Geology Department
University of Kansas

Dear Dr. Teichert:

Your airmail letter of October 8, 1961, has been received and I am glad to hear that you are coming here.

In accordance with your letter I have approached the Public Lectures Committee of The University of Texas about your lecture. The Committee Chairman thinks it will be approved. In that event you will receive $100.00 as an honorarium. I expect a final answer in the next week.

I have also approached the San Antonio, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, and Houston Geological Societies. Houston has already a full schedule, so declined. Corpus Christi is interested and asked about your expenses; Fort Worth asked about your expenses. San Antonio can offer only actual expenses, i.e. transportation, lodging, and meals. Did I do right in this?

While you are here in Austin I hope you will consider staying with the Stenzels. We have plenty of room in our house and will not be inconvenienced in any way; in fact, we are looking forward to having you with us.

Please keep me informed of your whereabouts, so these lectures can be planned properly. They must be announced in advance.

With best personal regards,

Sincerely,

H. B. Stenzel, Geologist
