Dear Sir:

I regret not to be able to supply you with any recent species of Gulf of Mexico scaphopods. However, there are plenty of specimens of fossil Tertiary scaphopods from the Gulf Coastal Plain available for exchange.

Dentalium minutistriatum Gabb

Dentalium thalloide Conrad

Cadulus subcoarctatus (Gabb) are the species available. Of these the Dentalium are never completely preserved and lack the original apertures. The Cadulus can be supplied in perfect specimens. Should you be interested in these fossils, I would be glad to exchange them for blastoids, which are poorly represented in my collection.

Very sincerely yours

H. B. Stenzel.
