Dear Doctor Stenzel,

Thank you very much for your recent letter. I am glad to have your statement respecting salary and shall give it thorough consideration in the final settlement of our budget which, as I believe I stated in my last letter, ought to come to a head in the next week or two. I shall write to you again as soon as I have a definite statement to make.

In our correspondence so far I have neglected to request that note be made of your travel expenses on the trip to Columbus. I shall appreciate it very much if you will send me a statement of expenses with all pertinent sleeping car stubs that you can provide so that we can make out a proper expense account and see that you are reimbursed.

With best wishes to you.

Very truly yours,

Edmund M. Spieker
