LUXURY BATHS AT ANZIO!

BY BASIL GINGELL REPRESENTING THE COMBINED BRITISH PRESS

With the Fifth Army in Italy,

Allied Beachhead Forces,

March 19.

There are few more popular installations on the Anzio beachhead than the hot shower baths which have been set up in the rest areas. Some units have gone to any amount of trouble to give them a really luxury tone and the one that I saw opened with some ceremony today by a Brigadier taking the first shower, was housed in two tents, the floors of which have been paved with tiles taken from a demolished house and brightened up by a huge mirror that had had a miraculous escape in the shelling that had smashed practically everything else in the home.
