Dear John:

Somewhere I read that the latest transactions of the Gulf Coast Association were dedicated to you. Congratulations! It could not have happened to a nicer fellow. This new policy of dedication to a man, while he is still living, is commendable. I hope your health is standing up well. I see very few people from San Antonio these days and cannot find out how my friends are doing.

I am still working on the oysters for the Treatise on Invertebrate Paleontology. The manuscript text is 360 typed pages long and 99% complete. The big hurdle now is the illustrations. Ray Moore sits on my neck all the time.

My health is terrible. In January I spent 7 days in the hospital with a severe infection. Antibiotics saved my life. Recovery is very slow.

With warmest regards,

Sincerely yours,
