Dear Miss Kober,

I should like to make definite the arrangement we had more or less agreed on orally after your last letter — to have you give the talk on Minoan at the May meeting of the Linguistic Club (instead of the April one). Will that be all right? If so, I'll put you down for the meeting that comes Monday, May 3rd. We can get a lantern all right, so that you can count on being able to present slides, as you said you would like to do. (I'll try my best to get the lantern set up in Room 220 of the Graduate School, where we usually meet, if there's any wall connection for it; otherwise I'll have to schedule it for that room in Lindsey Hall where Bennett spoke to the joint meeting.)

The paper you have outlined will be fine. My only suggestion would be that you try to bring the word Minoan into the title somehow, so as to indicate in the advance notices what language you will be speaking of. (Perhaps Minoan can come in a subtitle, say, "Form without Meaning: {a major} the Central")

Problem in the Decipherment of the Minoan Script That may not be the way you'd like to phrase it, at all, but some such wording might be a good idea.)

Sincerely yours,
Ralph L. Ward.
