Austin, Texas.

Dear Dr. Stenzel:

I have been out of the country much of the time since last November, and therefore am a little late in rounding up material for our annual report on Marine Ecology. I wish that we could expect another contribution from you comparable in size and interest to the paper you gave us last year. I know that this is too much to expect, but we should be very glad to have a statement of any of your recent activities that would be suitable for inclusion in the report.

With best regards,

Sincerely yours,

Harry S. Lidd.
