FRESHMAN TEAM WILL MAKE TOUR PLAYING PREPS

Coach Ettlinger Is Arranging for Basketball Games at Dallas, Ft.
Worth, Marlin, and Waco.

A trip for the Freshman basketball team, embracing Fort Worth, Waco, Dallas, and probably several other North Texas towns, is being arranged for by Coach Ettlinger. Letters have been written to Hardin School for Boys, Alington School for Boys; Oak Cliff High School at Dallas, North and South Side High Schools of Fort Worth, Terrell School for Boys at Dallas, Marlin High School, and Waco High School. Already answer has been received from Terrell School, saying that they will play the Freshmen in Dallas, provided that a return game in Austin will be given them. These conditions are satisfactory to the Athletic Council, and dates for the games will be arranged as soon as answers are received from the other schools.

At present Coach Ettlinger is busy getting his first-year men into shape for their next game with Austin High School, which will be a preliminary for the Baylor-Texas game next Monday night. The last game with Austin High School resulted in a 20 to 15 victory for the yearlings, but since that date several changes have been made in the High School line-up, and a closer contest is expected Monday.

BUTTE MAKES TALK

Graduating Address Made to Austin
High School Class By Law Professor—Thirty-Three Graduate.

Professor George C. Butte of the Law faculty delivered the graduating address to the thirty-three boys and girls receiving their diplomas from Austin High School yesterday.

Dr. Butte took for the theme of his address the duties of the graduates to their fellowmen, especially their fellow inhabitants of Austin. The speaker showed wherein the services of thinking men and women are needed to meet the many problems of our nation, especially the menace of socialism, the ultra-feminist attack on the home, the struggle between science and religion, and commercialism. But the speaker said that the immediate problems for the people of Austin to solve is the moving picture problem, the domestic servant problem, and the care for the poor.

The professor made an earnest appeal to the girls to relieve the inefficient service of the immigrants who are doing the work in the homes. And he exhorted them to make the best use of the ballot which was surely to be given them in the near future.

Dan Cupid's Dart Pierces "B" Hall

"B" Hall is yet destined to become famous, or, according to the ideas of the original inhabitants, "go to the bad." This time one of the never-failing arrows of one Daniel Cupid has pierced the walls of the first floor, and landed safely in the heart of an inmate.

Besides the horrifying war scare news, both of the city papers yesterday carried the startling information that a gentleman bearing the cognomen of one of the boys living a story above the Geology and Government offices had journeyed to the County Clerk's office and obtained a paper that "is known in common parlance" to cost the sum of one dollar and seventy-five cents, and it was not a poll tax receipt, either.

The boys of the hall gathered last evening and bestowed upon the lucky victim their congratulations, and all adjourned to patiently await the announcement of further developments, which it is hoped some one of ministerial calling will furnish the reporters.

COPY OF CACTUS WILL BE REWARD

Contestant Who Sells Greatest Number of Cactus Cards Will Get Space in 1917 Cactus.

A contest in Cactus sales will begin today, according to Business Manager R. C. White. The contestant who sells the greatest number of Cactus cards will be given a de Luxe copy of the 1917 Cactus and have his photograph in the annual.

According to Mr. White, the contest will be a lively race, since the 500 mark will soon be reached. Sales have been better the last day or two than ever before. About sixty cards were sold Thursday. Regular boxes are stationed at the Law, Engineering, and Main Buildings, but the contestants will encounter prospective purchasers on the campus today, and, probably, several days next week.

The manager states that he is ever in a receptive mood toward all clubs that have pictures for the Cactus, and who are ready to pay up. These pictures will be taken off next week to be entered in the annual.

JUNIORS DEFEAT FRESHMAN CO-EDS

Game Is Won By Close Score of 24
to 20—Seniors and Freshmen Game Postponed.

The Juniors defeated the Sophomores last night in the third game of the co-ed basketball series by a close score of 24 to 20. It was an evenly matched game, and both sides did some of their best playing for this season. Annie Louise Stayton, as forward, and Marie Lovelace, playing guard for the Juniors, may be mentioned as stellar players for their quintette. The Sophomores featured by their consistent team work with no outstanding stars.

The eagerly awaited Senior-Freshman game was postponed on account of the illness of one or two of the players. This is the game that will determine who will win the coveted cup awarded to the leading team in the race. The Seniors have won it for three consecutive years, and if they are successful in the game with the first-year girls the first of next week the cup will become their permanent property.

The line-up for the game last night was as follows:

Juniors—	Sophomores—
Annie Louise Stayton	Stella Warren
Jewel Boothe	Juliette Miller
Forwards.
Mrie Lovelace	Ruth Reeder
Bula Whitehouse	Sleda Shaller
Guards.
Edna Lovette	George Hume
Center.

Substitutes: Juniors, Gillespie for Lovette; Seniors, Molesworth for Hume.

Referee, Miss Alice Lovelace.

The standing of the teams is as follows:

Teams—	W.	L.	Pct.
Seniors	2	0	1000
Freshmen	2	0	1000
Juniors	1	2	.333
Sophs	0	3	.000

LAWS DEFEAT JUNIORS.

The Laws defeated the Junior Academics yesterday in a fast basketball game by the score of 28 to 14. The Juniors started, and like a house afire Miller, forward, shooting three goals before the Laws woke up. However, the advent of Frank Martin on the Law team turned the tide of battle, and from this on the Laws had it all their way. For the Juniors, Miller did the most consistent work, while Yaeger starred for the Laws.

T. C. U. CLUB AT BIBLE CHAIR.

The Texas Christian University Glee Club will sing at the Texas Bible Chair Sunday morning at 9:45. This club will render a program this evening at the First Christian Church. No admittance will be charged Sunday morning.

SCHEDULE IS OUT FOR INTER-CLASS HANDBALL GAMES

Contest in Novel Sport to Begin Monday Week—To Count on D. A.
Frank Trophy.

The inter-class handball contest, to count towards the D. A. Frank trophy, will start Monday, February 12, and extend through Saturday, the 17th. The schedule is as follows: Monday, 12, Seniors; Tuesday, 13, Engineers; Wednesday, 14, Laws; Thursday, 15, Juniors; Friday, 16, Sophomores; Saturday, 17, Freshmen. In these contests the members of each class will compete among themselves, and by the elimination process a single representative will be chosen to compete in the finals, which will be held the following week. The regulation handball will be used, instead of a tennis ball. For information concerning rules, the various competitors may see the managers, who have formulated a set of ground rules. Besides the points that will count towards the winning of the trophy, the winner will receive an unqualified "T." The games, in both the preliminary and the final, will consist of the best two out of three.

Entries must be in at least one day before the game. Anyone who wishes to enter may see Mr. Whittaker or his respective managers. The managers are as follows: Laws, Frank Martin; Engineers, James Wyse; Seniors, Henry Bufkin; Juniors, John Goforth; Sophomores, M. C. Miller; Freshmen, M. McIntire.

Since the Freshmen, Juniors, and Seniors have a tie standing on the inter-class calendar, and since the Sophomores and Engineers are likewise tied, but only a few points behind the Laws, who are leading, the handball contest promises to be a perceptible shake-up in the class standing. The games will be played in the gymnasium.

As a preliminary to the Texas-Baylor basketball game in the new gymnasium Monday night, the Sophomores and Freshmen will clash in a class game.

HITS SUNDAY MOVIE

J. Frank Norris of Ft. Worth Speaks to Legislators and Visitors on Local Option Shows.

Upon invitation, Rev. J. Frank Norris, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Ft. Worth, addressed the legislators and citizens of Austin on the evils of the Parks bill now pending before the House giving cities of over 5000 population local option to permit moving picture shows on Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Norris, it will be remembered, was heard to speak on this same subject by many students two years ago. The galleries were filled last night, many of whom being students of the University interested in this bill. He used as his principle argument the fact that the liquor and musicians' unions were pushing this bill, and that this form of local option is undemocratic in that it gives some cities a right that others do not have, and would tend to ancient city-state government methods.

In refuting the educational and uplifting features of the Sunday movies, the speaker said: "In this day of commercializing woman's sacred form, we should not seek to throw the door wide open, but to put the lid on airtight." He then cited several cases of crime that were outgrowths of ideas gotten from the screen.

SHACKS IMPRESS DR. GOODNOW.

Dr. Goodnow, president of Johns Hopkins University, spoke very favorably of our "shack" system, after being shown over the campus. He expressed himself as being more than pleased with the way Texas had met and overcome a difficult situation. Especially was he well pleased with the arrangement of "K" Hall. And he even went so far as to state that he intended to have some "shacks" built at Johns Hopkins when he returned.

FORMAL LAYING OF CORNER-STONE THURSDAY, FEB. 15

Ferguson, Vinson, Doughty, Cook,
Sutton, and Others Will Speak
During the Ceremonies.

The formal laying of the corner-stone of the Education Building will take place Thursday, February 15, 1917, at 3 p. m. This is expected to be one of the "big" events of this school year of 1916-17. Prominent men of the Board of Regents and the faculty and of the State government will speak. This will be the first time the University has witnessed the laying of the corner-stone for a permanent building in five years.

The program arranged to accompany the laying of the stone follows: Hon. Fred W. Cook, chairman of the Board of Regents, presiding.

Rev. William Hall Williams, M. A., rector of All Saints' Chapel, invocation.

Prof. William Seneca Sutton, L. L. D., dean of the Department of Education, address.

Hon. W. F. Doughty, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, address.

Mr. David Harrell, address.

Hon. F. O. Fuller, speaker of the House of Representatives, address.

Laying of the corner-stone by Frank C. Jones grand master of the M. W. Grand Lodge A. F. & A. M., assisted by Hill City Lodge, No. 456, and Austin Lodge, No. 12.

His excellency, Hon. James E. Ferguson, Governor of the State, address.

President Robert E. Vinson, D. D., the University of Texas, address.

FROSH PRESIDENT PICKS CHAIRMEN

Freshman Reception Arrangements
Begun in Earnest—President Expects to Lead Grand March.

Freshman society took a definite form yesterday afternoon, when President Greer called members of his class together to perfect plans for the annual Freshman reception to be held February 22.

Greer chose the following chairmen of committees: Refreshment, Dorothy McKnight; floor committee, Dora Witherspoon; music, Randolph Allen; decoration, Virginia Allen. These will complete the plans. Billie Race was appointed to serve as sergeant-at-arms at the reception. It is not known just what his official capacity will be, but it is rumored that since the president enjoys the privilege of rooming at "B" Hall, that the denizens of that place will assume care over the gentleman who is scheduled to lead the grand march at K. C. Hall on the night of February 22.

STEPHENVILLE MAY GET A. & M.

The committee of the House of Representatives, which was selected to investigate the offer of John Tarleton College of Stephenville for the location of the West Texas A. & M. College, made a favorable report yesterday to the House. They ask that the offer be accepted. Senator Woodward, who lives at Stephenville, accompanied the committee to Stephenville the first of this week for the investigation.

The citizens of Stephenville and Erath County have swelled the fund that the Tarleton College offered as an inducement for the location of the newly created State school. More than $100,000 is offered.

A CORRECTION.

The Texan erred in the statement yesterday morning that the Zeta Tau Alpha House is under a strict quarantine, and that three of the girls are confined at the house with diptheria. According to Dr. Gilbert, the University physician, there is not a case at the Zeta House, and no quarantine has been placed over the house. SILAS RAGSDALE.

CARLSON SPEAKS MONDAY EVENING

University of Chicago Zoology Prof.
Will Deliver Lecture on the Causes of Hunger.

Dr. A. J. Carlson of the University of Chicago will lecture Monday, February 5, at "Y" Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock on the "Causes of Hunger."

The physiological conditions underlying this common sensation have been investigated for some years by Dr. Carlson on animals, on himself, and especially on a human subject with a stomach fistula, or direct external "window" into the stomach.

Dr. Carlson's work on the stomach and the heart has won for him the recognition of the medical profession, for he has been for some years chairman of the Physiology section of the American Medical Association. Dr. Carlson will illustrate his lecture with lantern slides descriptive of the experiments by which he made his discoveries.

ENGINEER CLASS VISITS VINSON

President Will Wear Junior Class
Togs as Honor Guest at Banquet Feb. 21.

Eclipsing all former stunts, the Junior Engineers yesterday morning formally invited President Vinson to be the honor guest of the class at the annual Engineers' banquet, which will take place at the Driskill Hotel on the evening of February 21.

Headed by L. M. Krausse, the president of the class, the "1918 T-square class" members formed a procession and marched in double file from the Engineering Building to "Prexy's" office. At the head of the procession, a wheelbarrow, piloted by Percy R. Winch, conveyed a blue shirt and a red and orange "T. E. '18" tie to the president.

On arrival at the president's office, the followers of Alec gave fifteen for "Prexy" and gave the "1918 Engineers" yell. President Vinson received the crowd in a gracious and amiable manner.

In a fitting talk, Mr. Krausse presented Dr. Vinson with ticket No. 1, and added that, according to a ruling of the class, no one was allowed to sit at the festal table unless attired in the proper garb. Mr. Krausse presented President Vinson with a blue shirt and a T. E. '18 tie.

"I can assure you that my appreciation is more than can be expressed," said Dr. Vinson in response. "This blue shirt or any other blue shirt will not cover a heart more loyal to the Engineering Department than will this shirt upon that occasion." Dr. Vinson said that he would appear at the banquet dressed in the conventional garb of the Junior Engineering class.

"JAKE" WILL STAY WITH BOYS.

"Jake," the faithful janitor of "B" Hall, does not show great excitement over the probability of a break between this country and his "Vaterland." "If it comes," he said, "I'll stand with the 'B' Hall boys, yet."

It has been thirteen years since "Jake" left Germany. He loves his country with the unselfish devotion which characterizes the people of his nation, but he believes that his place is here. He has been in "B" Hall for four years, and it may safely be said that he has as many friends as there have been men in the hall since he took up work here.

SENDS INFORMATION.

The University is sending out a sheet over the State containing various cuts of campus scenes and general information on the working of the institution. The third number contains a general statement made by President R. E. Vinson to the citizens of the State. This number also contains statistics of the school. It gives the percentage of the students who come from farm homes and the homes of doctors, lawyers, etc.

DISCH'S COHORTS SHOW MID-SEASON BASEBALL FORM

Get a Good Workout After a Day's Rest—Will Not Play
the Medics.

By Ed Angly.

Negotiations to stage two games during the first week in March between the baseball team of the Medical Department of the University and Billy Disch's Longhorns have fallen through because the elaborateness of the present schedule will not permit the addition of more contests. The Island City Texans will play the Pirates at Georgetown in March, and desired to cross bats with the Longhorns while on the trip.

The Medics have a fast aggregation of ball tossers, many of their players having seen service on Texas, Southwestern and other State college teams in past years. Such men as McHenry, a Southwestern star of two years ago; Titus Harris, Ike Cone, Montague, Greeg, Ray William, and Estes, are well known to the rooters of days gone by.

With the return of warmer weather the tryouts for this year's Longhorn nine, who were kept under cover during the high wind Thursday, got in a good practice on Clark Field yesterday. This afternoon at 4:15 o'clock the two teams into which the squad has been divided will clash in a regular nine-inning affair. The line-up of both teams will be about the same as in last Thursday's contest.

Real Baseball Appears.

The clash three days ago uncovered some mid-season thinking as well as playing, and was interesting from beginning to end. When Baker caught Fernandez snoozing on the third bag with a whirlwind throw, the crowd got a smack of real baseball thrills.

Weak hitting on the part of the squad in general is worrying the coach considerably. The Sons of Swat on the present Longhorn team can be counted on half the fingers of one hand. To overcome this short-coming, Mr. Disch is developing speed on the paths. Base-running instruction will feature the workouts this month.

The same difficulty presented itself last year. Texas won the championship, however. And if one looks in the T. I. A. A. records he will see that the Longhorns led all opposition by a fat margin in bag-thieving. Good fielding and giant-like base-running will be the fortes of the 1917 baseball team.

Pitching Staff Weak.

Owing to the cold weather and various minor causes, the pitching staff is not up to anywhere near its paper-strength. Carmichael is not expected to show anything of a winning variety until the warm weather comes. Henderson and Milton Thomas are having some trouble with their hurling wings. Sellars Thomas will probably be the man to bear the brunt of the early season burden. Emory Roberts is showing up well among the new candidates for the hurling corps. He has a mean breaking curve ball that should afford bundles of trouble for opposing batsmen. Roberts will probably be given a chance to show his stuff under fire as soon as the season starts.

Much of the dope of the Longhorn machine is contingent on the success or failure of the players in the winter term examinations. It is already certain that the welfare of the catching department will be determined not on Clark Field, but in the classrooms during the second week in March. Precedent shows that many a prospect gets the faculty ax each year. To prepare against this, Disch has two teams this season, both of almost equal ability.

MISSOURI TO JAPAN.

It is possible that the baseball team of the University of Missouri will make a trip to Japan this summer as the guests of some university in that country. A large squad is now under the tutelage of Chester L. Brewer, athletic director, and his assistant, John Miller.

EDUCATIONAL REFORM.

Just now in England the most vital question raised by the present administration is educational reform. An Education Reform Council has been formed of distinguished men to consider the whole question and formulate a comprehensive program. They suggest, in outline, the following aims: "To widen educational opportunity; to train all for work and leisure; to utilize more effectively national resources, human and material; to fit the growing generation for the service of home, society and the State; to admit all to the quest for goodness, beauty and truth; to make better citizens." It is an aim which might well be adopted here in Texas, where we are seeking to improve educational conditions. We suggest that it be duly considered by our State Department of Education, and those in charge of our State institutions of higher learning.

PLUCK, PATIENCE, PERSEVERENCE.

What makes the difference between the two students you see on the campus—the one lounging on a seat, the other engaged in his college tasks? One is making no progress; the other advances each day of his college career. The lounge may have a brighter mind and be better equipped physically for the conflicts of life than his progressing class-mate; then where lies the difference? The latter is possessed of pluck, patience and perseverance—three traits that bring him success in his college work and that will carry him to triumph in whatever field of endeavor he may enter on leaving college. Reader, are you a lounge or a progressive? Thriftless or provident?

On account of the high cost of living and to be more in accord with the spirit of democracy, upon which Yale University prides itself, the Junior Prom there this year is to be given in the great dining hall, and a modest luncheon is to be served. No flowers will be allowed. These innovations, it is believed, will result in more students taking part in the festivities.

If the Buzzards, now roosting on the campus, don't get busy with their studies they may be roosting nearer home after the mid-term examinations.

INFORMATION MISPLACED.

Very likely some student is the fortunate possessor of advance information regarding the art work and grind section of the 1917 Cactus. The art editor, Julian Elfenbein, has lost his loose-leaf pocket note-book. The book was lost at the Texas-Rice basketball game last Monday.

Daily Column

J. F. H.

Its good to wander round
And watch people
And see them
In their ever-shifting attitudes
The yare so selfish—people are
That personal contact
Spoils the view entirely
But from a distance
Where one type shades into another
And the glare of the personality
Is toned down
By the common, nameless, human shade
That colors all,
Their antics are quite interesting
The women
I don't know about
Not that they are
Mysterious or vague
But that they are less frank
In what they do and say—society
Demands this I suppose
Or else
They simply haven't any self
Which they can call their own
The men
Are in two classes
Those with nerve
To do just what they want
Whether it be -
To drink themselves to death
Or live, the admiration of their fellows
And those
Who are the weather vanes
Of whimsical opinion
Too weak to stand unmoved
But turn their faces from the wind—
Give me the man
Who has the mind
To see a problem from the other side
And do the thing that's hard
Who acts according to his own high code
And never think he's noble
Who fights and goes down on his back
Still kicking up—not saying
"I seen my duty and I done it"
But laughing and singing
"There's a hot time
In this old town tonight."

CHAPEL NOTICE.

The iciness of the last two mornings has kept some folks away from Chapel, but we will assume that they had prayers at home, though it may have been before they pulled themselves out of a nice warm bed.
There have been no speakers this week to be discouraged by small audiences, so we have gotten along finely with the singing and the reading and prayers. Be it said to the credit of the accompanists furnished by the music committee of the Y. W. C. A. that they are always there and that their work is always efficiently and acceptably done.
The reading yesterday was on the blessedness of forgiveness: "Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man unto whom the Lord imputeth not iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no guile. Many sorrows shall be to the wicked; but he that trusteth in the Lord, mercy shall compass him about."

ARTICLES WRITTEN IN BOHEMIAN PAPERS ATTRACT ATTENTION

The teachers and students in the School of Slavic Languages have been doing some good work for the University. The February 1 issue of the "Svoboda," a Bohemian weekly paper, published at Lagrange, has an article by P. E. Machacek, giving a historical sketch of the University. The "Texan," another Bohemian paper, printed in Houston, has a full-page illustrated article featuring the University, written by P. V. Skrabanek. Judging by the pictures, for every word of the articles are in Bohemian, the articles give an account of the various phases of University activities.

Work of this kind is of inestimable value to the University. It reaches an element of our Texas population which can be reached in no other way. It is a personal message, going to the Bohemians in their own language, and from one of their own number. It will convert people who have been strangers to the University into loyal supporters, and is paving the way to greater possibilities for the institution.

Judge Launch McClaurin has been ill this entire week, and unable to meet his law classes.

TEXAS CHEM. CLUB WILL HEAR CRAIG

Phenomena Will Be Illustrated By Apparatus—Open House in Spring Term.

"Radioactivity" will be the subject of the illustrated talk to be given by W. M. Craig before the Texas Chemical Club tonight. This lecture is planned to include a number of interesting facts connected with the history of radioactivity, with the scientists who developed the study of it, and with the research work that is being done at the present time in this line. Some of the features of this phenomenon will be illustrated by means of suitable apparatus. The club extends an invitation to the public to attend, inasmuch as it will be non-technical, and promises to contain much information which is instructive and entertaining as well.

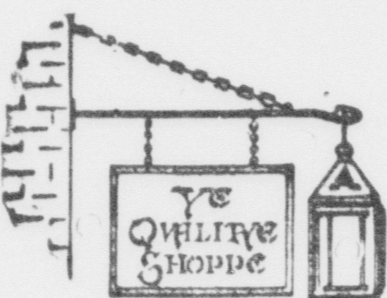

The club decided, at its last meeting, to have an "open house" in the spring term, during which the Chemistry Building will be thrown open to the public, with its laboratories in operation, and with numerous charts and exhibits from the leading chemical manufacturing establishments in the United States to give information along this line of scientific work. There is also being planned a social feature in connection with the open house, together with a chemical show similar to the one given a few years ago. It is hoped that by this means more interest might be aroused in this particular branch of science, and to show its growing importance since the continuance of the war.

OFFICIALS FOR FOOTBALL.

Although the football season is as yet a long way off, arrangements are already being made for the officials for the games. The officials for two of the games have been agreed upon, and before the month is out, Athletic Director Belmont plans to have selected the officials for the remainder of the schedule. For the game with Rice Institute, in Austin, October 27, Moise (Sewanee) will referee; Utay (Texas A. & M.), umpire, and Rix (Dartmouth), head linesman. The officials for the Baylor game, to be played in Waco during the Cotton Palace, will be: Rix (Dartmouth), referee; Utay (Texas A. & M.), umpire; Moore (Vanderbilt), head linesman.

I'll meet you at Reasonover's Barber Shop, Littlefield Building.

MEDAL TO BE AWARDED.

The Athletic Council is in receipt of a handsome gold medal from Fret Medart Co., of St. Louis, to be awarded to the student who can bring about the greatest development through physical exercise during the remainder of the school year. The medal is of gold, and has on it the figure of a Roman athlete, lifting a weight. Those interested in such work should get in touch with Athletic Director Belmont immediately.

K. U. Wants Much Money.

The University of Kansas has asked for $750,000 from the Legislature for general maintenance for this year. It has also asked for $350,000 to complete the central portion of the Administration Building, and $200,000 for the erection of a new Fine Arts Auditorium. "The Daily Kansan" says that the Legislature views the requests with favor, and that it is hoped all the money will be appropriated.

California Teaches Golf.

The University of California is going to give a course in golf and for this purpose has purchased an indoor golf equipment. The course is to be open to all without extra charge and may be substituted by underclassmen in the place of gym.

Merchants Disregard Ban on Flowers.

The merchants of Madison object to the ban placed on flowers for the Junior Prom at Wisconsin this year. The chairman of the Prom Committee has declared that no flowers will be tolerated this year. The merchants say that orders for flowers are still coming in, and that they intend to lay in their usual extra supply in spite of the ban placed upon them.

Such Brief Farewells.

The faculty of Barnard College, Michigan, has put a new ruling in effect, to which the women of the college are strongly opposed. This ruling declares that all callers must start to leave at 10:30, and that only ten minutes extra will be allowed for saying farewell. This seems evidently too short a time to them.

Faculty Handball.

The University of Wisconsin has been carrying on a new kind of intramural handball contest. The faculty of the University and the students each have a picked team of experts, and the two teams have been struggling for supremacy. It is observed that many of the profs now have red and swollen hands as a result of excessive practice.

Iowa Feet.

It is rumored that Bernard H. Koyné of Des Moines is going to enter the University of Iowa, and may go out for center of next year's foot-

WILL HAVE PARTY AT NEWMAN HALL

Present Day Club Will Commemorate Fourth Anniversary—Several Speeches Will Be Heard.

A birthday party, commemorating the fourth anniversary of their founding of the Present Day Club will be given Tuesday, February 13, from 4 to 6 o'clock at Newman Hall. This occasion is celebrated every year by the organization, being the most important and interesting event in the annual activities of the club. Father Ross is scheduled to be the speaker of the evening. The subject of his address has not been definitely ascertained, but it will treat of the work of the girls in the Present Day Club and the opportunity for the improvement of conditions and of the environment of people in towns and rural communities. Talks are also to be made by the honorary members of the club, who are, Mrs. Kirby, Mrs. Wolfe, and Misses Aden, Gearing, and Richardson. Special music has been arranged for entertainment after the speech-making, the feature of which will be the Woman's Building String ball team. Koyné is rumored to have the largest pair of feet in the United States. He has just ordered a pair of shoes, size twenty-two. He is nineteen years old, weighs 275 pounds, and is seven feet nine inches tall.

Purdue Wins Cup at Egg Show.

Purdue has won laurels in a new field now. The University entered twelve beautiful white eggs and twelve equally handsome brown ones in the Wisconsin Egg Show. These eggs were so perfect that the judges could not resist the temptation, and were forced to extend them the prize.

Baylor Has Heroine.

Baylor has developed a new heroine in the person of one of the co-eds there. She recently saved one of the dormitories there from a "horrible fire" by casting a near-to-explosion lamp out of the window, and onto the ground. "The Lariat" says that by a superhuman effort she actually succeeded in hurling the lamp ten feet from the building.

HILDEBRAND TRIES DIVORCE CASE OF BITTLE VS. BITTLE

The case of Susie Bittle vs. Hiram Bittle was tried yesterday afternoon before Judge I. P. Hildebrand in the Hildebrand Law Society, hitting as the Criminal District Court. The case involved a divorce suit, the division of the property of these two parties and the custody of their only child.

Among the reasons for the divorce was the testimony of the wife that her husband came home intoxicated and beat her and cursed her before her friends, which rendered their living together intolerable. She claimed all the property under a contract whereby the husband, after one of his acts of mistreatment and confinement in jail for such agreed if he ever became intoxicated again and mistreated her to give her all of their property. She contended for the custody of the child because her husband was not fit to rear it, by reason of his debasing habits.

During the trial, the plaintiff withdrew the contract which she claimed under, and left it to the court to make the distribution. The jury found a verdict for the plaintiff, giving her the divorce, and the child was awarded to her custody.

The evidence in the case was well handled by the attorneys for both sides, and the entire trial would have lent dignity to any district court.

Attorneys for the plaintiff were John Evans and H. Scharff; defendant's counsel were Meade Griffin and Fred Cotten.

The society was well attended this afternoon, and several visitors were present. It will probably continue to hold its meetings in the afternoon instead of at night, since so many of its members have other engagements at the regular meeting time.

Football Sport
May Prove Fatal

"Is football at last discouraged?" is the latest question that is bothering the minds of many gridiron fans of late. The story goes that the Pennsylvania eleven lately journeyed all the way to Oregon only to receive the small end of a very one-sided score, administered to them largely by the ability of the Oregon star, "Shy" Huntington.

The story then follows that this same hero was immediately besieged by numberless letters from lonely spinsters all over the country. It is greatly feared by many of the enthusiasts of the game that if the fear of the loss of limb or life will not keep men off the gridiron, that the prospects of such letters as "Shy" fell a victim to will deaden all prospects for future stars.

Secretary's Ford
Fails to Start

It was yesterday afternoon when the day's toil had ended that the efficient secretary-treasurer of the Bureau of Municipal Research and Reference tripped light-heartedly at the thought of the good he had done that day to his Ford that stood in front of "B" Hall. He promptly adjusted the gas and spark, cranked the "jitney," and got in to drive off.

But lo and behold! The little Ford, with all its reputation, refused to move, notwithstanding the fact that the little engine hummed beautifully. It was then that the gentleman "got down and got under," only to find that some mischievous boy had picked his car up and had placed a pine board under the drive wheel which supported it so as to permit it to spin noiselessly in mid-air.

English 1 Prof
Refuses to Ride
With Illiterates

With deep furrows of grim learning and other marks of erudition wrought upon the visage of his profile, the English I professor explained to his class why he walked to town rather than ride on illiterately decorated Austin street car. He said he was a free-lance and didn't propose to associate himself in a place where there is so little ragrd for the king's English.

When the peripatetic prof. mentioned above once designed to ride on an Austin street car, he noticed on the backs of the seats the following rhapsody: "Avoid danger wait until car stops." When such a sentence appears on a Freshman theme, it is marked C. B. The hieroglyphic means "comma blunder," and is understood by a few students. The other astounding piece of bad English that caught the prof's eye was: "There's a reason for everything except a woman getting off a street car backwards." The word woman should have been put in the possessive form.

The professor went on to explain to his ever-attentive seekers of literary tactics that the sponsors of the Austin street railway are illiterate; they are mugwumps, renegades, and hoodlums. They are literary outcasts, and their intellectual vaunt is nothing more than voodooism. Their arrant lack of learning is inexcusable. They should begin at the bottom round of an eleemosynary institution and go on through the University, taking English I all the time, or at least for eight years. And if they have not mastered it by that time, they should be hung up by the tips of the toes and nibbled to death by the goslings. They should be extirpated from society. Their abuse of the king's English is something awful.

cuts and occupied the balleries while the solons debated the submission bill now before the House.

The bill will, in all probability, be more closely contested in the House than it will in the Senate, provided it passes the former body and goes before the Senate. As it stands now, the submissionists are crowded for their necessary majority. It is being warmly discussed everywhere, and both sides are found represented among the student body.
