Since I have a reservation, and soon will have a ticket, I begin to think of miscellaneous things to arrange and start to put them down.

I guess I'd better put in here what the reservation is: leave 31 May, ca. 9 or so a.m., get to Madison 1 June p.m.

I expect to leave the keys in your care, and you will somehow get them to the new fellow, who is:
Harvey Caughey, Trustee
POBox 1683
AUSTIN TX 78767 -- of course, how you drop the keys into a POBox is beyond me. I suppose that he is prescient enough to have obtained a set of his own so there should be no great rush. But he wouldn't like all the keys entrusted to us to disappear without a trace.

I notice the extra washing machine is still sitting in my closet. I don't really imagine it would be worth an ad in the paper, and how would one set a price? I don't particularly like just putting it at the curb, because I think it works - at least it still had some rinse water in the outlet hose when I moved it. I propose somehow getting it over to the Goodwill not too far away on 45th street and letting them do what they can with it. I should think this done before I pack up would be better. You don't need one in your garage to wash car polishing chamoises.

The three plants, have some yellow on the edges of some leaves, but still seem to be fairly happy. I propose to bring them to one of two places. Either they can grace PASP, though I don't think they would like the exclusively electric light, Or I will bring them over to Harris Ave, and put them under the roof of your garage - I do not even imagine bringing them in to your house, where they would, with probably disastrous results, be eaten by a ravening, though beata (see how sensitive I have become to Latin syntax!), canine.

I have or will have given Mr Caughey, the telephone, the electricity/sewer, and the gas people my Madison address for settling the last bills. I leave you my UCo-op rebate slips, as a tip.

I will give you the papers to claim the deposit back. I believe they must be turned in fairly promptly, after the 31th, to meet the court deadline, and they probably need a note added by you saying how you paid Maldonado his deposit, so that the deposit now should be paid back to you or me.

I will maybe two weeks before I go rent a selfstorage place and pack myself up into it - no, that's not right. I've not picked out a suitable one yet. I'll pack up mystuff I intend to leave here, and let myself go away later. Some I'll put in right away, the bed and other stuff on the 30th. I will also leave you one of the keys to the selfstorage, and if there's any room in it, you may even store yourself. I jsut looked at one, which wouldn't do in Madison, snow would melt up through the floor edges, but may in Austin. If I find one a little more securely built I'll maybe look in that direction. The price was reasonable, though, and I was offered a discount for a year, which is likely.

If you want to use any of this furniture while I'm away, folding chairs, e.g., for a grand old party, OK. Though I suppose the people at your party will be young enough to sit on the floor. I can't anymore.

LIST:

1. The stereo set from the house plus the two speakers I bought for it, plus the fixing up, which I had better get to. I've found the place, and may ask you to help me carry it there.
- 2.

When you fill this up, PTO
