Dear Mr Bennett,

Thank you very much for your letter, which I am sorry to say must have pretty well crossed over in the post with my imortunate reminder.

I hope to get the complete thing duplicated by the middle of March, when I will send it out. The contributions vary considerably in length, though I may say that the ones which are any longer than yours, including my own, probably ^{are} due with a reckless sacrifice of caution. Still, I hope it may be quite interesting.

Yours sincerely,

Michael Ventris
