

YALE UNIVERSITY

LINGUISTICS

February 6, 1942.

Professor Alice E. Kober, 1050 East 43rd Street,
Brooklyn, New York.

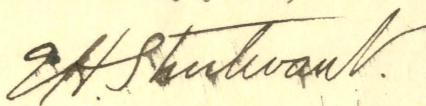

Dear Miss Kober:

The book I wrote you about is Volume 36,
No. 6 of Jahrbuch der Universität Sveti Kliment
Ohridski in Sofia, Historisch-Philologische Fakultät.

Thank you very much for your kind words about my recent lecture at Brooklyn College.
I had a grand time.

Mr. R. M. Pierce is a grand nuisance.
If you ever answer one of his letters you have to continue a correspondence that becomes constantly more frequent and more insulting on his part until you get tired of it and stop. I have known him for many years, and he occasionally writes me a very innocent note containing questions which I usually think I can answer, and so the trouble begins all over again.

Sincerely yours,

EHS:h