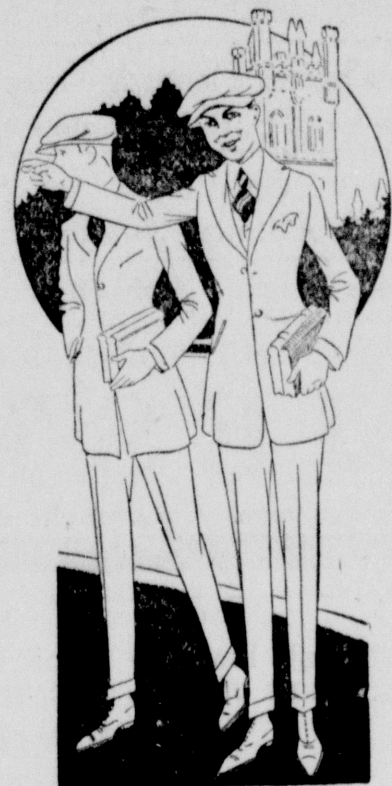

(Signed) RICHARD JONAS.

"Y. W." STATE CONFERENCE

Y. W. C. A. representatives are in session at Dallas to confer on the next session of various Universities in the districts of Texas and Oklahoma. The representatives from the University left Austin on Monday night and they will return on Saturday day of this week.

Those representing the University Young Women's Christian Association are Miss Mae Davidson, Eunice Aden, Stather Elliott, Lila M. Casis and Mrs. Rex Baker.

These representatives will meet with those of the other colleges in district in Dallas and will work in the plans for the work of the colleges represented for the long session beginning in the fall of 1920.

For The Collegian

There's a whole lot of college yell to our suits for young men this season. They can be a little noisy and yet be in good taste and good style. The conservative is in the discard for the time being.

Come in and listen to ours—It's a relief from the war-time restriction on styles.

Suits $30 to $65.
Top Coats $25 to $85.
