Dear Michael,

Here are the remaining Knossos things as far as I can do anything with them. Again I apologize for poor typing, and I hope that I will not have misled you. I did try to be more than usually careful in the unpublished 5000's. I also should say that I do not intend to push you into including those 5000's against your wishes. It would add considerably to the already formidable job of editing you have taken on, and you may be sure I appreciate its magnitude. Perhaps you have already begun, and find that these can not easily fit in, or perhaps you find their value too small for the bother. If you do exclude them I shall sometime find myself a varityper and do them up.

The thing I couldn't remember was that I had received the 7000's and was glad to have them. As I say elsewhere I have made copies, and if you wish, I will send the original back to you.

Yours,
