GLEE CLUB PLANS BANQUET TO CLOSE SEASONS ACTIVITY

Club Enthusiastically Indorses Work of Oscar Fox, Director

HAVE SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Zively and Minton Chosen to Lead Organization for Next Year

By WOODARD RITTER

As Told to a Texan Reporter

An elaborate banquet to be held at the Stephen F. Austin Hotel will reward the University Men's Glee Club for one of the most successful years in the history of University musical organizations. At the banquet, which will be held Tuesday at 6:30, the officers who have directed the work during the past year will make their farewell addresses and the newly elected officers will be formally installed. John Minton of Austin and Charles Zively of Temple will serve during the session of 1927-28 as president and manager, respectively.

Marvin Brown, retiring manager of the club will act as toastmaster for the banquet. Arrangements of the program is in the hands of a committee composed of O. M. Stubblefield, Calvin Tuberville and K. G. Goforth. The affair Tuesday evening will be the last gathering of the club members before the final exams. The last public appearance of the entire club was Friday night when the annual concert was given in the Men's Gym. The popular Cowboy group will appear again in public when they sing for the Austin Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon Tuesday at 12 o'clock.

In addition to the making of the plans for the banquet and the election of officers, the club at its business meeting Saturday night, unanimously endorsed the work of Oscar J. Fox, director for the past two years and re-elected him to that position for the coming session. It has been through the work and influence of Mr. Fox that the club has during the past two seasons risen to a distinctly high rank in collegiate musical circles.

As a recognition of the ability of the club it was invited to attend the recent meeting of Federated Music Clubs of American held in Chicago. Mr. Fox attended the meeting and his Cowboy songs were a feature of the program.

In addition to his work on the Cowboy ballads, Mr. Fox has attained national recognition for other songs and musical compositions. His "Hills of Home" was featured during the past season by Reginald Werrenrath and Rafael Diaz, famous concert singers. "The Wanderer," another of Mr. Fox's compositions is considered by musical critics to be one of the best American works in the last five years. Other songs by him are, "Night Songs," "Winken, Blinken and Nod" and "Adoration." He has also written three songs about famous desperados of the old range; "Sam Bass," "Jessie James" and "Prisoner for Life."

Mr. Fox plans to spend a part of the summer in Camden, New Jersey, where he will supervise the recording of some of his work on phonograph records.

The concert Friday night closed a year that has added much to its prestige over the state. The club appeared in concert in many Texas towns and was everywhere received with favor. The Cowboy group especially met with popular approval. Wray Ryan and Woodard Ritter, in carrying the solo parts for these songs received considerable attention and applause. It is this group, which appears in characteristic range regalia, which will sing before the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Although several members of the club will not return next year, Mr. Fox states that he is not at all pessimistic as to the material that will be available. He expressed himself as well pleased with the selection of officers for next year and is optimistic for the continued success of the club.

W.A.A. Year's Work Ends with 'T' Night; 60 Receive Awards

Elizabeth Eldridge Gets WAA Cup

ELIZABETH ELDRIDGE of San Antonio received the "T" girl scholarship cup at the W. A. A. meeting last night. Miss Eldridge is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, an assistant in philosophy, and president of the Menorah society. She is a feature writer on this year's Sports Girl.

SENIORS PLAN FOR PRESIDENT OF CLASS, '27

A discussion of plans for the selection of an All-Senior president for the classes of '27 will be taken up by the representative committee which is making arrangements for the Senior reception and dance when they meet at luncheon Monday. All of the senior classes in the separate colleges have elected permanent presidents and other officers. If the committee decides that a permanent all-senior president is desirable, a general committee from each of the departments will select the student for the honor.

The president selected by the committee will lead the grand march on the occasion of the Senior Reception-dance to be given by the Ex-Students' Association, June 3. According to J. A. McCurdy, secretary of the Association, plans for the dance are progressing rapidly and the affair promises to be an entertainment that will remain long in the memory of the seniors who attend.

The reception will be held in the Woman's Building at from 8 to 10 p. m. and will be followed by a dance in the Woman's Gym. All candidates for degrees in either June or August are invited by the Ex-Students Association to attend the affair as its guests.

No written invitations or tickets will be issued, but it is stated that a check will be taken and only seniors will be admitted. In order to make the affair unique and at the same time representative of the entire campus, all students are urged to attend without dates.

Chemistry Professor Does Research Work During Summer Term

The greater portion of the University faculty are to remain in their present positions during the coming summer school session. Some have accepted invitations to teach in other colleges and universities, returning to the University in the fall to resume their duties.

Dr. James R. Bailey, professor of organic chemistry, will remain in school, engaged in chemical research in the interest of the National Research Council. His work is in the field of petroleum-nitrogen compounds. He will teach no classes during the summer. The Petroleum Institute of America has provided $500,000 for petroleum research, of which the University has $3,600, which is shared by the Geology Department.

PITTENGER GIVES PRINCIPAL TALK

Dancing and Refreshments Follow Presentation of Gifts to Faculty

By EDITH FOX

With the observance of the traditional "T" night, the awarding of approximately 60 medals, the installation of the new officers and council members, and the distribution of the Sports Girl Magazine, W. A. A. officially closed its activity for the year.

A fifteen minute song rally led by Mrs. "Tex" Lynn was the opening number on the program. This was followed by the introduction and installation of new officers by Frances McConnell, outgoing president. The following girls took the oath of office: Betty Green, president; Gyneth Stugard, vice-president; Lola O'Connell, corresponding secretary; Essie Roots, recording secretary; Irene Randerson, treasurer; Tony Bracher, volley ball; Irma Harvey, dancing; Eloise Reid, basket ball; Grace Sanderson, archery; Peggie Banks, publicity; Josephine Applewhite, membership; Jimmie Crozier, Te-WAA-Hiss; Martha McKay, T. O. C.; Martha Dickey, swimming; Bernice Erwin, gym team; Lucile Thompson, hockey; Mollie Johnson, baseball; Irma Handers, Sports Girl editor; Bertha Black, tennis; La Verne Nowotny, social chairman.

Betty Green, new president, responded to Miss McConnell's talk and assured the girls of her intentions to make W. A. A. as big a success as possible.

Dean Pittenger Speaks

Dean B. F. Pittenger was the principal speaker of the evening. He outlined the history of athletic development, and praised the ideals to which athletics are striving in educational institutions of today.

Following this talk, a stunt featuring Jimmie Crozier as an "Old-Time" director of athletics, was performed. Fake awards were presented to the "co-ed athletes of '89."

Awards Announced

This stunt served as an introduction for Miss Anna Hiss, who announced and presented the emblems to those who had completed the required work. The 100-point pins were given to Ethelyn Cahn, Mary Anne Curd, Golda Russell, Marion Oldfather, Grace Sanderson, and Fanny Levy.

New 400-point awards were presented to Martha Dickey, Peggy Banks, Margaret Cunningham, Kathleen Simmons, Nina Woods, Lola McConnell, Virginia Campbell, Gyneth Stugard, Irma Handers, Dolly Schol, and Blix Hankins.

The 400-point "T" was given to Loreen Moursund, Ora Quaid Watts, Julia Shanblum, La Verne Nowotny, Elizabeth Calloway, Helen Woodman, Eloise Reed, Mrs. Pearl Jordan, and Eloise Gooch.

Only four 800-point numerals were awarded and these were received by Lola O'Connell, Irma Handers, Peggy Banks, and Martha Dickey.

Sweaters for those making 900 points were given to Mollie Johnson, Asta Grona, LaVerne Nowotny, Betty Green, Martha McKay, and Lucile Thompson.

The highest W. A. A. awards, the blankets, were presented to Ruth Mantor, Angela Strnad, Myrtle Mathiesen, and Floy Wooley.

Cups Given

Cup awards were presented by Frances McConnell to the "T" girl having the highest scholastic average. Elizabeth Eldridge, to the girl making the most points, Ruth Mantor; to the class with the greatest score, Blix Hankins, representing the freshmen.

Club awards announced by various members were included. Racquet Club, gold racquet to Floy Wooley and silver racquet to Emma Glenn Vickers; Turtle Club, Lola O'Connell.

UNIVERSITY BOY MEETS DEATH IN COLORADO RIVER

Student Was Bathing With Party of Friends and Went to Test Depth

BODY NOT RECOVERED YET

Bystanders Look on as Eddy Carries Youth Under

Testing the depth of water of a swimming pool to be used by a reunion party, Paul Hammack of Kennedale, University student, was caught in a whirlpool and drowned Saturday afternoon at McDade. The body had not been located late Saturday night, and men from Elgin and Bastrop were still diving in an effort to locate the body.

It was a happy party of college students and friends of Naomi Banks, also a University student, which went to Washington Eddy in the Colorado River for an outing Saturday morning. Miss Banks' parents were hosts to a group of 30 or 40 people, including Hammack and his sister, Melba. The three lived with the uncle and aunt of the Hammacks, Mr. and Mrs. John M. Payne, 3802 Speedway, while attending the University.

The story told by Mrs. J. B. Hackworth, the McDade telephone operator, was that Paul went out into the river to see if it was safe for the women and children to swim. Bystanders saw him sink as if caught in a whirlpool or suction of some kind, and he never came to the surface again. Help was called, and all available men from McDade and the closest towns, Elgin and Bastrop, came to aid in the so far futile search for the body.

Relatives of the boy were notified from Bastrop. Hammack was just completing his junior year in the University.

HOUSE CONSIDERS UT MEASURE SOON

Senate Has Already Passed Appropriation; Wait on Lower Chamber

Probability that the bill making the University appropriation for the biennium from 1927 to 1929 will appear before the House of Representatives for consideration some time during the coming week was expressed by several members of the House Saturday, after some days of intensive application to cutting and splicing and patching financial measures together again. Monday will usher in the third week of the special session called May 9 by Governor Moody.

The Senate has already passed its own measure providing for the maintenance of the state schools in the ensuing two years, besides a number of other legislations, and adjourned Wednesday at noon until Monday morning in order to allow the House to catch up.

The measure which passed, the Senate some days ago totaled $3,914,480.00 for all branches of the University for two years, the appropriation for the first half of the biennium exceeding by some $33,000 that for the latter. For the main University, the Senate bill set aside $3,192,660.00 for two years, re-establishing the School of Journalism with one professor, one instructor, and two lecturers, and the School of Music with one professor. Both these departments would receive by the bill an amount somewhat in excess of that which they had at the time when cut out by Mrs. Ferguson two years ago.

AGGIES BEAT STEERS IN LAST GAME, 3-0

Special to The Texan.

COLLEGE STATION, May 21.—Ragged playing by the champion Longhorns against the invincible hurling of Hillian lost the final game of the Aggie series, 3-0. It was the only shutout scored against Texas during the 20 games of the season, and the Dischem wound up the year with an average of .800 to .687 for A. & M., the runner-up.

Hillian yielded only three widely scattered hits to Varsity, two of them going to Baumgarten and the other to Forbes. Reese was Disch's choice to start, and he was untouched for three innings. He weakened in the fourth, and was relieved by Forbes. Together they held the Aggies to only five hits.

A.&M. scored in the fourth on three hits. After Clark was out, Broiles walked and Baker singled. Broiles scored when Ford muffed Baker's grounder in left, and Baker then came in on Kalleen's double. Forbes hit Schuenemann in the eighth, and the farmer catcher stole second. On Webb's wild throw he went to third, and then scored when Olle muffed Hillian's grounder. The Longhorns made six errors in all. Every Steer that went to College Station was used in the game.

Complete Suit Is Dealt To Each of 4 Bridge Players

A news report from London states that four bridge players were each dealt a complete suit in one deal. The holder of the spades won on a seven bid by laying his cards on the table. The deck was not a new one, and it had been shuffled and cut in the ordinary way.

The odds against this almost unheard of occurrence have been calculated as being 2000 million to one, yet it has happened four authentic times in the last 40 years. It occurred at Calcutta in 1888, at Brighton in 1892, and at the Surrey in 1917.

OLLE CHOSEN AS SQUAD CAPTAIN

Choice of Texan Sport Editor Closely Parallels That of Other Scribes

ROBERT E. B. FIELDER

Texas Sports Editor

With the above first team line-up, there seems to be little question in the men selected since each was the individual performer at his position of the season. Clearly no argument can be brought against placing Big Hooks on first. The Mustang giant has played sensational ball all season and besides his terrific clouting, he is a neat defensive man.

Hopkins, Longhorn keystone cog, has a cinch at second. His fielding has been nearly flawless all year and he has accepted an enormous amount of chances. He is the fastest man in the College Circuit of the Southwest when it comes to handling the ball and is a wonderful double play factor.

Olle Captain

Ed Olle is placed at third because there is no one to doubt his ability. He is made captain since he is a born leader and has enough stuff in him to make his teammates have an enormous amount of confidence in him. Besides his phenomenal manner of fielding, he is the best money hitter in the Southwestern Conference. The harder the situation, the better for Olle. He works hard and his relations with his coach make him all the more suitable as Captain of the mythical selection.

Bob Harris has few formidable rivals at short stopping for the simple reason that none were discovered in the season's play. Harris is a safe fielder and works well in a double play.

Sisco Gets On

Sisco of the Baylor Bears cannot be left off the team and he is an equally good man at the field as at the initial sack. He is known for his fielding and his hitting has put fear in all the opposition since Sisco started ball playing.

Speers from the Mustang lot is the man for the middle outfield. He is a neat hitter and a fine fielder. His hitting helped put the Mustangs out in front in many games.

Heinie Baumgarten has a place on any Southwestern baseball picking. The big Schulenburg blonde can hit like such is seldom seen. Although his fielding was criticized by a big league scout this year, such was not deserved, for Baum made one of the few errors of his life at the particular time this scout happened to see him in action.

Tucker Utility

Tucker, A.&M., is a good little baseball player. Though he did not shine spectacularly this season, he has baseball sense in him and plays any position with his natural knowledge of the game.

Anyone who could take the material which confronted Billy Disch at the beginning of this season and make a championship team of it, deserves the title of the best baseball coach in this college selection.

For the second team, the choices become closer. To begin with, though Walker of Texas gets the choice, Bear Wolfe from the Horned Frog pool follows closely in his wake. Wolfe has been kept from the line-up much of the season, which has greatly hurt his chances for this selection.

Herman Clark gets the second base position simply because his experience and record would make him the most logical choice.

Punk Baker is a good third baseman and started the season with the "rep" of being the best among the collegians.

Blackie Williams from T.C.U. is a neat little short stopper, fast and aggressive, while he is a reliable batter.

Cy Williams takes the place in left field because Cy can do anything a coach sends him to the plate to.

Law Seniors Face Sleepless Nights; Exams Begin Monday

Law exams,—the preparation for which has caused so many haggard looks and hollow eyes and has occasioned such replies in class as "I am sorry Judge, but I just can't think clearly today; I was up all night last night,"—will on Monday, May 23, begin to shatter the ambitions of would-be Chancellors, convince others that they should follow advice and return to the farm where they are needed, and persuade still other future attorneys that they need another year in Law School.

According to Miss Lucy Moore, registrar of the Law School, there are only 56 candidates for the Bachelor of Law Degree this June while last June there were 68 such candidates. But out of the 68 candidates only 57 received their degrees in June. Hence almost one-sixth of the senior class failed to graduate when they had planned to.

Of those who graduated in June, 1926, two were girls. Four girls expect to receive their L.L. B. degree this June. They are Miriam L. Barrier of Port Arthur, Lorine F. Brougher of Austin, Frances M. Mayfield of Austin and Marjorie Watson of Austin.

Neil Baker Accepts Big League Contract

Neil Baker, giant Texas Longhorn baseball pitcher and ace of the Southwest Conference pitchers, late Friday accepted an offer to pitch for the Philadelphia Athletics.

Baker has credit for twelve wins in the conference games of this season, breaking the record previously held by eleven wins when he held the Texas Aggies to a four-hit game Friday.

Baker said late last night that he would go to the Athletics the early part of June and that his contract called for a $2,500 bonus for signing. Big league scouts who have been watching Baker say that there is very little doubt about Baker's ability to stick in the major league cub.

Other members of this year's victorious Longhorns have had offers from different major league clubs and are expected to announce their departure for big time teams very soon.

RUSK ELECTS

At the spring term election of officers for the Rusk Literary Society the following officers were elected: H. R. Cozart, president; Jack Bain, vice-president; secretary, Donald Redmond; Bascom Perkins, treasurer; Robert Horne, reporter; and S. Allen Crowley, sergeant at arms.

The election was one of the most spirited held for many moons.

ALECS, PHI GAMMS, CAF, ARE CHAMPS AS SEASON CLOSSES

INDEPENDENT IS CLOSEST RACE

Bowers and Orlo Scramble With Caf; Sigma Chi Is Frat Runner-up

Intramural athletics for the year 1926-27 are over. Engineers, Phi Gamma Delta, and the University Cafeteria are winners in their respective leagues and have been awarded the trophies.

By making a total of 205 points the engineers were far ahead of the rest of the departments and received the Gill Trophy which is given every year to the winner of the departmental league. After losing out in football and basketball the Alecs came back strong and scored enough points in baseball, track, swimming, cross country, wrestling and boxing to win the championship. They took first place in all these sports and made points enough in the other sports to beat the Academics their nearest competitor.

In the fraternity league the race for the trophy was much closer than in the departmental league. First place went to the Phi Gamma Deltas who scored 194 1/2 points for the year, where they took first place in handball, tennis, golf and placed high in the other sports. Sigma Chi with 179 points was second.

In the first year of competition for a trophy the independent league had a very successful season. The Cafeteria, Bowers, and Orlo Terrors fought it out all year with one team never very far ahead of the others. The Cafeteria won the trophy by winning the track meet. The total number of points made during the year by the Cafeteria was 128 with Bowers second with 125 points. The independent league participated in only four sports, basketball, handball, tennis and track, and of these the Cafeteria won handball and track and were runners-up in basketball.

Intramural athletics are divided into three leagues departmental, fraternity, and independent. The departmental league is composed of six teams the Laws, Academics, B. B. A.'s, Pre-Meds, Engineers, and Pre-Laws. This league participated in football, basketball, baseball, handball, track, cross country, boxing, wrestling, swimming, fencing, tennis and golf. The fraternity league is composed of 26 fraternities who compete in the same sports as the departments.

The independent league in composed of boarding houses, dormitories and other establishments around the campus. This year 21 teams took part in the four sports of basketball, handball, tennis, and track.

These teams all compete for the championship of their own league and then play the winners of the other leagues for the All-University championship.

ALL C'NFERE

do. His fielding has na kicks coming to it.

Williamson has the choice for the second team centerfield place since he has shone brilliantly there this season. He came to the front immediately after Schow's departure from the Aggie team. Harry Taylor is the logical man for the other side of the field. His experience and ability ranks among the highest of all the outfield.

Wolfe, TCU, is a very remarkable batter and he can play almost any of the positions as his experience in all the corners, which make him the utility choice. He is by far a better man than he is given credit as his injury has been a hold back which has prevented his real form from coming to light.

Hillman, Ables, and Shelton rank next in order as the best pitchers. Schuenemann is a fighting little back stopper that is hard to beat, as is Allnoch, the Rice maskman.

Morely Jennings has made an able coach and critics are unanimous in giving him the place next to Disch.

AMERICAN'S SELECTION

H. B. (Duby) DuBose, sports editor of the Austin Statesman, placed nineteen men on the all-Southwestern Conference mythical nine. Eight of these are Longhorns, four are Mustangs, and only two are Aggies. The selection is as follows:

Harris, Texas Shortstop
Speer, SMU Center Field
Baumgarten, Texas Right Fielder
Oile, Texas Third Base, Captain
Hopkins, Texas, Second Baseman
Hooks, SMU First Baseman
Allen, Texas Catcher
Allnoch, Rice Catcher
Craig, SMU Catcher
Baker, Texas Pitcher
Carson, TCU Pitcher
Hume, SMU Pitcher

Faculty Committee Works on Affairs in Athletic Department

Working behind closed doors, a committee of three faculty members, headed by Dr. C. W. Ramsdell, will investigate the conditions of the Athletic Council after the Board of Regents turned its affair in the matter over to the faculty to decide. The original committee was composed of Dr. Ramsdell, Dean Ira P. Hildebrand, and Dean T. U. Taylor. But the last two members could not serve and Judge Stayton was appointed in the place of Dean Hildebrand, and Professor E. J. Villavaso will replace Dean Taylor.

The report of the committee will be made to the Board of Regents when it meets next time. If the Regents decide to make the information public, they may do so, but the committee itself can do nothing in regard to the publication of the matter.

OFFER PHYSICAL EDUCATION WORK

Notable Staff Will Give 12 Courses During Summer Session

The University of Texas will offer an extensive program of courses in physical education and athletic coaching during the first term of the coming summer session. Twelve courses will be available.

These courses will be taught by a notable staff including Dr. Leroy A. Wilkes, head of the University Health Service, formerly with the American Child Health Association; Professor David K. Brace of the University, former instructor at Teachers College, Columbia University; Mr. Clyde Littlefield, coach of track, and appointed head football coach at the University of Texas; Billy Disch, baseball coach; Berry Whitaker, instructor in physical education for men and formerly head football coach; Miss Hilda Molesworth, formerly instructor in the University, and now teaching in Washington, D. C., and Miss Josephine Schmid, instructor in physical education for women.

This staff of instructors is easily the best yet gathered by the University for instruction in physical education. The coaching courses for men will be handled by coaches experienced in directing athletics in the South. Coach Disch has just won his fifteenth conference championship in baseball in sixteen starts, and Coach Littlefield his fifth straight championship in track and field sports. Dr. Leroy A. Wilkes will give a course in school and community hygiene which will present the latest practices in health education.

The subjects offered and the instructors who will teach them follow:

School and Community Hygiene—Dr. L. A. Wilkes.

Principles and Program of Modern Physical Education—Prof. D. K. Brace.

Physical Education in the Public Schools—Miss Hilda Molesworth.

Physical Education Methods for Men—Coaching of Baseball—Mr. W. J. Disch. Coaching of Football, Mr.

Berry M. Whitaker. Coaching of Basketball and Track, Mr. Clyde Littlefield.

Training and Conditioning of Athletics—Mr. W. J. Disch.

Physical Education Methods for Men, Theory and Practice—Prof. D. K. Brace.

The Coaching of Athletic Sports for Women—Miss J. Schmid.

Physical Diagnosis—Prof. D. K. Brace.

Physiology of Exercise—Mr. Berry M. Whitaker.

Recreational Leadership—Miss Hilda Molesworth.

The above courses will be credited for the B. S. degree in physical education offered by the University. All of the University facilities for sports will be available for this work, athletic fields, stadium, and gymnasium. A detailed description of courses may be obtained by writing the University Registrar for a catalogue.

Frosh Tracksters Conclude Successful Season; Potential Stars Developed

WIN FROM STRONG SCHREINER TEAM

Coaches McLean and Alderson Develop Good Men for Varsity Squad

By ALEX TERRELL

Last Tuesday evening the first-year track aspirants finished their season with a final afternoon of competition. This ended a Freshman track year that proved to be one of the best in its history. The 1927 track season saw more Yearling Numeral candidates and competition this season among freshmen was hotter and of better quality than has previously been seen. Yearling crew.

The freshman team confined most of its activities during the past season to competition with the varsity aggregation on week-ends. This, according to Littlefield, has a twofold purpose: It permits the freshmen to come into actual contact with the more experienced Varsity tracksters and thereby profit by the advantageous environment. It also gives the tender yearlings the opportunity of learning how to perform under fire.

Beat Schreiner

For the first time in a number of years a crew of frosh tracksters journeyed to Kerrville to meet the Schreiner Institute team and there they conquered the Schreiners by an eleven point margin. The yearlings copped most of the first places and showed up especially well in the dashes, middle distances, and weights. Later in the season when the Kerrville crew was the visiting team in Austin they were defeated by a greater score.

Not a few men on the yearling team have stood out as promising material for future successful varsity teams. There are many of this year's freshmen who should gain a berth on the Longhorn crew next season. In the dashes, Beatty, Crockett and Winthorpe have stood out as promising men. Beatty has a little edge in the century and Crockett leads in the two-twenty.

Good Material

Coach Littlefield should have a wealth of quarter-mile material next year promoted from the freshmen. Terrell, captain of this year's team, has shown up exceptionally well during the past season and with him comes Harris, Dickerson and Curtis. Maurice White, interscholastic record holder, is in a class by himself on the half-mile. Other nice half-milers are Giffin and Meadows. In the distances comes Roper, a first rate freshman cross-country man, and Sample, and Cunningham, Duncan, Mondrick, and Eckhart are to be mentioned as first year hurdlers.

The freshmen are equally strong in their field events. As high jumpers, Marsh, Charlie Ghoulson, and Ayers showed up well. Reeds and Presser were best among the broad jumpers and in the javelin event Galoway is the principal figure. There were many worthy weight men among the freshmen, but Dreibelbis is the outstanding man with some good marks made in both the shot and the discus. However, Oaks, Boyer, and Olds are worthy of mention. Wolf, a first year man from Rice, is an excellent pole vaulter, and has some exceptiona leaps to his record. The Freshman mile relay team composed of Harris, Dickerson, and Curtis, with John Terrell as a most capable anchor man, made a nice showing during the season.

Credit to McLean

Much credit for the success of the yearling team belongs to freshman coach Ray McLean and assistant varsity coach Alderson, as well as to Clyde Littlefield, who devoted much spare time to the freshmen. Littlefield believes that a strong freshman squad is necessary for successful Varsity teams, for he says, "They are my men for the following three years, so why not start training them right from the start." This system has worked well as the past five conference championships for the Longhorns indicate.

Miller To Teach at Virginia U.

Dr. E. T. Miller, head of the Department of Economics and member of the State Tax Commission, will teach at the University of Virginia during the second session of summer school. This work will not interfere with any of his present duties.

THARP WILL SPEND SUMMER IN STUDY OF TEXAS FLORA

Continuing his work of mapping and analyzing the vegetation of the state of Texas, Dr. B. C. Tharp of the Botany department will do field work this summer in several sections of the state. For several summers he has been studying and cataloguing the Texas flora through the co-operation of the University and the Carnegie Foundation.

This summer Dr. Tharp will visit for the first time Padre Island, the long strip of land off the coast of Texas from near Corpus Christi to Mexico. There is some similarity between this semi-tropical island and Florida, with the main difference that Florida is humid while Padre Island has only a slight rainfall. A comparison of the flora of the two localities will be interesting because of this difference. While in South Texas Dr. Tharp probably will also visit Green Island.

Other sections which Dr. Tharp plans to visit this summer are the Pecos region, especially west of the river, and the Red River region. He will touch a number of other places in his tour. Last summer Dr. Tharp was accompanied by two advanced students, Aobert Cuyler and Edwin Bogusch, but he has not yet completed plans for this summer.

Dr. Tharp's work in studying vegetation is principally geological, the relation of the plant to its environment. The plants in the various localities are examined and classified, and their local social standing determined.

Only a few sections of the United States receive the co-operation of the Carnegie Institution along this line, Dr. Tharp said. It happens that Texas is a sort of transition territory, changing rapidly from the pine woods and associates of East Texas, through the oaks and their associates and the prairies, to the desert of West Texas. This makes Texas highly suited to a study of plant-environmental relationships. Dr. Tharp is widely known as an authority on Texas flora, and his reports are being made available through the Carnegie Institution.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT FOR SUMMER STUDENTS

Entertainment plans for the summer school students are about complete and a tentative program has been worked out. Work is now being done on the outdoor theatre which will be the meeting place for the students and at which many of the activities planned will be held.

This theatre has for the past ten years been located between the Main Building and 21st street but this year it is being built between the Law Building and Garrison Hall because of the advantages of the location. Special mechanical devices for giving motion pictures and for lighting effects were included in the building plans.

An evening play hour every Monday evening from 7 to 8 o'clock is one of the features of the summer school entertainment program. All students who wish to engage in playing old-time games will be given an opportunity to do so. The object is threefold: to afford an hour of healthful recreation; to foster an esprit de corps; and to stimulate an interest in forms of sport and play having health and educational value. These games will be under the direction of trained supervisors. The playground will be located on the Twin Oaks playground just north of the woman's gymnasium on Guadalupe and the play hour will be for both men and women.

Five band concerts will be given by the Longhorn band under the direction of Burnett Pharr and the All University dances will be held at the Woman's Gym each Saturday night from 9 to 12 beginning Saturday, June 11 and closing Saturday, July 16.

On June 9th a reception will be given south of the Main Building honoring the faculty and students of the first term of the summer session. On June 21 a Scandinavian program will be given as one of a series of Folk-night programs to be given during the term.

Numbers of lectures by prominent members of the faculty have been scheduled as a part of the program. Numerous tours and excursions to places of interest in and about Austin have been arranged. Among them the State capitol, Elizabeth Ney Studio and the French Embassy.

The outstanding feature will be the third annual fourth of July celebration given by the University. A $1500 display of fireworks will be given on that night. This will include 22 set pieces and 214 other firework pieces and an operator to handle them.

Summer School Will Offer 12 Courses in Physical Education

There will be 12 courses in physical education, covering practically all phases of both theory and practice of sports, offered during the first term of summer school.

The courses will be given by Dr. D. K. Brace, professor of physical education; Miss Hilda Molesworth, a former instructor in the University but now a teacher in the schools of Washington, D. C.; Berry Whitaker, director of intramural athletics; W. J. (Billy) Disch, baseball coach; and Clyde Littlefield, track coach. These courses are arranged for credit toward a bachelor of science degree in physical education.

Summer School Opens June 8, Large Number Expected To Enrol

Registration for the first term of the summer school is scheduled for Wednesday, June 8. Bulletins issued by the registrar of the main University have been mailed to prospective students and distributed among the student body. An unusually large enrollment is anticipated because of the adoption of the semester system next September, which makes it necessary for students to complete stray fractional courses under the present system.

July 20 will be the last day of the first term and it will also be the first day of the second term. Classes of the second term will be concluded on August 31, at which time degrees will be conferred upon the candidates who have completed their work.

Dr. Frederick Eby is general director of the summer session and Dr. D. A. Penick is his assistant. Dr. Penick will have charge of the second term. Dr. G. W. Cunningham and H. W. Harper will divide the duties of dean of the graduate school, Dr. Harper being in charge of the second term and Dr. Cunningham the first. Musical organizations will be directed and supervised by David Griffin. Practically no other changes will be made in the present administrative system for the short period.

Courses will be offered in every branch and department of the University, including the School of Law and the School of Engineering. The courses to be had are varied and almost the same as those given during the regular session.

Student activities will be encouraged, and every effort will be made to provide adequate social entertainment. Literary societies have been asked to co-operate by remaining active during the summer, and public debates and lectures have been arranged. There will be Glee Club organizations that will give frequent concerts. Numerous pleasure resorts in the environs of Austin will provide ample means of entertainment. A mammoth Fourth of July celebration has become an annual affair. The Department of Extension will give a free picture show weekly in the outdoor theatre that is now under construction on the slope north of the Law Building. Athletic fields and tennis courts will be open for both men and women.

The calendar for the two terms is as follows:

- June 8, Registration for the first term.
- June 9, Classes begin.
- June 11, Last day for adding courses.
- June 15, Last day for registration for term.
- July 4, Independence Day.
- July 12, Postponed, advance standing, and condition exams.
- July 18-20, Examinations for first term.
- July 20, Registration for second term.
- July 21, Classes begin.
- July 23, Last day for adding courses.
- July 26, Last day for registration for term.
- August 1, Last day for making application for degrees.
- August 10, major exams.
- August 29-31, Examinations for second term.
- August 31, Commencement.

Mrs. Neil Carothers Is Honored by Local Chapter of D.A.R.

At the annual picnic given by the Andrew Carothers Chapter of the D. A. R. last Tuesday in honor of the senior members of the chapter, a signal honor was conferred on the founder, Mrs. Neil Carothers. A chair was bought in Constitution Hall, a new two million dollar building being erected by the National Daughters of the American Revolution. In the auditorium are chairs which may be bought by chapters in honor of individuals, whose names are placed on plates on the chairs. The money so obtained is used to help pay for the building. Contributions to the chair presented to Mrs. Carothers include former as well as present members of the chapter.

Mrs. Carothers is the founder of the Andrew Carothers chapter started in 1909, which was the first D. A. R. chapter in America organized exclusively of university girls and ex-students. Through her efforts and contributions of friends in the state, the D. A. R. scholarship of $5,000 for University girls was established. Girls winning the scholarship each year are given the interest on the original sum and a scholarship room in the Woman's Building.

THE RETURN VOYAGE

JUST 435 years after Columbus discovered the Western World, the return voyage was made by a young man who is known officially as Captain Lindbergh, flight commander in the 110 observation squadron, Missouri guard air unit of St. Louis, and chief pilot on the St. Louis-Chicago air mail route.

Many true observations will be drawn from the fact that the Italian mariner was three months at sea on the westward voyage, while the American birdman headed east into the gloom of the Atlantic late one day and raised the coast of France before dusk of the day following. Those who interpret progress in terms of speed are furnished with a congenial theme. But perhaps a greater significance lies in the manner by which these two heroes were awarded. One was promised the title of Admiral of the Indies and a tenth of all the revenues that should come from the lands he discovered. The other risked his venture into the unknown for a cash prize and for the renown which comes to a man who takes a sporting chance in establishing a new record.

The Wise Men of Spain expressed grave doubts as to the orthodoxy and sanity of Columbus. Official opinion condemned Captain Lindbergh's venture as suicidal. But mechanical experts knew that his motor was equal to the task of a 3600 mile flight if the weather favored. Nevertheless, when the NX-211 turned from the bleak headlands of Newfoundland to wing its way through the dark night across the Atlantic, it was driven by the intrepid spirit of a man.

F. C. Stewart Resigns to Take Position at Georgia Tech

Frederick C. Stewart of the Mechanical Engineering Department of the University, has announced that he would not return to the University next year. Stewart has accepted a position as assistant professor of Experimental Engineering at the Georgia School of Technology, at Atlanta, for the coming year. His work will consist of teaching experimental engineering and at the same time carrying on research work.

Stewart graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 1923 and acted as resident engineer at Albion College for two years. During these two years, he supervised the construction of three large college buildings, and designed and built a central steam heating plant and distribution system.

Dean T. U. Taylor states: "During the past two years, Stewart has been at the University of Texas where he has made a great many friends among the faculty, town people and students. The University will regret the leaving of Mr. Stewart, but all will wish him the very best of success in his new work."

When commenting upon his leaving, Stewart said, "I regret leaving the University of Texas very much because of my associations. Austin is truly a 'Friendly City', and the students at the University of Texas are a fine bunch and are to be complimented upon their good work done at this institution."

Mr. Stewart plans to leave shortly after commencement and will assume his new duties in the fall of this year.

GEOLOGY BUREAU ISSUES BULLETINS

Director Estimates $10,000 Needed to Publish Information Now on Hand

During the present week the Bureau of Economic Geology will issue an advance chapter from a bulletin now in manuscript on the Fort Stockton Quadrangle. This advance chapter will contain well records and descriptions of rock samples from oil and gas wells in Pecos County. Since the publication of the manuscript will be delayed somewhat, the descriptions are issued in advance in order to make them at once available to those engaged in developments in this county.

The Bureau of Economic Geology at the present time has eight bulletins in manuscript and will have several additional publications completed during the next fiscal year. The associate director of the bureau estimates that $10,000 will be required to publish these manuscripts in the form to make them most useful to mineral developments in the State.

We pay one-half price cash for all second-hand books that will be used here again.

Hancock To Feature Leo Tolstoy Drama

Leo Tolstoy's classic novel, "Resurrection," which comes in its picturization to the Hancock Theater tomorrow, is a flesh-and-blood drama of love, sacred and profane, of sin and sorrow, degradation and exaltation. It has been presented on the stages of fourteen countries in over eleven different languages. The universal story and intensely dramatic situations are what Hollywood sophisticates call "ready made cinema."

The star of the picture is Rod La Rocque and the featured player is Dolores Del Rio. Edwin Carewe directed the United Artists release of this feature.

The dramatic situations include leave-takings, betrayals, interrupted courtships, court room scenes with the Prince sitting on a jury trying the woman he has seduced, the tramp to Siberia, prison scenes, the eviction of the peasant girl by the aunts of the Prince who have caused her downfall.

The gamut of emotions traversed by the principals of Tolstoy's novel are once again spanned in the film.

Occupying the comedy portion of the Hancock program is Mabel Normand in "Anything Once." As the little slavey in a pressing establishment, she gets around to signing a contract whereby she agrees to marry a real, flesh-and-blood Prince.

"The Tender Hour" at Midnite Matinee

Roman soldiers, Egyptian dancing girls, Nubian slaves, a cruel centurion, a captive princess and a dashing hero—all have been disporting themselves about First National's Burbank studios.

They take part in the spectacular pageant scenes filmed as the pictorial climax of George Fitzmaurice's production, "The Tender Hour," which opens tonight at the Majestic Theatre as the green feature of the midnite matinee with Billie Dove and Ben Lyon playing the featured roles.

The pageant is a highlight of a brilliant social event. The drama is found in the theme of the play within a play, the leading man in the pageant being in reality the lover of the heroine in whose honor the event is being staged.

Concluding the Majestic's offering for the week will be George K. Arthur's successful new comedy, "Rookies," which will have its first showings on Thursday.

ANNUAL REUNION OF EXES HELD AT END OF SESSION

Headquarters of Meeting Will Be at University
Y.M.C.A.

LUNCHEON AT CAF

Special Service Will Be Held at All Churches in Neighborhood

The annual meeting of the Ex-Students' Association, and the quinquennial reunions of the classes of 1887, 1892, 1897, 1902, 1907, 1912, and 1922, will be held June 4, 5, and 6, according to John Anderson McCurdy, secretary of the Ex-Students' Association. The Y. M. C. A. has been named as reunion headquarters.

An informal get-together will begin the reunion; and will act as an opportunity for the old students to meet one another, find out who's there, and hear news of their old classmates. This will be held at the Y. M. C. A. Saturday from 9 to 11 a. m.

The annual business meeting will be held that same day from 11 till 1 a. m. At this time the association will elect officers and council members for the year 1927-28. Hon. Tom Conally, of Marlin, Tex., will at that time deliver the alumni oration. The secretary, and the president, will make his annual report.

Following the meeting will be an alumni luncheon at University Commons. This will be a "Dutch Treat" luncheon and many people are expected to attend.

Barbecue

At 6 p. m. of the same day, there will be a barbecue for all ex-students, faculty members and seniors. This will be held on the University campus. The honor guests will be the faculty members who have been on the campus for 25 years or more. The seniors will be introduced as the future members of the association.

There will be special services in all of the University churches Sunday, June 5. At that time, the Baccalaureate service will be preached at the Stadium. The sermon will be preached by Dr. H. O. Prichard, of Indianapolis, who is General Secretary of the Board of Education of the Christian Church.

The association will be in a body to the commencement exercises which will be held at 8 p. m. Monday at the Stadium.

Looks At Good Books

RIESENBERG TURNS FROM THE SEA TO THE CITY

"East Side, West Side, all around the town—"

So begins the song which made Jimmy Walker, mayor of New York. Felix Riesenbergs, author of Under Sail and Vignettes of the Sea, has made the East Side, West Side the title of his latest book. He has made the city of New York the background, the foreground, and the surroundings of his story.

Of New York one of the characters in the book says: "This city is like a magnet attracting, always more and more, becoming more powerful with growth in size. Adventure attends the movement of people through a constantly differing and ever new element of man. Growth is the result of laws that stimulate unhealthy growth. The city is a cancer of clotted, unrelated men."

Concerning a gigantic city, the book has been written by a man who knows every part of it, from the Ghetto to Washington Heights. Not only is he familiar with the city, but he must have lived with its inhabitants. The picture of the sweatshop proprietor in the East Side, of Pat Malone of the Bowery, of Gilbert Van Horn of Washington Square are too vital and too graphic to have come from the pen of a man who was drawing up his imagination to supply the details of his pictures.

Riesenbergs' descriptions alone make the book worthwhile. Aside from the description, there runs through the story a romantic epic of a boy's climb to fame and fortune from the bottom of the ladder, which makes of the whole a book readable to the extreme. The boy is an illegitimate son of Gilbert Van Horn and begins life on a tug-boat to which his mother has flown immediately after his birth. He is illiterate until he reaches the age of sixteen. He is named John Breen after his foster father, and discovers his real father only a short time before Van Horn goes down with the Titanic. Van Horn has aided the boy to secure an education, and Breen becomes a municipal engineer. His life is filled with love and work. Eventually his work becomes his only mistress, and here the book ends.

A chapter interlude called "1919-1929" is one of the most amazing pieces of description ever written. It is divided into sections of indictment, acclamation, apology and admiration. The following paragraph is but a sample of the whole.

"City of the imagination, of the admiration of the world. City spurning precedent, ruthlessly tearing down and destroying puny reminiscences a few years before their time, city building till geologic time sounds its alarm."

This, then, is the New York of Felix Riesenbergs. The story—the romance of the boy John Breen. The background—New York—the New York of the tenements, the Ghetto, Tammany Bowery, Fifth Avenue to Harlem, Morningside, and Washington Heights. A book to read and to remember.

EAST SIDE, WEST SIDE. By Felix Riesenbergs. New York: Harcourt, Brace & Co. 458 pp. $2.50.

University Bureau Supplies Information About Texas Resources

A copy of the revised potash law passed by the Congress of the United States has been received at the University. The original potash law placed the burden of cost of exploration for potash on the owner of the land. The revised law modifies this provision and provides in substance that the cost of exploration shall be repaid by the government through a royalty amounting to two and one-half per cent of the sale value of the potash minerals, or of the oil produced from the land.

It is provided, however, that all federal claims against the land shall automatically expire whether paid or unpaid at the end of 20 years from the date of the contract with the land owner. In other words, if neither potash nor oil is found and produced as a result of drilling, no cost will be assessed against the land owner, and in any case the land title becomes clear at the end of a 20-year period.

Bureau of Economic Geology Classifies the Sands of Texas

The sands in Texas are used to an amount approximating three and one-half million dollars per year, according to the Bureau of Economic Geology. These sands find a variety of uses, the most common being for concrete and mortar; also for glass manufacture, being shipped for that purpose to Monterrey, Mexico. Another use is for moulding sand. At the present time there are 50 or more foundries in the state using moulding sand.

These may be classified as foundries for general works; foundries making chiefly light castings, aluminum and brass work; and foundries making chiefly heavy castings steel work.

The kind of sands required differs with the purpose for which they are used. At the present time tests are being made by the Bureau of Economic Geology of various sands such as may be used for moulding sand purposes. The results of these tests when obtained will be supplied to the users of moulding sand.

HANDMAN IN NEW YORK

Dr. Max Handman, professor of Economics and Sociology, will teach in Syracuse University at Syracuse, N. Y., this summer. He will give courses in his field at both sessions of the summer school at that place. He will resume his post in the University next year.

BOYSEN IN SUMMER SCHOOL

Dr. J. L. Boyesen of the Germanic Languages department, is to teach the first term of the summer school session of the University. The second term will be spent in vacation, fishing and boating in the Lakes Region. Dr. Boyesen says he will return to Austin in the fall.

EDITORS OF LAW REVIEW HONORED

Prizes for Year's Work Presented at Banquet by Law Faculty

Rounding out another year's work of the student board of editors of the Texas Law Review, honors for the 1926-27 session were announced at a dinner given by the faculty of the Law School in honor of the present board. Tom Martin Davis of Austin will succeed Henry Grun of Yorktown as chairman of the student editors during 1927-27.

For quantity and quality of work done on the Review this year, the first prize, a set of Vernon's Annotated Statutes, valued at $150, was awarded to Roy McDonald of Austin. The second prize of $100 cash awarded for the best individual editorial comment was given by Lloyd Kerr, whose comment, "Liability of Trust Estates," will appear in the June issue of the publication.

Grun, chairman of the student editorial board this year, was presented a brief case by his staff members. Faculty members of the Law School generously praised the improvement this year in the work of the student editors.

Noted Instructors Teach During Summer

Among the well known professors who will teach in the Foreign Language Department during the summer session are Professor Morand of Rice Institute, Professor Dale of Cornell University, and Professor Van Horn of University of Illinois. Professor Morand, who taught here during the first term of the 1926 summer session, previously taught at the University of Toronto. He will teach French this summer.

Professor Dale, who ranks high in the graduate school of Cornell University, and Professor Van Horn, who is the author of several text-books, will teach Spanish.

Varsity's Memorable Athletes in "Hall of Fame"

Athletic History is Traced by Pictures in University Gym

By DUNCAN McRAE

A pictorial history of University athletics, made possible by the generosity of H. J. Litcher Stark, hangs on the walls of the Men's Gymnasium. Occupying a conspicuous position in the hall, these pictures trace athletics in the University of Texas from the earliest teams in 1894 down to the present.

Letter men, coaches, assistants and managers of the different sports all have their little niche in this, Varsity's own Hall of Fame. This group of 272 pictures represents a work started in 1914 by L. Theo. Bellmont, athletic director, sponsored by H. J. L. Stark, chairman of the University Board of Regents. At this time the University did not possess a single picture of its athletes. Letters were sent to "T" men asking their aid in making this collection possible, and response was quickly made. Many of the pictures were obtained from reproductions made from photographs in the Cactus.

With the pictures in the possession of the collector, it was no little task to determine the names of the individual athletes of past years. However, after a great deal of inquiring had been done the names and pictures were complete.

No Women Allowed

As far as is known, there has never been a woman student that has seen this collection, as it is in the inner confines of that sanctum sanctorum, the men's gymnasium. Until it is moved, if ever, there will probably be no feminine eyes satiate their curiosity by gazing on this remarkable set of pictures.

In all there are 144 group pictures and 128 individual pictures. The collection represents the likeness of approximately 2,288 varsity gridsters, tracksters, basket ballers, and other athletes. Several freshmen and Shorthorn teams are shown but this collection is incomplete. There are 110 pictures of one-letter men and two-letter men in this pictorial history. Another group is reserved for the few athletes who have lettered in three sports. Oile and Stallter are the only ones in school now who have that honor.

12 Girls Qualify for Teams in Co-ed Rifle Club Contests

Bertha Black of Navasota, president of the Girls' Rifle Club, has announced the girls of the club who received enough points to be placed on first and second teams.

On the group of those qualifying for first team are Mary Anna Curd of El Paso, Carol Eis of Austin, Madeline Hatfield of Houston, Gladys Clausewitz of San Antonio, Alice Miller of Sinton, Rose McNallie of McAllen, Bertha Black of Navasota, Helen McLane of Natalia, Golda Russell of Dallas, Ruby Lee Vinson of San Angelo, and Floy Wooley of Austin.

Elizabeth Williams of Bonham qualified for the second team.

Fifteen of the young women received club credit but several of them belonged to the club only for the spring term and in that way were not qualified.

McGINNIS LEAVES

Dr. E. K. McGinnis, professor of business administration, has been granted a year's leave of absence from his duties here to become a member of the faculty of the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Dr. McGinnis will be on the faculty of the law school there.

amine this miniature Hall of Fame cast longing eyes at the spaces yet to be filled. Who knows but that those same vacant spaces have inspired many a man to go out and fight to uphold the traditions that these veterans have set. New men, in years to come, will look at these pictures and be proud of the traditions established by athletic victors of today.

SENIOR BANQUET GIVEN BY Y.W.C.A.

Covers for Programs Designed by Professor Gideon of Architecture Dept.

The annual senior banquet given by the Y.W.C.A. was held Friday at the University Commons. This banquet is given each year for the graduating girls of the University. The color scheme of blue and white was carried out in the decorations and also in the programs for the occasion. S. E. Gideon, associate professor of architecture in the University, who has become known throughout the State for his bluebonnet pictures, kindly gave his permission to use reproductions of his bluebonnet pictures on the covers of the programs of the banquet.

The program consisted of short talks given by the girls of the University. The toasts concerning the future of the graduating members were given by Helen Hamilton of Amarillo, Mary M. Taylor of Dallas, Mary Walker of Cleburne, Emma Abbie McDonald of Cleburne, Mohling Ma of Shantung, China, Elsie Townes of Houston, Virginia Cate of Austin, Grace Oldfather of Cleburne, Margaret Colston of Hollywood, Calif., Dorothy Holmes of Seguin, Laurie Brown of Cleburne, and Florence Spencer of Beaumont.

University Receives Copy of New Potash Law From Congress

The development of the Texas resources at the present time is in an inquiry and exploratory stage. The Bureau of Economic Geology maintains as one branch of its work an information department, and as an index to the demand for information and the kind of information desired, there is given the following analysis of one day's mail in this Bureau, that of April 6, 1927.

The information sent out from the Bureau on this day through letters, telephone calls and personal visits was distributed as follows: To 19 counties in Texas, the number of requests per county varying from one to four; to four states outside of Texas, namely Oklahoma, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Missouri.

The principal subjects to which the inquiries relate were bentonite, petroleum, potash, water supplies, identification of fossils, and identification of well cores. The number of bulletins mailed from the department on this date in answer to inquiries and otherwise was 150.

CAMPBELL WILL STUDY

Dr. Killis Campbell, professor of English, will spend the greater part of the summer in Austin studying, although he will not teach. He expects to spend some time in Galveston, and probably will visit in Virginia.
