Dear Mr. Brice,

Many thanks for your letter of the 10th. I'm afraid that I have no reports yet of our excavations this season. Sinclair Hood is at Knossos and should have finished his excavation there yesterday, and John Evans begins the Neolithic dig there now. Lord William Taylour will just have finished his trials in Laconia and will be about to begin at Mycenae. I fear I therefore cannot help you much. I expect you will hear from Sinclair Hood in due course as his letters will be sent on from Athens. We have not had anything recently in the ILN, and past brief accounts of our digs can only be found in Archaeology in Greece.

I hope you flourish these days.

Yours sincerely,

E. Clay
