By George T. Kirksey

They're here today to wreak vengeance for their heart-rending defeats of last year by Texas University which snatched the title from their grasp.

Coach Frank Bridges, Captain Sunshine Covington, and the Baylor baseball team of 1923 bulwarked by a coterie of ardent Baylor students are here anxiously awaiting the call for play in this afternoon's game with Texas University.

Baylor with ten straight Conference victories dangling from her belt invades Steerland today in very near the same way they did one year ago—leading the Conference and with the odds pointing heavily to the Bruins as the coming champs. The only difference is that Texas must win four straight this year to crash through to the championship instead of two straight as was the case last season—S. M. U. with two games left to play against T. C. U. at Dallas must drop one of them in order for the Longhorns to take the title should they take the count of the Bears in four games.

Bridges' Ambition

The little wizard mentor of the Bears, Frank Bridges resolved to do two things when he first came to Baylor. They were to beat Texas A. & M. in football and Texas University in baseball. This year he accomplished one of those ambitions by beating the Aggies in football. Last year he came near realizing his two ambitions by winning the baseball title from the Longhorns, and today he is here with his Golden Bears to achieve that desire.

In Teddy Lyons, who is well known to Texas fandom, and Jackie Freeze, who will probably be very well known to all Texas within the coming week, Coach Bridges has two of the greatest pitchers in college baseball in the Southland. Both of them have been scouted on numerous occasions by big league scouts, and it is rumored that they are both big league bound. Lyons has lost only two games this season, both by one tally to T. C. U. and S. M. U., while Freeze has lost only one game, which was also by one run, to S. M. U.

Texas will have to lambast the offerings of both of the Baylor hurlers hard and often to emerge victorious because the Bears have a great array of sluggers that will no doubt hit both Captain Leissner and Oscar Eckhardt hard.

Freeze to Face Leissner

Although it is an uncertainty who will draw the pitching assignment for the Bears, the opposing hurlers this afternoon will likely be Jake Freeze, for the Bears, and Captain Rube Leissner, for Texas, whom Coach William J. Disch will entrust to turn the Bruins back.

The Texas team has been working overtime in preparation for the crucial games with the Bears today and tomorrow. Baylor played Rice yesterday at Waco and beat them 4 to 1, while rain halted Monday's game between the same teams at

BAYLOR AND S.M.U. DEFEAT OPPONENTS

Waco, Texas, May 15.—Baylor swung into the last lap of the baseball season with a victory over Rice here this afternoon, by the score of 4 to 1. The game marked the tenth straight conference victory for the Bears.

Dallas, Texas, May 15.—S. M. U. took their fifth straight victory here this afternoon by defeating the Oklahoma Aggies in the second game of the present series, 13 to 2.

The Mustangs have only two more games left on their conference schedule, both coming on Friday and Saturday of this week end with T. C. U. here.

CAPTAIN FERDINAND LEISSNER

From the sticks four years ago came Ferdinand Leissner, a gawky, country lad—if they ever made one. But he was a ball player.

And now he is one of the most dangerous hitters in the Conference. He clouts them far, hard and often. Besides being a mean hitter, he is one of the Longhorns most reliable hurlers.

The fate of Texas University in this afternoon's game with the Bears will rest largely upon how Captain Leissner, whom Coach Disch will select to hurl the game, fares against the heavy hitting of Covington, Collier, Strickland, and Williamson of the Bears.

COX AND GOSSETT WIN R. B. CREAGER AWARDS

Prizes Given for Best Speeches at Athenaeum Open House.

Joyce Cox and Ed. L. Gossett won the Creager awards of $15 and $10, respectively, for the best speeches made at the Athenaeum Literary Society open house meeting Tuesday night at the Texas Bible Chair.

Pictures of the Hon. Tom Conally and R. B. Creager were presented to the Society by Lloyd E. Sternberg, of the Texas Legislature. The Wroe cup (won by the Athenaeum from the Speakers' Club Monday night) was presented by J. P. Ellis. The musical program was opened by a cornet solo by Mr. Stohl, accompanied by Lillian Peace at the piano. Several selections were rendered by the University quartet.

The subject of Cox's winning talk was "The Custom of Getting Married." Ed Gossett, who won the second prize, spoke on the subject of "Man." W. H. Saddle and C. P. Patterson, the other contestants, spoke on "The Modern Woman." After the program an informal meeting was held, and punch was served.

Rattler Has No Terrors for Her; Co-ed Takes It Home for Souvenir

A five foot snake is nothing to some co-eds—

Last night in front of a well-known mansion of Guadalupe street, a snake, mottled, five feet, but with its head crushed, was proving the bane of all University girls who happened along that way between the hours of seven and ten.

A string, running to the porch of the mansion, served to draw the reptile across the pavement before all unsuspecting and beguileable co-eds who fell victim to the snare set for them.

Screams, shrieks, and short dashes proved the best protection afforded the girls attacked by the reptile. Some combined a shriek and a dash; others jumped and ran; while another, as an example of Campfire Girl training, stood and gazed contemptuously at the five feet of rattle and snakeskin, lying within three inches of her Cantilevers, sneered, stepped lightly over the head of the reptile and walked on down the street.

The end came when two Austin motorcycle cops drew up in front of the house. Students scattered in all directions, some going out the back door, others down the street in both directions and others across the campus. In the excitement the Campfire Girl returned and picked up the snake and dragged it off with her.

No arrests were made.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR UNIVERSITY PASSED TUESDAY

Nothing Done With Reference to Brown-Crummer Loan by Committee

LACKEY TAX BILL DEFEATED

Resolution to Restore Citizenship to Ferguson Killed in Senate

Passing the appropriation bills for the University and its branches occupied some time in the Legislature Tuesday, while work was being rushed as much as possible in order to avoid another special session. The appropriation passed for the main University was $1,316,000, with $1,100,000 of the amount for salaries. The appropriations for the branches is $1,526,500 for each year, and for A. & M. $836,300 for the first year, and $820,800 for the second year.

Nothing has been done by the joint legislative committee which was appointed to investigate the proposed loan from the Brown-Crummer Company of Wichita, Kansas. The committee investigated the details of the loan, and were apparently satisfied, since no report was made to the legislature.

As the loan now stands, the details will be completed at the next meeting of the Board of Regents, which has been postponed indefinitely. If the loan goes through as planned $2,500,000 will be available for a University building fund, secured by the rents from University land.

The lower and upper houses of the legislature remained in session until late Tuesday night, in an effort to avoid another session. Tuesday morning was occupied by the Senate in discussing the oil tax, with the Senate holding out for a 2 per cent tax, and the House for a 2 1/2 per cent tax. As finally passed, the bill calls for a 2 per cent tax.

A resolution seeking to restore citizenship to James E. Ferguson was killed in the Senate by a vote of 16 to 6. The resolution seeking to set aside the impeachment of the former governor was signed by Senators Pharr, Clark, Fairchild and Doyle. Before action was taken on the resolution the chair overruled a point of order by Senator Bledsoe that the time for consideration of resolutions was passed.

A motion was made by Representative Quaid in the House to refuse to concur in the Senate amendment to the Stroder bill making it a felony for a person to carry a pistol while violating the liquor law. The amendment of the Senate makes it a felony for a person to carry a pistol while contemplating committing assault on another.

One of the best legislative measures of the session, the Lackey tax equalization bill, was defeated when the Senate refused to suspend its rules and consider that and other bills.

Contestants in Meet for Belmont Cup Must Turn in Names

Coach Clyde Littlefield, of the Texas track team, announces that he will conduct the track meet for the Belmont all-around cup on Clark Field on Wednesday of next week. He requests that all those men that wish to participate in the meet hand in their name to him not later than Saturday of this week. All entrants received after Saturday will not be eligible to take part in the meet.

Every student in the University that is passing 3 1-3 courses is eligible to take part in the meet, with the exception of those men that won the cup before.

Howard Gilstrap of Granger, won the cup last year and Raleigh Sapp of Rosebud won the cup in 1921.

There will be seven events held as follows: 75 yard low hurdles, 75 yard dash, broad jump, high jump, shot put, pole vault, 880 yard run.

Faculty Resolutions Advise Creation of Offices of Dean of Men and Vice-President

TENNIS TEAM TO GO TO A. & M. FOR CONFERENCE MEET

White and Thalheimer Are Practically Certain to Be Out of Game

With Captain Lewis White, who is suffering from an injured back, and Louis Thalheimer, who is suffering from an injury to his arm, practically certain to be out of the game, Texas University will engage in the annual Southwestern Conference tennis meet, to be held at College Station this Friday and Saturday. Dr. Dan A. Penick, coach of the Texas team, is still uncertain as to the four men he will select to represent Texas in the meet. However, it may be that Captain White and Thalheimer may play, as it is the last meet of the year, but they are sure to be way off their game if they are able to participate.

The Texas team will leave Thursday for the scene of the meet.

Baylor, S. M. U., A. & M., and Rice, have already entered the meet besides Texas, and T. C. U. may possibly enter a team. Rice, probably has the best individual player outside of White and Thalheimer in the Conference in Les Coleman. Baylor has two good men in Cleveland and Woodson and will likely make a good showing.

Each school will enter four men and the meet will be conducted in regular tournament fashion.

STUDENT OFFICERS ARE TO BE SWORN IN AT THURSDAY'S MEETING

Ceremony Will Consist of Administering of Oath of Office

Swearing in of all general officers of the Students' Association will take place Thursday night at 7:30 in the assembly room. All the students who won in the recent election will take the oath except the yell leader and his assistants and the editors and managing editors of the Daily Texan, the Longhorn Magazine and the Cactus.

The ceremony will consist of the administration of the oath of office as stated in section 5, article two of the Constitution of the Students' Association, which reads as follows: "The general officers of the association shall assume the duties of office upon the tenth day after the second Tuesday in May. Before entering upon the execution of their duties of office the above officers shall take the following oath of affirmation: 'I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the duties of my office, and will to the best of my ability preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the Students' Association, and enforce the laws which may be made in pursuance thereof.'"

Y. W. ADVISORY BOARD MEETING IS POSTPONED

Announcement has been made by Miss Josephine Budd, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., that the last meeting of the Advisory Board which was to have been held Tuesday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. reading room has been postponed until next week. Much important business will be transacted at this meeting, according to Miss Budd, among which will be the consideration of the budget and a community loan fund, the discussion of the plans for the Y. W. C. A. during summer school, and the plans for securing prominent speakers during the coming year.

TALENTED CO-EDS ARE PRESENTED IN RECITAL AT GIRLS' STUDY HALL

Pupils in Institute of Applied Music Give Varied Program

Elizabeth Hoopes, pianist, and Dessie Dancy, soprano, were presented in recital Tuesday evening in the Girls' Study Hall. The recital was given under the direction of Miss Miriam Landrum, teacher of piano music in the Institute of Applied Music. Miss Hoopes is a pupil of Miss Landrum, and Miss Dancy is studying with Mrs. C. H. Sander, teacher of vocal music in the institute. Miss Dancy won the Mu Phi Epsilon voice scholarship in the fall of 1922, entitling her to free musical instruction for this long session in the institute.

The program of piano music played by Miss Hoopes included classical and modern compositions of European and American composers. The favorite Chopin "Waltz No. 1, op. 31" was played in a brilliant style, and the "Allegro con brio" from Beethoven's "Sonata No. 1, op. 22" was performed with more than ordinary skill. Among the modern composers represented were Debussy and MacDowell. The pianist played two numbers from Debussy "Children's Corner," "Doctor Gradus ad Parnassum," and "Golliwog's Cakewalk." MacDowell's "Improvisations" and "Alla Tarantella" were performed.

Miss Hoopes also presented two of her own compositions, "Lady's Lullaby" and "Heart of Gold," the latter a setting of Robert Service's poem of that name. These were sung by Miss Dancy.

Other songs well interpreted by Miss Dancy were Schubert's "My Sweet Repose" and "The Hedge Rose." Lohr's "Little Irish Girl" and Burleigh's "Jean" were other numbers sung.

Miss Hoopes played accompaniments for her own compositions, and Miss Landrum for the other vocal numbers.

University of Chicago Makes Former Varsity Man Dean of Women

Thomas Vernon Smith, former instructor of philosophy at the University of Texas, has been appointed woman's dean at the University of Chicago. Dean Smith took his B.A. and M.A. degrees at Texas in 1915 and 1916; and he received his Ph. D. "magna cum laude" from Chicago on January 23, 1922.

Dr. Smith has been connected with the faculty of the University of Chicago for the last five quarters as an instructor of philosophy and has also been professor of English and philosophy at Texas Christian University.

Dean Smith's appointment as women's dean is merely temporary and he will probably head one of men's departments in the future. As dean of women, he succeeds Miss Elizabeth Wallace, who resigned last September. Miss Wallace had served for eighteen years as dean of the College of Arts, Literature and Sciences.

JOURNALISM STUDES EDIT AUSTIN PAPERS

Students in Journalism 12 and 16 had charge of the two downtown papers, The American and Statesman, Tuesday. Clyde P. Watkins was editor-in-chief of the American, and Nowlin Randolph was managing editor.

T. H. McNeil was editor-in-chief of the Statesman, and Harry E. Moore managing editor.

PROPOSE METHOD FOR RECKONING FRAT AVERAGES

Resolutions Will Be Submitted to Board of Regents at Next Meeting

During a protracted session of the General Faculty of the University yesterday, several important matters were acted upon, chief of which were the resolutions that a vice-president of the University be added to the list of administrative officers and that a new disciplinary officer to be called a Dean of Men be appointed, both of which resolutions are to be submitted to the Board of Regents at their next meeting. The faculty also decided that the present ruling regarding initiations of fraternities be altered as the result of a petition sent to the faculty committee on Student Social organizations by the Theta Xi fraternity.

C. H. Bantel, chairman of the committee which was appointed to formulate a better organization of the present disciplinary administration, framed an alteration which aims to strengthen the weaknesses and make the working more efficient. The report of the committee was received with approval by the general faculty, but will not become effective unless the change is authorized by the Regents, in whose hands also rests the selection of the person to fill the office of Dean of Men.

Dean of Men Proposed

It is proposed that a new disciplinary officer, to be called a Dean of Men, be selected to have sole responsibility in problems of discipline, to have charge of the work done at present by Dr. Parlin as head of the committee on student social organizations, to have charge of the social calendar, and possibly to have some authority in matters relating to athletics also. He is to be a member of the University faculty and will be expected to teach at least one course in the University. If the Regents act on this resolution, it is expected that the new Dean will not be appointed until after the selection of the new president.

"The purpose of installing the office of Dean of Men," according to Professor Bantel, "is to relieve the president of the duties incumbent on his position as head of the disciplinary committee, and to substitute a person the larger part of whose time can be given to dealing with the questions that arise. The University is becoming so large that a president cannot possibly be bothered with all the things that come up."

The faculty also seconded a motion proposed by Professor Haynes of the government department, who suggested that a vice-president be appointed by the Board of Regents to aid the president, to act in his absence, and to assume his duties in case of his resignation or demise. This will be presented to the Regents in the form of a recommendation.

WHEN BEARS MEET LONGHORNS

With only the four games by Baylor remaining on the schedule, Texas has a very, very slim chance of winning the conference championship. The sport scribes point out that the Longhorns must win all the games with the Bears and S.M.U. lose one game in order to be victorious in the pennant race. Realizing the power and strength of the Baylor team, Texas has an almost impossible situation to survive if the championship is to be retained on Varsity Hill.

Regardless of the difficulties of the prospect and of the possibilities of winning, the student body should give their strongest, sincerest support and encouragement to the Longhorns and to Coach Disch during the games today and tomorrow. Especially does Coach Billy deserve the loyal support of the students during this crucial time of need. During eleven eventful years, he piloted the Longhorns through their difficulties, vanquished all opponents, and secured for Texas eleven consecutive conference championships in baseball.

It has been easy to support Coach Disch when he has been victorious. The students will be tested during the few remaining games to see whether their loyalty and devotion can stand the strain of difficulties and possible defeat. Texas still has a fighting chance for victory; but, regardless of the outcome of the games and without being influenced by the mere hope of winning, let us give the Longhorns and Coach Billy the support and encouragement that they deserve.

A POLL TAX NEEDED

The discrepancies and illegal voting disclosed in the recent elections clearly indicate that the present system of voting in student elections is defective. That the election in regard to one of the most important offices on the campus depended upon the inclusion, or exclusion, of these illegal votes indicates that the problem of safeguarding the ballot box is a most serious and important one. It would not be a very far-fetched speculation to ponder as to the number of illegal votes that are regularly cast and counted in practically every election, when no recount and individual check is taken.

The Texan believes that a fair election would be insured, provided there be instituted a prerequisite to the right of voting in student elections; and, in addition, proper identification be demanded of each voter at the polls. To a considerable extent, the problem in both aspects would be solved by providing that a student cannot vote in the elections unless he has paid his student activity fee, or blanket tax, with the athletic ticket to serve as a poll tax receipt entitling the holder to vote in the elections. Most of the duplicate and fraudulent votes would be prevented by requiring the presentation of the blanket tax ticket, which could be stamped to indicate that the holder has voted at that election. If the judges are provided with lists of students who have withdrawn from the University during the year, the casting of fraudulent ballots in the names of these individuals could be prevented.

As the Students' Association and its officers have charge of the expenditure of the student activity fee, it seems very just and proper that only those students who pay the blanket tax should have the privilege of voting for the officers. The blanket tax, in fact, should be considered in the nature of a poll tax. A provision that the payment of the blanket tax and the presentation of the receipt shall be a prerequisite to voting would prevent practically all of the illegal voting, and, in addition, would give needed stimulus to the payment of the activity fee by an even greater percentage of students.

Opinions of Others

SPORTSMANSHIP (Baylor Lariat)

We want to be there strong for the Bears, but giving every other team its due and all the courtesy to be had. This old way of "razzing" the visiting team has somehow lost its smart effect on the crowd—they want real, honest-to-goodness sportsmanship and nothing else.

Hugh Fullerton, sports writer, writing in the Rotarian, quoted an English officer as describing the Germans' use of gas as "rotten bad cricket." There is a world of meaning in that phrase. It shows the deep and lasting connection between sports, primarily the occupation of youth, with the latter business of the world. French writers stoutly maintain, with reasons given, that sports have done more for that nation in the last score of years than any other thing.

Of course, in collegiate circles, sportsmanship has for many years been demanded and expected among players, but the action of the galleries now is as strong a duty.

DILLINGHAM'S

ADVERTISE IN THE TEXAN

The University of Engineering

Of all the things that go to make the successful engineer, none is more important, nor more in step with the spirit of the profession, than a studious attitude. One man says about another—"he is always willing to learn," "he doesn't think he knows it all"—and he intends to pay a high compliment when he says it.

The great engineers are always at school, always learning, always seeking for more knowledge. They begin with this desire for fuller understanding, and they keep it up to the end.

Any engineering operation, over and above the primary purpose for which it is carried out, is an active and post-graduate class in engineering, also. So that Westinghouse, or any other great business, is, of its very nature, a University where theory and practice combine to make bigger, broader and more practical engineers.

The courses in this University are not limited to prescribed subjects nor terms—the subjects are almost infinite, and the semesters are endless. Men with the weight of years on their shoulders work and learn side-by-side with those whose day has just dawned.

This post-graduate school fits men for almost anything. Fits them for it, and makes them continually fitter. Out of this continuing fitness have grown the engineering accomplishments on which this institution has grown. It is, perhaps, one of the great educational institutions of its day.

Hancock: All week, Harold Lloyd in "Safety Last."

Majestic

Today is the last opportunity of seeing Reginald Denny in his superb fight picture, "The Abysmal Brute." The picture is full of interest from the very opening scenes and Mr. Denny has several opportunities to show his exceptional good form in the squared circle.

Pat Glendon was the son of one of the world's most famous ring generals. His advent into pugilism had been the same great success as marked his father's debut many years before. His prowess had won him the sobriquet of "The Abysmal Brute." Rescuing a man from drowning at the beach one day he meets Maude Sangster, a beautiful society girl, and is invited to her home. He arrives on the same night that Deane Warner also is paying a call. The latter is madly in love with Maude. Within the next few weeks Maude and Pat have several meetings during which their love for each other grows steadily, but through some strange chance she is unaware that Pat is a boxer. One day Pat is requested to give an interview to a special newspaper writer who proves to be Maude. Angered, because she believes he has deceived her she stalks out of the room determined never to see him again, and goes home to see him again and Deane's arms. Pat follows her, hurls aside the butler and sends Deane crashing to the floor. He gathers the girl in his arms and forces her to admit that she loves him, then hurries her away to a minister. The next night he wins the biggest fight of his career after a terrific battle and Mr. and Mrs. Pat journey into the North woods to start a honeymoon that leads to peace and happiness.

Sandy Esquivel, welter-weight champion of El Paso, and freshman in the University, and F. W. Wade, boxing instructor in the University will stage an exhibition bout Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock as a prologue to the fight picture, "The Abysmal Brute," now showing at the Majestic Theatre. The Majestic management has been staging such bouts all this week in connection with this picture.

Hancock

Sit pretty for the sky-high laughter, but cling to your seat for the sky-high thrills!

"Safety Last" is a seven-reel comedy in which are incorporated all the possible thrills of Filmdom's Thrill-dom. And Harold Lloyd nearly lost his life in the cause of Laughter and Thrills. When an insurance agent saw a pre-view of the picture, Harold also nearly lost his life insurance. He had to faithfully promise never to climb the side of a twelve story building again.

"Safety Last" was directed by those comedy geniuses, Fred Newmeyer and Tam Taylor, with Robert Golden assisting. The story hails from the Source of Laughter—Hal Roach, Sam Taylor and Tim Whelan, and Harley M. Walker wrote the titles which are a show in themselves.

Mildred Davis is at her best as the Girl with an abundance of opportunities to display her charm. "Bill" Strother, known everywhere as the "Human-Fly" makes his debut and is splendid. Noah Young, contributes the height of "hard-boiledness" as the cop, and Westcott B. Clarke is the haughty floor-walker to perfection. Other favorites are Mickey Daniels, Anna Townsend, Charles Stevenson and Earl Mohan, as the funniest "drunk" ever seen.

Texas

The dog team which carried Alma Reubens through reels of "The Valley of Silent Men," a new Cosmopolitan picture for Paramount, which comes to the Texas Theatre today, an actual service team procured from the Hudson Bay Post at Athabasca Landing, Canada. For years the team was used by Jim McIntosh, fur trader. When the Cosmopolitan company went north to film the James Oliver Curwood story, Miss Reubens drove the team for miles over the snow.

The feminine members of the party petted the dogs and fed them to such an extent that the fur trader objected. "Can't do a thing with 'em," declared McIntosh, "mountain dogs never ought to be petted. These women spoil 'em."

Despite the fur trader's objections, Miss Reubens' kindness proved satisfactory, for whenever she drove them, they covered the ground satisfactorily. Lew Cody plays opposite Miss Reubens in this stirring photoplay.

Queen

Betty Blythe, the ever-gorgeous Betty, is the star at the Queen beginning today in "The Darling of the Rich." The star portrays the role of a young girl alone in New York, and in her darkest hour she meets a Russian princess who changes places with her that she may use her beauty to sell jewels for impoverished Russian noble families.

Thus, overnight, the poverty-stricken girl finds herself a "princess" with all the funds necessary to her position. Millionaires crowd her drawing rooms and elaborate entertainments are given. Both as a young American girl and as the beautiful Russian princess, the amazing Betty gives a wonderful performance. Montague Love, as Peyton Martin, a multimillionaire who covets her, and Leslie Austin as Mason Lawrence a young magnet who fights Martin for her love and wins are most effective.

FACULTY

nity, asking that the initiating average of the fraternity be the general average of the School of Engineering instead of the College of Arts and Sciences, the faculty has agreed on the following change in the handbook:

"No chapter of a fraternity, sorority, or like organization shall initiate any person to its membership unless the average scholarship of such a chapter, both as to quantity of work passed and grade made, shall be slightly above the average of the University determined as follows: the record of all undergraduate students who have four or more University courses to their credit will be used to establish the requirement average; the average shall include the records of the students in the School of Business Administration, the School of Law, the College of Engineering, and the College of Arts and Sciences. The College of Arts and Sciences shall be the normal. In determining the chapter average the work of all members in the School of Engineering shall be weighed by the ratio of the average of the College of Arts and Sciences to the average of the School of Engineering. The same method will apply to members in the Law School.

"A chapter ineligible to initiate at the beginning of any long session may initiate in the fall term, provided the chapter in question has made the average in the previous long session. A chapter failing twice in succession will not be eligible to initiate after its second failure until the beginning of the following spring term, and such a chapter will then be eligible to initiate only such pledges as have made the University average in the two preceding terms during which they have been in the University."

The faculty also recommended that no honor societies should get their names on the Commencement Program.

Fees Considered

In the reports on fees and deposits, it was decided that visitors to University courses should be required to pay a fee of five dollars for the session in addition to paying the library fee and deposit, and that Business Administration students doing coordination work should be required to pay only one or two thirds of the student medical fee according to whether they are to be in residence at the University for one or two terms, but that they should pay full laboratory fees.

There will be another meeting Monday afternoon.

NEWMAN CLUB DANCE

CABINS AND HOUSE-BOAT
OPEN FOR SPRING TERM

Recreation for co-eds of the University during the spring weather is offered at the houseboat and two cabins maintained especially for the girls by the Woman's Athletic Association. Instructors in the department of physical training are regularly employed during the spring term in chaperoning week-end parties at the three outdoor resorts.

Although the houseboat is open for overnight parties to any girl student in the University, no girl is allowed to swim or go canoeing from the boat unless she has passed strict swimming tests in the gymnasium pool. T Ark, as the houseboat is called, will accommodate eight girls and the instructor. Oak Lodge will accommodate twelve persons, and the Mammy Cabin has room for ten.

ter three innings of play.

After much wrangling between the authorities of the two schools about the umpires for the games, it was definitely agreed upon yesterday for Robbins, who officiated in the Texas-Aggie series, to umpire behind the plate in both games, and Bob Countryman, old Texas league pitcher, who is now coaching Rice, to umpire on the bases. Robbins was agreed upon as one of the umpires earlier in the year, while the other was not selected at that time. Coach Disch wanted to secure an umpire from the Texas League to work with Robbins but Coach Bridges raised a protest saying that he refused to have any umpire that he had not seen work. President Doak Roberts of the Texas League, offered the service of Sweeney or Irwin, two of his most competent arbitrators, but Coach Bridges would not agree to either one.

1923 Yearbook Will Come off Press Near
Last of This Term

"More pictures and less write-ups" will be the outstanding characteristic of the 1923 Cactus, University of Texas annual which will appear about the last week of May, according to members of the staff. The athletic section alone will be illustrated with an increase of more than a hundred cuts over last year's book. Co-ed athletics will also receive their full share of attention in this issue, it is stated. Eight pages have been devoted to that feature. Hockey, swimming, basketball, tennis and dancing will be the sports illustrated.

A novel addition to this year's Cactus will be a rotogravure section, something which has appeared in only one other State university publication, the Savatar of the University of Missouri. This department, which will fill eight pages, will feature for the most part student life on the campus. It will contain flash lights of all the dances, games, receptions, initiations, snow scenes and all the big events of the year.
