Texas Folklore Society to Open Session Tonight

Strecker, President, Talks On Totem And Totem Lore

Crimmins Speaks

Subscription Dinner Given Saturday Night At Commons

Illustrated addresses on Indian archaeology and folklore will constitute the program for the opening meeting of the sixteenth annual session of the Texas Folklore Society this Friday night at 8 o'clock in Garrison Hall auditorium.

John K. Strecker, Baylor University, president of the society will open the meeting with an address on "Totems and Totem Lore," and will illustrate his lecture with totems brought from Alaska.

Young to Speak

Lieut.-Commander C. S. Young of North Pleasanton, retired officer of the United States Navy, will speak on "The Archaeology of the Big Doric Cave of Santa Helena Canyon." Lieut.-Com. Young is one of the few persons who has gone through the Santa Helena Canyon of the Rio Grande. He will illustrate his lecture with pictures made on his trip.

Colonel M. L. Crimmins, Fort Sam Houston, an authority on rattlesnakes and a leader in the anti-venom crusade, will speak on "Some Indian Illustrations of the Southwest."

Talks on Birds

Mrs. Bruce Reid of Port Arthur, an authority on bird life. Turn to Page 5, Col. 2

Dr. H. T. Manuel Made Member Of Research Group

Professor Has Made Study Of Talent Shown In Art

Dr. H. T. Manuel, professor of educational psychology, has been appointed an associate member of the Conference for Research in Art. The purpose of this organization is to further scientific research in the field of art education.

The chairman of the conference is Erwin O. Christenson of the Gardner Museum at Boston. Some of the prominent men who are members of the conference are Dr. Norman Meier, Dean Carl E. Seashore of the University of Iowa, Professor William G. Witford of the University of Chicago, and Alfred S. Lewerenz, a member of the department of psychology of the Los Angeles public schools.

Dr. Manuel's contribution to the conference was a study of talent in art. The result of this study was published by the Public School Publishing Company some years ago.

More recently Dr. Manuel published together with Aline Rathner, director of art in the San Antonio public schools, a series of articles in the "Nation's Schools" under the title of "That One Talent."

Reagan Society Elects Officers

Virginia Irvine was elected president of Reagan Literary Society for the year 1930-31 at the meeting of the club held Thursday afternoon in the girls' study hall. The other officers elected are as follows: Zola Bell Davis, vice president; Jenetta Grantham, secretary and treasurer; and Ruth Eldridge, reporter.

Madeline Jaffee gave a review of the novel, "They Stoop to Conquer," by Ellen Glasgow. Hazel DeWeese played the piano.

BANQUET PLANNED

Plans for the banquet and the banquet will be announced at a called meeting of Pi Sigma Delta business administration fraternity, this Friday night at 7 o'clock in R Hall 9, the secretary reported Thursday.

CANDIDATE

ALFRED MELINGER

Melinger Enters Race for Editor Longhorn-Ranger

Chosen as Most Valuable Member of Staff Of 1929

Alfred Melinger of Austin announces his candidacy for editor-in-chief of the Longhorn-Ranger magazine, basing his claim to the position on the fact that he has served on the staff of every campus publication over a period of five years. Melinger has spent four years on the staff of the Texas Ranger, one year on the Longhorn-Ranger, two years on the Cactus, and one year on the staff of The Daily Texan.

At the end of the first semester of this year, he was selected the most valuable member of the Longhorn-Ranger staff. Melinger has also contributed to Judge, College Humor, College Life, and other humorous publications.

He is secretary of Alpha Delta Sigma, honorary and professional advertising fraternity, and has had considerable experience in publicity work, having successfully advertised the Texas Relays in 1928 and having been chairman of the committee on local publicity for the first annual Round-Up.

He is a candidate for a bachelor of journalism degree in June, having completed the work on his bachelor of arts degree at the end of last semester.

Considering these facts, his friends claim that Melinger is entitled to the office of editor-in-chief of the magazine. The fact that he has twice been selected to contribute to the art department of the Cactus, that he has been able to hold a position on the art staffs of the Ranger and Longhorn-Ranger, and that he has held the position of staff artist on The Daily Texan prove, in the eyes of his supporters, that he is ideally fitted for the position. The fact that he has practically completed the work on two degrees and that he has served on The Daily Texan and on the Longhorn-Ranger in journalistic capacities indicates that he has ample background for editorial work, his supporters declare.

CURTAIN CLUB MEETS

"Dwellers in Darkness" has been chosen as one of the three act plays to be presented by the Curtain Club. Arno Nowotny, assistant dean of men, gave a short address at the meeting of the members of the Curtain Club last night. New officers will be elected at the next meeting of the club.

Co-Op to Report Baseball Game Today at 3:30

A play by play report on the Texas-S.M.U. baseball game will be broadcast from the University Co-Op this Friday afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

This will be the second conference game to be broadcast through the Co-Op's special loud speaker. Through the cooperation of the Texas Student Publications, Inc., and the University Co-Op, it is planned to broadcast all the out-of-town games this year.

The second game with S. M. U. will be reported Saturday afternoon beginning at the same time.

Eby Announces Summer School Faculty Members

Director Names Visiting Professors of Law, Education

Eight Appointees

Lones of San Antonio Put On B. A. Staff For One Term

Eight additional teachers have been appointed to the summer session faculty of the University. The new appointees as announced by Dr. Frederick Eby, director of the summer school, are as follows: G. W. Golke, superintendent of schools of Brownsville and president of the junior colleges of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, on the faculty of the department of history and philosophy of education for the first term; E. O. Wood, assistant professor of philosophy of education for the first and second terms; Miss La Vade Reed, supervisor of elementary education in the Austin public schools, in the department of the art of teaching for both terms; W. W. Kemmerer, director of research in the Houston public schools, in the department of educational psychology for the second term.

Edward Weldon Bailey, a Dallas lawyer, associate professor of law for the second term; Mastin Gentry White, graduate student of Columbia University, associate professor of law for the second term; Mrs. Ethel Miller Lones of San Antonio, instructor of business administration for the second term.

Education School To Require Two Copies of Theses

General Faculty Asked To Change Previous Ruling

The faculty of the School of Education voted Tuesday to request the general faculty of the University to require two copies of theses for master of education to be deposited with the University. It was announced Thursday by Dr. B. F. Pittenger, dean of the School of Education. This requirement will become effective next summer if the general faculty approves the ruling.

The general faculty made a ruling this year that only one copy of theses be deposited with the library. Heretofore it has been the custom for the candidates to make three copies, one for personal reference, one for the library, and one which is usually given to the

Records Tumble In Cowboys' Spitting Affray

"World champion tobacco spitters" are the Cowboys that were initiated Thursday afternoon in front of the Main Building. A long distance tobacco-spitting contest, held on Guadalupe Street opposite the University Co-Op was the main feature of the initiation. Doubtless many previous records were broken, and new marks set. Long thin, wooden paddles played an important part in the ceremonies, at least the neophytes thought so.

New members initiated were Alfred Robinson, Austin; James Fomby, Austin; George Barrow Houston; Wilbur Westerfeldt, Cisco; Jimmie Wilson, Fort Worth; Pete Staples, San Benito; Joe Riley, Greenville; Mac Burnett, San Antonio; Nono Rees, San Antonio; and Billy Rutland, Austin.

SWING OUT PLANS MADE

Final plans for the Senior Swing Out will be made at the Cap and Gown Council meeting to be held this Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. room. In the Main Building, stated Mary Margaret Glasscock, president.

CANDIDATE

OUIDA BAXTER

Baxter Enters Secretary Race In May Election

'Previous Experience And Capability' Are Bases Of Platform

Ouida Baxter, junior student in the University, has announced her candidacy for secretary of the Students' Association in the spring election, May 6. Her candidacy is based on previous experience and knowledge of student government.

Miss Baxter is a graduate of Westmoorland College at San Antonio, and while there she served as president of the students' honor council, the highest honor that the college offered, and as a member of the students' executive council. Since she has been on the University campus, Miss Baxter has been interested in student affairs, and at the present she is serving as business manager of the Scottish Rite Dormitory year book, and is a member of The Texan staff. She has also taken part in various other organizations and activities.

Because of her unusual qualifications and active interest in student government, friends of Miss Baxter have endorsed her for the position of secretary to the Students' Association.

Educational Leader To Visit on Campus

Dr. Alfred Hall-Quest of New York City will visit the University Friday, May 2, representing the executive council of Kappa Delta Pi, honorary education society.

Kappa Delta Pi has chapters in 62 colleges and universities. Among these there are three in Texas. One at North Texas State Teachers' College, Denton; one at Baylor University, Waco; and the third at the University of Texas.

GEOLOGISTS MAKE TRIPS

Students of general geology are taking field trips this week to Shoal Creek and Mount Barker. The formations in Shoal Creek will be studied at the intersection of the creek and Thirty-fourth Street, and from there the classes will go to Mount Barker, which adjoins Mount Bonnell. Students are to furnish their own transportation on the trips.

Cowboys Ride Outlaw Horse in Rodeo Today

Professional riders from the Texas ranges will be in Austin to ride the famous outlaw horse, "Country Boy," during the Cowboy Rodeo which will be held at Riverside Park this Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, Gardner Duncan, manager, announced Thursday.

All students, both boys and girls, who can ride bronchos or steers, or who can "bulldog" and rope, are eligible to enter the contest and may do so by giving their names to Duncan or Jimmie Rutland. At present, a few more contestants can enter for the broncho riding and roping stunts.

Bubba Rehmann, University student, will be announcer, ring master, and clown for the rodeo. He and his famous bucking burro will be one of the special features of the contest.

Duncan requests that all contestants

Today Last Day To File Petitions For Spring Race

Three Candidates Announce For Campus Offices Thursday

Forty On Ballot

No Names Yet Entered For Two Positions On Council

With today as the last day for filing petitions, there are still two offices open and two unopposed candidates for offices which will be filled by the spring elections of May 6. No announcements have been made for councilman from the Graduate School and from the School of Business Administration.

The deadline for filing petitions is midnight tonight. Virgil Tillery, president of the Students' Association, will be in Main Building 212 until 12 o'clock and will accept petitions. Petitions may also be turned in to Josie Hailey, secretary of the Students' Association.

Three new candidates for positions entered the race yesterday. Ouida Baxter and Ruth Bailey announced their candidacies for secretary of the Students' Association. James E. "Pinky" Callahan entered the race for councilman.

Rees, Rose, And Higgins on Ballot For Norris Prize

Students to Select Most Popular Athlete May 6

Nono Rees, Frank Higgins, and "Big'un" Rose have been selected by the T Association as candidates for the Norris trophy which is awarded each year to the most popular athlete in the University.

Their names will be placed on the official ballot for the spring elections of May 6, and the athlete receiving the largest number of votes from the student body will be awarded the trophy by the Norris Candy Company.

Lubben to Speak At Math Club Meeting

"Transfinite Numbers and the Theory of Aggregates" will be the subject of a talk to be given by Dr. R. G. Lubben, adjunct professor of pure mathematics, at the meeting of the Mathematics Club Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in Garrison Hall 100.

A brief discussion of plans for a social meeting of the club will follow the talk.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED

New officers will be elected for the coming year at the meeting of Xi chapter of Theta Sigma Phi tonight at 8 o'clock, at 1004 Lavaca, stated Mary Margaret Glasscock, president.

BILL DYER

Bill Dyer Enters Race for Texan Editor-in-Chief

Departmental Head Bases Platform on Staff Experience

Bill Dyer, departmental editor on The Texan, has announced his candidacy for the position of editor-in-chief of The Daily Texan in the spring election which is to be held May 6.

Dyer is a senior student in the College of Arts and Sciences. During his four years on the campus, he has worked three long sessions and two summer sessions on The Texan. He has served as Texan reporter, feature writer, assistant issue editor, staff member, and departmental editor. He has been theater editor this year, and was active on the theater staff in 1928-29.

In connection with his journalism work, Dyer is an active member of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary and professional journalism fraternity. At present, he is associated with the Press Conference which is sponsored by the fraternity each year.

Dyer plans to return to the University next year to do graduate work in the department of journalism. He has had training in many of the journalism courses which deal with the executive and mechanical features of newspaper management.

During Dyer's University career, he has been active in student affairs. He has been a member of the Men's Glee Club for four years, serving as one of the officers of the organization during this school year. He has also, during this school year, served as the representative from the department of journalism on the Students' Assembly.

Dyer's platform stresses full representation of activities of the various professional schools on the campus in addition to those of the academic school. It also includes full and impartial representation.

Students Learn To Dodge Slaps Of Politicians

An enterprising and far-seeing student might make a fortune by the invention and sale of shoulder and back pads to be worn as protection against the physical greetings of the would-be politicians, the fledgling Democrats and Republicans, who are preparing for the coming campaign election.

Everybody's popular these days; everyone's getting the big hand and an unsaid "Hello, sucker" from the "big" men and women of the campus who have announced their candidacy for office.

The janitors and campus keepers grind their teeth and patiently stab a pointed stick through the photographs of so-and-sos that are printed on the blotters, cards and chewing gum wrappers that litter the campus. The professors and instructors heave great sighs each morning and roughly erase from the blackboard the stenciled notices which tell you where to place your vote.

And the students are becoming experts at dodging the open palm of the back-slapping boy or girl.

Rigid Pledging Rules Proposed By Faculty Group

Students in the University who wish to pledge fraternities or sororities will be expected to fulfill more rigid scholastic requirements and all fraternities will be required to have housemothers if recommendations made by the faculty committee on student social organizations are adopted by the general faculty and approved by the Board of Regents, a copy of suggestions for changes in the rules governing the fraternities and sororities sent to members of the general faculty Thursday announcements.

The rule regarding first semester pledging requiring the mere passing of fifteen hours work would be changed to demand a C average and a total of 225 points if the committee's recommendation is adopted.

Sophomore Pledging Goal

Under the proposed rule students will be eligible for pledging even though they are carrying less than fifteen hours work provided they make the required 225 points. Straight sophomore pledging is the ultimate goal of the committee, according to the recommendations.

Another recommendation would give the dean of student life power to be the final judge in forbidding fraternal groups the privilege of pledging when their finances are not in satisfactory condition. The faculty discipline committee now holds the power of final decision in such cases.

Enforcement Outlined

It is also recommended that the committee on student social organizations have the duty of enforcing all regulations governing such groups. This committee is best equipped to interpret the meaning of rules governing such organizations, it is stated.

In order to make the fraternity rules in the handbook more simple. (Turn to Page 5, Col. 3)

Four New Men Named in Friars' Annual Election

Honor Society Founded As Association Medium Of Students

Four new members have been elected to Friars in the annual spring election.

Scott Wilkey
Wm. C. Scurry
Leroy Jeffers
Gover "Ox" Emerson

Friar is the senior honor society of the University. The society was founded in 1911. Its object is to confer the honor of membership upon the eight most eligible men chosen from each senior class of the various departments and schools of the entire University, and to give these men selected a medium of associating together with members of the faculty of the University, prominent citizens and alumni invited by the society to meet with it at the formal board of directors for the discussion of events, affairs, problems, and tendencies within and without the University.

Elect Twice a Year

Friars elect new members twice each scholastic year. In the spring term it elects from the junior classes the four men that stand out as the most eligible for membership. In the following fall term it elects four more eligible men from the same classes who are then in their senior year.

Purely Honorary

Election to Friar is purely honorary. Membership in social organizations, affiliations and popularity with the University and mere prominence are not qualifications upon which election to Friar is based.

The society elects those candidates for any degree who stand out from the members of their class and represent the most well-rounded type of college men.

Battle Lectures On Virgil's Fame And Influences

Professor Makes Special Reference to 'Aeneid' In Talk

An explanation of Virgil's fame, his work, with special reference to the "Aeneid," and his influence on later writers was made by Dr. W. J. Battle, professor of classical languages, in a lecture delivered Thursday, April 24, at 5 o'clock in Garrison Hall auditorium, celebrating the two thousandth anniversary of the immortal poet's birth.

"Today the text of the 'Aeneid' could almost be reconstructed from quotations," stated Dr. Battle. "Yet it appears that Virgil was not without honor at his own time. He was acclaimed during his life, in the pagan as well as in the Christian world, as the greatest of Roman poets, the 'Learned Poet'; he was renowned as a prophet, and was considered by many a magician; he was loved by the Emperor Augustus, and by Horace, who was his most intimate friend."

"To Augustus the world owes a debt for the existence of the 'Aeneid.' At the time of Virgil's death, the poem was unfinished. The poet, who was a conscientious writer, willed the 'Aeneid' to be destroyed; but the will was vetoed by Augustus."

"Although we have no authentic picture of the poet, Virgil is described as a tall, dark, and rustic—a countryman in his talk and in his appearance. He possessed a keen sense of humor, a tender and genial wit, and high morals. All testify to his greatness and popularity," said Dr. Battle.

"There has been no greater influence on English poetry than that of Virgil. As for the French, they admired him perhaps more than the English."

"Some of his minor poems disclose an extraordinary sense for the beauty and dignity of labor, a keen observance of nature, and great pathos. The 'Aeneid' was intended to be the embodiment of Rome, and to glorify Rome and Italy," Dr. Battle said.

The form of this poem, which he brought to perfection, is regarded as Virgil's greatest achievement.

Phi Delta Gamma Meets Wednesday

A debate on the question, "Resolved: That Congress Should Denigrate the Enforcement of Prohibition to the Various States," was given at the meeting of Phi Delta Gamma in the Law Building auditorium at 7:15 o'clock Wednesday night. James Wilcox upheld the affirmative side of the question and Horace Wimberly upheld the negative side. It was a no-decision debate.

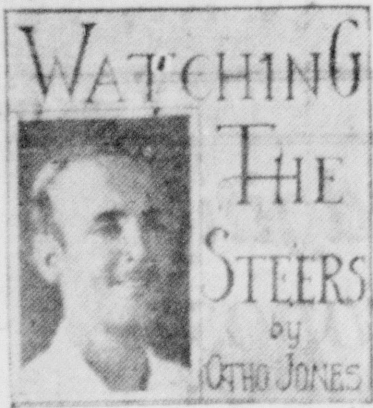

New members of the law fraternity will be initiated at the next meeting Thursday, May 1.

Berkeley Bell
Berkeley Bell, varsity tennis star, collapsed on the court during his match with Francis T. Hunter of New Rochelle in the Mason and Dixon tournament at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Wednesday afternoon.

Bell was within one point of winning this match, which would have placed him in the semi-finals, when he collapsed on the court with a cramped leg.
Below is a news account of the match:
"The Hunter-Bell match was the outstanding contest at the time of Bell's collapse from a painfully cramped leg as the players held two sets each, with Bell leading six to five in the fifth set and with the advantage point. After dropping the first set, Hunter displayed a crushing attack that wore down his less conditioned opponent and won the second and third sets, 7-5, 6-4. Returning to the court after the 10 minute period allowed for rest, Bell gained an early lead in the fourth set, but Hunter recovered to even the match five all. Bell held the odd game and won the set 11 to 9.
"The fifth set was similar and after the games were five all, Bell won his service to lead six-five. Hunter, serving, won two points and then allowed Bell to even the points. The game went to deuce and Bell gained the advantage point. At this moment he fell to the court and cried out in anguish with a cramped leg.
"Hunter watched several spectators carry Bell to a chair on the side lines and then walked to the court and cried out in anguish with a cramped leg.
"In two or three minutes Bell rose, limped to the court and said he wished to continue the play. The committee then privately met with Umpire Wright and S. Howard Voshell.
"When the match was awarded to Hunter by default the audience drifted away, many criticizing Hunter for alleged unsportsmanlike conduct, others holding that, having worn out his opponent, Hunter was entitled to take advantage of his superior physical condition.
"The Hunter-Bell match was almost the duplicate of a situation which arose on the same court last July in the finals of the West Virginia open tournament. Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore was leading Bruce Barnes of Texas, five games to one in the fifth set of the finals match and had the advantage point. He slipped and hurt his arm and when he was unable to continue in five minutes, T. C. McKinnon of Charleston, the referee, who is also officiating in this tournament, defaulted the match to Barnes."

That Relay Team
We predict that Littlefield's mile relay team will win that event at the Drake Relays this weekend. Westy Westerfeldt, John Terrell, Perry Harris, and Adolphe Schiller, who left for Des Moines yesterday, make up a fast four-some and will give the University of Missouri team the fourth stiff fight of the season.
The two teams ran the mile relay event neck and neck here at the Texas Relays, and at the Kansas Relays, Missouri taking first place each time with the Steers falling in a close second.

The boys have been getting exceptionally good time on that mile relay run of late, making it in 3 minutes, 21.3 seconds in the Rice meet at Houston the other day. That is the best time that has been made in the conference this season, and if they can hold around that at the Drake Relays, they should grab first place.

Much Interest Is Manifested In This Year's Contest

By ALBERT OSTROW
The intramural track meet will get under way this Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at Memorial Stadium and will continue through Saturday. All preliminaries and part of the finals will be run off today and the other finals will be held tomorrow, beginning at 3 o'clock.

A number of entries have been received at the intramural office, and indications point to this meet as one of the most successful ever staged at the University. Some of the marks are certain to tumble under the onslaught of the intramural entries.

The program for this afternoon is as follows:
Preliminaries
100-yard low hurdles, 100 yard dash, 440 yard run, 220 yard dash, 880 yard run, and 880 yard relay (fraternities only).

All finals in these events will be run Saturday.

Finals
Shot put, javelin, pole vault, and high jump.

Saturday's Events—Finals
180 yard low hurdles, 100 yard dash, 440 yard run, 220 yard dash, 880 yard run, 880 yard relay, discus, and broad jump.

The officials for the meet will be the following:
Referee, Clyde Littlefield; starter, C. J. Alderson; field judge, Bill James, recorder, Roy McLean, scorer, D. B. Hardeman; clerk of course, Billy Rutland; announcer, Allen Steer; judges of finish, Garner Suringer, head judge, Rupert Harkrider, L. L. Nittl, Schwartz, J. W. Nickson, and Dan Daniels; timers, Howard Jones, head timer; Frank Barton, Soos Bower, and Johnnie Williamson.

Varsity Swimmers Defeated in Meet

The University swimming team returned Tuesday from Houston, where it participated in a dual meet with the Houston Y. M. C. A. aquatic stars. The Longhorn swimmers were defeated by this organization, but much improvement was noticed in the strokes of the local men.

"The defeat came as no surprise to the Texas supporters, as the Houston 'Y' club is the holder of the Southern A.A.U. championship," stated Tom Gullette, captain.

A meet has been scheduled with the San Antonio Y. M. C. A. for May 16, to be held in the San Antonio pool. Those who will make the trip are Captain Tom A. Gullette, Joe Connor, Charlie Sharp, Forrest Price, Stanley Irvine, and Joe Boling.

Steer - Mustang Game Comes over Wire Today

Uncle Billy Disch and his baseball squad left Austin yesterday for Dallas where they will meet the Southern Methodist University Mustangs in a two-game series, beginning today.

The game will be called at 3:30 o'clock, and play by play reports will be announced by the University Co-Op.

The Ponies are deeply entrenched in the cellar berth of the conference standing as they have lost all ten of their games played, and Uncle Billy and his boys are expecting to fatten their percentage by taking both games of the series.

Coach Disch took a squad of seventeen players on the trip and will use about the same line-up he sent against the Aggies the first of the week. Johnnie Raitlon, star southpaw hurler, will more than likely face the Ponies today, while Coach Gerry Mann will probably send Lyle, his slow ball pitcher, against the Longhorns.

Engineers Upset Dope By 8-7 Defeat Of B. B. A. Nine

The Engineer baseball nine upset all Departmental League dope by taking an 8 to 7 game from the B. B. A.'s. The B. B. A.'s were undefeated before yesterday's game and the 'Alec's' will now play the Law team for the departmental championship.

Driscoll, Engineer, catcher and captain, Novy, and Linton led their team's batting attack, piling out seven hits between them. Driscoll collected three safeties in four times at the plate.

Barlow turned in a neat pitching performance for the Engineers while Trilica worked on the mound for the B. B. A. nine.

In the other intramural game played yesterday, the Beverly House club defeated Karl Tanner's West Texas team by the score of 17 to 13. Every man in the West Texas line-up saw service on the mound during the game.

Jake Burns, Lambda Chi Alpha, visited in San Antonio the past weekend.

Varsity Reserves Defeat Ineligibles

Jumping on Cook in the first inning for nine runs, the varsity left-overs defeated the ineligible freshmen in a seven-inning game at Clark Field Thursday afternoon, 11-2.

Baldridge led the hitters with three out of four. Wooley, Giddens, Tyson, and Snaveley of the reserves and Bankhead of the Frosh collected two hits each.

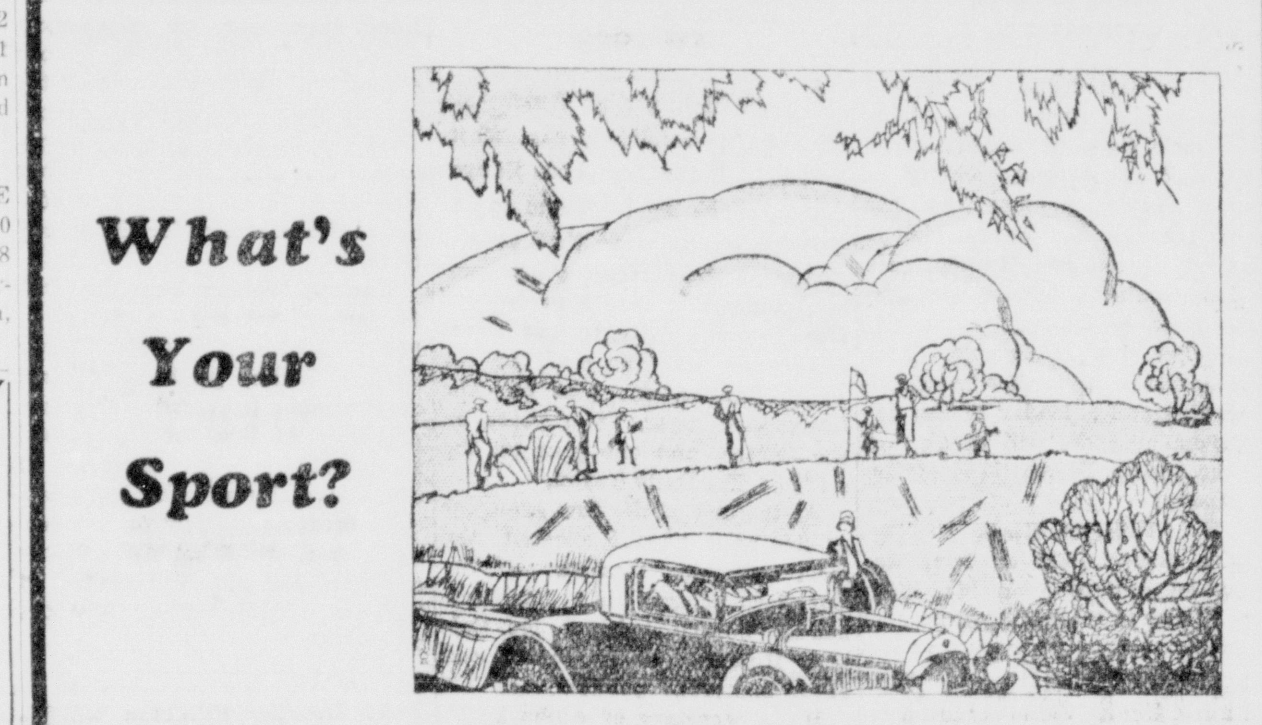

Results were as follows:
Ineligibles ..... 2 7 3
Reserves ..... 11 13 2
Cook and Bloebaum; Snaveley, Wooley and Tyson.

The New Gym And Health.

SOMEONE recently asked Thomas Edison, one of the greatest of living Americans, what single thing he valued most in life, and the astute old wizard answered "Health." A very wise choice. The other things in life fall into insignificance alongside of this most indispensable necessity for a happy life. Unfortunately indeed is the man who must struggle through life with a body that can realize only a tithe of its potentialities, because it has been neglected and mistreated.

The University has just completed a half million dollar monument to good health and clean living. The structure, when completely outfitted will contain as fine equipment for health-building as any institution in the country can boast. Up-to-date contrivances, featuring the latest scientific apparatus will be at the disposal of every student at the University. Expert medical advice will be available. And best of all, immense floor space will permit leisure recreation.

Make up your mind to take full advantage of these facilities. Don't overlook the opportunity to better yourself physically. College can be a place where a firm physical as well as mental foundation should be laid, and the University of Texas offers an unprecedented opportunity for the student to gain a valuable advantage in preparation for the outside world, the double advantage of a sound mind and body.

The educational advantages have always been present here, and now we rejoice in a fine gymnasium in which to insure precious health. Don't miss out!

Will We Justify Our Inheritance?

ROBERT Louis Stevenson once said, in commenting on the daily press, that the most significant thing about a newspaper was the stories of life it suggested but left untold. A tragedy as deep in its inner meaning as any tragedy heightened by the art of Shakespeare is revealed but left untold by some cub reporter on the courthouse run. A comedy that would have been enjoyed by a scene in which Flagstaff figures is merely indicated. The reporter, hurriedly writing the bare facts of life as he sees them from day to day on the streets, has time only to jot down the things from which the creative artist draws his themes.

In its message to the student of the University of Texas, The Texan feels the limitations imposed upon a daily paper. Every student in the University embodies a problem of life. But The Texan knows only those students who have become sufficiently conspicuous in relation to campus activities to "get their names in the paper." This, after all, is a poor basis of acquaintance when one is expected to voice the message of the student body. The real voice of the student body now on the campus will not be heard until it takes its place among the citizenry of the State and translates by word and deed the things it has learned while on the "forty acres."

The things which make a great university cannot be written within the covers of a catalogue. Nor can the professors in their lecture rooms or the students on the campus make a university. The achievements of its graduates constitute the measure of the worth of a university. The ex-students of the University of Texas have fixed the standard by which we will be judged when we take up the work for which we are now undergoing preparation. Ours then, is a trust, not only to live up to the standards which those who have gone before us have set, but to add something of our own to these standards that our predecessors may say: "They have justified their inheritance."

A FEEBLE FABLE
About a Gent Who Took Up Golf

One-hundred-twenty pounds he weighed
When he attended college
Thirsting after co-eds and
Also thirsting after knowledge.

He quite enjoyed the Austin air;
He ate and grew much fatter
Although he exercised a lot
His feet kept getting fatter.

He got fat; his feet got flat;
He swore a mighty oath.
One-hundred-forty-nine he weighed
And he was rather loth

To get much fatter so he said
Another pound he gained
That he'd drop tennis, take up golf,
No matter how it pained.

For too much weight he thought
That was
For him to tote about
And tennis is the sort of game
That can't be played too stout.

He bought some clubs expecting that
One pound at least, he'd add
Instead of that he lost some weight
And took it very bad.

But when he'd sold his clubs again
His weight came back apace
And so he bought them back again
With brown upon his face.

And now, because he's grown quite stout
And golf's too strenuous somehow
He's thrown away his clubs again.
He's pitching horseshoes now.

When that rich fellow was fined
$10 for exceeding the speed limit in Central Park, New York City, while riding a horse, he should have said: "But, judge, it wasn't me; it was the horse."

A friend of our says that instead of booing that political candidate who serenaded the girls up at S. R. D. last night, if they didn't like him they should have retired and then pulled down the shades. We think they should have pulled down the shades before they retired.

Colonel Crimmins is going to tell about remedies for snake bite. How about a shot in the arm, counsel, how about it?

Rose bush vandals, Austin's so-called "rose ring," continue their depredations. But it isn't a "rose ring," it must be a "ring-around-the-rosey."

Add smiles: As useless as a rainbow to a man who's color-blind.

The Engineers are going to have a power show for the Intercollegiate League Meet. More power to 'em.

The Folklore Society is going to meet here and swap yarns. I wonder if they've heard the one about the traveling salesman.

1. Wet Revolt.
2. Speed.
3. Civil Disobedience.
4. Sun Baths.

Warning of a wet revolt was given Wednesday by Pierre S. duPont, prominent industrialist, when he appeared before the House judiciary committee at Washington. He declared that the American people are determined to have a vote on the prohibition question, which right has been denied them for ten years. He further warned the judiciary committee that denial of the people's plea was an open invitation for them to change the American form of government. This change can be wrought through a "court of last resort," which the Declaration of Independence gives to the people, he said.

For "speeding" through a park in New York, a man was brought before the court. The officer testified that he was going "30 miles an hour," and so the man was fined $10. He was on horseback.

The "civil disobedience" which has been going on in India for some time at last reached a serious state Wednesday when it was learned that twelve persons had been killed during a recent clash between the insurgents and loyal troops at an arsenal. In addition to those killed, two were seriously injured and fourteen were arrested.

The demands for sun baths have become so great that an English railway has equipped a train with cars in which passengers may take such baths while traveling.

A speed of 95 miles an hour was attained by a German glider enthusiast Wednesday in a tailless airplane driven by rocket power. The plane was loaded with three rockets that produced 660 pounds of propulsive power.

Numbers—

Numbers! Numbers of what? People. Is there safety in numbers? Is number of people what the world needs today? What is the greatest achievement of man. By achievement: in evolutionary light, the thing which most delays extinction. In that same light, the acquisition of knowledge... the fathoming of nature. For "Knowledge is power."

Students of government would suggest that quality of legislators supercedes, ideally, quantity of representation. During the "conquest of nature"... which really is nature itself... the demand for numbers of men has progressively decreased. Machines do the work better.

Human kind might be classified according to two standards; intelligence and wealth. The two are by no means commensurate. Draw a line diagonally across a page. Call this Intelligence. Beginning at the bottom of the line, begin a second. Call the second Wealth. Following the line, the two are fairly commensurate for a distance. Before the middle of the page is reached, the Wealth line should make an ellipse upward. The Wealth line strikes the Intelligence line again, crosses it, and continues opposite it at something of an acute angle. Divide the page in three. The three classes of men are represented. (1). The poor and ignorant. (2). The Wealthy and moderately wise. (3). The poor school-teacher.

But granted that this goddess of light, rather than the pursuit of wealth, is the true and righteous—what single power has man acquired which might be said to exceed all other relatively to the continuity of the race? Bio-chemists, by a hit or miss method, devised such a medicine as salvarsan. Most medicines are found this way. Applied, often, the same. Even then, it is imperfect. All discoveries of man are and have been imperfect. Biologists, on a more logical basis, hit more closely the mark. The germ-plasm. Mutation. Heredity. Biological evolution. But this cannot be the greatest discovery, for—as yet—it too does not find universal application.

"Words, words, words." I wish courses for major examinations to be held at 2 o'clock May 7.

I had some new ones, for when you read words, you read into them. The best of men are susceptible to suggestion. Even psychologists! I would sugar-coat a pill to get you to face the truth, hypothetical as it may be. What I would point as the greatest of discoveries is as yet imperfect in its application. Simply stated, it is the regulation of the appearance of brand-new human beings into this world in accordance with the wishes of those already in it! Now, I haven't used a single new word, yet I have avoided those words which would bring repulsion from 90 per cent of your "public" minds.

This is too popular a theme. It has been neglected by those who should write themes. It has been capitalized by theatrical concerns because of its suggestive power. These "shows" work the phrase overtime: "The truth will make you free!" Indeed it will. But who believes it, relating to the problem at hand? Man has hesitated on this problem. Darwin held natural selection fifteen years... not wishing to deal the "infant world a shock." Darkness never profits. Feeble-mindedness is increasing at present. That may, and does, have other reasons.

Now, if the practice were universal... Bear in mind that what I speak of is imperfectly known today! We shall be sure of ourselves in the future... what would be the result? There would be little chance, comparatively in the wealthy and intelligent groups. The third group, the poor and ignorant, would practically vanish. This would be the primary result. Of course, the results would be more far reaching.

But here is the best of the fruits! Look what an advantage the poor-intelligent group would have over the wealthy group! This would make an optimist! The above granted, in which families would the remaining numbers appear? The intelligent group would have more children. Why? Because they would want them. And this very fact of wanting a

First, let me indicate how it is harmful in its present status. Refer to your graph. Which groups now practice the art? Two or three. Result. Fewer and fewer school-teachers, proportionately. About the same wealthy-moderately intelligent. But a vastly too high rate in the poor and ignorant! Feeble-mindedness is increasing at present. That may, and does, have other reasons.

A milestone of Telephone progress

This marker is used to show the position of a new type of underground cable line. It is also a monument to the Bell System policy of constantly improving established methods and developing new ones.

For years underground telephone cables have been laid in hollow duct lines especially constructed for the purpose. By this newly developed supplementary method they can be buried directly in the ground without conduit—and, under many conditions, at a saving of time and money.

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE"—with Richard Dix, Miriam Seegar, and Margaret Livingstone, playing for the last times today. "Not So Dumb," with Marion Davies, Elliott Nugent, and Donald Ogden Stewart, Saturday and Sunday. At the Texas.

"CHILDREN OF PLEASURE"—with Lawrence Gray, Helen Johnson, and Wynne Gibson, playing for the last times today. "Ladies Love Brutes," with Mary Astor and George Bancroft, Saturday through Tuesday. At the Majestic.

"CAMEO KIRBY"—with Norma Terris and J. Harold Murray, playing for the last times today. "Hallelujah," King Vidor's all-negro talkie, with Nina Mae McKinney, special midnight preview tonight, regular run through Tuesday. At the Hancock.

"THE LIGHT OF WESTERN STARS"—with Mary Brian, Richard Arlen, and Harry Green, now through Thursday. At the Queen.

Reviewed Today

"The Light of Western Stars"—They are not twinkling so brightly at the Queen. Lovers of Zane Grey's western stories will be disappointed in this picture which is showing at the Queen for a week. Paramount has seen fit to make several changes in the original Grey story, and they have not resulted in any benefit for the picture.

However, it must not be inferred that this is a dull picture. It is fairly good entertainment. There are several good features to it, notably, the comedy of Harry Green of "Kibitzer" fame. A gigantic stampede of wild horses adds to the action of the picture. There is plenty of gun play and a real old tooth-for-a-tooth fight between Richard Arlen and Fred Kohler.

The cast is competent. Mary Brian does her usual dependable work. Regis Toomey appears for a few scenes, and Guy Oliver plays the sheriff. Richard Arlen does good work as the hero of the offering. Those who like westerns with action will enjoy the production.

Bridge players will get a lot of laughs out of the comedy "He Trumped Her Ace." Incidentally, those who know nothing of the game will also appreciate this short subject. It's good fun. At the Queen.

"SEVEN KEYS TO BALDPATE"

Richard Dix, one of the old heart-accelerators of the silent screen, is holding forth over at the Texas Theater today in his first all-talkie for the Radio company. This company, in casting about for a suitable vehicle for this star, wisely chose this old and established stage play. The play finds its great worth in unusualness of situation and cleverness of line and situation. In fact, if one felt catty about Mr. Dix and all screen stars at large, one could say, loudly and firmly, that the play is absolutely "fool-proof."

However, Mr. Dix is not a punk actor. He has a distinct flair for high-comedy, and finds a complete chance to display his abilities here. As the young novelist, who is more than merely harassed as he attempts to complete a mystery novel in 24 hours, Mr. Dix scores a distinct hit as a talking actor.

The rest of the cast is competent, but hardly noteworthy. Margaret Livingstone, as a shady lady, probably wins the only personal notice in the assisting cast. Her voice is quite as wicked as her appearance, and it seems safe to predict that the screen has its perfect lady-menace still. See this one for a few thrills and quite a few good laughs. At the Texas for the last times today.

Mrs. Martin's Class Gives Puppet Show

"Sleeping Beauty," a puppet show, was given Saturday by an education class of Mrs. Cora Martin, adjunct professor of education.

Students in the class made the puppets, arranged the drops, and shifted the scenery. One of the puppets was able to turn a spinning wheel.

Students in the class had charge of working the puppets. Josephine Gist had charge of the musical arrangements.

professor under whom the thesis is written.

Some of the departments of the University are passing rulings that require two copies to be deposited with the University to be placed in the library. One would be kept in the archives, and one would be placed on the shelves for general circulation.

The School of Business Administration voted January 12 to require graduates to make two copies of theses for the library. Later this rule was approved by the general faculty and the Board of Regents and will become effective. Graduates are now asked voluntarily to deposit an extra copy with the University the same as last year.

Rigid Pledging—

It is suggested that the word "pledging" be substituted for the word "initiated" in a number of places.

Following are excerpts from the recommendations for changes in the rules suggested by the committee:

"In line with their duty to observe the working of the regulations of student social organizations, and make such recommendations as they deem expedient and just regarding changes or additions to the regulations," the faculty committee on student social organizations recommends the following Handbook changes (In each case a majority of the committee favors the change proposed):

"The committee favors straight sophomore pledging, but feels that it is best to work gradually toward this goal. The previous scholarship requirement for one-semester qualifications was the mere passing of fifteen hours of work. The phrase 'or its equivalent' means that if sufficient points are scored by a student to total the 225 points represented by a C average in fifteen hours, he will be eligible even though carrying less than the fifteen hours. Points are scored with a value of 21 points assigned to every hour of work completed with an A grade; 18 points for a B; 15 for a C; and 12 for a D.

"Recast section 4 on page 70 to read as follows: When the scholastic average of any social organization for an entire long session falls below the University average for this long session, such organization shall be barred from initiating and from listing social affairs on the social calendar from the end of the long session in which the failure was recorded until the end of the succeeding semester. When such organization falls below the University average for the second time within a period of three years, it shall in addition to the foregoing restrictions be barred from pledging from the end of the long session in which this second failure was recorded until the end of the succeeding semester. This rule, however, shall not prevent any chapter from pledging or initiating a student who has made the honor roll during the preceding semester, provided he is otherwise eligible.

"The foregoing is a simpler expression of the previous rule, and makes the penalty somewhat heavier for a first offense, and very much heavier for the second scholastic failure within a period of three years. That part of the present rule which explains the method of computing averages is transferred to the explanations on page 74, under the caption: 'General Conditions Governing the Computation of Scholastic Averages.'

"The recommendation that housemothers be required in all fraternities houses is in line with the original recommendations of the faculty committee which last year made a study of the whole fraternity question.

"In section 11, at the bottom of page 72, a reference is made to section 4 under 'Housing' on page

61: in set in the third line of the first paragraph on page 61, after '11 p. m.,' the following: 'On Saturdays and holidays between 2 and 11 p. m.,' and insert in the fourth line the word 'other' before 'week days.'

"The change in the visiting rule is suggested so as to permit visits on Saturday afternoon before 4 o'clock, which the committee feels is reasonable.

"In section 14 on page 73, second paragraph: insert among the duties of the committee on social organizations the following, numbered (4) 'to try all cases involving violations of regulations affecting student social organizations.' This involves moving down the sub-division now numbered (4) to the end of the paragraph, and re-numbering it (5).

"This recommendation provides for giving disciplinary authority to this committee in cases arising under the regulations affecting social organizations. They are, perhaps, best equipped to interpret the meaning of these rules, and since final recommendation with regard to the future of the fraternities is to be made by this committee, it should be kept in as close touch as possible with the whole fraternity situation.

Respectfully submitted,

V. I. MOORE,

D. F. BOBBITT,

C. T. GRAY,

A. W. BLANTON,

S. P. FINCH,

Faculty Committee on Student Social Organizations."

White Publishes New Volume On Retail Buying

Professor Studies Future
Of Associations For Buying

"Co-operative Retail Buying Associations" is the title of a recent book by Wilford L. White, professor of marketing in the University. The economy of the cooperative retail buying associations and the future of this method of distribution are problems discussed by Professor White.

The book presents a study of present cooperative organizations, an analysis of operating costs, a detailed discussion of five important marketing functions which are performed to a varying degree by cooperatives, a study of general problems of organization, management, location and operation, an estimate of the present status of this type of distributive organization, and some discussion of future trends.

The book also shows to what extent cooperative retail buying associations perform certain definite functions more economically than does the service wholesaler in the same field, and also to what extent they force other institutions, such as the manufacturer, the service wholesaler, and the retail member to assume such performance and the accompanying expenses.

Professor White's book has just been published by McGraw-Hill Book Company, Inc.

"The Refrigeration Car and the Effect Upon the Public of Packer Control of Refrigerator Lines," an article which appeared in the March issue of the Southwestern Political and Social Science Quarterly, was also written by Professor White.

"The Refrigerator Car" deals with the problems of the packing industry and of the packer control of refrigerator cars, and with the solutions of these problems.

First Cement Used For Activities Gym

The first load of concrete was poured for the new Women's Activities Building Tuesday afternoon, and the steel contractor and a force of ten men started work on the part of the structure requiring steel reinforcements. Excavation for the three main buildings for the first unit is practically complete, and ten men and one truck are working on the night shift on rock excavation.

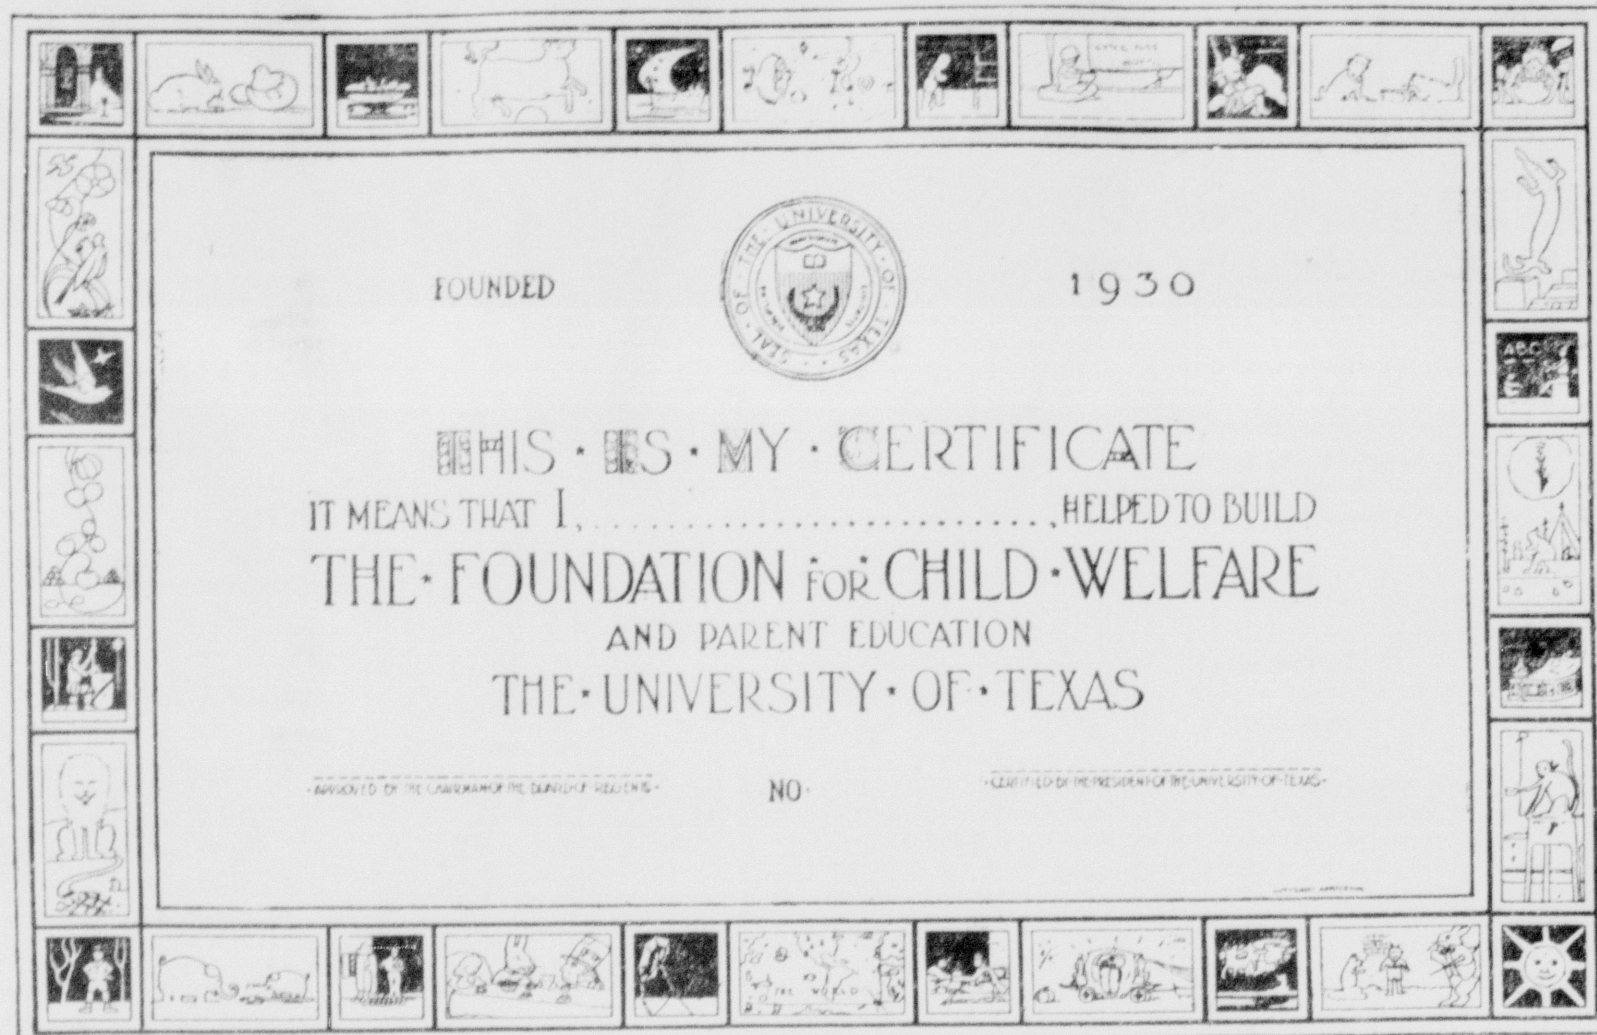

One car of reinforcing steel and two cars of lumber are on the tracks now and are being delivered to the building site. Approximately forty-five laborers and ten carpenters in addition to the steel workers are now employed in the construction of the building.

Alumni Broadcast Program in Chicago

An all-Texas program consisting of ten Texas songs sung by the Allerton Glee Club, a solo by Emma Kosanke, B.A., 1920, and a brief greeting by H. J. Babb, president of the alumni association, was broadcast over radio station KYW (Chicago) from the main dining room of Allerton House on San Jacinto Day.

This program was for the benefit of the University alumni. Special tables were reserved for all alumni who were present at that hour at the Allerton House.

A NEW KIND OF 'STOCK' CERTIFICATE

Something new under the sun is the Founders Stock Certificate being issued in the establishment of the Foundation for Child Welfare and Parent Education at the University. The first three certificates were presented by friends and relatives to Harry Yandell Benedict, Jr., son of the President of the University; Dan Moody, Jr., son of the Governor of Texas; and Colette Helen Streit, daughter of the New York Times foreign correspondent at Geneva. The design for the certificate was drawn by Walter Thomas Rolfe, professor of architecture at the University, and is a novel departure from the conventional stock certificate. The little squares and line drawings tell in a symbolical way of the life of the child and are rich in references to the literature and folklore beloved of childhood days. A key to the design is presented with each stock certificate, and much joy as well as guidance in the development of good literary taste is in store for the fortunate children who are chosen to be the founders of this movement which means better days for all children as it works ahead on the problems of child welfare and parent education.

Applications For Scholarship Due By Friday at 6

Today is the last day for girls to apply for the scholarship to be awarded by the Texas Federated Women's Club. Dr. Annie Webb Blanton, associate professor of educational administration, stated Thursday. The girls who intend to make their application may see Miss Blanton in her office in the Education Building from 4:30 o'clock to 6 o'clock today in order to go over their papers.

The scholarship is equivalent to about $40 a month for eight months, or about $300 for the entire year. The applicant must have been a student in the University for at least one year, and she must pledge herself to teach the same number of years which she is the recipient of the scholarship.

The girls desiring to apply for the scholarship must file their application in Miss Blanton's office, sign an official record of their work in the University, and have recommendations from several faculty members or other specified persons.

The winner of the scholarship will be announced in the early part of the middle of May.

Mrs. Brace's Father Buried Thursday

Funeral services were held Thursday at 1 o'clock in Portland, Ore., for Maurice Walton, father of Mrs. D. K. Brace.

Mr. Walton died early Tuesday morning. Besides Mrs. Brace, who is the wife of Dr. D. K. Brace, professor of physical education, he is survived by his wife, two sisters, and one brother.

Mrs. Brace was unable to attend the funeral because of illness. Mr. Walton had been living in Oregon for more than 30 years.

Mathews Back From National Memphis Meet

Eighteen Texas Registrars Present at Annual Convention

E. J. Mathews, registrar, has returned from Memphis, Tenn., where he went to attend the eighteenth annual convention of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars held in Memphis April 15, 16, and 17.

Mr. Mathews stated that Texas ranked second in representation, with eighteen registrars present. Illinois was first with nineteen representatives. Attendance at the convention was the largest in the history of the organization.

An item of particular interest, stated Mr. Mathews, was the entertainment furnished the registrars by students of Southwestern. This was the first convention of this organization wherein students have had a part. Visiting registrars were taken by students for a boat ride on the Mississippi.

Appearing on the program were Dr. Adam Leroy Jones, director of University Admissions, Columbia University, who spoke on "Admissions to College Based Upon a Selective System"; Professor Harold E. Smith of Cheoloo University, Tsinan, China, who spoke on "Credentials of a Chinese Student"; and President L. B. Hopkins of Wabash College, Indiana, who spoke on "What Lies Behind Methods of Personnel."

Present Day Club Elects New Officers

Officers for next year were elected at a meeting of the Present Day Club Tuesday at 1 o'clock and will be installed at the next meeting, May 13. Those elected are Lorena Drummond, president;

Mrs. Alma Thomas, vice president; Mildred Duderstadt, secretary; Flossie Weymouth, parliamentarian; Mildred Basford, treasurer; and Otilie Immel, reporter. Annual reports of all committee chairmen and officers will be due at the next meeting.

Dr. G. W. Stocking, professor of economics in the University, was the speaker for the meeting Tuesday. Dr. Stocking spoke on "The New Industrial Revolution in Germany," and pointed out that conditions in Germany are better now than they were in 1913 and showed how rapidly she has recovered her economic supremacy.

Dr. H. T. Manuel, professor of educational psychology, will deliver a commencement address at Caldwell Friday, May 23.
