Dear Mr. Lerman:

On returning recently from geologic field work in eastern Texas, I found the copy of your manuscript here. Thank you for it. Your work is fine and important and should be published.

Have you already submitted it for publication? If not, I would like to suggest some changes that might improve the work. However, if you have submitted it already, it would be futile for me to make any suggestions.

With best wishes.

Sincerely yours,

H. B. Stenzel
