

Watch Live

FOX 7 Discussion: Fighting extreme heat in Austin neighborhoods

By Rebecca Thomas | Published July 2 | FOX 7 Discussions | FOX 7 Austin

FOX 7 Discussion: Fighting extreme heat in Austin neighborhoods

Project lead and UT professor Dev Niyogi joins Rebecca Thomas to discuss a project between researchers and the city of Austin to identify hot spots.

AUSTIN, Texas - Austin's hot summers are not felt the same way across the city.

A new project involving University of Texas researchers and the city of Austin is working to identify hot spots and cooling down those neighborhoods. UT is one of four institutions selected by NOAA for this.

Sponsored Links

Austin Businesses: A Simple Trick to Avoid Data Breaches

Expert Market

Project lead and UT professor Dev Niyogi joins Rebecca Thomas to discuss the project.

DOWNLOAD: FOX 7 AUSTIN NEWS APP

SUBSCRIBE: FOX 7 Austin Daily Newsletter | FOX 7 Austin on YouTube

FOLLOW: Facebook | Instagram | Twitter

UPDATE ON GABBY PETITO'S DISAPPEARANCE

Police report shows possible mental health concerns, tension between Gabby Petito, Brian Laundrie

Officers caught up with the van near Arches National Park, the location of one of Gabrielle's last social media posts before she went missing.

This material may not be published, broadcast, rewritten, or redistributed. ©2021 FOX Television Stations

UPDATE ON GABBY PETITO'S DISAPPEARANCE

Police report shows possible mental health concerns, tension between Gabby Petito, Brian Laundrie

Officers caught up with the van near Arches National Park, the location of one of Gabrielle's last social media posts before she went missing.

