

March 4, 1947

Dr. J. Brookes Knight
U. S. National Museum
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Brookes:

For your information: Fred Plummer was on his way back to Austin by automobile and alone. He stopped about 3 miles north of San Marcos to change a tire. After changing the tire a heart failure must have occurred. He was found dead and reported to local sheriff. The sheriff phoned Mrs. Plummer who was waiting for him to show up for breakfast. Burial was in New Hampshire.

Best regards,

Sincerely,

H. B. STENZEL
Geologist

HBS:hrb