Dear Doctor Stenzel:

For the last month or so I have been trying to write you something of our plans for the summer. We have as you know, large Mexican collections and we hope before October First to get the Claiborne species fairly well in hand and tied in with those of the Texas and eastern Gulf faunas. We are finding the Bulletin upon the Lower Claiborne of the Brazos River exceedingly helpful. Edgar Bowles who is helping me was making such constant use of my copy that I advised him to try to get one of his own. I believe that he wrote you too about a species of Anomia that seemed to be related to one of yours. We want to be very sure not to overlap the work that you have under way. There certainly is plenty for every body and our concern is the Rio Grande Embayment. I surely hope that you have been able to work out some satisfactory plan for the summer and you may count upon our hearty co-operation.

Sincerely yours,
