

New Student Party To Name Candidates

By BRAD BYERS
Texas Managing Editor

A newly-organized Student Party will meet Wednesday night to name a slate of candidates for the spring elections. The meeting, at 8 p.m. in Texas Union, will be open to everyone.

Purposes of the party are to select student officers on the basis of qualification without regard to membership in any organizations, and to stimulate interest in student government.

Thirty-four representatives chosen from campus living units, social organizations, and church organizations will select the Student Party nominees from suggestions presented them by the party's steering committee, and from nominations from the floor.

This nine-man committee, headed by Glen Brooks, during the past two weeks has planned the organization, policy, and basic procedure of the party. Among the committee's membership are some of the top names in student affairs, including Joan Ragdale, Wales Madden, Ann Rankin, Charlie Pistor, and Brooks.

The committee will present to the 34 voting members at Wednesday's meeting potential candidates who have been screened for qualifications and for willingness to conform to the party's basic policy.

The steering committee has approved four candidates for student president, five for vice president, and five for secretary. It has left chief justice of the supreme court open for action by the voting members.

All party decisions will be made in open meetings, but to avoid "stacking" by opposing groups only the 34 original members will have voting privilege. Non-voting membership is unlimited.

The party will support and actively campaign for a slate of one candidate for each position named. No decision has been made whether it will endorse candidates for editor of the Texan, editor and associate editor of the Ranger and Cactus, and head yell leader.

Included in the voting membership of the party are the steering committee and five students each from co-ops, girls' dormitories, student religious groups, sororities, and fraternities. They were chosen by the steering committee, Brooks said, for their interest and willingness to work in student government.

The members were chosen as

Traveler to Speak On Middle East

Kenneth Richter, formerly of the astronomy department at Harvard University, will speak and show slides about Iran, Greece, Yugoslavia, and Turkey Sunday, March 23, in the Main Lounge of the Union.

Mr. Richter, who has traveled in more than 40 countries, has written articles for the Encyclopedia Britannica.

The Forum Speakers Committee is sponsoring the talk.

individuals rather as representatives of organizations, but they are expected to work for the Student Party within the groups of which they are members.

These 34 members will be the ones eligible to vote on party candidates and platforms. The selected candidates of the party probably will become voting members. Organization of the Student Party began two weeks ago as the joint endeavor of two groups, each of which had decided individually that it needed to do something to provide a more worthwhile basis for selection of political candidates than membership in fraternal organizations.

The groups, when combined, consisted of these students:

Assembly Passes Election Rules Bill

By a vote of fifteen to five, the Student Assembly in meeting last night passed a much-discussed resolution establishing the powers of the Election Commission to disqualify candidates in student elections for substantial violation of regulations.

The bill gives the Election Commission power to disqualify only after a unanimous decision of guilt in violating election regulations in a hearing held within 72 hours after the election. The

Candidates Have To Show Grades

April 31st Deadline For Getting Forms

Prospective candidates for student offices should submit their application forms for classification by the Registrar's office at the earliest possible date.

Although the deadline for submitting the forms is April 3, Registrar H. Y. McCown urged students not to wait until the last minute. Certification is necessary to determine the student's eligibility to run for office.

Forms may be obtained at the office of the Students' Association, 206 Union Building.

The procedure for filing forms is (1) obtain the proper form from the Students' Association; (2) submit the form to the Registrar's office for certification; and (3) submit the form to Dean Holland's office for approval.

Phi Beta Kappa Elects Members

Twenty-two candidates for May graduation have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa. Two other students, Mary Carver and Ralph E. Wallace, won junior election, Phi Beta Kappa's highest honor. Jean D. Wilson was named from the class of June, 1951.

Margaret Endress, who died following an automobile accident in January, was elected to the organization.

Newly elected members are Margaret A. Austin, Helene A. Bartels, Charles E. Bludworth, Mrs. Ruth C. W. Bryant, Barbara Clary, Mrs. Marion Cohn, John Donovan, Molly Ann Ferguson, Mary Fleming, Paul Gardner, and Elizabeth Handley.

Also Mrs. Stena J. Hight, Che Ip, Lincoln D. Jones, Patricia Kelly, Lee Roy Kern, Beverly Dana Mondrik, John Murphy, Joan M. Ragdale, Milton Schwartz, Mary L. Voorhees, and Lawrence Walton.

Dean H. M. Burlage, president of the Texas chapter, announced that the spring election banquet would be held at a date to be announced later.

Ad Majors' Work To Advise Bottler

University advertising students will prepare a practical public relations program for consideration by the Dallas Dr. Pepper Company.

After a visit to the firm's Dallas plant the students will conduct research on the product and the company, and prepare recommendations. The best ideas submitted will be selected for the company staff by W. H. Purdy, lecturer in advertising and chairman of the project, and other faculty members.

Two Texas University students won national recognition last year by a similar project. The winning students were Bill Dunagan and Devane Clark, and both became members of the firm's marketing staff. Dunagan was recently appointed assistant sales promotion manager.

Brooks, who is a past president of Inter-Co-op Council and Campus Guild; Miss Ragdale, past president of Orange Jackets and Campus League and choice of the Dads' Association for best All-round Girl.

Also Ann Rankin, president of Mortar Board and former member of the student assembly; Ralph Person, past president of Westminster Student Fellowship and president assemblyman; Madden, past student president and Best All-Round Boy; Mary Pat Dowell, co-president of the Y and co-chairman of Campus Chest; Pistor, past president of Silver Spurs and editor of the Cactus; and Bill Wright, assemblyman and varsity debater.

disqualified candidate may then appeal to the student court in context of the Election Commission ruling.

Sponsored by Sidney Siegel, Arts and Sciences, J. K. Taylor, Law, and Ed Hiller, Pharmacy, it further provides that if the Election Commission does not disqualify, any student may bring disqualifying action in the student court.

Opposition to the bill, led by Arts and Sciences Assemblyman Bill Wright, maintained that the Election Commission is not qualified to judge on matters of violation of regulations, and that the Commission should not combine legislative and judicial functions.

The Assembly also passed a bill introduced at the previous meeting by Sidney Siegel and J. K. Taylor requiring candidates for Associate Justice of the Student Court to be registered in the School of Law.

Vote was deferred until the next meeting on a bill introduced by Miss Siegel for redemption of campus parking tickets.

Al Quinn, BBA assemblyman, read a report of the Ex-Students' Association committee recommending establishment of a council of students, faculty, and Ex-Students' officers to work toward promotion of interest in the association among students.

Wilson Foreman, Students' Association president, appointed Ellis Morris to replace Cesare Galli, new student vice-president, to the Assembly from the School of Law, and also to Galli's place on the Blanket Tax Committee.

Matti Al-Aish and Charles M. Berk, graduate school assemblymen, introduced a bill providing that the Assembly go on record favoring the administration's establishment of a graduate school center, with dormitories and study facilities.

Reports were heard from Jean Wesley, chairman of the TISA convention delegation, Sidney Siegel, chairman of the Texas Union liaison committee, and Ellis Morris, of the "Eyes of Texas" Committee.

"Soldier Should Not Be President" A military man should not be elected president of the United States in 1952 was the decision reached by the Oratorical Association Inter-Society debate contest last night. The negative sides of both Rusk and Aethneum tied. Rusk winners were Winston Adkins and Reuben Weatherford; Aethneum winners were John Davidson and Boyd Taylor.

Arkansas, long in need of a first-rate passer, has come up with one in freshman BOB ST. PIERRE, 6-5, 195-pound import from Salem, Mass., according to Razorback coaches. They say the lanky lad has an arm equal that of FRED BENNERS and needs only polish and tutoring.

Dowies, Oilers Leave For Denver Tourney

Jim Dowies, now playing with the Ada Oilers of Houston, will leave for Denver Saturday to compete in the National AAU basketball tournament.

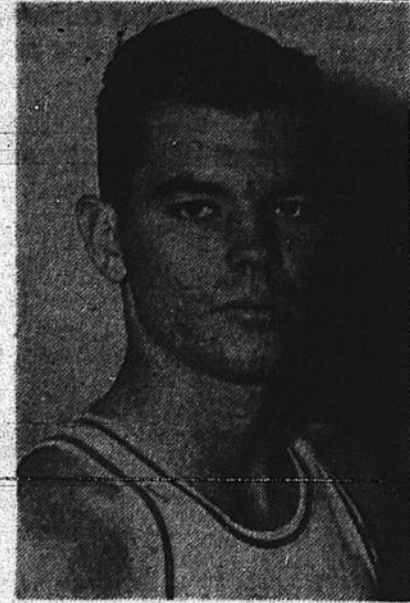

Recently named to Colliers' Region 6 cage squad, Dowies fits into the forward slot for the Oilers, a branch of Phillips 66 of Oklahoma.

In the finals of the Texas AAU tournament, the Ada crew dropped the Graham Plowboys, composed largely of Hardin-Simmons University cagers, by the shaky margin of 58-56. Because each state is allowed two competing teams, the Plowboys will accompany the Oilers to Denver.

The Oilers topped a Brooke Army five in an earlier game, 52-50. Center Bill Tom, a former Rice Owl star, was ineligible to participate in the contest for the Brooke quint because of previous professional experience.

Jewell McDowell of A&M, Ralph Johnson, Moon Mullins, Bill Strack, and Bill Hickman of Baylor, Ferrell Kelly of Sam Houston State, and Bill Moody of Southwestern Louisiana Institute round out the Oilers squad.

Moody was a protege of Long-

UT Trackmen in Tri-meet With Rice, A&M Saturday

By AL WARD

The Longhorn track team squares off with squads from Texas A&M and Rice Saturday at College Station in the first of three triangular meets between the cinder squads this season. Events will start at 2:30 p.m. on Kyle Field.

On the basis of A&M's walk-away of the Border Olympics last Saturday, the meet shapes up as a fine home team show for the screeching Cadet Corps fandom.

Track is the only sport which has remained consistently face-up to the Farmer hinterland the past few years. The young brass have copied three of the last four Conference titles.

The Aggies are currently riding a 12-meet winning streak which began with last year's Border Olympics. Despite the graduation of several top-flight performers, they have shown customary balance and depth in their two 1952 outings. The team's strength rests in the old places—weights, pole vault, high jump, distance events, and mile relay.

Facing them is a sharply-improved Longhorn squad and an unusually weak Rice entry.

The Longhorns have picked up top talent in the sprints and hurdles while losing class in the broad jump. Texas has a better all-around squad than last year and possesses performers of potential Olympic stripes in sprinters Dean Smith and Charlie Thomas, but can't match the Farmers on an overall man-to-man basis.

Rice lost its top performer when senior hurdler Bill Howton whinnied last-year eligibility for a high-school coaching job. Best bets for the Owls are Henry Winston in the mile and two-mile and Ronnie Berger in the weights.

Texas' herd of sprinters may well sweep the dash events and nothing short of a drop of the baton or a sawdust track would keep their sprint relay from breaking tape.

Willie Valls, the Steers' sudden sensation in the hurdles, takes the nod in the high. With Aggie ace Paul Leming out with a pulled muscle, Gerald Sealorn may be good for second.

Ralph Person is favored in the low hurdles while Aggie Billy Bliss is generally conceded second. Valls and Bobby Ragsdale of A&M will fight for the third spot.

The hosts are three-deep in the pole vault with Don Graves, Glenn Spradlin, and Malcolm Marks topping the 13-foot mark consistently. Texas' Jody Runnels may match the trio's best.

A&M's strength runs through to the weights where the consistent Darrow Hooper reigns supreme in the shot and discus, being undefeated in Conference competition. Bill Milburn should be good for points in the events. He has passed 140 feet with the discus already.

The quarter and half-mile should also be Aggie events. With Otha Byrd and Bill Graf gone from Rice, there is nothing in sight to detour half-mile domination by Ed Whilmsen and James Terry, both of whom have run the two laps in less than 1:55.

Likewise in the quarter, where Robert Mays, James Baker, and John DeWitt placed in that order for A&M in the Border Olympics. The Steers' best potential 440 man, sophomore Robert Carson, hasn't reached a contending shape yet. He ran a 49.3 race as a freshman.

Veteran Longhorn senior Don Klein is a good bet for javelin honors, although basketball duties forced a late training start. He is a consistent 190-foot thrower but could be pushed by Aggie Soph Pete Mayeaux.

Basketballer Walt Davis had early season troubles at the Border Olympics, but is liable to bounce over 6-6 in the high jump any moment. Possessor of a 6-9 Texas Relays jump, he is favored despite a late training start.

For the Orange, Phil Ransopher and Ray Womack would spill all predictions. Womack has gone as high as 6-6; although not consistently. Observers believe that his training as a quarter-miler this season has warmed him to the best jumping shape of his career.

Two other meets will be staged this year between the same teams. The next one is billed for March 22 at Houston and the finale is due here May 2.

Frosh Thinlies Open Season At SW Rec Meet Saturday

By BILL MORGAN

An untested Yearling track team of 22 men will go against other SWC freshman squads in the Southwest Recreational Track and Field Meet Saturday morning, and the outcome should settle the question of what to expect from the Texas frosh during the coming spring.

Coach Froggy Lovvorn's charges are above average strength in the middle distances and with several high school standouts in the field events, will probably share favorite's role with strong contingents from Arkansas, SMU, and Baylor. In Dick Foerster, the Yearlings have a quarter miler capable of running his specialty in 49.3 seconds. The Fort Worth meet record of 49.6 could take a beating if he runs as expected. Foerster will also run the mile relay and 220-yard dash.

James Samuelson, a former state champion in the shot put, has tossed the sixteen pound sphere 48 feet, and may be a safe bet to place in the shot and discus. His stiffest competition could be in teammate Kenneth Harlow, also entered in both weight events, along with Delaney and Lonnie Weir. All four were members of the freshman football squad last fall.

Pete Acosta and Don Neighbors will run the 880 and mile grinds. Neighbors, consistently at 4:40 or lower in the mile, will be among the favorites in this event.

A high jumper who has cleared the striped bar at 6' 4 1/2" is Bob Billings. He and Walter Armstrong, who also better 6 feet, are scheduled to represent Texas in the pole vault as well as the high jump.

Bill Turner heads a list of six capable sprinters. An ankle injury will keep him from competing in the Cowtown races, but he will be relied on heavily when his injury heals. He also runs the low hurdles.

Swimmers Choose Browning, Wilson

The Longhorn swimming team has elected Skippy Browning and Wynant Wilson as co-captains for the rest of the season. They will replace Johnny Crawford, who had to give up swimming because of a back injury.

Browning ranks as national diving champion. He won a clean sweep of the four most coveted national titles during the 1951 NCAA and AAU meets by taking first in the three-meter and one-meter indoor diving contests in both meets.

Wilson is a freestyle sprinter who has lead his team to victory in three dual meets so far this year. He is also anchor man on the record-breaking 400-yard relay team.

Other sprinters making the trip will be Harold Baunley, Alvin Ellington, Thurman Vaughn, Larry Graham, and Homer Rosser. The sprint relay is set with Baunley, Ellington, Vaughn, and Graham.

Graham and Bill Hopkins team up to give the Yearlings a double threat in the 120 yard high hurdles. Turner has been working out on the low hurdles and will probably answer the call there later in the season.

Lovvorn hadn't settled on a mile relay quartet by Thursday night, but he will choose from Foerster, Leonard Ralf, another promising quarter miler, Joe Russo, John Roche, and Speedy Allison.

Ed Kelley has been consistently jumping better than twenty feet in his specialty, the broad jump, but he will choose from Foerster, the past week.

Only Rizzuto, Musial Rate on Cobb's Team

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—Ty Cobb, whose position as one of baseball's all-time great players is unquestioned, picks Phil Rizzuto and Stan Musial as the only present-day baseball players who can be compared to old-time stars.

Cobb argues that Ted Williams and Joe Dimaggio never would have reached the top in the old days because they have failed to make the most of their potential ability.

These opinions are expressed in the first of two articles in Life magazine, titled "They Don't Play Baseball Any More," which will appear Saturday.

Cobb tabs Rizzuto as "one of the few scientific hitters left in baseball today" and "pound for pound the best baseball player alive."

Then he adds: "If it were not for Honus Wagner, who was a superman in every respect, I would make Rizzuto my all-time, all-star shortstop. He and Stan Musial are the men I had in mind when I said there are only two players nowadays who can stand comparison with the old-timers."

Williams, "a marvelous natural athlete and a man who can really meet and stoke the ball," is criticized for refusing to counteract the "Williams shift" and Dimaggio is given a verbal lashing for his failure to exercise and keep in condition during the winter.

"It was a crime the way he (Williams) let them neutralize his power," Cobb says. "Worse than that, it was an insult to his ability and judgment. And it cut down his batting average by dozens of points a year."

As for Dimaggio: "He hates physical exertion, and as far as I know he never took a lick of exercise from October until March. Naturally he went to spring training with his muscles weakened and soft; naturally he got hurt a lot. I think he could still be out there this summer, gobbling up those fly balls and hitting .350, had it not been for all those lost winters."

Baylor Gets 5-4 Victory Over TCU

FORT WORTH, March 13—(AP)—Baylor pushed across an unearned run in the ninth today to turn back TCU 5-4 in a non-conference baseball game.

Each team scored three unearned runs, TCU contributing five errors. It was the fourth straight loss for TCU.

The victory went to Francis Davidson, who had relieved starter Ray Fitzpatrick at the beginning of the eighth while the loss was charged to Norris (Nobby) Graves. Graves had relieved TCU starter Mike Salim for the final two innings.

Taylor Willoughby of the Bears and Jimmy Stapleton and Bill Barnes shared individual batting honors for the day, each with a pair of singles. Baylor 200 200 001—5 7 2 TCU 101 002 000—4 9 5 Fitzpatrick, Davidson (8) and Isbell; Salim, Graves (8) and Frick.

Temple, Duncanville Win in Girls' Tourney

By BETTYE RAWLAND
Team Sports Staff
 Academy of Temple trimmed Yantis, 41-36, while Duncanville blasted Van Horn, 48-16, to advance to the Conference B semifinals of the second annual Inter-scholastic League Girls' Basketball Tournament Thursday night.

The sharpshooting Duncanville Panthers led 23-15 at the half and managed to hold the Van Horn Eagles to one point during the last half, while bucketing 28 to win their 35th straight game. Faye Wilson, Panther all-tournament performer in 1951, set a new state tournament record by tallying 38 points to break the 32 point record set by Florence Jo Coan of Comanche last year and the Conference B record of 27 points made by Patsy Williams of Troy. Van Horn also set a new futility record by missing 25 out of 27 free throws.

Raye Wilson, Faye's twin sister, played outstanding as guard and switched to forward long enough to bucket four points for the Duncanville Panthers.

Academy's Gloria Lisenbe netted a field goal with fifteen seconds remaining in the first half to give the Bumble Bees a 20-18 lead at the end of the first half.

Although the lead changed hands four times in the third quarter, the Temple sextet lead 30-32 at the end of the period. Yantis' Janice Davis won high-point honors with eight field goals and two free throws. Lisenbe and Janice Edds scored 14 points for the Academy cagers.

Duncanville will meet the Yantis cagers tomorrow night at 7:30 to decide who will play in the final.

Play will continue tomorrow morning at 8:50 a.m. in Gregory Gym when Tarkington of Cleveland clashes with Ben Bolt in a first round Conference B game. Ben Bolt holds a 27-1 record, while Tarkington boasts a 29-2 record.

HOT SCRAMBLE

Seconds after a telephone alert to a nearby Air Force base to "scramble," pilots hustle to their jets. In minutes, the stubby, swept-back interceptors thunder skyward.

This is the real thing. It's called a "hot scramble." Live ammo rides in their guns. It starts when an Air Force radar station detects an aircraft which cannot be identified. A telephone call by direct wire galvanizes the jet crews into action.

Modern air defense requires lightning-fast, dependable communication. That's why our radar defense system is interlinked by a web of direct telephone lines.

Some of today's college graduates will be piloting Air Force jets. Others will be welcomed into the Bell System where they can help, in peace or war, in the tremendous job of meeting the communications needs of our nation.

Detroit Blasts Wall; Defeats Braves, 8-5

Based on the Associated Press

Battling around in the sixth against rookie righthander Murray Wall, Detroit scored four runs for an 8-5 triumph over the Boston Braves in Lakeland, Fla., Thursday.

Wall is a former University of Texas hurler, who is up from the Milwaukee Brewers of the American Association.

The chief wallop of the five-hit outburst was a George Kell's three-run homer the left field fence that erased Boston's 5-4 edge. Successful singles by Cliff Mapes, Vic Wertz, and Hoot Evers produced the fourth tally in the sixth inning uprising.

SARASOTA, Fla., March 13—(AP)—The Boston Red Sox suffered their fifth straight grapefruit league defeat Thursday as their all-rookie lineup bowed to Washington, 4-1.

The Sox youngsters managed only five hits against veterans Sid Hudson and Don Johnson and rookie Paul Sanchez.

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 13—(AP)—The New York Yankees and Philadelphia Athletics staged a 35-hit slugfest Thursday with the world champions winning 11-6 for their fifth victory in six exhibition games.

Trailing 4-0, the Yanks jumped on veteran Dick Fowler in the sixth inning for seven runs on two walks, four singles and a triple by rookie third baseman Andy Carey.

The Athletics outthit the champs, 18 to 17, with Eddie Joost and Gus Zernial each contributing three. One of Zernial's blows was a 450-foot homer off Bob Kuzava. Rookie Jack Littrell also hit a pinch homer in the ninth for the A's.

Gene Woodling, Jackie Jensen, and Carey connected with three safeties each for the Yanks.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 13—(AP)—Harry Brecheen, making his first pitching appearance of the spring, threw a home run ball to Joe Adcock with a runner on base in the ninth Thursday, and the blast gave Cincinnati a 2-1 victory.

The blow broke the Cardinals' four-game winning streak in a battle of good pitching and home runs. Wally Westlake hit a pinch homer for the cards in the third.

Manager Eddie Stanky of the Cardinals announced that he would use second baseman Red Schoendienst at shortstop in Friday's game with Washington and that he would play second Saturday.

CLEAWATER, Fla., March 13—(AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies "B" team came from behind Thursday to defeat the "B" team of the New York Yankees, 7-6.

The New Yorkers put over four runs in the top of the seventh inning to erase a lead the Phillies had held from the fourth frame.

Clint Weaver socked a pair of homers for the Yankees, and Stan Holmberg and Jim Command one apiece for the Phillies.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif., March 13—(AP)—Pitchers Paul Pettit and Harry Fisher and outfielder Tom Saffell, all rookies with the Pittsburgh Pirates, were clipped from the roster Thursday and shipped on option to Hollywood of the Pacific Coast League.

Pettit is the $100,000 bonus kid who has done nothing since he was signed two years ago.

Marshall Sets Record For 1500-Meter Swim

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 13—(AP)—John Marshall, Yale's sensational junior from Australia, broke the national intercollegiate 1500-meters record Thursday night as he successfully defended his Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming League title. His time was 19:03.7.

That's better than the 1500-meter (long course) mark of 20:02.2 which Keo Nakama, a Korean then swimming for Ohio State, recorded eight years ago in the same pool.

Bobcats Enter NAIB Semi's; Clip Lawrence Tech, 65-57

KANSAS CITY, March 13—(AP)—Southwest Texas State's Bobcats of San Marcos chilled Lawrence Tech of Detroit in a last quarter rally with a beautiful ball control exhibition to advance to the semi-finals of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament on a 65-57 score Thursday night.

The Texans brought their perfect season record of 29 successive victories in topping the sharpshooters from Detroit before a turnout of 8,000.

Lawrence Tech trailed all of the way until getting even at 54-54 early in the last quarter. The Blue Devils even managed two brief leads, at 56-54, 57-56, before the Southwest Club sneaked ahead at 58-57 and went into their deep freeze.

The Bobcats didn't take a poke at the basket from the field until the last three seconds and J. C. Maze sank that one.

Southwest Texas braved 12 free throws in the last four minutes. The only perfect-record team remaining in the tournament, Southwest Texas will meet Springfield (Mo.) State in the semi-finals at 8 p.m. (CST) Friday. Springfield defeated Morningside College of Sioux City, Ia., 87-76 earlier Thursday night.

Murray (Ky.) State, which bounced Whitworth College of Spokane, Wash., 81-69, will play the winner of the Hamline-Portland, Ore., in the quarter-final roundup.

Tall Werner Kileen of Lawrence Tech led the individual scorers with 11 fielders and two free throws for 24 points. Six of the Texans, topped by Maze's 15, scored seven or more points.

Dayton Nips St. Bonny, 69-62, in NIT Semifinal

NEW YORK, March 13—(AP)—Dayton's Destiny Boys routed third-seeded St. Bonaventure, 69-62, to provide a "dark horse" final.

Unranked Dayton and LaSalle will clash at Madison Square Garden Saturday night for the championship and a berth in the Olympic Trials later this month.

In sweeping past the Bonnies, Dayton's slick-passing Flyers racked up their 20th straight victory and saw their six-foot-seven pivot ace, Don Meineke, become the second-highest scorer in basketball history for a three-year career.

Color-added Turtle Show Opens With Daring Dives

By MILLICENT HUFF

Color was the keynote Thursday night when Turtle Club produced its annual water show in the Women's Gymnasium. The vari-colored acts ranged from glamorous "Silver" in which Barbara Clary appeared in a sequin-studded swim suit to clowns attired in orange.

Skippy Browning and Bobby Brodnax, of the Longhorn swimming team, presented a series of breath-taking dives, missing the end of the diving board by inches and fractions of inches.

Other attractions on the show were tumbling stunts off diving boards by members of Tumble. This was the first attempt at this type of water tumbling by the groups. It proved to be an excellent idea.

Perhaps the most outstanding part of the show was the use made of lights and sound effects to make the pool a stage instead of a classroom. Using the theater-in-the-round technique, swimmers appeared from a dark pool. Spotlights of all colors were used to highlight the various "Water Color" acts. "Black Magic" in a darkened pool with lights on the swimmers was outstanding.

Playing before a packed house, the show used a combination of talents to get the best effect. Any element would not have been as complete as it was together. The stunt diving and tumbling by Tumble was done to "Orchids in the Moonlight" and quite defini-

Hart's Clear Course

Chancellor Hart's speech last night on "Objectives of the University" charted a clear course of action along which he'll guide the University as closely as conditions allow.

As he pointed out more than once in his talk to local Texas exes, the understanding and help of the Legislature are essential ingredients in the plan for a dynamic and progressive-minded school.

Without the Legislature's aid in maintaining a "University of the first class" and without the support of the people of Texas, he said these objectives cannot be attained:

1. "... This University is designed to serve the needs of the whole State of Texas and is located "... to serve the whole state best."

2. The University "must have as its field of operation all learning and knowledge." To do this, an appropriations rider passed last year banning new departments and courses leading to new degrees must be eliminated. "We must be free to improve and change and modify our program if we are to keep up with the times," he said. It will also be necessary for UT to take the lead in revising and improving teaching programs, he added.

3. "... The University shall not merely transmit existing knowledge but it shall extend it by original thought and investigation." Research activity will continue at a fast pace.

4. He noted that it will be extremely important, if we are to attract and hold a first-rate faculty, to raise faculty salaries; he commented that soon, after a reasonable amount of building has been completed, money from the Available Fund will be largely used for salaries. The Chancellor broadly hinted that providing such raises is the constitutional duty of the Legislature, whenever University finances need such help, as is currently the case.

5. "We must see that there is a spirit of friendliness and loyalty between the faculty, the students, and the Administration within the University, on one hand, and between all of the University and the public, on the other." He mentioned a need for facilities to take care of visitors to the campus in first-class style. (In commenting that an education center would take care of this need, the Chancellor may have overlooked the possibility of expanding Texas Union to reach the same goal.)

Such honest, forthright discussions of the University's problems and goals unquestionably are of great benefit because only that way can the University's friends know what we're driving at. They haven't always known in the past.

With both feet planted firmly on the ground, the Chancellor has shown the way to new heights.

Inferiority Complex Makes Texans Shy, Says Walker

By JOE L. SCHOTT

Texas Exchange Editor

"Texans has an inferiority complex—that's what's wrong with it," says Stanley Walker, celebrated editor and Texan, in the issue of Look Magazine which came out Tuesday, March 11.

Texans, he says, put up a big front because they are essentially shy, diffident, and afraid somebody will catch on to the fact.

In his Look article, titled "What's Wrong With Texans?", Walker writes that:

"Texans 'just want to get along.' They have a 'neaking dread that somebody is going ... to look down on them.' That's one reason why they mix easily. 'They would be at home ... in a colony of blue-bottomed baboons.' The average Texan is so afraid of giving offense that he will swallow anything—'poor food, bad movies, juke boxes, horrible music, cheap books, boring and snooty lectures, and ridiculous liquor laws.'"

"Texans' alcoholic-beverage arrangements 'don't make a great deal of sense.' Since liquor 'is never legally sold by the drink' it is necessary to buy it by the bottle. Where to drink it? 'Well, some persons ... drink it in their automobiles, a practice which helps to further increase Texas' highway-accident rate.'"

"The Texan never invented a damned thing," Texans know that their revolvers were invented by Colt (Connecticut); their barbed wire by Glidden (Illinois); their reapers by McCormick (Virginia); their plows by Deere (Vermont). Texas' first big gusher, at Spindletop, was brought in by Capt. Anthony Lucas of Pennsylvania."

"The run-of-the-mine Texan could show Vermonters how to cut corners and save pennies."

"Public office on the lower levels is often bestowed on the part-Mexican theory of 'to each according to his needs.' Thus county judges, commissioners, clerks, sheriffs and so on are often elected because they sorely need the money, not because they have any particular fitness for the office."

"The habit of giving double names to children, thus lousing up fine English nomenclature, is giving me the creeping fatoids—I'm talking about Billy Joe, Floella, Sueann, Jim Bob ..."

"Food in Texas hotels and ... cafes ... is uniformly poor ... one would think they were all run by Greeks who had come to the state by way of Mexico, stopping long enough to exchange their olive oil for lard and pick up a sack of beans."

In spite of these faults,

Mr. Walker remains a loyal Texan. He says if someone should ask why he doesn't live somewhere else, he would answer: "I have been somewhere else, and I still like Texas."

In fact, he adds, "it could be worse."

FINANCIAL MESS Do fraternities need financial aid?

Ohio State University is teaching its fraternities respect for precise economics.

The administration has put 36 fraternities on social probation.

Twenty of them owed bills amounting to more than $5 per man.

The remaining sixteen didn't even bother to turn in any kind of financial report.

PETTING SURVEY To find out whether "virtue" is old-fashioned and to what degree—three questions were asked in polls by some seniors of Dartmouth College and the University of Pennsylvania.

The curious queries were: "Is petting immoral?" "Is it proper to kiss on the first date?" and "Does petting enhance a girl's popularity?"

On first date osculation, one co-ed pouted, "If it's inevitable, why delay it?"

But a dissenter at the same school snorted, "Petting is immature collegiate nonsense."

Sixteen out of fifty girls at one school implied that a girl's date book would be empty if she didn't pet.

AIR ROTC

The Air University, with headquarters at Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery, Ala., was given the additional duty of operating the Air Force Reserve Officers' Training Corps with more than 110,000 students in 187 colleges and universities throughout this country, in Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

Air Force Headquarters at Washington announced the widespread ROTC program will be transferred from the Continental Air Command, to the Air University, effective next August 1.

"The change will consolidate and centralize the control of the program," the announcement said, "and will make possible more direct supervision of the activities of Air Force ROTC units at the 187 participating institutions."

"The transfer also will bring under one command the complementary missions of the Air University and the Air Force ROTC."

"Both programs are mainly concerned with military education and training of Air Force officers or potential officers. The Air University has professional educators qualified to develop and supervise, and has complete technical and professional facilities available for Air Force ROTC use."

Firing Line

Parking 'Lots'

TO THE EDITOR:

In his letter to the Firing Line concerning public relations and the Hill Hall parking lot, Bruce Mason never tells us whether the mistreated coaches could read or not. Those residents who were responsible for letting the air out of their tires were acting under the assumption that the gentlemen were fully capable of reading words of two syllables or less from a distance of ten feet or less when they are legibly printed in four-inch black letters on a white background. These words appear in the form of a sign which reads "DO NOT ENTER RESERVED FOR HILL HALL RESIDENTS. BY POLICE ORDER" and is placed right at the narrow entrance to the Hill Hall lot. If a car had been parked in front of this sign so that it could not be seen, then the entrance would have been completely blocked (as it was a number of times during the tournament), and these gentlemen could not have entered. If these men could not read this warning, they were either illiterate or were suffering from poor eyesight and should not have been behind the wheel of a car in the first place. If they possessed the facilities required of a licensed driver in the State of Texas then they must have considered themselves endowed with the privilege of ignoring the rights of others when they parked their car, along with others who were just as inconsiderate, in this lot and blocked it in such a manner that the residents of the Hall could neither get cars in nor out. Possibly the best action that could have been taken would have been to call the University Police and have them tow the car away as they do other illegally parked cars on the campus.

The Hill Hall lot is already overcrowded with the cars of residents and their visitors, and anyone who is so inconsiderate or too lazy to park properly and walk a little further to the gym or class has no right to complain about the injustices they feel they have suffered from such an act.

Other dormitories and student residences around the campus that maintain their own parking areas should also be entitled to the same consideration by drivers who feel that they are so important that they can park their vehicles anywhere they please.

If Mr. Mason considers public relations the condoning of practices which are inconsistent with the rights and privileges of others, it seems he has given the term a new meaning which proponents of public relations did not intend to convey.

We realize that while the action taken by residents of Hill Hall and the surrounding dwellings (who also had their rights infringed upon) may not have been the proper action toward solving the problem, the whole incident would have been avoided if these men and the others who parked there had observed the rules and parked where they belonged.

McCurdy to Explain Round-Up Financing

By RUSS KERSTEN

Team Editor

Students' president Wilson Foreman and I dropped by the Executive Association office yesterday afternoon to ask if a Round-Up financial statement could be made public.

A lot of people, especially some of the students who labor to make Round-Up successful, have been wondering out loud about such a statement. Their motive was to find out if the exes make a profit off student work.

Alumni executive secretary John McCurdy replied that they won't have to wonder much longer about last year's Round-Up, since his staff is working to prepare a statement with figures as exact as is possible. He said the statement can't be precise because of such variables as overhead, various office expense, and other things that are all paid out of a general fund.

At any rate, McCurdy said, the 1951 financial report should be ready for publication in about a week.

McCurdy said that he didn't know students have been complaining both to the student government officers and the Texas, because his office has received no gripes about the financial handling of the huge spring homecoming. Too, he pointed out that Round-Up is an ex-student project with ex-student financial responsibility all the way, and he hadn't thought it necessary to publicize any figures.

Showing a desire to clear-up any wrong ideas students might have, McCurdy said he will release a financial report on next month's Round-Up as quickly as possible. Because a number of bills dribble in for months after that glorious week end, McCurdy said a reasonably accurate report couldn't be made until late May or early June.

What about a guess on last year's Round-Up? The executive secretary said all indications are that it broke even, which is the usual thing. "Round-Up has been a self-supporting project over the years," he said, with sometimes an apparent small profit and sometimes what seems to be a small loss. It has consistently remained just about even-Stephen.

Why would Round-Up have to break even, anyway? "Program activities must pay for themselves, as much as possible," said McCurdy. The reason is that the limited alumni association budget can't take care of any substantial loss.

So now we wait a week.

DEAR BRUCE A letter came in criticizing the writer of a Wednesday Firing Line letter, Bruce Mason, in no uncertain language.

"B. E. Mason is obviously suffering from severe delusions since he says his friends are from Ft. Worth, and in the same breath claims (and this type of inconsistency is typical of the more severe disorders, poor wretch), that they owned automobiles!"

(Note: Mason's letter mentioned an incident involving the Hill Hall parking lot, visiting coaches' cars, and letting air out of tires.)

"I advise a long rest, B. E. (even these initials are suggestive of a weakened brain!)" the missile concluded.

It was signed by someone supposedly named Flywheel, a name that couldn't be found in any of the directories. But what's significant is that the writer listed

Dallas as his home.

AND ON PARKING

Another letter came in (unsigned and ineligible for the Firing Line) raising a hob with the parking situation.

"I notice with interest that the University has at last shown some practicality by the construction of several new diagonal walkways across the campus. However, I have observed a peculiar paradox which I would like to call to your attention."

"As is well known by a large number of student drivers, the north end of Speedway has recently been paved and a large new area for parking has been made available. Shortly after this was done, a formidable concrete and steel barricade was erected about 50 feet from the end of the block, barring student parking. This was, I presume, to be used by faculty and other blessed individuals with special parking permits."

The gripe is that "this parking space is not being utilized" nor is the new parking lot immediately north of the Experimental Science Building used enough.

But north of the barricade on Speedway, he says, the parking situation is terrible.

"Of course the answer is apparent but the reverend fathers of the campus evidently don't believe in heavy decisions. So I would like to suggest to the authorities in charge of such matters to open Speedway for student parking at least to the old temporary barrier," the critic remarked.

If, like the letter writer claims, certain parking areas aren't being properly used, the traffic bosses might consider zoned parking—certain people park in designated areas.

Servicemen, Not 'Regulars,' Can Vote in Fall Elections

By MILDRED KLESEL

Texas Editorial Assistant

The legality of present members of the armed forces voting in the general election without having paid their poll tax has puzzled Texans for some time.

In answer to the question: "Is a member of the armed forces of the United States, other than of the Regular components, who meets all other qualifications for voting at an election held in the State, entitled to vote in the November general election without having paid a poll tax?" the following opinion was given by the Attorney General's office in October, 1950.

"Since the person is not a member of the regular armed forces of the United States, the fifth provision of Section 1 of Article VI of the Constitution of Texas does not prohibit him from voting at the election in this State."

Section 1 of Article VI of the Constitution of 1876 reads as follows:

"The following classes of persons shall not be allowed to vote in this State, to-wit: ...

"Fifth: All soldiers, marines and seamen, employed in the service of the Army or Navy of the United States."

Members of the Regular United States Air Force were added to subsection 5, section 1, Article VI of the Constitution by the Attorney General's opinion No. V-635 on July 15, 1948.

In 1932 the above provision of the Constitution was amended by adding thereto the following:

"Provided that this restriction shall not apply to officers of the National Guard of Texas, the National Guard Reserve, the Officers Reserve Corps of the United States, nor to enlisted men of the National Guard, the National Guard Reserve, and the Organized Reserves of the United States, nor to retired officers of the United States Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, and retired warrant officers and retired enlisted men of the United States Army, Navy, and Marine Corps."

The Attorney General's opinion further stated, "that since the serviceman is not a member of the regular

D'ye Ken?

By KEN GOMPERTZ
Texas Amusement Editor

It's no exaggeration to say that there have been times when you could wander around Austin's theaters from swollen lobby to tight-spaced seats—popcorn blasting the trail in two directions—and never see a movie worth your time. And you can follow such observations by adding that last years have been followed by short periods of plenty.

"FOUR IN A JEEP" at the Texas Theater is a serious, understanding, straightforward story of life in the ruins of Berlin, heaving under the strain of four governments—American, English, French, and Russian.

Policed by the military from these four nations, the four-man jeep squads make strange bedfellows—four men of four different cultures, thinking and speaking and carrying out orders in their native and conflicting ways.

"Four in a Jeep" is a motion picture that is far above the usual picture standard; it's one you should not risk missing.

"JUST THIS ONCE," at the State is one of the finest burlesque-satires seen for many a reel. Peter Lawford and Janet Leigh, sparkling dialogue and snappy scenery, spoof and lark with millions of dollars. In time of high prices and higher taxes, it is refreshing to look at those who have too much money and can't get rid of it fast enough.

"VIVA ZAPATA" showing at the Queen takes us into the dusty, days of Mexico's 1910 revolution. A droopy-mustachioed, eye-lidded Marlon Brando, the agrarian leader, fights and dies to give his people the land they had worked for centuries. For those who saw "The Pearl," this latest Steinbeck story has the same understanding of the peons and their life and struggle with the land and the landowners. With some fine acting, clear-faced photography, chugging dialogue—it is disturbing to hear philosophies divulged in educated language from the lips of peasants—it is a film with moments of excellence.

BLACKSTONE is double-headed with "TREASURE OF LOST CANYON" for usual prices at the Paramount. Although the "Canyon's" color is eyesome and the acting is not borsome, the R. L. Stevenson story is lost mid-Hollywood fling. The product is unworthy of its actors and the color.

Blackstone, an aged, white and wiry haired, spry gent with a breeze of Ireland in his voice, monopolized a stage-full of male and female assistants, audience participants, rabbits, a goose, a dog, birds, and a teeny boy who became tearful stage-frightened. For magic fans, the pageant-minded master proved himself.

US Pays for Chinese at UT

Students Cannot Return to Red China Under Ruling

Although Communist China is an adversary of the United States in the Korean conflict, Chinese students are being given a technical education at the University at the expense of the US government under this country's Chinese emergency aid program, Joe W. Neal, director of the International Advisory Office, told the Austin Exchange Club Wednesday in a luncheon talk.

Smoking Ban Smoke Cleared, Says Taylor

The smoke has cleared, and Jack Taylor, University business manager, says that the no-smoking rule is "working beautifully."

Feline Makes Bee Line Up Tree; CATastrophe

After chasing a lizard to the top of one of the taller trees on the Mall Thursday, a kitten was left stranded.

Tom Gee, a University student with a talent for climbing limbless trees, shinnied up the trunk and got the cat. But even with his unusual talent, he could not carry the cat and hold to the trunk at the same time. A female counterpart to Sir Walter Raleigh donated her coat and, fireman style, the cat was dropped into it.

Stockholm School Offers 1-year Course

The International Graduate School at the University of Stockholm is offering a special one-year course for American students.

Tuition is $100, and there are two $800 scholarships available. Applications from both graduate and undergraduate students should be submitted to the American-Scandinavian Foundation, 127 East 73rd Street, New York. The course, which is approved by the Veterans' Administration, will start in September. Enrollment will be limited to forty-five men and women, so applications should be submitted immediately.

turn to China and give them the benefits of their training and leadership," he declared.

"Little publicity has been given this new ruling because there are still 3,000 US citizens in China whom we are trying to get out and we also want to avoid any repercussions to the families of these students in China."

Of the 300-400 foreign students now enrolled in the University some come from Latin-American countries, Japan, China, India, Syria, Iraq, and some from Russia and Iron Curtain Countries such as Czechoslovakia, Estonia, and Latvia, he explained. Some of these students are refugees from Soviet Communism, he added.

He said that these students are not only learning English and the American way of life, but are also making a contribution to the University and to Austin. Some foreign students are helping romance language teachers in training Texas students to speak various foreign languages.

NROTC Teacher Sent to San Diego

Lt. Cmdr. Wade Andrews, USNR associate professor of naval science, has been transferred from the University NROTC unit to the Fleet Training School, San Diego, Calif. His wife and son will go with him.

Mr. Andrews is a candidate for a doctor of education degree this spring. He holds a bachelor's degree from Southwest Texas State College and a master of arts degree in education from the University.

He made cruises with the University midshipmen for the last three summers. He also was freshman midshipman advisor, sponsor of the Spun Yarn, and faculty advisor to the Crow's Nest Co-op.

Mr. Andrews attended Navy Midshipman's School at Prairie State in 1943. Card playing students who have been shuffled around in Texas Union will have a separate room allotted to them within two weeks, according to Fred Kessler, chairman of the Grievance Committee. The separate room is an answer to the students' complaints Wednesday before the Committee that they were shifted from the Main Lounge to the balcony of the Union.

Both Merkin and Vincent Tarlton, also a former student of the University, were chosen as delegates to the Fifth Circuit Conference in New Orleans.

Musical Symposium To Test New Works

Composers and critics from Connecticut, Illinois, New Mexico, Texas, and other states will meet on the campus March 20-22 for the University's first Symposium of Contemporary American Music.

The symposium, one of the first in the Southwest, designed to help young professional composers, is sponsored by the College of Fine Arts.

Thirty-eight compositions were selected to be played at the symposium from 112 submitted. Entries came from many parts of the United States and as far away as the Army of Occupation in Germany.

Faculty members and students in the Department of Music will perform the new compositions during the symposium's four chamber music programs, four orchestra reading sessions, and one choral music program.

Critic-composer Herbert Elwell of the Cleveland Plain Dealer will lead two round-table discussions and will speak at an informal dinner for visiting composers and
