

Saturday

Dear Emmett,

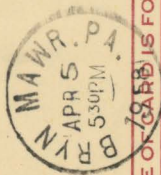

I came back yesterday to find my two copies of MT II. For the one which you sent I am deeply grateful and I shall treasure it always. But perhaps the one I ordered you could use to extend your favors to more worthy types? It is a very handsome and useful piece of work, showing what a proper publication should be. My AJA effort, which came today (but no offprints yet), looks pretty sketchy alongside.

A note from Emily informs me that you all held forth creditably on the Mycenaean world up in New England. Congratulations. Let me know the news. Mine is not so good: am now carless, having pretty much demolished it by turning over.

Much thanks and all best,

Matth

Temporary (one or two years) opening at Barnard, as you must have heard.
