Dear Norm:

Thank you for sending me the reprints of your recent publications. Some were published in places where I never would have discovered them. So I am doubly grateful. It is a constant and often discouraging struggle to keep up with literature one ought to know about.

Thank you and Miss Marjorie Arnold for the prompt and efficient help with the article by Mirkamalov. He takes great pains in keeping me informed of his articles on fossil oysters and has helped me out with specimens of type species from Central Asia. He is altogether a good man.

Best wishes,

Sincerely,
