

BRYN MAWR COLLEGE
BRYN MAWR, PENNSYLVANIA

Wednesday, August 9

Dear Emmett,

The thing about hotel reservation came today. Sorry to haunt you but I can not make plane reservations till I know what time Monday morning things start and when they end and what goes on when so I can figure out if I should skip things.

Life very complicated here because part of our chief class and administration building burned and we are holding office in one of the dormitories which makes us all rather more inefficient than usual. And now that I come to think of this colloquium I imagine that I am far too rusty to be able to keep up, so I guess I shall just have to tag along and get inspired.

Many thanks,

M. L. 1
