

New Control Of Credit Buying Now in Effect

Austin Merchants
Are Undecided
As to Effects

By JO ANN EIDOM

The Eightieth Congress's Regulation "W," renewing controls on credit buying, went into effect Monday.

Guesses were a dime a dozen and as varied as plentiful in Austin as to how prices, sales, and production will react to the anti-inflation measure.

The controls mean that the federal government will have an eye on the strings which consumers attach to use of their future earnings.

Far short of the price controls asked by President Truman, the regulations are designed to throttle buying in general and halt or at least slow down the spiraling cost of living.

The rules, governing installment purchases of most goods costing $50 to $5,000, are:

1. After down payment, purchases must be paid out in 18 months if the balance exceeds $1,000 and in 15 months if it is $1,000 or less.

2. Personal loans of finance companies must be repaid within 15 or 18 months, size determining the terms.

3. One-third down in required on automobiles.

4. Twenty per cent down is necessary on most household furnishings such as refrigerators, washing machines, radios, and rugs.

C. H. Rook, credit manager of the Austin branch of Sears Roebuck, reported the largest credit business in the store's history Saturday with customers hustling to make installment purchases before restrictions became effective.

Car sales and prices may experience a change but there is little agreement among Austin automobile dealers as to which way the change will go.

The consensus is that new car sales will not be touched and that if there is a difference in price it will be in that of later model used cars.

G. W. Derby of the Derby Tucker Sales Company hazarded a guess that prices may even go up if production shortages continue.

The larger down payment may cause increased sales resistance to used car sales and perhaps a lower price, J. S. Swearingin, car dealer, said. He agreed that supply will be the determining factor.

However, most car dealers said that the terms coincide with those they have always required and the regulations will make no difference.

Search for Talent To Begin Monday

Talented students—and that should include a lot of Forty Acres people—will be invited to perform for the Union Talent Committee next Monday and Tuesday in a search for campus entertainers.

The talent committee keeps a file of students on call for campus shows, downtown organizations, or just any entertainment in campus that needs a performer. Sometimes requests come in or out-of-town shows as when a group entertained last year at McCloskey General Hospital in Temple for war veterans.

"We're interested in any kind of talent," said Pat Breech, assistant director of the Union, in outlining the talent search. Singers, dancers, mimickers, or any other type of entertainers will be welcomed.

The hours for the tryouts have not yet been set, but they will probably be given in the afternoons and evenings. They will be announced Sunday.

Small Red Automobile Jumps Nightwatchman

A little red Crosley stumped university night watchmen last night.

The car, covered with advertisements from a downtown automobile agency, was found parked at 5 o'clock. Nightwatchman A. B. Johnson said that permission had been given to advertise the car on the campus.

Police said no report had been received of a stolen Crosley, and motor company owners could be reached.

Keys were still in the car, and gas tank was half full.

A PLAY BY PLAY peek at the action in next week's battle between the Longhorns and North Carolina's Tar Heels will be given stay-at-home students by the Grid Graf. Shown with last year's graph are John Pound and Jitter Nolen.

Follow the Steers With Grid Graf

By MARK BATTERSON

The closest thing to television in Austin—the Grid Graf—will give stay-at-home University students a play by play peek of every out-of-town football game this season.

Built last year under the direction of APO member John Pound, the large, easy-to-watch panel has been improved upon by an added section.

Not only that, but members of the Mortar Board and the Orange Jackets will be on hand in the Main Lounge of the Union, where the Graf will be located, to serve soft drinks to watchers. After the game is over, there will be a tea dance until 6 o'clock.

In the center of the Grid Graf is a large transparent panel resembling a football field. Names of the players are listed on either side of the field, along with positions they play. Through a series of lights, watchers will be able to tell which players are in the field, who has the ball, and what each team is doing, all in a matter of seconds after each play is completed.

Another section of the Graf will give the down, quarter, and yards needed for a first down.

For instance, when Center Dick Harris snaps the ball to Quarterback Paul Campbell, and Campbell fades back to pass to End George McCall, every movement will be recorded by a series of lights by the names of the players. When Campbell goes out of the game and Bobby Coy Lee or Bill Allen substitutes for him, the change will also be recorded on the panel.

A light behind the transparent screen will follow the movement of the ball on the field.

The board will be under the direction of Pound again this year. Among his assistants will be Dave Saries, Ted Dunn, Nat Harris, John Becker, Tuck Focht, and Don Harris. Each of the men will wear head sets to block out audience noises.

To be used for all five of the Longhorns' out of town games, Pound and his fellow APO-men will begin operations for the Texas-North Carolina game, which will be played at Chapel Hill next Saturday, September 25.

By Monday evening 14,387 students had finished registration. An average of 230 every half hour passed through Gregory Gym, making a total of 3,468 for the day.

H. A. Calkins, registration supervisor, expects a maximum of 2,000 more students to register Tuesday by 4 o'clock when the doors of Gregory Gym will close. Students coming after 1 o'clock Tuesday when the doors of Waggener Hall close should go to the registrar's office so that they may get through Gregory Gym by 4 o'clock.

Late registration begins Thursday. Students may begin adding and dropping courses Wednesday, Tuesday, September 28, will be the last day for adding courses.

Some congestion developed Monday in the tabulating area of Gregory Gym because of the great number of freshmen students taking some courses, said Mr. Calkins.

"We're interested in any kind of talent," said Pat Breech, assistant director of the Union, in outlining the talent search. Singers, dancers, mimickers, or any other type of entertainers will be welcomed.

The hours for the tryouts have not yet been set, but they will probably be given in the afternoons and evenings. They will be announced Sunday.

Returning Vets' Checks Delayed Till October

Summer Students
To Get Paid
In September

Veterans who are re-entering the University and who have not attended any school since they were last enrolled in the University will probably receive their subsistence checks between October 15 and 31, it was announced Monday by an officer of the local Veterans Administration office.

Students enrolled in the University during the summer sessions and who preregistered should receive their checks at the end of September. They will receive a full month's check.

Other students will receive their checks when all records have been cleared with the regional office in Waco and after they receive a letter of authorization from the Waco office.

Changes in status or address should be reported promptly to the Waco Regional Office.

Any veteran who has attended a school outside the Waco region should make certain that his file has been changed to the office at Waco. This may be done by sending a change of address to the regional office under which the previously attended school was operated.

Transfer students as well as new students must have a certificate of eligibility on file before subsistence checks may be issued. Transfers may obtain supplementary certificates in the Registrar's Office.

Sound Sleeping Frat Stripped Of Striped Guest

"Find that Tiger!" was the cry that awakened the Theta Xi's and their LSU guests early Sunday morning.

"Mike," the LSU mascot was missing, all 800 striped pounds of him.

His caretakers had left him in front of the fraternity house at 2802 Rio Grande in his purple and gold trailer, but trailer and all were gone.

Fearing pranksters might set him loose from his cage, the boys phoned the police and began scouring the town.

Several hours of frantic searching in all the out of way places produced no "Mike." Then in the most obvious place they found him—on the campus square in front of the tower. Still caged, the big wayward beast greeted his relieved caretakers with a hungry growl.

Shortly before noon, "Mike" and his friends started back home to Louisiana. "Mike" has been LSU's mascot since he was a cub and has made all the football games. He is now 14 years old, and for tigers that's pretty old as their average life span is about 10 or 11 years.

The Theta Xi's hope the excitement won't be too much for the old boy.

Faculty Council Recommends Teacher Pension Increase

By RAY GREENE
Texan Associate Editor

University professors going in retirement in the face of rising prices are finding their pension fund far from adequate, but they need a Constitutional Amendment to do anything about it.

Monday, the Faculty Council recommended the elimination of the Constitutional limit of $180 a year payments by state-paid teachers and matched by the State and asked that the limit be raised and set in the future by the Legislature.

If approved by the general faculty and the Board of Regents, the 1949 Legislature will be asked to submit a Constitutional Amendment to effect this change.

Called the most serious defect in the "Teacher Retirement System" in Texas, this Constitutional limit holds the maximum possible retirement annuity to $3,600 which is "far too low under present conditions," stated a report to the council by a special committee appointed in 1946 to study the operation of the Teacher Retirement System.

A second recommendation would allow professors with at least twenty-five years faculty service who's retirement payments are low, to go on modified service until the amount due is approximately one-half their regular professorial salary during the last five years of full-time service.

"If these two changes can be put into effect, the University will have a thoroughly desirable retirement system . . . to compete with other leading institutions in securing and retaining faculty members of the highest ability in teaching and research," stated the committee report.

The committee was headed by A. P. Brogan, dean of the Graduate School.

Classified as major legislation, the general faculty must act on this recommendation within ten days before it can be submitted to the President's office and then to the next Regents' meeting in October.

The Council recommended that the President and the Regents seek aid from all the publicity supported colleges and universities in Texas and from the Texas State Teachers Association to eliminate the $180 Constitutional limit.

In 1935 the University established a Modified Service System which places eligible persons on half salary after the age of 70, since there was no provision for retirement annuities.

In 1937 an annuity system was passed. A 5 per cent contribution is paid by each teacher and this amount is matched by the State. The Constitution limited both parties to $180 a year. With rising costs, teachers are coming to retirement age and finding their annuity is far from adequate.

Other action by the Council at its Monday meeting delegated authority to approve degree candidates for 1948-49 to the deans of the various schools and colleges.

Newly elected members of the council who will serve until 1950 attended the meeting. They are: Ruth Allen, professor of economics, E. C. Barker, professor of history, M. C. Boatright, associate professor of physics, C. P. Boner, professor of physics, J. A. Burdine, professor of government, L. F. Hatch, associate professor of chemistry, Granville Price, associate professor of journalism, H. H. Ransom, professor of English, G. W. Watt, professor of chemistry, R. H. Williams, professor of romance languages, J. R. Stockton, professor of business statistics, D. K. Brace, professor of physical education, V. L. Doughtie, professor of mechanical engineering, Dana Young, professor of civil engineering, and Gordon Minter, associate professor of direction.

Students passing the English 1a advanced-standing test with a grade of at least B are qualified to take English 1b with three hours credit on 1a.

If superior ability is shown on the examination, they are invited to take advanced-standing in English 1b.

Students who passed English 1a last semester with a grade of A are also eligible to take advanced-standing in English 1b.

Co-eds Enter Race For Pep Leader Posts

By CHARLIE LEWIS

For the first time in two years Longhorn yells should be led and feminine members of the student body have announced their intentions of trying out for assistant cheer leader posts.

Monday night's practice session for pep leader hopefuls at the Texas Union was attended by twenty-four aspirants, including five co-eds. They were Marilyn Cox, Barbara Haden, Jinx Heinen, Nancy Lipps, and Rusty Ray.

The University has had only two co-ed leaders in its history, the last having served in 1944.

All contestants for the six vacant leaderships will lead one mock yell before a screening committee tonight in the T Association Room of Gregory Gym at 7 o'clock. Those surviving this test will be permitted to lead a yell at the pep rally preceding the New Mexico game, and the winners will be those receiving the most applause from the student body.

Bearden, head cheer leader, presided at the informal meeting, intermittently demonstrating how to lead a yell.

The pep rally for the North Carolina football game has been canceled, Bob Bearden, head cheer leader, announced Monday night.

Students may still give the team a rousing send-off by being at the Municipal Airport at 8:30 Thursday morning when the Longhorns board planes for Tarte territory.

Meed is a junior journalism major from Houston. He is a member of the Mica executive council and works on The Daily Texan.

Union Board members are Jimmy Kenny, Leo Goodman, Ben Wayne Gregg, and Lou Parker. Sanders is the chairman.

Miss Kenny is the new member to the committee for the one-year term. She is a graduate in the government department from Corpus Christi. A past treasurer of Mortar Board and secretary-treasurer of Pi Sigma Alpha, honorary government fraternity, she is a member of Sigma Delta Phi, honorary Spanish society.

Norman Thomas, Socialist Party candidate for President, will not be allowed to speak on the campus because of the rules of the Board of Regents.

This ruling was given to C. William Ludwig, University student and Texas Secretary of the Socialist Party. The ruling was handed down by President T. S. Painter and Comptroller C. D. Simmons.

Thomas is scheduled to speak at Woodridge Park, or at Dorie Miller Auditorium in case of rain, Monday, September 27.

During his overseas tour of duty with the Air Force in Japan he purchased a jeep and remodeled it into a picture of the future in automobile design. He named it, appropriately, the "Surlesmobile."

It has sliding doors and a tear-drop body, and includes many conveniences over the standard type of automobile. Rounded extensions on the front and rear give added inside space.

Major Surles is a native of Cisco and attended the University following graduation from Randolph Junior College in Cisco in 1937.

He was on his first overseas tour on December 7, 1941, at Pearl Harbor after receiving his wings in San Antonio in 1940.

Major Surles was photo-reconnaissance officer of the Fifth Air Force in 1947 and directed post-war mapping of Japan.

He has been returned to the Topeka Air Force base with his wife and two children.

Boston Holds Lead Over Tribe in AL

Based on the Associated Press
Cleveland's revived Indians maintained their spot one-half game behind the league-leading Boston Red Sox Monday night, defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 6-3, before a crowd of 44,442. The victory was the Tribe's sixth straight and its thirteenth in the last fifteen games.

Left-handed Mickey Harris pitched the Boston Red Sox back on the pennant beam, giving the Detroit Tigers only four hits and two unearned runs as the Red Sox won, 7-2.

Led by Joe DiMaggio who drove in three runs on his thirty-ninth homer and a single, the New York Yankees came from behind and nipped the St. Louis Browns, 8-7.

DiMaggio, despite a painful charleyhorse, which handicapped his fielding, drove in what proved to be the winning runs when he singled with the bases loaded in the eighth inning. The three runs batted in boosted his total for the season to 148.

The Brooklyn Dodgers gave Hank Borowy the works in the first inning, coming up with four runs, and Preacher Roe made it stand up the rest of the way to beat the Chicago Cubs, 4-2, and break the second-place tie with the St. Louis Cardinals.

The victory moved the Dodgers up to within five and a half games of the front-running Boston Braves who were rained out of their game with the Cincinnati Reds.

Cliff Chambers, tall lefthander, relieved Borowy with two out in the first and pitched no-hit ball through seven innings before Carl Furillo singled in the eighth. Del Ennis powered his twenty-ninth and thirtieth home runs of the campaign today to lead the Philadelphia Phillies to a day-night double victory over the skidding Pittsburgh Pirates. NO ONE TO THROW TO, Charlie Pevey (No. 23), the Louisiana State quarterback, has to run as the Longhorn line chases him in the fourth quarter of Saturday's game. Pevey eluded Bill Wilkins (No. 73) and Jim Watson (No. 84) and made 11 yards up to the LSU 45-yard line.

Mike Not Only Caged Tiger

By LOU MAYSEL
Texas Sports Staff

If a miserly line and overwhelming reserve strength are two symptoms of successful football campaigns, followers of the Longhorns have ample reason for optimism.

Be it said that Billy Pyle probably won't come in for the laudatory remarks this season that he got last year because his level performance is now regularly so high that it is beginning to be taken for granted. Nevertheless, they'll always know that Pyle was there, for no 165-pounder ever hit with more power and abandon.

Some said that the loss of guard "Slow Joe" Magliolo and end Max Bumgardner, two of the best defensive linemen on the team, would hurt the Longhorns immeasurably, but Saturday's verdict seemed to run counter to this school of thought.

Mike, the LSU mascot, wasn't the only Tiger that didn't go any place Saturday. The Longhorns held that Tiger to 38 yards rushing, and the reserves were as niggardly as the first-stringers.

Nobody has anything good to say about last year's freshman team, but nevertheless, the Longhorns turned up with good backing in the line by their sophomores.

The Longhorn coaching staff always knew that they had two good units, but they were somewhat doubtful about the third unit. Monday, Coach Cherry expressed himself as pleased over the showing of his sophomores—end Ben Proctor, tackles Gene Yvukal, Jug Jackson, and Alfred Miller, and guards Bud McFadin and Alvin Myers. Proctor and Miller, though sophomores, were not graduates of Buddy Jungmichel's much-maligned 1947 Yearlings.

That break-away ground punch was the one missing ingredient last year, but Perry Samuels's and Byron Gillory's scampering indi-

Tar Heels May Fill Air With Passes

By ABE WEINER
Texas Sports Staff

Something new has been added to the North Carolina offense according to reports emanating from the Tar Heel publicity director's office.

Jake Wade, the North Carolina sports publicity director, reports that Tar Heels "this year likely will go down in history as a passing team."

This could be true in respect to the North Carolina-Texas game Saturday, for indications are the Tar Heels will find the going rough through the mammoth Longhorn forward wall.

The North Carolina eleven boasts several passers capable of setting any team back on its heels when traveling on the ground becomes too rough. Leading the field, of course, is the triple-threat, all-American Charlie Justice. Behind Justice, the North Carolinians can also rely upon Hosea Rodgers, the big full-back who is slated to fill the shoes of the departed Walt Pupa.

When either of these two aren't doing the hurling, Coach Carl Snavely can call upon sophomore Billy Hayes, first string alternate for Rodgers, Billy Macecko, Justice's understudy, and Dick Bunting, the boy that throws with either hand.

Justice was the team's top passer in 1947, completing 27 tosses in 50 attempts for 390 yards. Six were good for touchdowns. Rodgers completed 17 in 36 tries, four going the entire route.

On the receiving end, Coach Snavely should have little to moan about. He had several of the top-flight ends in the country last season. Art Weiner, bulwark in the Tar Heel line in 1947, snagged 19 passes and Bob Cox brought down 22. Ken Powell, alternate end for Weiner, snared six aeriels while Charlie Justice got an equal number.

The Tar Heel ground attack won't be anything to sniff at, either. The ever-dangerous year at tice is ready for another year at sweeping the ends, and Rodgers and Johnny Clements can still do a fine job of plowing through the middle.

Schoolboy Favorites Fall In Tough TIL Competition

By DICK MOORE
 Tezan Associate Sports Editor
 A few pre-season favorites were just some more teams after last week's play in high school circles. The highly-touted elevens fell as fast as Cupid spearing single men since the peace-time draft went into effect.

Little Port Neches, South Park and Beaumont and Brownwood were the chief giant killers. Port Neches lambasted Longview, one of last year's semi-final teams. Another play-off team, Lufkin, fell before the smooth-working South Park group.

Brownwood let it be known it would be heard from this year by handing heavily-favored Kerrville a 12-0 defeat. The Antlers had been named as one of the best five state teams.

Zale and Cerdan Clash Tonight

New York Twin Bill Is Jacob's Answer

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—The biggest fight week the East has seen since the Civil War draft riots opened today with two rival promoters issuing verbal broadsides every hour on the hour.

The tournament of Champions, lusty newcomer to the promotional field, declared that fully $300,000 worth of clients would witness the middleweight title fight Tuesday night, at Jersey City, between Tony Zale of Gary, Ind., and Marcel Cerdan, the French Moroccan.

From Mike Jacobs old firm, the Twentieth Century Sporting Club, came a counter-blast to the effect that its Thursday night punch fiesta at Yankee Stadium, starting two (Count 'em—two) pugilistic champions, would make boxing history.

The T. of C. announced breathlessly that Zale and Cerdan, both beautifully conditioned, would weigh in at noon tomorrow at the Jersey Gardens in Jersey City.

A voice from the Twentieth Century pointed out that Ike Williams, the lightweight champion, will become the first 135-pound king ever to defend his crown three straight times within four months when he faces Jesse Flores of Stockton, Calif., on Thursday night.

Also, the voice insisted that welterweight champion Sugar Ray Robinson, who tackles Kid Gavilan of Cuba in the second half of the stadium bill—a non-title go, incidentally—could murder both Zale and Cerdan on the same night, given a short rest period.

HANDS LIKE HAMS make Lew Holder a hard man to elude on the defense. Holder frequently pulls in fleeing backs by grabbing a claw full of their jersey.

Tommy Finger Stops Sherman Twins, 5-0

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 20—(AP)—Southpaw Tommy Finger set the Sherman-Denison twins down with five hits tonight as the Wichita Falls took a 5-0 decision in the Big State League championship series.

The victory cut Sherman-Denison's margin in the series to three games to two.

Four fast double plays by the Spudder infield helped Finger win. The fourth twin killing came in the ninth inning after two twin batters had walked.

Manager Marc Carrola, honored with an appreciation night, opened the Spudders' scoring in the third inning with a home run off Pete

Mayor. The only serious threat the Twins made was in the sixth. They loaded the bases with one out on an error and two singles. Dean Stafford hit into his second double play of the game to retire the side.

UP IN THE AIR goes Bob Bearden, head yell leader, at Friday night's pre-game pep rally. A parade which started at Carothers dormitory ended at Hill Hall where Coach Blair Cherry expressed optimism as to Texas's position in the Southwest Conference and introduced co-captains Dick Harris and Tom Landry to enthusiastic students.

MEETING TWO PRESIDENTS in one day during her visit to UT's campus was Miss Betty Pfeffer, goodwill ambassador from LSU. First she met President T. S. Painter and J. W. Rockwell, regent from Houston, in President Painter's office. She then dropped by the Union to meet Barefoot Sanders, president of the student body, and Bob Bearden, head yell leader, who added their enthusiastic welcome to those Miss Pfeffer had already received.

EMBRACEABLE YOU is what Teddy Norman was singing to Miss Betty Pfeffer, goodwill ambassador from LSU and game guest of the Texan, at the Kickoff Dance in the Union Saturday night. Teddy, now with Hal Lobree's band, has sung with Ray McKinley's band, suited his actions to the words of the song.

B-36 OVERHEAD at Memorial Stadium Saturday caused many people to miss the first touchdown of the year. Saturday was not only the day of the first Texas football game of this season, but also was Air Force Day. Members of Austin's Air Reserve later flew over the stadium in formation spelling out USAF.

REDEDICATION CEREMONIES of Memorial Stadium were held Saturday just before game time. Cowboys, Silver Spurs, and the Longhorn Band marched onto the field, as twenty students on horseback formed an aisle along the side of the playing field. In a brief speech President Painter said, "This stadium will always stand as a lasting memorial to those who so gallantly gave their lives that we might be free."

This page of The Daily Texan will be devoted entirely to pictures each Tuesday and will replace the editorial page in each Tuesday's issue.

Capitol Shake-up Promised by Dewey

By The Associated Press
Governor Thomas E. Dewey opened his formal campaign for the presidency by telling an Iowa throng that he will bring to Washington "the biggest unravelling, unsmiling, unrelenting operation in our nation's history."

The Republican nominee spoke Monday night at Des Moines, while at Denver President Truman ripped into the Republicans as "the eager agents of the big business lobbies."

Dewey, starting a fourteen-day tour of the West, began what he called a "campaign to unite America" in a world in which "tyranny is on the march." He promised that as president he would have "a foreign policy based upon the firm belief that we can have peace."

Later, he said, he will give "specific and honest answers" to the problems of high prices, housing, farm aids, labor, and racial-religious discrimination.

Mr. Truman, in his afternoon speech at the Colorado state capitol in Denver, blamed Republicans for high prices and the housing situation. He bore down particularly on the development of the west, and told his water-power conscious audience:

"They (Republicans in the Eightieth Congress) cut back projects to bring water to the land and electric power to industry. The Republican leaders have been working against the interest of the people."

Student Editors to Hear Local Publications Heads

Cal Newton, business manager of Student Publications, and F. R. Moerke, advertising manager, will speak Tuesday morning to a convention of high school yearbook editors and sponsors.

Mr. Moerke will speak at 9 o'clock on yearbook budgets, and Mr. Newton will follow him at 10:45 o'clock with a talk on new ideas on advertising for yearbooks.

The convention, which will be held at the Driskill Hotel September 21 and 22, will play host to between 400 and 500 visitors.

Third UN Session Begins in Paris

PARIS, Sept. 20—(P)—The United Nations General Assembly opens a fateful session Tuesday before a world worried over East-West tension in Berlin and unrest and assassinations in Palestine.

The issue of enforcing peace in the Holy Land—dramatically pointed up by the murder of Count Folke Bernadotte—stands high on the crowded calendar of the fifty-eight nation "World Parliament."

Indonesian Reds Call for Revolution

BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 20—(P)—The Communists called Monday night for the complete overthrow of the Indonesian government and brought the young republic to the brink of civil war.

Quickly following up the weekend coup at Madioen, Moscow-trained Communist leader Musso broadcast a demand for a revolution encompassing the entire republic. The Madioen radio station of his new "Peoples Republic" said the present government of President Soekarno must be destroyed as soon as possible.

The Communists are supported by the Socialists and laborites. The Indonesian news agency Antara said mass arrests were carried out in the capital city of Jogjakarta in lightning moves to stamp out spread of the uprising.

On the eve of the third annual session, there was a possibility that the Berlin blockade with its far-reaching complications in the East-West tug-of-war also would be thrown before the Assembly for full debate.

Even as the fifty-eight delegates waited for the opening gavel, the foreign ministers of the United States, Britain and France met in the French foreign office to review the German situation.

They were Secretary of State George C. Marshall, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, and French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman. Another meeting was set for Tuesday.

A stand-out absentee among world leaders was Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, who remained in Moscow and sent Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. There were no indications whether Molotov would come later.

Marshall and Bevin declined to make statements on their arrival Monday. Vishinsky told the Associated Press: "I hope this conference will strengthen the peace. Personally I am an optimist. I have never been a pessimist."

Johnson Restraining Order Up for Court Action Today

Based on the Associated Press
United States District Judge T. Whitfield Davidson is scheduled to open a hearing at Fort Worth Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock on the motion by Coke Stevenson to prevent Lyndon Johnson being certified as the Democratic senatorial nominee on the November general election ballot.

And Monday, Tom L. Tyson, Corsicana attorney, permanent chairman of the Texas Democratic Convention in Fort Worth last week, was served with copies of the restraining order on both the original and enlarged petitions filed in the contest case in Federal District Court.

Raymond Buck, one of Johnson's attorneys, said he will attack Davidson's jurisdiction on the grounds that the United States Senate is the exclusive judge of such contests.

Johnson won an 87-vote victory in the second Democratic primary, and his name was certified as the winner by the convention.

Stevenson contends that fraudulent votes were counted in Jim Wells and Zapata counties.

Both sides indicated Monday that whichever way Davidson rules, the matter will be appealed to higher courts.

Tropical Hurricane Hits Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 20—(P)—hurricane was centered about thirty miles east of Havana, South Florida coasts Monday night from Melbourne to Fort Myers as a severe tropical disturbance rolled into the Florida Straits and headed toward Miami.

Northeast storm warnings were posted over southern Florida northward to the Daytona Beach-Tarpon Springs line.

The weather bureau said, in an 8:30 P. M. (EST) advisory, the hurricane force winds cover a radius of about fifty miles around the center of the storm.

All indications point to continued north northeastward movement.

UT Library Operation Will Be Streamlined

In streamlining the University Library, Mr. Alexander Moffit, University Librarian, has announced plans for a number of moves that, he says, will give greater accessibility to library materials as well as additional seating space to the users.

Organized on the basis of subjects rather than on types of materials, collateral reading, references, and periodicals for the Business and Social Science Library now will be housed in the West Reading Room, Main Building, second floor. This will leave the area formerly occupied by Business and Social Science open to the newly organized Library School and will afford the collection of a more convenient elevator approach rather than the former stairway route.

In the Humanities Reading Room, located in the East Reading Room, second floor, will be found book collections to serve upper division students in English and other languages as well as those in Mathematics, Philosophy, and Speech.

Situated across the hall from the second floor Main Loan Desk, the Academic Room will contain documents and maps which previously shared Room 132 with the Archives Collection. Included in this group will be unbound serials, uncatalogued state periodicals, and eventually all the United Nations publications. The bound numbers will be listed in the card catalog across the hall.

With the freshmen and sophomores in mind, the library has laid the ground-work for an Undergraduate Library. Comprised chiefly of the Freshman Reading Collection, periodicals of general interest, open shelf reserves, and the Popular Reading Collection, this new branch will be used in Room 132. The Archives Collection, now shelved in this room, will be transferred to the Texas Historical Center.

Under the new arrangement, all types of materials dealing with a particular field will be concentrated in one room, and subdivided according to subject. The core collections of most generally used books should have the student and the librarian much time and "leg-work." For more detailed research the student will still consult the catalog for books in the stacks.

Mr. Moffit pointed out that the librarians in charge of these various libraries can now be specialists in the particular field concerned.

According to the original plans, the library changes were to be completed by September 22, but delays in furniture shipments have slowed down the work.

How high can you go IN THE U. S. AIR FORCE?

The ceiling's unlimited! Men who enter the Air Force as Aviation Cadets become 2nd Lieutenants within a year. From there on, they can climb as far and as fast as their ability and the needs of the service permit. Under the Air Force expansion program, there is plenty of room for advancement. 2nd Lieutenants automatically become 1st Lieutenants after three years of service; are eligible to become Captains, Majors and Lieutenant Colonels after 7, 14 and 21 years respectively. More rapid promotions are frequent. Never before has the opportunity for making the Air Force a permanent career been so favorable, especially to the men in Aviation Cadet Pilot Training.

Here are the requirements:

Appointment to the Aviation Cadets is open to single men, between 20 and 26½ years old, who have completed two years of college (or can pass an equivalent examination). Upon graduation, Cadets receive their wings and commission, a $250 uniform allowance, and three-year active duty assignment with pay up to $336 a month. # UNIVERSITY CO-OP

THE STUDENT'S OWN STORE

Colorful Traditions and Legendary Tales Surround Forty Acres

Students enrolling in the University for the first time do not stay long before they hear many campus legends and traditions, some of which have been passed on from the earliest classes.

Rising in the sky as high as the dome on the state capitol, the University tower is becoming a symbol to students returning from vacations, week-end trips, and visiting home between semesters. Increasing sentiment is being attached to the tall white structure with its gilt-edge clock and the lights, visible miles away, that identify the tower.

Stories of the tower are becoming famous around the campus. One of the most amusing is about the man who parked his beer truck behind the Main Building. Finding no one around, the driver entered and asked someone in the corridor where he should deliver the beer. The surprised individual asked what the man's instructions were. The truck driver replied he was supposed to make a delivery to the Tower—an Austin night club.

When the tower lights are orange, they take on a special meaning. These lights indicate athletic victories and certain holidays. Otherwise, white lights are used.

The University colors — orange and white—date back to 1885, and, according to a story, were adopted at a baseball game between the University and a Georgetown team. Students en route to Georgetown for the game had boarded a special train when they realized they had no colors. A special committee, sent to a nearby store to purchase ribbon, returned with orange and white because those were the only two colors the store had. The ribbon was made into badges by the girls on the train.

In the next five years, a controversy arose over the adoption of school colors. The School of Medicine wanted blue, the alumni wanted orange and white, and other factions wanted orange and maroon, crimson, royal blue and crimson, and other combinations. On December 1, 1889, the Galveston News demanded "the Legislature of Texas cure the deplorable situation."

A vote was taken from the medical students, the faculty and student body of the Main University, and University alumni. By a majority of seven votes, orange and white became the official school colors.

Most students will agree the name "Longhorns" is appropriate for University teams, but few know its origin. In the fall of 1903, Alex Weisburg, then editor-in-chief of the Texan, gave instructions to sports writer D. A. Frank to "call the team the Longhorns." The name was continually used, and about 1906 or 1907, it became the official title.

Some loyal Texans probably won't admit the song, "I've Been Working on the Railroad," came before "The Eyes of Texas," but if "ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free," it must be told.

Newly-elected President W. L. Prather first used the words before a convocation of the student body. His words were these: "Students of the University, remember always—the eyes of Texas are upon you." In 1903, John Lang Sinclair wrote the words, with a few of his own, to the tune of "I've Been Working on the Railroad" on a scrap of laundry paper. The song appeared in the Varsity Minstrels, and was soon taken up by everyone in the campus. The chorus became the official University song in January, 1936.

Reminiscent of old traditions is the ducking of pledges in Littlefield Fountain on initiation night. This custom has been carried over from the days when freshmen-class presidents were ducked in Beck's Lake.

The name, "Forty Acres," is still used for the University, although the campus now covers more than two hundred acres. The original forty acres was the section of land now bordered by Guadalupe and Speedway between Twenty-first and Twenty-fourth Streets.

New traditions are always growing up to join old ones. Perhaps the heated political campaigns we have now—with "Bugs Bunnies" and other costumed figures—will find their place in tomorrow's memory book beside the wartime shirt-tail parades of Navy trainees.

Texan Deliveries Are Limited This Year

Delivery of the Texan has been cut drastically because of high production costs, Cal Newton, business manager of Texas Student Publications, Inc., said Monday.

Until October 15, the Texan will be delivered only in the area from Nineteenth to Twenty-Seventh and Speedway to Rio Grande Streets.

A truck route, however, will deliver papers to all University buildings and dorms not in this area and to larger living areas to be arranged Wednesday.

Papers will be available for those outside this area at four buildings on the campus: the Union, Journalism, Engineering, and Law Buildings.

Sunday papers will be available in the Union for those who live outside the delivery area.

All those students who live within the zone and have pre-registered are requested by the Texan office to come by and leave their addresses.

Before the war, circulation was condensed to a few blocks around the campus. Few carriers were needed and therefore delivery costs were low. An expanded enrollment plus rising costs of printing the paper have made it necessary to cut this service somewhat and still maintain expenses for an enlarged paper on a small budget.

Naval ROTC Students To Be Sworn in Today

Thirty-eight students will be sworn in as midshipmen in the United States Naval Reserve at 10 o'clock Tuesday at the Littlefield Home, it was announced by Captain H. Y. McCown, professor of naval science.

These students will be in training under the naval reserve program for a commission in the regular Navy upon graduation.

difference in the way their automobile sales are financed.

A spokesman for the Oldsmobile sales branch here said that he expected no change, since his class of trade was largely cash.

R. K. Swenson of the Grand Finance Company predicted more uniform prices, with the purchase price on later model used cars falling slightly. The demand will be greater for older models, he believes, since customers must feel the pinch of a one-third down payment.

Truman Will Appear On First Area Telecast

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20—(AP) President Truman's Fort Worth appearance September 27, will be televised by WBAP-TV, Harold Hough, director of the station, said today. The telecast, the Southwest's first, will be a prelude to WBAP-TV Day, September 29, when actual programming will begin.

Cousins Writes Book

Margaret Cousins, ex-student of the University, has written a Christmas story entitled "Uncle Edgar and the Reluctant Saint." The book will be published October 19 by Farrar, Straus. It is a story of the Brazos Valley and Central Railroad on Christmas Eve.

Margaret Cousins is managing editor of Good Housekeeping.

UT Will Play Host To Co-ops in '49

The fourth annual conference of the North American Student Co-operative League will be held at the University next September.

This year's Texas delegation, headed by Marlin Thompson, president of the Inter Co-op Council, included Ken Cochran and Gertrude Freytag. They met with other representatives at Lawrence, Kansas.

Childhood Culture Sets Life Pattern

If you weren't exposed to culture at an early age, you'll never completely achieve it, says University of Texas Psychology Professor Robert R. Blake. He says he believes a person never completely overcomes limitations imposed by original socio-economic background regardless of later education.

He illustrates his theory by comparing an individual's thought processes to a piece of land left fallow too long and attacked by erosion. Although it's cultivated later, it can never be as efficient as it would have been with early cultivation.

Dr. Blake bases his opinion on results of extensive tests he gave 100 persons. After he tests 400 persons, he plans to make compilations and publish a report. He says he knows a lot of people disagree with his theory, but his test results convince him of its logic.

Representatives of campus co-operatives from schools over the United States and Canada discussed problems of co-ops and were informed on work and accomplishments of co-op organizations.

Purpose of the national conference is to work out solutions for problems of campus co-operatives, Thompson said.

Committees were appointed to strengthen the league, encourage establishment of more co-operatives on each campus, and facilitate exchange of co-op literature.

"We were pleased to find that co-operatives here are among the few that work in a close and amiable relationship with the University administration," said Thompson.

There are ten co-ops housing more than three hundred students on the University campus. Five are for men and five are for women.

However, co-ops are not affiliated with the national organization because of a lack of regional organization in this part of the country. Thompson said he will form a committee to plan such an organization.

The University Co-Op Bookstore was admitted to the national organization at the recent national conference as an unaffiliated member.

Charles T. Johnson, University ex-student and now an insurance underwriter in Austin, has received honorable mention in Who's Who for 1947.

Each year this organization selects outstanding young business men who have contributed to the nation's progress. Mr. Johnson was instrumental in relieving the shortage of homes in Austin by building and selling over 150 homes during the past eighteen months and has received national commendation for this service.

In the field of life insurance, Mr. Johnson qualified for the past year's Leaders Round Table of Texas in recognition of quality life underwriting service to the public.

Mr. Johnson attended the University from 1930 to 1934 and is a former resident of Moulton.

Progressive Candidate Withdraws Senate Bid

Drew C. Nichols, Texas Progressive Party candidate for the United States Senate, Saturday announced his withdrawal from the race "for personal and health reasons."

Nichols said his withdrawal "is not to be construed as a repudiation of the high ideals and humane objectives of Henry Wallace and his genuinely democratic progressive followers."

Fair Will Coincide With Texas-Okie Tilt

For the first time in the history of Texas-Oklahoma football rivalry and the State Fair of Texas, the big fair at Dallas opens on the day of the big game—October 9. This gives blanket tax holders and other Texas fans an opportunity to save money as they take in the sights of the Fair before and after the game.

Opening Day Keys to the State Fair, good only on Saturday, October 9, are on sale now and through October 1 at the University Co-Op. These keys, which sell for 60 cents each, the same as the admission price at the gate, entitle the holder to the following:

1. In-and-out admission to the Fair, good all day and night on Opening Day.

2. "One-half price to carnival shows and rides on Midway, both day and night. (Subject to Federal Tax)."

3. One-half price on ticket to the Ice Cycles for October 11 or 12, and other special features.

Item 2 is the point of particular interest to those planning to attend the football game, and whose football tickets will admit them to the Fair Grounds. Students planning to take in the rides and shows on the Midway before or after the game can save much more than the cost of the key through the exercise of the half-price option which it carries.

An Announcement to University Students and Faculty

Over 500 of Austin's people own their own grocery store . . . we invite you to use these facilities

For more than 100 years, cooperatives have been used by people to get things they want. Here in the Austin area, we are familiar with the way the REA co-operatives have made rural electricity possible. There are many other co-operatives in Central Texas, but most of them are owned by rural people.

The Austin Consumers Co-operative, Inc., is a corporation. It has 525 stockholders, practically all of them Austin residents. Business and professional people, State employees, students and teachers make up the majority of the membership.

We are investing in this co-operative in the hope that through co-operation we will be able to earn enough on our investments to reduce our cost-of-living to some degree.

All profits of the corporation will be used first to make a limited return on invested capital, and second, to rebate to the stockholders a percentage of their purchases.

The store is open to anyone. The co-operative is neutral on religion, race and politics. Its profits will be turned back into Austin channels of trade to contribute to the general welfare of Austin.

This co-operative will pay all taxes which any other retail store in Austin will pay. In structure it is essentially the same as a partnership, and as such, it will contribute in taxes to the upkeep of the city, county and state governments and to the Austin Public Schools.

The Austin Consumers Co-operative does not intend to try to undersell other stores. Its prices will be fair, based on a mark-up large enough to cover expected overhead.

We'd like to have you drop by to see our store and to do your shopping. It's taken us a long time to get started, and we're mighty proud of it.

This store will be run by and for the consumers. It's open to everyone.
