Dear Miss Kubler,

I have today received a letter from Mr Blegen, with his approval of the scheme of sharing Pylos & Knossos material. I imagine you may as well, and that letters may again cross.

I think the best thing to do is to indicate my schedule to prepare for possible conferences ordinarily I have classes six days a week up to 12 noon. The Yale recesses include Nov 25-28, and Dec. 17-Jan. 3. I probably have insufficient funds to go to St. Louis.

The materials necessary I should think include my transcriptions - a letter box full - my list of words & other indices of the tablets, all easily carried together.

The explanation of my apparently peculiar but I assure you perfectly logical (perhaps useless) methods of counting can wait a bit. It's more easily shown than described.

Hoping to see you, and the tablets, soon

Sincerely yours

Ernest S. Eves
