Dear Dr. Stenzel:

Your letter of March 7th, came as a very pleasant surprise. On receiving your letter I immediately made an appointment with the President to talk over the various applicants with him. I frankly informed him that to my mind there was no doubt whatsoever that you're the best man for that job. I also told him that you could carry tremendous prestige for this Department. I have strongly felt that my interview with the President has helped the cause of this Department.

Personally I wish very much that you could come. You can be assured that I would render you all the necessary help and cooperation possible in making this Department one of the best in the country.

Sincerely yours,

Paul H. Fan
