

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS
AUSTIN

DEPARTMENT OF ZOOLOGY

April 1, 1941

Dear Dr. Stenzel:

I wish to express my deepest regrets for the injury to your car and the anxiety caused your wife by my carelessness in parking this morning. I am extremely thankful that the damage did not appear extensive, at least on the surface. It is possible that the door has been sprung somewhat and may need more repair work than at first shows. I hope you will permit me to repay you for any expenses for repairing the car and assure you that it will greatly relieve my own feelings in the matter if I may do so.

Sincerely,
P. H. Hingate