Monsieur le docteur Léon Feugueur, Ingénieur géologue
Bureau de Recherches Géologiques et Minières (B.R.G.M.)
74 Rue de la Fédération
Paris XV<sup>e</sup> , France

Mon cher ami:

Your recent package of extracts of works on Tertiary stratigraphy is most welcome and I want to thank you for remembering me. Your publications are very useful to me and through them I can keep abreast of the methods you use and the problems you encounter.

I have now accepted a new Visiting Professorship here; it is a distinguished sort of position and highly desirable. The geology department here has been a leader in Tertiary stratigraphy and micropaleontology for over 30 years. Dr. H.V. Howe, the ostracode-specialist has been here for more than 40 years. He is now retired, but works in his office here every day. His office is on the same floor as mine.

Here, I expect to finish my manuscript on the huitres this year and then to turn to other themes in paleontology and stratigraphy. The library here is considerably better for my purposes than the various libraries in Houston are. I shall stay here for several years.

Please give my warmest regards to the various friends and acquaintances I made in Paris years ago. It is really high time that I went visiting in France again. Please note my new address.

My best wishes

Sincerely,

H. B. Stenzel
Visiting Professor
Department of Geology
