The Weather

Tuesday, fair and slightly warmer.

“Good Morning”

A big turnout.
Why not aid them?
Football in the air.
Familiar faces again.

MORE than fifty volunteer workers came over to B. Hall yesterday afternoon to make application for places on the staff of the DAILY TEXAN.

Everybody in the big family seemed to be perfectly happy and ready to go to work—which is something surprising in itself when a body of that many persons are brought together.

But time will tell, in this case like all others, just who were the ones who really want to work and those who just “signed up.” We have the opinion, however, that most of them will make efficient staff members and wish to take this opportunity to thank those who made application on the staff.

DR. C. C. SELECMAN, president of Southern Methodist University, comes out with the statement that none of the athletes at S. M. U. are paid to go to school there so that they may be on the Mustang squad.

We would hate to think that any denominational school like S. M. U. would even be accused of such a thing. Why should athletes be paid to play for a school, we ask. Are they an asset to the school in any way? We will have to admit that athletics give a school a large part of its prestige and name.

We do not stand up for paying athletes a salary to play for any team. But that they should be given some consideration in the way of jobs about the town, in order that they may help defray their expenses through school is another question. Athletics train and work as hard, if not harder, than anyone else in school, and in most cases they make above the average grades. Then why shouldn't they be aided through school just as well as others who work to defray their expenses? Now why shouldn't they?

LAST NIGHT as we were sitting at our typewriter trying to fill up this column, familiar noises came floating up to us from the old band hall down on “shack row.” Some way when they began playing the old pieces which they always break into on the football field, our spine began to wiggle.

We wanted to get up and take the typewriter with us and sling around a few times and shout the old “nine” yell for team; but after thinking twice thought it would be better to keep ourselves quiet until Saturday when we meet the Saints for a little game.

But the football spirit is in the air, and it will be great to go out to the Memorial Stadium once more and sing the “Eyes of Texas” while the ball goes tumbling into the air on the kick-off; and then to hold our breath in that moment of suspense, wondering how far through the field they will run. But just wait!

DOESN'T it feel good to walk across the campus again and see all the old-timers, to speak to them, and give and receive a friendly smile?

The old familiar groups as they gather around from the west entrance to the Main Building and between the M. B. and the Library, bring back memories of such groups in the past. We are glad to see them all back. Summer was lonesome without them.

YELL SQUADS HOLD PRACTICE SATURDAY

Freshmen and all other students will be given a chance to see Varsity in open scrimmage Wednesday afternoon before the opening game Saturday afternoon with St. Eds. This will take the place of the open scrimmage which was scheduled for Saturday afternoon, but was rained out. At this scrimmage all freshmen in particular, and everyone else who desires, will be admitted, and a practice well session will be held.

PIATT TO RETURN SECOND SEMESTER

Dr. D. A. Piatt, professor of philosophy in the University last long session, who is a member of the faculty of the University of Chicago this semester, will return to the University for the second semester.

4,425 Pay Fees; Thursday Registration Day for Late Arrivals; 5,000 Expected

Bureau to Check Admission Cards Add and Drop Courses

A total of 4,425 students had paid their entrance fees at the auditor's office Monday afternoon, 425 having paid during Monday. This total is incomplete, as many have gone through the preliminary routine of signing up for courses and have not yet paid their fees.

The total for the 1928-1929 session is expected to pass the 5,000 mark before the end of the week, officials state.

All those who have not registered will report Thursday, according to authorities. The place of registration has not been announced. Those who have not already been sectionized and have not paid their fees may pay any time this week, members of the staff at the auditor's office said.

A central bureau is being maintained in the rotunda of the Main Building all this week for the benefit of those who wish to change courses. Permission from the dean to change, add or drop courses must be obtained, after which report to the committee and have the changes made. The last day to take up first semester courses is Saturday, September 29.

Students Shown Library System

All new students have been extended an invitation by the Y. W. C. A. to meet in room 104, Main Building, any time this week from 9 to 1 o'clock or from 2 until 4 o'clock to go on a tour through the main, reserve and Garcia libraries. Members of the Y. W. C. A. committee will make explanations as to how to take out books for library use as well as for overnight use.

ATHENAEUM HOLDS INITIAL MEETING

The Athenaeum Literary Society began its thirty-sixth year, when new officers for the coming long session assumed their duties at the first meeting of the year which was held Monday night in the Athenaeum Hall, in the basement of the Law Building.

Officers for the ensuing term are: Scott Hughes, president; Leroy Jeffers, vice-president; Calhoun McCutcheon, secretary; Jeff Hassel, critic.

An Athenaeum tradition was carried out with the election of Arthur Bagby, the retiring president, as sergeant-at-arms. The following members were speakers of the evening: Frank Stubbeman, Jeff Hassel, Ray Bland, Spurgeon Bell, Harold Thompson, and Leroy Jeffers.

LEGION CORPS WILL GO TO CONVENTION

The local post of the American Legion will give a dance at Elk's Hall, corner of Seventh and Colorado, Friday night, September 28, from 9 to 12 o'clock. This is to be the last dance before the National American Legion Convention which meets in San Antonio, October 8 to 12. The Varsity Peacocks Orchestra will furnish the music.

The money realized from this dance will be used to bear the expense of sending the drum and bugle corps to the convention. The drum and bugle corps won first prize at the Texas-Arkansas State Convention and will compete for honors at the national convention.

900 STUDENTS GET PICTURES MADE FOR TAX

Cards, Without Photos Not Valid For Contests

NEW REQUIREMENT

Glaze Urges Prompt Observance of Rule

Reports coming from the Camera Art Shop where the students must have their pictures taken for their blanket taxes indicated that the crowd at the game Saturday will be small. So far only 900 have reported for pictures.

Authorities stress the fact that the blanket tax is not valid without the picture of the bearer. This method has been instituted this year to prevent the exchange of blanket taxes, which has been common in the past.

Students are urged to report at once, as the photographer cannot take 1,000 pictures in one day. Wiley Glaze, head of the athletic department, urges students to get their pictures taken at once, in time for the game Saturday.

The Camera Art Shop, located at 403 West Twenty-third street, is the place where the pictures are being taken. Those who go early will avoid the last minute rush that is sure to come later in the week if more do not report.

HOUSE MOTHERS TO HOLD MONTHLY MEET

Regular meetings of the house mothers of approved boarding houses for University students will be held during this session as in the past, one meeting being held each month on the second Wednesday of that month, it was announced yesterday by Miss Ruby Terrill, dean of women.

Mrs. V. N. Bentley, president of the house mothers during the past long session, will preside until the new president is elected.

Miss Terrill stated that rules governing the various boarding houses are the same as those which govern the dormitories. There are 34 house mothers who belong to the organization.

Subjects of interest are usually assigned to each program for discussion, it was stated.

UNIVERSITY PRESS SHACK AUCTIONED

J. Hall on the west side of the campus and for many years the home of the University Press, was sold Saturday at auction to B. R. Payton of Austin, according to J. W. Calhoun.

The work of tearing down the building and moving the lumber to the Payton farm will be started this week.

“All shacks on the west side of the campus will have been moved except N Hall, which is used by the physical training department,” Mr. Calhoun said.

BENEDICT SPEAKS AT FIRST VESPERS

The first Vesper service of the year was held Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Girl's Study Hall of the Main Building, Dr. H. Y. Benedict, president of the University, spoke and Spurgeon Bell, president of the Y. M. C. A., was in charge of the devotional services.

J. A. McCurdy, secretary of the Ex-Students' Association, gave a vocal solo.

Miss Marion McDowell, president of Y. W. C. A., acted as chairman of the meeting.

‘S. M. U. ATHLETES NOT HIRED,’ SAYS PRESIDENT SELECMAN

By JIMMIE LOVELL
Special to The Daily Texan.

DALLAS, Sept. 24.—“Anybody who charges Southern Methodist University with spending money for athletes is not possessed of the facts or he is deliberately deceiving the public,” Dr. Charles C. Selecmán, president, declared at the formal opening of the fourteenth session of the school here Monday morning.

“To athletes and would-be athletes, I would say this: If your principal purpose in coming to S. M. U. is to become an athlete, go back home and use your muscle in something more useful. To the faculty I would say, let us deal with the athlete just the same as the other students. If he fails to pass his work, let him know that it is no use to come to me.”

He warned students against the “dangers in the study of theology and science.”

At another time he urged those students not “financially and scholastically able” not to attend the S. M. U.-Army game.

Co-eds Misplace Auditors Slips In Paying Rush

Girls seem to be more absent minded than boys. At any rate, several girls lost their auditor's slips in the rush of paying their fees. By calling at the auditor's office the following girls may receive their slips: Geraldine Key Pound, Virginia Belle Curry, Sophy M. Hardin, Franke Mae Thompson, and Vivian Ozelle Coulee.

MEDIC BRANCH LIMITS FRESH CLASS TO 100

Care Taken in Selection of Students at Galveston

Freshman class enrollment in the Medical School of the University at Galveston has been limited to 100. Entrance requirements are more strict than in former years and only bona fide citizens of Texas are to be considered as applicants.

Careful selection of applicants is made on a scholarship basis from the premedical records and letters of recommendation from the dean and two science professors of the College in which the premedical training was taken.

The scholarship grade in pre-medical, collegiate work, and the selection of applicants will be made by an admission committee of the Medical Branch of the University.

Credits sent in application for admission to the School of Medicine would be made out on the regular blanks of the University of Texas which are to be had from the Registrar's office, states George E. Bethel, dean of the Medical School.

Letters of application must be accompanied by cashier's check, or money order for $25.00, made payable to Mr. John C. Nolan, Business Officer.

The selection of applicants will be made on July 1, 1929, for admission to the freshman class.

ANNEXES UTILIZED, SAY AUTHORITIES

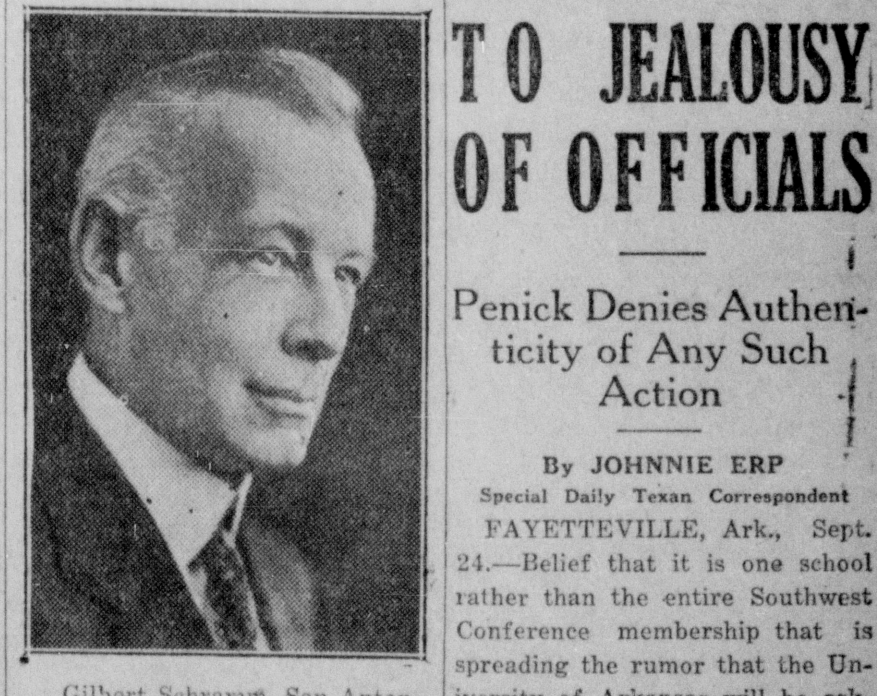

Annex B of the Woman's Building at 2407 Whitis has been rented to J. S. Kershner of Austin and Annex A is being used by the University for housing employees, according to J. W. Calhoun, comptroller.

The annexes were formerly used by the University as dormitories for girls. The remodeling of the Woman's Building and the new Littlefield Dormitory have made it possible to discontinue the use of the annexes, it was stated.

SPORT WRITERS TO REPORT AT MEETING

All men students in the University who are interested in sports writing are requested to meet in B. Hall 122 this afternoon at which time steps will be taken in the organization of the Daily Texan sports staff for the 1928-29 season. Days for work and other items will be discussed.

LAST TRYOUTS IN GLEE CLUB HELD TONIGHT

Over 100 Men Appear At First Meeting Monday

Tonight at 7 o'clock will be the last time for men to try out for membership in the University Men's Glee Club. The try-out will be held in room 157 of the Main Building.

Over 100 men came out Monday night for the individual try-out. At this first meeting, appointments were made for each aspirant to the club to have an individual try-out under the personal supervision of Mr. Schramm, the director. This try-out will consist of sight reading of music, memory, and other fundamental prerequisites for singing.

Mr. Schramm stated that he was very glad to be with the organization and believed that the club was certain to have a most successful year.

Mr. Guinn, the manager, and Mr. Stubblefield, the president, also said that they believed that this year's work would be the most successful that the club has had for several years.

The officers of the club are as follows: Gilbert Schramm, director; John Guinn, manager; Otto Stubblefield, president; and Alex Lillico, historian.

DEBATING CLUB TO MEET AT Y. M. C. A.

The Hogg Debating Club, winner of three of the past eight intersociety debating contests, will hold its first meeting of the year tonight at 7:30 at the Y. M. C. A. on the second floor. Officers will be elected and plans will be made for this year's work at this meeting, according to George E. Kacir, spring term president.

Freshmen and old students are all invited to attend this meeting.

Membership of the club is composed of between thirty and forty University students each year, whose aim is to get actual practice in public speaking work.

CRITICS ACCLAIM ARTICLE BY DOBIE

The last issue of the Yale Quarterly Review carries an article, “Lafayette's Treasure,” by J. Frank Dobie of the University English department. It is a story of John the Fifth's explorations of the coast of New Orleans and Galveston Island and is full of incidents of historical value, reviewers say.

The story has been read and widely acclaimed among national literary critics.

Penick Denies Authenticity of Any Such Action

By JOHNNIE ERP
Special Daily Texan Correspondent

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 24.—Belief that it is one school rather than the entire Southwest Conference membership that is spreading the rumor that the University of Arkansas will be asked to resign from the conference at the end of this season was expressed today by Francis A. Schmidt, director of athletics at the Razorback school.

According to an article appearing in the Dallas News Saturday, Arkansas authorities had been notified that action will be taken to drop the Porks from the Southwest Conference athletic schedules, replacing them possibly with a Texas team. Arkansas

“So far as I know there is not a grain of truth in the statement that Arkansas has been asked to withdraw from the Southwestern Conference,” Dr. D. A. Penick declared last night. “I have received no intimation of any such action, and I know of no action which has been taken at any school. We have taken no action here. I haven't the slightest idea where the rumor started, but it has no foundation.”

Charter Member

“It probably came from the same origin as the statement that came out from Texas during the basketball season last year in which the business manager of one of the Texas teams, for reasons of his own, wished to drop Arkansas from the basketball conference,” Chairman Schmidt said.

Arkansas has been a charter member of the conference since its organization in 1914.

Although no direct accusations were pointed out, the University of Arkansas athletic authorities believe the report originated at Southern Methodist University at Dallas.

There is a conference ruling that each member school must play at Fayetteville once every four years, the last appearance of Southern Methodist University at Fayetteville was in 1924. That year the Mustangs were doped fifty points better than Arkansas, yet the Razorbacks held them to a 14-14 tie.

The following year at Dallas the Porks held the Methodists to a scoreless tie.

According to the conference rule, it is now S. M. U.'s turn to play in Fayetteville, and Arkansas authorities believe it is S. M. U.'s unwillingness to abide by this rule that is responsible for the suggestion that the Porks might be asked to sever their athletic relations with the conference.

140 REPORT FOR BAND PRACTICE

“It looks like we are going to have the best band that we have ever had and I believe that we are,” said W. R. “Mike” Moyers, president of the University Longhorn Band, in his welcome address to the 140 new and old bandmen assembled in T Hall last night.

Moyers' talk was supplemented by an explanation of the traditions of the organization by Director Burnett Pharr.

The first public appearance of the band will be made at the Texas-St. Edwards game next Saturday. Plans are being made to accompany the team to these out-of-town games, this season these will likely be the Vanderbilt, Baylor, and Rice games.

If the sale of tickets to the annual Texas-A. & M. game continues in the future as in the last month or so, there is no doubt but that the Stadium will be sold out long before the day for the game approaches. Stadium subscribers have been given an option on the seats, and their section is practically gone. Seats are now being sold on the 10 yard, and in the north end, and orders are coming in every day.

If the Longhorns perform on the gridiron like they have been performing at Mrs. Emmons' table, there should be no doubt as to who will be the conference champs this year. Already, the big fellows have started a run on the kitchen.

When the Denton Eagles scored on the Mustangs Saturday, they pulled a neat little surprise. Everyone picked the Mustangs to win by a shut-out, but a pass gave the Eagles their only score. Pedman Hume galloped all over the field to score three touchdowns and otherwise distinguish himself.

Shorty Alderson found himself swamped with work when he called for frosh grid candidates yesterday afternoon. His cubby hole of an office, and the halls were filled all afternoon with aspirants for the frosh squad. Some of the fellows sure looked big and husky.

Coach Fred Walker has issued a call for all Varsity basketball aspirants to report for equipment Tuesday and Wednesday morning. Coach Walker is evidently getting a big start on the other conference teams, and will have his men going strong before long. Two hours' an afternoon will be the limit of work done by the squad at present.

The writer passed through the shower room yesterday afternoon just after Varsity had come in from their workout, and if the action of the team members under the showers is any indication of the attitude which the men have assumed towards the season, then we expect that there'll be plenty of misery in the enemy's camps before the fall has passed into history.

Coach Jack Meagher has dire designs on the Longhorns when they meet his Saints next Saturday. Meagher has been working his men hard, and will send them into the game as near to form as it is possible for a team to reach this early in the season. The Saints have the best line in the Texas conference, and a cracker-jack backfield. Only at the wing positions is the Saint mentor worried.

BUREAU HELPS TO PLACE GRADUATES

Fifty-two University graduates for teaching positions have been placed in high schools and junior colleges throughout the state by the Teachers' Appointment Bureau, which operates for the benefit of graduates an students of the University desiring such positions, under the direction of Miss Dozier.

Of these calls for teachers 34 came in between September 10-22. Most of the late calls coming to the office are for primary teachers, according to the records in Miss Dozier's office.

The schools of San Angelo have proven to be the best patrons of the free service this past year. It is thought that this may be attributed to the fact that a new junior college has been opened there this fall using many mathematics, history, English, and business administration teachers.

A few teachers have also been placed in the high schools and several in the grades.

Head basketball coach Fred M. Walker will issue equipment to Varsity basketball players from his office in Z Hall this morning and Wednesday morning in preparation for the beginning of pre-season training next week, at which time two hours a day will be spent by the members of the squad working out under the direction of Captain Holly Brock and Sugar Camp, outstanding forwards on last year's squad.

"I will not be able to be with them and supervise their workouts until the first of November, but after that time I will be with them every afternoon, and will hope to have them in top form for the opening game of the local cage season," declared Coach Walker. "In the interim Holly and Sug will direct the men in their afternoon workouts, which will be two hours' duration every afternoon from 4 to 6," declared Walker.

Early Start

"I'm getting an early start with the fellows this year, and I hope that they all come out. I mean those who are not out for football. I didn't get started with the fellows until after Thanksgiving last year, and I'm wanting to get them off earlier this year," Walker concluded.

The year will see the Varsity squad of last year return with the loss of only three men, Ox Higgins, Johnnie Estes, and Joe King, all lettermen. This group will include Captain Holly Brock, Sugar Camp, Jake Looney, Big Boy Peterson, Big Un Rose, Frank Cheatham, and several others. Last year's frosh squad will send

Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

I started smoking on cigarettes, but after meeting a young lady for whom men who smoked pipes had a greater charm, I promptly switched to one.

Then my agony began. I tried one brand of tobacco after another, always working on the theory that the more you paid for tobacco, the better it would be.

I tried imported special mixtures. I paid as much as fifty cents an ounce. All to no avail.

Then came the day I tried Edgeworth. It was at a ball game. I had run short of the certain brand I was smoking, and a casual acquaintance offered me a pipeful from his pouch.

Imagine my delight when after the first few puffs I did not feel the old familiar bite. I puffed on, inhaling the delightful aroma, and oh, boy! It was sweet right down to the bottom.

Nothing has separated me from my pipe, or my pipe from Edgeworth, since then.

Yours very truly,

And Walker

Orders for equipment were issued to 133 freshmen yesterday by Coach Shorty Alderson, and afterwards 97 men appeared on the freshman field for a brief workout under the direction of Coaches Higgins and Walker.

In addition to the 133 men who were issued equipment, there were some 10 or 12 men who were unable to get equipment as the supply had been exhausted before they appeared. Several more men are expected out before the season is over, and if they are to be taken care of, there must be additional equipment purchased for the frosh.

Lack of Equipment

"The lack of equipment, both for the men and lockers, is a great handicap to the development of freshmen athletics here, and that is one thing which we must have more of soon," stated Alderson. "We have a good field, but it is in no shape to be used this year, but it should be in fine shape next year. It was just put into use this summer, and has not yet had time to settle and become sodded."

Of the 133 men issued equipment, all were issued lockers by a number of stars to the Varsity squad, who will go a long way towards building up a fast team.

16-Candle Cake

A surprise that was a surprise! This was the reception received by L. Theo Belmont, director of athletics, when he returned to his office yesterday afternoon. By hook or crook, or maybe, he had dropped a hint, the office force had discovered that Monday was his birthday.

As he settled down for the afternoon grind, Myldred Basford presented him with a good sized package with the suggestion that he open it at once. Naturally he complied with the request. Here was the surprise—a birthday cake, with candles 'n everything, but not with the proper number, just 16. Probably they didn't want to embarrass him, or maybe they were afraid that he would expose their ages.

A knife was then called for—and it was produced by one of those who donated the cake. Belmont later admitted that he was "46 years young."

What Do You Know About—

New Altitude Record?
Young Coolidge's Body Guard?
Deafness Cure Theory?
Madrid Fire?

Schinzinger, German engineer of the Junkers works, established a new world's altitude record when he rose to an altitude of 8,830 meters, or 10 meters less than the highest peak, Mount Everest, in an all-metal monoplane of the "Bremen" type equipped with a Bristol Jupiter engine.

The plane weighed, in all, 2,000 kilograms, carrying a load of 500 kilograms.

The man who for two and a half years was a constant companion to John Coolidge, has lost his job.

In connection with the decision reached by the president's son to go to work, the secret service guard was found to be unnecessary. It is said that John's desire to support himself on his own meager salary of $30 a week has something to do with the loss of the operative, Russell Woods.

Woods has been ordered back to Washington.

The prevalent practice of curing attacks of deafness by indulging in promiscuous dives and curves through the upper reaches of the ether, is said to be "illogical" by officials at the School of Medicine of Washington University at St. Louis.

One of the experts in laryngology says that it is just as sensible for a one-legged man to make the dives in an airplane, expecting to find he has suddenly developed another leg when he lands. When the complex structure of the ear is destroyed, as it is in most cases of deafness, there is no recourse to aeronautics for a practicable cure, the expert declares.

Three hundred persons perished in a fire which broke out during the Sunday night performance in the Navedades theater of Madrid, which is one of the oldest and largest in the Spanish city.

During a brief intermission of the showing of "La Mejor del Puerto" there was a sudden burst of flames on the stage, which threw the audience of 3,000 people into a panic.

When the fire started the orchestra struck up a tune, hoping to calm the frantic audience that was beginning to rush for the exits, but an explosion back stage killed several musicians, and all control was lost in the confusion that followed.

Beautiful girls with bare legs caused quite a flurry in grave discussions of the League of Nations at Geneva recently. The stockless legs had taken the Swiss city by storm during the past summer, and a trio of daring stenographers saw no reason why they should not appear before the court body sans stockings.

There is a decree of the legal officials, however, providing that ladies must be properly attired before they can come before the council. Objections were immediately made by men who had become accustomed to bare legs on the streets, and the offending young ladies were forced to seek employment elsewhere.

YELL LEADERS WELCOME

Making use of the columns of the Daily Texan, the yell leaders, Lynwood Boyett, Allan Steere, and Seymour Hootkins, have taken the opportunity to extend a welcome to old students who have returned for another year on the Forty Acres, and to all freshmen who are entering upon their first year of university life.

The welcome, in full, follows:

We extend to each of you our personal greeting.

Isn't it great to be back to greet the old gang, to meet new friends on the old Forty Acres? It seems a wonderful pleasure to be a part of a wonderful group.

You have placed a certain amount of confidence in us by electing us to serve you as your yell leaders. By that election we understand that you meant for us to give a part of our University life.

Also we believe you expect us to devise means and ways to increase and enlarge the scope of "Texas Spirit."

As a result we formulated certain plans which we believe to be consistent with your desires. We hope that we come up to your expectations and we will do our best to be of real service during the school year.

But we ask for and must have your co-operation, not the co-operation of any certain groups, but of the student body at large. All of us must become imbued with a real spirit of "fighting loyalty" and real service to the institution.

So let us dedicate our united efforts in making this one of the greatest years in old Varsity's history, to uphold certain traditions and principles.

900 MUGS IN A ROW

According to figures compiled by Blanket-tax Photographer McCaskill, only 900 students, or considerably less than one-third of blanket tax purchasers, have appeared at his place on Twenty-third Street to have their pictures made for admittance cards. As a result only these 900 students are eligible for Saturday's football game unless there is marked improvement in the photograph business in the next few days.

On account of this delay on the part of some 2,000 thoughtless put-it-offs and owing to the fact that Mr. McCaskill, although he has a high-speed outfit for taking the pictures and affixing them onto the cards, is limited to the amount of one thousand per day, it has been found necessary, in view of additional registration and a predicted increase in the number of blanket taxers, to set Thursday, September 27 as a final day for the art work of present holders.

The Texan hopes for immediate action on the part of these forgetful parties. Believing, as we do, that most students have failed to realize that this function should be performed at once, we suggest that each holder take his receipt in hand and drop around to the photographer's between classes the very next time he has a vacant period, and we are sure there are plenty of vacants at this time of year.

REDUCED FROM $3

And now that late registration fees have been kindly abolished by the regents for the benefit of those who found it impossible to arrive in due time, we wonder what the philanthropic gentlemen think when viewing the appalling, snail-like speed with which registration progresses.

Since this slight additional cost fee of $3 has been reduced to nothing and no penalty whatsoever left for the indigent for fear it might also affect the worthy, it has been astounding the way students have postponed their registration and their payment of fees, and even their first attendance at classes. Although the $3 fee was a bit unjust, and perhaps even unnecessary, we still must hold that students must do their part to keep from slowing up the starting machinery by registering and paying their fees on time when possible, which it is in many of this year's late cases.

MORE FRESHMEN THAN EQUIPMENT!

"We suited out 133 freshmen, but we had to turn aside some ten or fifteen men because of the lack of locker space and togs," declared Coach Alderson yesterday afternoon. This apparent lack of locker space and equipment comes as a surprise to some persons on the campus, but such a condition has been foreseen for some time by the athletic officials of the school. The athletic quarters of the school have been crowded into the small and cramped confines of Z Hall, where it is utterly impossible to have sufficient room.

There has been an agitation for several years for the removal of the athletic offices to a more commodious building, and each time something has arisen which would prevent such a plan from being carried into execution. The completion of the Student Union Buildings would solve the problem of space, but there is still the question of equipment.

Some of the equipment issued was rotten, and almost unsafe for the freshmen to use. If they refused it, they would probably not get another chance to get on the squad, and they wanted to play football. It seems that if a freshman is willing to devote his time and energy six times a week to football that he should be furnished with decent equipment.

DON'T BUNGLE THE MACHINE

Attention has been brought to the fact by the Auditor's Office force that 127 students while paying their fees failed to leave their permit cards with the Auditor's force.

Without the permit cards, records can not be sent to the various instructors giving the enrollment of the student in the classes which he has signed for.

The reason for the mistakes in not taking up the cards, is assigned to the general rush and scramble of hurried registration. We are surprised that more bungles are not made in the whole registration system than are actually committed. The authorities are to be commended on the machine-like and accurate manner in which students are sent from the beginning to the end.

But the perfect machine is yet to be found, and a few mistakes were made.

Appeals have been made by the Auditor that those who failed to leave their permit cards should do so at the earliest possible moment. Most of those appeals, they say, have been answered and most of the cards turned in. However, the other cards should be given the Auditor at once in order to permit no further delay.

BITS OF THOUGHT

On the heels of the Kellogg treaty we have another get-together on subjects of war, called the Fidac to be held at Bucharest. And now will someone kindly disillusion us about that ancient outcry, "Gentlemen may cry 'Peace! Peace!' but there is no peace?"

INTO THE OPEN

An interesting element in the truly unusual presidential campaign this year is the tendency of most of the candidates to answer any and all questions and charges brought to them. The usual reserved method of ignoring heckling and whispering is lacking.

Governor Smith accepted the challenge of a group of Omaha Republicans and makes witty answers to their questions; Curtis tells an Iowa heckler that he is "too damn dumb to understand," Robinson has equally harsh things to say about the Republicans, and Hoover stops to answer some of the charges of the "whisper campaign."

Perhaps such openness is to be expected in a campaign in which substantial issues have overshadowed the usual partisan dummies. At any rate, it will be refreshing and informative to note the progress of a campaign which considers no charge too ridiculous to answer.—The Daily Kansan.

"THE COST OF THE STORMS"

The claim that Americans know no value save that of the dollar seems refuted by the news account of the Florida hurricane. If the dollar is supreme we might expect the headlines as "Storm destroys $30,000,000.00; Hundreds of Buildings Wrecked" and so forth.

Instead we find "Storm Toll, 400"; "Thousands homeless," and only minor paragraphs devoted to the huge property loss. What is the reason? Surely thirty million sounds more sensational than four hundred. Are the newspapers altruistically handling the news stories with a view to ethics instead of news value?

Hardly. Americans, like all other people, live for life itself. Our desire for existence is so strong as to place us in sympathy with the same urge in others. The emotional news that four hundred Floridians have been robbed of life is of more interest than the destruction of all the property in Florida.—The Daily Kansan.

ARE YOU?

A real man never talks about what the world owes him, the happiness he deserves and the chances he ought to have, and all that. All he claims is the right to live and be a man.

A real man is just as honest alone in the dark in his own room as he is in public.

A real man is loyal to his friends and guards their reputation as his own.

A real man is dependable. His simple word is as good as his Bible oath.

A real man does a little more than he promises.

A real man does not want to get something for nothing, so the get-rich-quick people cannot use him.

A real man minds his own business. He does not judge other people.

A real man is glad to live and not afraid to die.

A real man never hunts danger and never dodges it when he ought to meet it.

A real man's love is like a dog's, and that's saying a good deal.

A real man is—well, he is a real man, the finest, best, noblest, most refreshing thing to find on all the green earth, unless it be a real woman.—The Merchants' Journal and Commerce.

"Stiff" competition is even prevalent in the murder trade, according to a gangster who was arrested recently.—The Daily Kansan.

History is usually studied for information of the past in hope that it will aid future conduct. A better reason would be for consolation, as there are a few situations in history that are worse than we have at present.—The Daily Kansan.

One thing that everybody now knows, thanks to the adventurous trans-Atlantic fliers for the last year, is that prevailing Atlantic winds and air currents flow in an easterly and not a western direction.—Topeka Capital.

Due, no doubt, to the fact that the "windy city" is situated in the United States.—The Daily Kansan.

THOUGHT FOR TODAY

OH, WHAT is so rare as a day in June or a good-looking blind date.

THE ORGAN'S LAMENT

Address to Mr. Vitaphone

MY PIPES are filling up with dust, The mice gnaw their way Among my felt and wood. Alas, alack-a-day!

My stops are sticking and the keys They say will soon decay, The Wurlitzer is going bust, Alas, alack-a-day!

No more do I blast out my glee, For you have come to stay, I cry and sniff, and sniff and cry, Alas, alack-a-day!

ONE OF OUR FARM friends decided to send one of his sons to Texas when he heard the Longhorn band's new record. He thought the Glee Club was calling cows.

STOP ME if you've heard this one!

Once upon a time an old man walked into a restaurant. He was bald-headed but he did not wear high heels. He asked the waiter for some spinach.

As the waiter was bringing the spinach he slipped and fell, spilling the spinach at the old man's feet. The old man reached down and picked up some of the spinach with two fingers and rubbed it around in his ear.

"I beg pardon, sir, but that's spinach!" said the waiter, somewhat taken aback. "Heavens!" said the old man. "I thought it was mashed potatoes!"

ANOTHER ONE

ONCE there was a man digging in a garden with a high board wall around it. He was not digging for worms, but he was digging hard. Suddenly he thought he heard a noise. He looked up and all around and then looked all around again, but nowhere could he see anything. So he went back to work.

Suddenly he heard another noise, and stopped work and looked up and all around again, but beheld nothing. Then he spat over his left shoulder, whistled "Yes We Have No Bananas" twice, scratched his left front nostril, and went back to work.

Then he heard someone saying: "Good morning, sir." And he looked up on the wall and there sat a goosy glimmering ghost. "Good morning, sir," the ghost said.

"Good morning," the man returned.

"How do you like your eggs boiled hard?" asked the ghost.

"After the ball," said he.

THERE are three things Heaven frowns upon: murder, poverty, and wearing your roommate's clothes.

GEOLOGY DIRECTOR VISITS BIG BEND

Dr. E. H. Sellards, acting director of the bureau of economic geology at the University, is sending a few days in the Terlingua section, in the Big Bend region, assisting W. S. Adkins and M. B. Arik, assistant geologists in the bureau, who have been engaged in field work there for several months.

Dr. Sellards was accompanied by Ben Pilcher of Austin, Hans Winkler of Austin and Wayne B. Wilson of Carbon, all of whom will be student assistants in the bureau next year.

INSTRUCTOR ADDED TO ENGLISH STAFF

A new instructor this year in the English department is Miss Dorothy Russell, of Rockport. Miss Russell is a graduate of C. I. A., having received her Bachelor of Arts from there in 1926, and her M. A. from the University last spring.

Lucia James of Houston is visiting friends in Austin for a few days. D. P. Studdard of Houston has returned to enter the University for the fall semester.

Waterman Pens

Sold in Austin by

The holders of Waterman's fountain pens are made of rubber. Years of experience and experiment have demonstrated that there is nothing like rubber for fountain pen holders; nothing that is as light, as resilient, as pleasant to hold, and that has the advantage of being stainless.

Color effects in hard rubber have always defied the rubber chemist—until our research engineers finally solved the problem. This notable achievement has resulted in a beautiful line of two-tone stainless ripple-rubber holders in Ripple-Blue-green, Ripple-Rose and Ripple-Olive.

The new two-tone Waterman's pen has a real collegiate look. It is a pen you will be proud to own. It will be a constant companion throughout your college and business career and a valued memento of your college days. Dependable, speedy pen performance saves valuable time for thought—a decided advantage during exams.

Two-tone pencils are made to match two-tone pens.

"LILAC TIME," Colleen Moore and Gary Cooper in a spectacle of the air accompanied by full studio synchronized music and sound effects — at the Queen. Reviewed in this issue. Movie-tone news.

"THE FLEET'S IN" Clara Bow tightening the throats and hearts of a few sailors and lightening their pocket books, mainly James Hall, though he gets value received — at the Majestic. Reviewed today.

"THE COP," in which William Boyd comes out against rum and for religion. He's the cop reaching a long arm after the perennial gangsters and he gets 'em. At the Hancock. Recommended.

"DANGER STREET," with Warner Baxter in the stellar role, though advance reviews credit a certain Duke Martin with a royal characterization. You'd better see for yourself. At the Crescent.

'LILAC TIME' AT QUEEN FEATURES BATTLE IN AIR

Colleen Moore Gives Her Best Role as Jeannine

Reports seem to vary as to "Lilac Time," now to be seen and heard at the Queen theater. Some say it's a knock-out; some say it's a flop. Which means, of course, that it's a striking picture. People don't disagree so very extremely on just an ordinary movie. Everybody seems to concur that "Lilac Time" is Colleen Moore's best to far. They also agree that the sound effects are thrilling, and there is some talk about a party getting so excited in the heat of the spectacular air battle, staged in the middle of the movie that they tore up a section or so of seats in the Queen theater. But then, that's exaggerating.

"Lilac Time" is really a good picture and should be seen by all means, and we say that advisedly. It falls short of being a great picture in our mind largely perhaps because we saw "The Legion of the Condemned" a short while ago, and "Lilac Time" suffers through comparison with it. The male star is the same, Gary Cooper, but he seems pallid and sickly where before he was vivid and alive. And the philosophy behind the thing just isn't, unless it drips out of the story, for this is a "story" movie, if you get what we mean. In "The Legion of the Condemned" the story sprang out of a philosophy, which we think is better, where "Lilac Time" simply tells a powerful story. But you can decide those things for yourself—the picture stays all week.

Crescent Film Stars Baxter In Crook Role

The gruesome but colorful atmosphere of New York's notorious East Side, contrasted with the majestic beauty of its exclusive Park Avenue, provide the background in "Danger Street," Ralph Ince's latest production for FBO. The picture is scheduled to open today at the Crescent theater and

MAJESTIC SHOWS 'THE FLEETS IN' WITH CLARA BOW

It's Girl Makes Whoopee As Dance Hall Charmer

It isn't a question of whether or not you like Clara Bow. It isn't a matter of anybody's dramatic art at all. It is merely a question of whether you are human, and can get a whale of a kick out of scenes of this and that and close-ups of those and the other, the likes of which are strung like beads on a string throughout "The Fleet's In," Clara Bow's latest thunderbolt which is playing at the Majestic theater today. James Hall is the man who gets cremated this time.

Not that "The Fleet's In" is very hot, not at all. On the contrary, it is slightly tame, compared with Clara Bow's earlier efforts, but then we must all remember that Clara isn't a kid any more and can a duck swim and all that. The photographic shots of our Clara vary from the worst we have seen of her to some (warm) numbers equalling or maybe more than equalling any of her best. James Hall looks dissipated, as a sailor probably should. We mean the sort of sailor boy he acted, please. The rest of the men are negligible, and the rest of the women it-less, as is also right and proper in an IT picture. The only thing you really need to know about the story is that Clara gets her man again, but then you know that already. We liked the picture, but we don't think it ranks with Clara Bow's best.

will continue for three days. Warner Baxter, as the star of the production, is seen in the role of "Rolly Sigsby," a gentleman of wealth. Disillusioned and disgusted with life, he seeks the atmosphere of the underworld, feeling that though he may be the target for a gangster's bullets, it would be better to drift into eternity than to continue as he has.

This is Baxter's first part in an underworld picture, and his performance is said to be a revelation. Martha Sleeper, whose exhilarating beauty and charm have won countless admirers, is seen in the leading feminine role and the cast also includes Duke Martin, Frank Mills, Harry Tenbrook, Harry Allen Grant, Ole M. Ness, and "Spec" O'Donnell.

on view at the Hancock theater today. Jacqueline Logan, beautiful and charming, is the leading woman, and Alan Hale and Robert Armstrong are featured members of a brilliant supporting cast.

The story of "The Cop" is packed with drama and thrills. Pete Smith, a bridge tender, played by Mr. Boyd, aids a wounded man who staggers into his shack and after nursing him to health, the man repays him by robbing him of his savings and winter overcoat. This prompts Smith to join the police force so that he might run down such rats and drag them to the bar of justice. He does this eventually, but his path is not strewn with roses. He runs down a band of robbers and his warmest friend, Sergeant Coughlin, having been slain, he swears vengeance. Then follow many highly dramatic scenes in which Mary Monks, played by Jacqueline Logan, is the central figure. The culminating scenes are said to be exceptionally thrilling and the love interest is strong. There is much wholesome comedy.

LONGHORNS WORK HARD FOR OPENER WITH ST. EDWARDS

Steer Stars Flash Form in Daily Workouts

Beginning their last week of work before their opening game with the Saints on Saturday, the Longhorns went through a spirited workout on the Memorial Stadium gridiron yesterday afternoon. The whole squad seemed in the best of humor and condition with King, Beular, Sewell, and Baldwin looking better than they have at any time this year. If the injury jinx will lay off the Steers this year, everything will be rosy. In the past three or four years, everything looked like Texas was going to have a world-beater, but injuries would creep in at the most inopportune moments, and wreck in one afternoon what it had taken a hard working coach and squad weeks to build up.

Such was the case last year. With some of the most promising material in years, early season injuries took their toll, and then injuries throughout the season kept the Longhorn squad in a weakened condition. Rufus King was lost for the year with a broken jaw. Rose, Beular, Baldwin, and others were out of the game at various times with more or less serious injuries. None of these have reported any serious bruises or injuries this year so far.

Line-Up Doubtful
It is impossible to even guess about the line-up which Coach Littlefield will send into the fray with the Saints, but it is fairly safe to say that nearly all of the squad will see service in the melee with the boys from beyond the Colorado. A backfield of King, Hughes, Beular, Baldwin, Beard, Shelley, Higgins, Ford and Meadows would be a likely starter, and line of veterans from end to end could be sent on the field, and substitutes could be sent in at various stages of the game without visibly affecting the strength of the forward wall.

The game with the Saints will be no indication of the driving power of the 1928 Steer squad, but will give the coaches an opportunity to observe the rough spots in the working of the various combinations sent to the field. The week before the Texas Tech game will then be spent in ironing out the roughness appearing in the first game, and the Texas Tech game will be of interest chiefly because it will show the amount of improvement which has been made by the team in the week's time.

Texas will play only two practice games before meeting Vanderbilt in Dallas October 13, and the following week will swing into one of the hardest conference schedules ever undertaken by any conference member. The Steers will meet every conference team.

GOLDSMITH HEADS BODY OF CENTRAL STATES ARCHITECTS

It is announced that Godwin Goldsmith has been appointed chairman of the department of architecture at the University. He comes to the University from the University of Kansas where he established the department of architecture fifteen years ago and has occupied that position ever since.

Well Known
Professor Goldsmith is well known in American and international architectural circles. He is now president of the Association of Collegiate Schools of Architecture. He served a three-year term as director of the American Institute of Architects in the Central States.

As a young man, Professor Goldsmith was an architect in the office of McKim, Mead & White of New York City. This is a firm of which the famous Stanford White was a member. Goldsmith then went to Columbia University, where he obtained his bachelor of philosophy degree.

He went to Europe and studied in the Atelier of Henri Durey. He traveled in France, Italy, Germany, Belgium, Holland and England, making his tour on a tandem bicycle, which is now such a curiosity that it has found a place in the Smithsonian Institution. Upon his return from Europe, Goldsmith formed a partnership under the name of Van Vleck & Goldsmith in New York City. He followed the profession there for seventeen years and then went to the University of Kansas.

Roife Added to Faculty
Another new man in the department of architecture of the University is Prof. Walter T. Roife. He is a graduate in architecture from the Kansas A. & M. He obtained his master's degree in architecture in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, following which he taught designing at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn, Alabama. For the last three years he has been head of the department of architecture in the University of South Dakota.

LEAGUE HELPS IN CONVEYING INFORMATION

Schools That Register To Receive Letters On Football

For the purpose of conveying information concerning Inter-scholastic League rules in football and of assisting in securing uniform application of all regulations, circular letters will be sent once a week to all schools registered in football with the Inter-scholastic League Bureau of the University, according to Roy B. Henderson, director of athletics.

The first letter, which has just been sent out, emphasizes the filing of duplicate certificates of transfer for all transfer students, points out that any student in school last year for a period as long as three weeks is ineligible unless he completed three and one-half unit courses at the close of the spring semester, insists upon the filing of correctly filled out eligibility blanks, requests a complete report of each game and asks for a copy of the schedule of the respective schools.
