Dear Professor Stenzel:

I have been wondering about your whereabouts since a recent mailing of our 1966 Report was returned from your Houston address. Congratulations on the new situation. I can imagine that you are enjoying classroom work again. I am almost tempted to apply for place as your secretary, if you can guarantee the beauty of the camellias for a while to come. Bertha's are beautiful, but, of course, cannot compare to your array. We are glad, of course, to send the items to Dr. Pajaud and they will be sent shortly.

The new building is coming along, but we probably will be the last to move since the workers are concentrating on finishing up the auditorium so that classes can start using it and so that the auditorium in the old building can be refurbished for further use next fall. The campus is just spilling over with students.

Please remember us to your girls and pop in to see us again one of these days.

Very sincerely yours,
