

REGULATIONS FOR WOMEN'S ROOMING HOUSES STATED

Applications for Next Year's Approved List Are Already Coming in

QUALIFICATION RAISED

Grade of Those on List Will Be Determined by Miss McDaniel and Published

By Hortense Warner
Miss Lucy Newton, dean of women of the University of Texas, spoke before the meeting of the House Mothers' Association at 2:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon which was held in the Girls' Study Hall of the Main Building.

Her talk is preparatory for the applications which are to be made for next year's approved list of women's boarding houses, the applications for which are to be taken in March and April of this spring.

Miss Newton said in part: "At the present we are refusing all applications because we now have plenty of good houses for the girls, and it is only later that we will consider them."

"Our constitution says that it is our purpose to provide true and safe homes for the University women, and through this we have been able to better to a great extent the conditions under which the women are living, but now I am asking that we go a step farther and provide rooms which will be laboratories of intellectual and social development, and will be character building as well."

Sanitary Rating
"Next fall's list of approved houses will be based upon this plan and will be graded according to the average of four grades which will include the sanitary rating which has been given by Miss Louise Duffy's visiting nurses to the house, the social features which the house provides such as a suitable reception room, the improvements which the house mother intends to make, and the personality of the house mother herself which means the interest which she takes in the students."

Regulations Printed
Miss Newton further asked that a committee from the House Mothers Association be appointed to assist her in getting out a book which is to be distributed to all houses, and which is to contain general information on all questions in regard to the housing regulation. The directors of the dormitories, and the chaperones were also asked to assist.

Pamphlet Issued New Students
Instead of the pamphlets which are used each year for the purpose of acquainting prospective students with the boarding houses there will be issued a pamphlet which will contain the name of the house mother, whether board and lodging or one or the other is to be had, the kind of rooms offered such as single or double, the price, telephone number and the grade of the house."

Y. W. ADVISORY BOARD AND CABINET MEET

There will be a joint meeting of the Advisory Board and the Cabinet of the Y. W. C. A. in the reading room of the association at 4:30 o'clock on Thursday afternoon for the purpose of discussing the financial plans for next year and the finances of the association.

A report on the amount of the money which has been collected this year, and the amount still due from the unpaid pledges will be had. A discussion on the funds which are to be raised for the support of Miss Nancy Swann, the student secretary which the University Y. W. C. A. is keeping in China will also be taken up.

GLEE CLUB MEETING

Dick Hittson, manager of the University Glee Club, requests all members of the club to be present at the meeting Thursday night in S Hall, at 7 o'clock. The colored quartet of Austin will give some distinctive negro music. Members are invited to bring their friends.

Miles Hanley Will Read "Riders To The Sea" This Afternoon

"Riders to the Sea" a tragedy by John Millington Synge, will be read at the Public Reading Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock in Room 312 Education Building by Miles Lawrence Hanley of the English faculty. This play has received extravagant praise from many literary men and has been called by some the greatest tragedy of recent years.

"Riders to the Sea" is a simple story dealing with the tragic life of the people in the Aran Islands. There are barren, desolate islands, where the people have a hard time making both ends meet. Surrounded by the sea, it seems that the fate of every man is to be drowned since the sea claims a very large toll each year. The story deals with the tragic life of an old woman whose husband, father-in-law, and five of her six sons have been drowned. She has a vision and foresees that her last son is to be drowned. In spite of her great loneliness she is brave.

Various Celtic elements, as "Second sight" and visions of the future, are found in "Riders to the Sea." One of the chief charms of the play is the use of Irish-English.

the dialect of the people of the Aran Islands. It is not an Irish brogue, but has many peculiar words and inverted phrases which make it very quaint. There is a certain simplicity and poignancy which also adds to the charm. In the introduction to "Riders to the Sea" Edward J. O'Brien says: "It is the dramatist's high distinction that he has simply taken the materials which lay ready to his hand, and by the power of sympathy woven them, with little modifications into a tragedy which, for dramatic irony and noble pity, has no equal among its contemporaries."

One of the most significant recent literary developments has been the Irish literary revival, the awakening of interest in the Irish people, their customs and language. There were a great number of writers connected with the movement. John Millington Synge was one of the most outstanding men connected with it, and decidedly the most outstanding man in the field of the drama.

As "Riders to the Sea" is very short and will not take a whole hour to read, Mr. Hanley will either read Mr. Hanley will either read other selections from Synge or will give a brief talk on the author.

SECOND PLACE HELD BY FOUR TEAMS IN CONFERENCE RACE

Games Between Baylor and S.M.U. Monday and Tuesday Nights in Dallas

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Texas Aggies	1	0	1.000
Rice	1	1	.500
Okl. Aggies	2	2	.500
Baylor	1	1	.500
S. M. U.	1	1	.500
Texas	0	1	.000
Arkansas	0	0	.000
T. C. U.	0	0	.000

Four teams are now tied for second place in the Southwestern Conference basketball race as a result of the two game series between Baylor and S. M. U. on Monday and Tuesday nights.

The games in Dallas were both very close and hard fought. S. M. U. won the first by a 24-23 score, tossing the winning basket after the final pistol shot. On Tuesday night the Bears came back and won, 17-13.

The ending of the first game was peculiar. Just as the pistol ended the game the referee called a personal foul on Baylor and gave S. M. U. two free throws. The score was a 22-22 tie. The first free throw went through, and the crowd, thinking the game over rushed onto the floor and carried the S. M. U. team off on their shoulders. The referee finally got things quieted down and then assessed a foul on the Mustangs because of the action of their supporters. Which gave each team one free throw with the Mustangs leading one point. Both throws were good and the game ended.

In the Conference standing, A. & M. leads with a perfect percentage by virtue of its win over the Oklahoma Aggies. Then comes Baylor, S. M. U., Rice and Okla. Aggies all with percentages of five hundred. Teas brings up the rear with her one loss and no wins.

FISH TENNIS TEAM DEFEATS AUSTIN HIGH

University freshman tennis players have just finished a close match with the Austin High representatives, the fish winning, five matches to four.

The tournament was started Saturday but was only finished yesterday afternoon. Mather and Wise won the deciding match by a 7-5 score. Interest was added to the matches by the fact that three members of the freshman squad Mather, Wise and Chumney, were members of Austin High team last year.

Jimmie's Joys Win Favorable Comment in Theatre Tryouts

"Jimmie's Joys" who last week made application for a position on the Orpheum and Keith Vaudeville Circuit in Fort Worth, were very favorably received by the theatre goers and it is quite certain that the Varsity men will receive their contract within the next few weeks. The proposed contract will be for a forty week run throughout the north and east, beginning the next month or possibly not until June.

"The shoulder-shaking syncopeation offered by Jimmie's Joys, however, struck the popular chord, and 'the big hand' went easily to Jimmie Maloney, leader; Collis Brandt, Charles Willis, Lynn Harrell, Smith Ballev, Marty Young, Dick Hamel and Jack Brown. Their 'blue harmony' was irresistible," says the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

CURTAIN CLUB HOLDS CASTING REHEARSALS

Curtain Club held the first of a series of casting rehearsals in the Main Building Auditorium on Wednesday, January 17 at 4 o'clock. The cast that will have been selected together with the name of the play and the theatre at which it will be presented during the first week of March, will be announced later.

The play that has been selected is a thrilling melodrama full of excitement, drama pathos and comedy, and was a popular long-run Broadway success. It is hoped that the club will present this play in several of the larger Texas cities. The rehearsals are under the direction of Howard Mumford Jones, Director of the Curtain Club.

TRAVELOGUES TAKEN BY MULLER SHOWN

Pictures taken by Herman J. Muller, Associate Professor of Zoology, on a recent tour of Europe will be used by the visual instruction division for making a travelogue of about fifty slides. Professor Muller made an extensive tour of France, Germany and Russia and the division has secured the use of the photos taken on the trip. This travelogue is the latest of a series of slides prepared by the division from material donated by various members of the faculty in the University.

Some of the other travelogues of note prepared by members of the faculty are "South Germany and the Rhine" by Mrs. Roy Bedichek, "Mexico" by C. W. Hackett, and a series of photos taken of Mount Rainier by Miss Hilda Norman. An interesting series by a University student is "An Hour in Historic Paris" by Erle M. Racey of San Antonio.

CONFERENCE ON HOME WELFARE TO BE HELD

National Authorities on Education, Citizenship and Child Welfare Will Speak

The second annual conference on education, citizenship, and home welfare will be held at the University on February 6-9 inclusive, according to a statement given out by T. H. Shelby, director of the Bureau of Extension. The conference is in response to requests of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, and Texas League of Women Voters.

"The conference is fortunate," said Mr. Shelby, "in securing the services of several outstanding national authorities. Among those who have definitely accepted places on the conference program are: Dr. Owen Lovejoy, director of the Child Labor Organization of New York City; Mrs. Florence Kelly of the Consumer's League of New York City; Dr. George A. Works, professor of Rural Education in Cornell University; and Dr. Bird T. Baldwin, director Child Welfare Research Station of the State of Iowa. The conference will concern itself with problems of vital concern to each of these organization and will be attended by delegates from more than two thousand local women's clubs all over the State."

COLORED PICTURES OF AUSTIN SCENES MADE

Dan McCaskill of the Extension Photographic laboratory is preparing a series of colored pictures of scenes around Austin. This series will be similar to the ones exhibited at the Co-Op last year. The photos will include views of Hamilton's Pool and other beauty spots on the Pedernales river. They will be an improvement on those exhibited last year inasmuch as they will be framed.

This year the extension photographic laboratory has taken over the contract for making Cactus pictures when heretofore they were taken downtown sometimes necessitating extra time and inconvenience to students. All important events are recorded photographically by the laboratory. Pictures of the tornado which struck Austin last spring were exceptionally good and they have been reproduced in the January number of "Science and Invention" together with an article by Fred Morriss, co-operative U. S. Weather Bureau observer at the University.

French Universities Offer Return Fellowship To American Students

In return for scholarships and fellowships to American colleges that were presented to a number of French girls recently, the Universities, Ecoles, Normales, Lycees and Colleges of France are offering three classes of awards to American girls.

Women who have had some graduate work and who have a university career in view can enter themselves as candidates for the advantages that the Ecoles Normales Supérieures de Sevres can present. Before they can receive one of these scholarships or fellowships, however, they must speak and read French easily, and must have the serious aims of a serious student. The Ecole emphasizes the fact that real studying must be done.

Required Work

A Bachelor of Arts degree and some work in education is required of the candidate for its awards by the Ecole Normale de Saint Germain en Laye. This school demands that the holders of its American awards expect to follow the profession of teachers. They must be of women of not over twenty-four years of age, and should have a good knowledge of grammatical French, besides such command over the writing and speaking of it as will enable them to do their work in that tongue.

The third class of scholarships and fellowships is open to women

HOUSE COMMITTEE VOTES TO KILL EVOLUTION BILL

Several Other Matters of Minor Importance Are Reported on Favorably

Prohibition of the teaching of evolution in public schools by the Stroder bill was voted down Wednesday morning by a majority vote of the committee on state affairs to whom the bill was submitted. The bill was directed against the teaching in public schools of the Darwinian theory of evolution, particularly that part which is in contradiction to the Genesis theory of creation.

The House itself did not meet Wednesday morning, as most of the members were engaged in committee deliberations, but assembled at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Committees of the House reported this morning on supporting resolution of Senate urging congress to pass legislation that will enable Texas to put into the Lynch Davidson plan for saving the Orient railroad. The committee on jurisprudence reported favorably on the Sparkman bill making theft of chickens and other domestic fowls a felony. The committee on appropriations spent the morning considering the $3,500,000 appropriation bill for the aid of schools. A subcommittee was appointed to investigate possible sources of revenue to finance the appropriation, and until this report is made, the report will be held up.

In the Senate the most important development had to do with the rumor that the senate educational committee may not consider the bill proposing the establishment of a West Texas State College during this session because it carries an appropriation of $1,000,000. The finance committee has announced appropriation measures will be held for a special session.

DAVIDSON SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

Davidson Criminal Law Society elected the following officers for the second semester at the regular meeting last Tuesday night.

President, V. E. Earp; vice-president, H. W. Scott; secretary, Terry Dickens; sergeant-at-arms, Maurice Lehmann.

The organization is open to any law student interested in trying criminal cases, and at present there are a few vacancies in the membership. The president-elect declared that the society was going to be improved "every day in every way."

CO-EDS WILL HAVE MOTHER GOOSE BALL

Women's Gym Will Be Scene of Masquerade Festivities Thursday Night

Co-eds of the University will forget many long years Thursday night, when they dress to fit the parts of Mother Goose, and go to the old woman's ball at the gym. The ball will start at 7:30, and as the girls enter the gym, numbers will be given out, and two prizes to the two lucky numbers will be awarded. Admission is twenty-five cents per couple.

Two prizes for the cleverest and the funniest costumes will be given, and if any of the Varsity co-eds have so forgotten their Mother Goose rhymes, a book will be placed in the Council room, and the girls will have an opportunity to refresh their minds concerning the nursery poems.

A program of stunts and dances will be given. "Katinka" a Russian ballet taken from the Broadway show, Ballis "Chauve Souris," will be presented for the benefit of those who have not visited New York in the past few months. The famous Pig-Tail Chorus will perform, and Maria Taylor is scheduled to whistle. An exhibition of social dancing will be given, showing the moral reforms of the past rulings of the Dean of Women's office, together with the effects of the efforts of the Society for the Suppression of Vice. The Dancing Club will also give a performance.

Refreshments and dancing will conclude the entertainment, which will be given by the Woman's Athletic Association.

Testimony Taking in Shooting Case Begins Wednesday

"If Crawford hadn't stopped when I shot at him, and if I hadn't hit him, I would have shot to hit him," were the words of Constable E. Lefe Young in his testimony offered Wednesday afternoon in the case of David Crawford vs. Constable Young for the shooting of Crawford by Young on Hallowe'en night last autumn.

Testimony of the prosecution brought out the fact that after Young had wounded Crawford he rushed to where he had fallen and said, "I guess that will teach you to run from me, damn you!"

Among the important facts brought out by the defense were: That according to Article 416 of the Austin City Ordinances, Young was within his rights in attempting to arrest Crawford without a warrant; and that soaping a car track is a menace to human life.

The defense rested its case at 5:45 p. m. and the court adjourned till 9 a. m. Thursday at which time the judge will charge the jury.

GARRETT AND JOHNSON TO PLAY HANDBALL

C. Garrett of San Angelo, graduate student of the University and Singles Heavyweight Champion of North-America in handball has accepted the challenge of Floyd Johnson, local fireman and city champion in handball.

Garrett states that Johnson weighs two-hundred and twenty-five pounds but he lists the fireman's immense hands as his biggest advantage in the coming battle which is to be held at the Central Station Thursday morning between 9 and 11 a. m.

Johnson has vanquished Garrett previously but the latter states that he is primed for a terrific comeback in the Thursday fracas and the outcome is anxiously awaited by all handball enthusiasts of the "Forty Acres" and vicinity.

PHI PSI WINS IN HANDBALL

Phi Kappa Psi outclassed Delta Theta Phi in Inter-Fraternity Handball Wednesday afternoon. Armstrong and Ditter put up a stubborn game for Delta Theta Phi, but could not cope successfully with the versatile team play exhibited by Abe Curtis and Spuds Bowman. The score was 21 to 2 and 21 to 5.

LONGHORNS MEET OKLAHOMA AGGIES SATURDAY NIGHT

Previous Defeat Will Get Men Into Good Fighting Form, According to Romney

GAME SURE TO BE PLAYED

Meeting Will Take Place Despite Financial Condition of Oklahoma School

By Harry E. Moore
Coach Milton Romney will lead his Longhorn basketball team into the stronghold of the Oklahoma Aggies Saturday night in an effort to secure revenge for the stinging defeat administered his hopefuls by those same Aggies last Saturday. It was thought that the game would have to be cancelled because of the financial plight of the Oklahoma school, but arrangements have been made whereby all the conference teams with games scheduled will be protected.

Romney has been putting his men through severe work all this week, trying to correct the faults they showed in their last appearance. Romney says he is convinced that he has enough material to turn out a winning team as soon as they get going as they should. He refuses to be downhearted. In fact he says that it will work out to the advantage of the team and will enable them to win games later in the season that they would otherwise lose.

As for the team itself, they are hard at work and are evincing a spirit to win that is good to see. There is a more serious atmosphere around the court than there has been before, and it is this attitude that Romney is depending on to bring them through.

The Longhorns will leave for Stillwater Friday morning at 10 o'clock. They will arrive in Aggeland that night and will have an opportunity to become acquainted with the floor and court before the game Saturday night.

Romney will take eight men with him. Though he has not decided on the men who will make the trip, it is likely that the squad will be made up of Peyton, Barrett, Settegast, Swenson, Ragland, Robertson, Schhardt, and Curtis.

WORK FOR GIRLS

Miss Josephine E. Budd announces that she has three positions open to girls who can work during the following hours: 9:30 to 1 Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings, 9:30 to 12 Tuesday and Thursday mornings, and 1 to 4 Monday and Friday afternoon and Monday night. These places are all to care for children while parents are in classes. Any girls interested are requested to see Miss Budd at the Y. W. C. A.

WHAT EDUCATION EXPECTS

Texas should learn two things: first, good roads; second, good schools—never break a state's pocketbook. That is a paraphrase of an outstanding statement in a speech before the Texas Legislature Tuesday by Dr. H. T. Musselman of Dallas, who recently made a survey of the California educational system at the request of Governor Neff. California has learned those two things. That state goes on the theory of an American chance for every boy and girl in its territory.

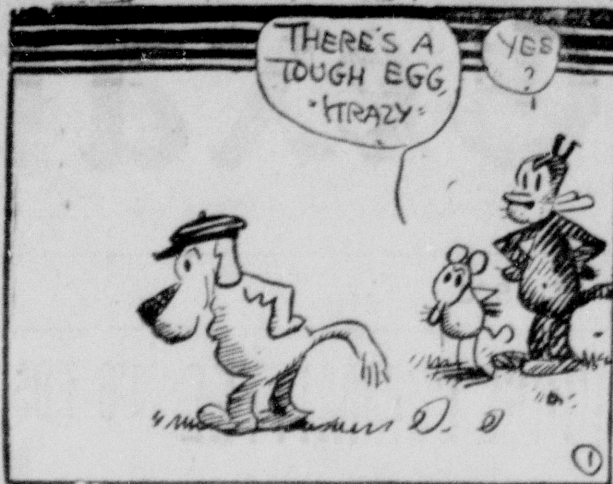

That Texas is providing its children with a ramshackle system of schools does not result from lack of general sentiment or desire for better educational facilities on the part of the citizens or the Legislature. Movement to co-ordinate and reconstruct the school system of the state in the past have usually met with insurmountable opposition, engendered often by local prejudice or jealousy. Efforts to secure a greater degree of co-operation between state and local authorities, so that schools might be more efficient and uniform, have been hindered by obstructive tactics and wrangles.

While Texas devotes from $1 to $12 for every school child, California is spending $60 for every grade child per year and $90 for every high school student. Texas labors under the burden of archaic and insufficient methods of taxation, while California has adopted a modern system of taxation which amply provides for all the requirements of the state and its institutions. California has provided its citizens with an extensive system of well-equipped and maintained institutions of higher learning; but Texas allows its normals, colleges and University to operate with inadequate equipment and physical plants, and insufficient support and maintenance.

The present Legislature is pledged to the task of providing sufficient and adequate support for the school system of the state, from the humblest rural school to the institution of higher education. Governor Neff in a recent address to the Legislature declared his intention to work to the end that Texas might have as good educational system as money can buy. From such unanimity and harmony in purpose and aim on the part of the lawmakers and the chief executive, the cause of education can expect great stimulus and assistance for the future. Education can reasonably expect that the bias which exists in favor of one part of the school system and the prejudice which may exist against another step in the educational ladder will be discarded; that sectionalism and localism will be subordinated in the realization that education demands one co-ordinate and symmetrical system.

KRAZY KAT

A hard landing for a brick

tem; that this entire system of education will be unified, improved and adequately supported. Education can anticipate that the methods of taxation will be modernized and reconstructed so that ample income may be secured for the needs of the state. Education can, with assurance, trust that the state will devote itself first to the rehabilitation and up-building of the existing schools and educational institutions before entering into new projects, however worthy in themselves the extensions may be. An educational system as good as money can buy, a school system appropriate to the size, population and wealth of Texas—that is the dream that education expects the state to bring into reality.

Opinions of Others

SOCIETY AND STUDY

(Southwestern Megaphone)

Elsewhere in The Megaphone there is a recommendation of the committee on social organization, composed of faculty members, that the first Monday night of each month be set aside for entertainments and banquets of fraternities and sororities and also that provision be made for the regulation of paid entertainments and student recitals. This measure, though seemingly harsh in its requirements, is the thing that has been needed in Southwestern for some time. If students are not careful, too much time will be devoted to social duties to the neglect of their school work. At the end of the term when grades are sent home inquiring parents will demand of the universities why their children have not made good grades. The Megaphone is not saying that this is the cause of all the failures, but it is responsible in a good measure for numbers of the failures of students not only in Southwestern, but in other schools as well. If you are here for work, work; if you are here for play, get out, we don't want you, should be the motto of the conscientious students who have the ability to mix their play and work.

MORE REALISM

(Clarendon, Texas College Clarco)

Thoughts of all idealistic nature, though usually desirous, are often too obscure. At the beginning of each year we usually resolve to improve to do better, or attempt to accomplish something still more definite. And it is to be feared that too frequently we continue to misuse or fail to use our energies, and limit our possibilities, because of this indefiniteness. Not that we are insincere in purpose but that we are aiming indirect! We have no specific task toward which we can concentrate our efforts. So from now until the day when the work of the upper classroom is approved and rewarded, why not leave the indefinite, idealistic undertaking to those of poetic instinct and attempt something specific and practicable?

CHAPEL NOTICE

The passage of Scripture under discussion at Chapel yesterday morning was the sixth chapter of Galatians, especially the first verse. The theme was Christian sympathy. The lesson brought home in this first verse was the thought that we should be ready to forgive other people for their shortcomings if we expect forgiveness when we go astray under temptation. The same thought is brought out in the petition in the Lord's prayer which says "Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors." The practical way to do this in a positive manner is to bear one another's burdens as the second verse of this chapter suggests, and the climax is reached in the last verse of the chapter where we are enjoined to love one another and to show that love in our treatment of each other.

Pitching Horseshoes
Next Sport: Athletic Council Orders Sets

"Give the boys from down on the farm a chance; let them play with something they know something about," may have been the spirit that actuated the Athletic Council in giving Berry M. Whitaker permission to buy twenty-five sets of pitching horseshoes to be distributed among the departments and rooming houses.

At any rate the permission has been granted and before long it may be a common sight to see a bunch of huskies, their cheeks inflated with tobacco cuds, earnestly arguing as to whether a certain shoe is a "ringer" or not.

Charley Seddon, amiable line coach for the Longhorn football team is responsible for the introduction of this rustic pastime on the "Forty." Seddon is an addict to the game and during the football season acquired the reputation of being a shark at it. He was forced to constantly teach new men the game as the old ones fought shy of a match they knew they were sure to lose. Now Seddon is gone, but the game remains, seemingly a fixture.

Shower for Miss Butler

One of the prettiest affairs that have been given in honor of Miss Margaret Butler, bride of the week, was a bridge shower given by Mrs. Fred Kingdom and her sister, Miss Dorothy Gammel at Mrs. Kingdon's home Monday afternoon.

Pink roses and lavender sweet peas were used in decorating the living room and sun parlor while a green and white motif prevailed in the dining room. High score was awarded to Eugenia Dilworth, low score to Mrs. B. H. Temple, and consolation to Bernice Dillard. At the close of the game the honoree was presented with a bridal bouquet of white carnations and ferns, the regulation shower being replaced by a shower of gifts. A salad course was served to Mesdames B. H. Temple and George McCullough, Misses Margaret Butler, Eugenia Dilworth, Hallie Maud Neff, Julia May Hancock of New York, Victoria Mathews, Martha Louise Hoyt, Mildred Griffith, Bernice Dillard, Frances Mayfield and Elizabeth Wroe.

Walker-Standefor

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Miss Mary Louise Standefor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Davis Standefor of Abilene, to Stanley Walker of New York City, Tuesday, January 2, at the Park Avenue Baptist Church, New York City.

Mrs. Walker is a former University student. Mr. Walker is a former student of Journalism at the University of Texas, was a reporter on the Dallas News, later private secretary to Mayor Frank Wozencraft of Dallas, a reporter on the New York Herald, and now feature writer and re-write man for the Herald. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will be at home after January 15, at 68 Bank St., New York City.

a corps of singularly competent players, headed by Mary Carr, whose portrayal of the Mother has made her famous.

Queen

The announcement comes from the management of the Queen Theater that an added attraction will be on the program, starting Thursday. This attraction will be the California Quartette, a male organization that comes here highly commended and heralded as "Monarchs of Melody." These four boys come from a nine month's run in Los Angeles, which alone is an enviable record for a male quartet.

The California Quartet handles all manner of melodies, but features the more popular airs and always have a comedy number on their program which has proven very popular with audiences wherever they have been seen.

Sport Gossip

Joe Ward, the amiable Varsity football and baseball star from Fort Worth, returned from his home city yesterday morning to the University. Joe, who was mentioned the past year by Walter Camp in his list of the outstanding tackles over the country, was intending to remain at home when he left last week end but on reconsideration he changed his plans and returned. Had the hefty tackle remained at home the football eleven the coming season would have suffered a severe blow. In addition the baseball nine for the approaching season would have felt his loss.

Although Joe was used as second string catcher last year he is being groomed for a place in the outfield this season by William J. Disch, Varsity coach. He was used in center field in a practice game between two picked teams yesterday afternoon in the work out on Clark Field.

Texas will be fighting for a chance to keep in the running for the Southwestern basketball title when they meet the Oklahoma Aggies on the court of the latter team at Stillwater, Oklahoma. The Oklahoma Aggies, rather Dean of the Oklahoma Aggies, defeated the Orange quintet by a desperate last minute rally last Saturday night, 29 to 28. The Oklahoma five flashed the better game and deserved their victory over the Longhorns, who at the present time have little chance of being a strong contender for the championship this year.

homa Aggies won two games, and lost two. The Texas Aggies won a decisive victory over them, the Rice Owls split even with them in a two game series, and the Longhorns were defeated by them. In all probability the Oklahoma institution will have a marked bearing on the result of the championship this year.

Even if the Oklahoma five does not finish near the top at the end of the race they can boast of one of the best forwards in the conference in Dean. Texas did not show a man as good as him, and in the Rice games he was one of the best men on the floor. S. M. U., Baylor and A. & M. may have better forwards than Dean, but it is highly probable that when the All-Southwestern five is picked he will be given serious consideration.

Alfonso Ragland, a new face on the Varsity basketball quintet, has been one of the bright spots in the Longhorn line-up so far. The lad is fast as a greased streak, is fair at tossing goals and is in the game every minute he is on the court.

Y.W.C.A. COURSE IN LEADERSHIP STATED

Details of Work Done by Students Explained at Length

Everybody sometime sooner or later in their lives, someplace is called upon to plan a party, be chief one in a reception line, or lead some special stunt. Particularly is this true if you are a born leader. And so it is invaluable to know how to do such things gracefully, and to have a reserve store of ideas in the back of your brain for use at any and every time. Moreover these are days when a great many girls plan to spend at least part of their summers at camp, not as the idle rich to be amused, but as the camp recreation leader inventing instances to amuse. On account of all these reasons and because the association believes in trained leadership, the Y. W. C. A. has been conducting a course in "Training for Leadership" every Monday night at 7 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. reading room. Psychology, the little keys to human action and behavior, to mob rule, have been discussed. Popular games, such as "Dumb Crambo" and even "Lobby Lou" have been a part of the program.

And now we have come to some of the most fascinating of all, handicraft at camp, which is to be given in several lessons beginning this coming Monday. Community singing and story telling will also be taught. One of the most popular forms of amusement at camp or elsewhere is the "sing" and the girl who can lead a group and make each ring with the whole use of the lungs is the leader, and the declared popular one. This art does not come naturally—you need practice and to know how to organize groups of singers in such a way as to get the most effective results. Also the dramatic ability for gay decorations may be developed through attendance at some of these lectures. Health and its importance will be divided into interesting lectures.

In addition to summer camp work, lectures will be given that will be of benefit to girls who spend their summers at home, and have need of instruction in the planning of parties, story telling for children, teaching of up-to-date Sunday School classes.

Increased Enrollment Causes Library To Be In Dire Need

The Annual increase in the enrollment of the University necessitates consideration and particularly in the University Library. It is essential that the library should increase as rapidly as the University itself and that the sums for books be enlarged to meet the demands for service multiplied. A generous part of the expenditure for the library is an increasing annual charge. Subscriptions to periodicals must be paid each year and annually, semi-annually or quarterly as the case may be these volumes must be bound. Many series of books, including publications of learned societies are published annually or at other intervals, and it is essential that the library maintain a standing order for these. It will readily be seen, therefore, that as the library grows its fixed annual expenditures increase. The University of Texas, registering 4,463 students is sixteenth in size of student enrollment among the Universities of the country, ranks eleventh in the support given its university library and stands sixteenth in number of volumes.

In 1915 there were 109,032 volumes in the library giving its standing as nineteenth among the universities. In 1922 there were 224,929 volumes making the ranking sixteenth. The expenditure for additional books for the year 1914-15 was $21,620.00 placing the library of the University of Texas 12th among those of other Universities, while the appropriation for that year was $23,595.00. For the year 1920-21 book were purchased to the amount of $54,182.14 giving Texas fifth place with the Universities of the country. Despite an insufficient appropriation $37,700.00 for that year. In both instances the expenditures greatly exceed the amount allowed for such, 16,482.14 more being spent than was arranged for the year 1920-1921. For the last five years the average annual additions have been 17,897 volumes. In order to continue expanding the library to properly meet the demands of a rapidly developing University, sufficient funds must be allowed the University library.

Illinois and Michigan, with 450,000 volumes, are each twice as well equipped as Texas State University. For the year 1920-1921 Wisconsin was given $60,399.00 for the library, Illinois $57,000.00, Michigan $58,500.00 and Texas $37,700.00. Other things being equal, the strong-est faculties will gather in those Universities having the best libraries, which amounts to saying that only the universities with good library facilities can hope to be leaders in the educational world.

UNION BARBERS ARE THREATENING STRIKE

Austin Will Be Without Shaves After February 4 Unless Shop Owners Agree

With the union barbers threatening to strike, the students, masculine, may well shudder. How can that party go if the sweet young thing will not bear the feel of the rough old whisksers? Durham Duplex is not always there "when a fellow needs a friend," if there are only his own hands to guide it.

The union barbers have notified the owners of their shops that after February 4 they must guarantee their employees a minimum salary of $21 a week and divide all receipts on the basis of 65 per cent to the barbers and 35 per cent to the shop owners. At present the barbers are guaranteed a minimum weekly wage of $18 while receipts are divided on a 60-40 basis.

Union officials say that the barbers asked the increase because about half of the union barbers of the town are being paid on the 65-35 basis by shop owners who have volunteered to observe this arrangement. The notice submitted by the union is the third dealing with the matter which has been submitted. The other two were withdrawn by the union after persuasion by the shop owners.

FRESHMEN WILL MEET SUNDAY SCHOOL TEAM IN INITIAL CONTEST

Littlefield Puts Freshman Squad Through Intensive Training

Coach-Clyde Littlefield has his freshman basketball squad out for practice each afternoon in preparation for their first game of the season which will be played here Saturday night with the Texas State Sunday School Champions of Texas.

"Just because the opposition is composed of Sunday School boys does not mean that they cannot put up a real game," says Littlefield. In fact, this team has proved its worth in games all over the state during the past two years and is made up of former college stars almost exclusively. They have won the championship in the State Sunday School League for the past two years, hence their title.

Other Games

The Saturday following the freshmen will go to San Antonio for a return game with the Sunday School team. Games have been scheduled with Temple Y. M. C. A. with St. Edwards College, and with San Marcos Academy in addition to those with the San Antonio team.

Littlefield has cut his squad to sixteen men, about the number he will carry throughout the season. In speaking of his freshman squad Littlefield seemed especially well pleased with the fighting spirit of his men. He claims they never know when they get enough. But, he says it is not all fighting; he has some real material and will be able to develop a team that would be able to give a decent account of itself against any team in the state.

Squad

The men who made the squad are: Dornak, Esquivel, Knipping, Raymon, Maley, Nation, Homan, Lawrence, Nagel, Nyquist, Johnson, (Dave), Johnson (Clarence) Shearer, Simmons, and Telbaum.

What Kind Of Books Do Students Read? One Answer Recorded Here

By Helen Harris

What kind of books that are not required, do the University students read? Does the student really have a higher type of mind? These questions have been asked by the faculty and people outside of the University, and now some light will be thrown upon the subject. News stand sales show that the "Cosmopolitan" is by far the magazine most demanded by the students. Sixty magazines were sold at McFadden's this month on the first day of their publication and almost as many the next day. "The Saturday Evening Post" runs the "Cosmopolitan" a close second, but Irvin S. Cobb does not seem quite able to compete with Robert W. Chambers serial novels.

"Love Story Magazine" is very popular among the girls. However, the fair co-eds ask for it in a whisper and look very grateful if the salesman hands it to them with the face down. The salesman says that he can spot a professor, an assistant and a future Phi Beta Kappa because they ask for the Atlantic Monthly, the Century magazine or the Scribblers. These publications are rarely sold! Life and Judge are sold to talented and aspiring young sports and joke writers, but they do not have a heavy demand.

The students' purchase of books, while not as heavy as their purchase of magazines, reveals some startling facts. Ninety per cent of the book buyers are boys. And yet this is the woman's hour of triumph! Popular novels of a higher type such as Scott Fitzgerald's "This Side of Paradise" and Menkin's novels are bought most frequently by the students. Any form of burlesque or clever humor interest them. "Perfect Behavior" and a "Parody on the Outline of History" are especially good sellers.

The following information will perhaps reveal a fact which the college student has been trying to keep dark. "Jurgen" by Cabell and "A Woman in Love" by D. H. Lawrence, both books whose publications have been suppressed, have been recently released, are in the words of the salesman "eaten up by the students."

"The Anti-Christ" by Nietzsche, is much in demand by the students; in fact anything with independent thought seems to appeal to the student who buys books.

All in all the majority of books bought are those recommended or discussed by the professors. The student choice of literature seems on the whole to be more commendable than might often be expected. The aversion to cheap fiction and vulgar humor; the searching for new thought; and modern reading are traits which place the student mind above the average.
