

January 15, 1942

Mr. Fred T. Moseley
4352 Livingston Avenue
Dallas, Texas

Dear Mr. Moseley:

By separate mail, I am returning to you the material which you were so kind to loan. You will notice that only a few of the specimens have been named in detail. That is due to the fact that most of the material, for instance the ammonites, are new to science and, therefore, no detailed names are available at present. I have taken the liberty to retain one or two specimens of each kind together with the new fossil crab.

Please find also the enclosed drawings of some of the crustaceans from California Crossing. The original of these drawings were made for illustration of my forthcoming paper on these fossils.

Yours very truly,

H. B. Stenzel
Bureau of Economic Geology

HBS:fb
Enclosure